OFFICE OF THE ACCOUNTANT-GENERAL, WEST BENGAL

NOTIFICATION

Subject: Grant of interest-free advance to State Government servants to meet commitments during the ensuing Durga Pujas.

No. TM/841.—15th September 1962.—A reference is invited to the Government of West Bengal, Finance Department, Audit Branch, Express memorandum No. 4314-F/F4A-2(36)/62, dated the 7th September 1962 (copy reproduced below), regarding the grant and drawal of Puja Advance subject to the conditions specified in the Government Order.

(2) All Drawing and Disbursing Officers of the Government of West Bengal are requested that the advance of pay sanctioned in the abovequoted Government Order, should be drawn and recovery thereof made strictly in accordance with the instructions given therein. A certificate to the following effect should also be furnished in each bill containing claims on account of the advance: "Certified that the terms and conditions as laid down in the Government of West Bengal, Finance Department, Audit Branch, Express memorandum No. 4314-F/F4A-2(36)/62, dated the 7th September 1962, have been fulfilled and that the advances drawn in the bill have been sanctioned by the competent authority."

(3) The advance will be debited to the head: "T.—Deposit and Advances—Part III—Advances not bearing interest—Departmental Advances—Civil Advance —Festival Advance". For facility of sorting of vouchers in the Treasury the Departmental Major Head of Account to which the pay and allowances of the incumbents mentioned in the bill are debitable and the word "State" should be conspicuously indicated at a suitable place on the front page of the bill. A schedule of recovery in two parts as in the specimen form reproduced below should also be attached to each pay bill in which recoveries of festival advances will be made.

(4) Separate schedules for the drawal of festival advance should be prepared in the treasuries. The totals of these schedules should agree with the total amount of payments appearing in the list of payment. The recoveries on this account which are to be made by deductions from the pay bill should be accounted for in the treasuries by transfer credit to the abovementioned head. The treasuries will be required to indicate the No. and date of the treasury voucher concerned in column 6 of the schedule to be prepared and furnished with each bill by the Drawing Officer; detach them from the bills; arrange them according to major head of account to which the pay and allowances of the incumbents mentioned in the bill are debitable; and prepare covering lists of schedules for each major head. These schedules with the supporting covering lists should then be sent to this office along with the monthly cash accounts. A consolidated statement showing the total recoveries under each major head of account should also be prepared and sent along with the monthly accounts.

(5) A separate schedule should also be prepared in the treasury in respect of any recoveries credited in the treasury in cash, care being taken to furnish therein the name of the Drawing and Disbursing Officer in whose favour the recovery is to be shown. In respect of recoveries of the advances effected in cash the challans should be supported by a schedule of recoveries to be prepared by the Drawing Officer in the specimen form referred to above. The treasuries will be required to indicate the No. and date of the respective challan on the schedules which should be included in the covering lists of the concerned major head of account for onward transmission to this office in the same way as indicated in paragraph 4 above. The challans need not, however, be sent to this office with the schedules.

(6) When a Government servant is transferred to another office, the amount of the advance paid, the treasury voucher No. and date of payment, the No. of instalments recovered to date and designation of the Drawing and Disbursing Officer should be mentioned in the Last Pay Certificate.

(7) In the case of a person transferred from another office, whose recovery is being shown for the first time in the schedule of recovery the details of the bills in which the advance was originally drawn for him as well as details of the bills in which other instalments have been recovered should be shown in the remarks column of the schedule.

N. C. CHATTERJEE,
Dy. Accountant-General (T.A.D.).

Copy of Express memorandum No. 4314-F/F4A-2(36)/62, dated 7th September 1962, from Government of West Bengal, Finance Department, Audit Branch, Calcutta.

The undersigned is hereby directed by order of the Governor to say that the Governor is pleased to order that if a permanent Government servant applies for an advance with a view to meet his commitments during the ensuing Durga Pujas, he may be granted an interest-free advance not exceeding one month's pay subject to a maximum of Rs. 200. The authorities competent to sanction this advance are those mentioned in rule 320 of the West Bengal Financial Rules, Volume I. The advance will be recovered in six equal monthly instalments from the pay of the Government servant taking the advance, the first instalment being due on the first day of December 1962. The amount of each instalment should be rounded off to the nearest rupee, any balance being recovered in the last instalment.

2. The concession referred to in paragraph (1) above shall also be available—

(a) to temporary Government employees;

(b) to whole time piece-rate workers (permanent or temporary), provided that the advance in their case shall not exceed either 1/12th of the total pay (excluding allowances) earned by them respectively during the preceding 12 months ending 31st August 1962 or Rs. 200 whichever is less;

(c) to employees belonging to the contingent establishment, provided that the pay of such employees drawing a monthly consolidated pay shall, for the purposes of this advance, be deemed to be Rs. 60 only per month;

(d) to employees belonging to the Work-Charged establishment, provided that the advance in their case shall not exceed either 1/12th of the total pay (excluding allowances) earned by them respectively during the preceding 12 months ending 31st August 1962 or Rs. 200 whichever is less and provided further that the pay of such employees drawing a monthly consolidated pay shall, for the purposes of this advance, be deemed to be Rs. 60 only per month.

In all the above cases the authority sanctioning the advance shall certify that the employee is likely to continue in service until the recovery is completed and the advance is likely to be recovered in full.

3. The word 'Pay' as used in paragraphs (1) and (2) above has the same meaning as in rule 5(3) of West Bengal Service Rules, Part I, except that where the employee continued to draw pay in the unrevised scale the term 'Pay' shall include D.A. if any.

4. All applications for advance, on the strength of this memorandum, should be made as soon as possible and in any case before the 15th September 1962. The advance may be drawn on a working day only after the 25th September 1962 but not later than 31st October 1962. Necessary bills, etc., should be prepared accordingly.

5. The advance except that mentioned in paragraph 2(d) will be debited to the head "S—Deposits and Advances—Part III—Advances not bearing interest—Departmental Advances—Civil Advance—Festival Advance". The advance to work-charged establishment, referred to in paragraph 2(d) above, will be debited to a new suspense head "Advances to workmen" to be opened for the purpose in the Accounts of the work concerned.

For the Union: Shri Matish Ray, President, Pioneer Match Factory Mazdoor Union.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department, Order No. 982-I.R./IR/11L-86/61, dated 7th February 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Pioneer Match Factory, 16 Dum Dum Road, Calcutta-28 (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Pioneer Match Factory Mazdoor Union, 22-1 Kali Charan Ghosh Road, Calcutta-2 (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The only issue referred to this Tribunal for adjudication is bonus for the year 1959-60.

AWARD

After service of usual notices, both the parties have filed their written statements stating their respective cases on the point at issue. The simple case of the Union is that the workmen are entitled to bonus for the year 1959-60 either as Puja bonus on the ground of custom or as condition of service, or as profit sharing bonus out of the available surplus of the year's distributable income. The Company's simple case on the other hand is that the workmen were never paid bonus on the ground of custom or as a condition of service, and so they are not entitled to any Puja bonus. As to profit bonus, the Company's case is that it actually suffered loss during the year and accordingly the question of payment of bonus out of profits does not arise. Other facts will appear from the body of the award that follows.

Decisions

The claim is for bonus for the year 1959-60. But the business year or the accounting year of the Company does not run according to the English Financial Year. The Company's evidence is that before 1959-60 the trading year of the Company was English Calendar Year. But since 1960, the business year is from Ramnavami to Ramnavami. From the balance-sheet filed by the Company and referred to by both the parties at the time of hearing, it appears that the year concerned began in January 1959 and ended on the 5th April 1960, though the cash book of the year was closed on the 15th of April 1960. This last mentioned discrepancy appears to be mainly due to the fact that from after this year the Company changed its business year or accounting year for certain reasons. Be that as it may, this apparent discrepancy does not materially effect the proper determination of the matter in dispute.

From the written statement, it appears that the workmen claim one month's wages as bonus, but they are not in a position to say from what standpoint they can successfully advance or justify their claim. So, they advance so many alternative grounds at the time of hearing in support of their claim. The Company's contention is that the workmen have no right to claim any profit sharing bonus as they really laid no such claim before the Management. The Company refers to Ext. C which is admittedly a letter by the Union in this connection. From this letter, it appears that the Union claimed Puja bonus only for the year under consideration. This shows that the Union has really changed or improved upon its case after the reference only. Of course, the claim of Puja bonus has not been given up altogether at the time of hearing of this case, though it appears to me that the claim is not any longer seriously pressed in view of the miserable state of evidence on the point. Lately, the Union tries to make out a claim of profit sharing bonus mainly, and how far it has succeeded in its venture will be clear from the evidence discussed hereafter.

It may be mentioned here that the Union claimed only Puja bonus not only in the demand letter marked Ext. C, but also in its written statement as originally filed. In that written statement, Puja bonus was claimed on three different grounds. But lately understanding that Puja bonus can be customary alone, the Union by its amendment petition (vide my order No. 23, dated 30th April 1962) sought to delete the word "Puja" in this connection. This shows that the conduct of the Union is a bit fishy. Be that as it may, I shall assume for this case that the Union claims all possible kinds of bonus permitted by law and decide the case on that basis.

I have already mentioned that several alternative grounds, nay all possible grounds on which a bonus may be claimed, have been advanced and none of them have been completely waived till last. So, I shall discuss all the alternative grounds mentioned in the written statement one by one.

The first contention is that the workers are entitled to get one month's wages as Puja bonus as deferred wage and/or as condition of service. I may at once observe that by now it is settled law that bonus, if any payable is not deferred wage. Bonus may be customary or as condition of service, when paid irrespective of profit or loss of the Company for a considerable number of years. In the absence of the above circumstances, it can be profit sharing only. As to the circumstances under which Puja bonus as customary or traditional bonus can be claimed have been explained by the Supreme Court in the case between Grahams Trading Company (India) Ltd. and their workmen reported in 1959 II L.L.J. 393. Similarly the Supreme Court has laid down in the case between Ispahani Ltd., Calcutta and Ispahani Employees' Union (1959 II, L.L.J. 4) what conditions are to be fulfilled before successfully claiming bonus as condition of service. I need not discuss in detail the principles laid down in these two cases. It will be sufficient for my purpose to say that the workmen concerned have hopelessly failed to satisfy the conditions of claiming customary Puja bonus or bonus as condition of service. According to the Union, this Company exists for the last forty years. According to the Company, a partnership concern only, this concern came under the present management not before 1942. Be that as it may, the Union has examined two witnesses only including one Central Excise Inspector in support of its claim. This Inspector has nothing to say regarding the merit of the claim of bonus. The other witness is serving the Company for five years only, and his allegation is that during his service life here he got bonus in two years only- once equal to 10 days' wages and on the other occasion equal to seven days' wages only. He adds that they got this bonus before Pujas and that they were required to thumb-impress blank papers before receiving payments thereof. He further adds that only selected and old employees were paid this bonus. It is also said that this bonus was never paid after formation of the Union by the workers. This witness cannot say in which years he got the bonus or what amount he actually received in either of the two years as alleged. On the contrary, Shri Brij Gopal Benani, one of the partners, swears that they never paid any bonus to any workman at any time. Considering the vague and evasive replies of the workman witness and other circumstances I may at once observe that the only positive and categorical statement of the Company's witness really carries conviction with me. It is not the Union's evidence also that the Company paid bonus on more than two occasions during the last two or four decades as they may be. To claim customary bonus or bonus as condition of service the workmen must prove that they were paid such bonus for a pretty large number of years in an unbroken chain. But this element is conspicuous by its absence. Stray payment, if any, for one or two years does not make bonus customary or condition of service. The payment, if any, was not at uniform rate also. Mere ex-gratia payments or temporary advances do not constitute bonus. So, I can at once hold without further discussion that the claim for Puja bonus or bonus as condition of service has no legs to stand upon and must be rejected forthwith.

The next alternative claim is bonus out of profit earned during the year. To claim this bonus ordinarily the first condition to be fulfilled is that there is a gap between the existing wages of the workers and the living wages standard. I may at once observe that the workmen have undoubtedly satisfied this condition, because most of them are not getting fair wages even. It is the clear case of the workmen that they are very much ill-paid, and the Company pleads its inability to pay higher wages on the ground of absence of economic capacity. The Company does not allege that it is paying living wages or anything approximating the same. In fact, there is no denial that the workmen are ill-paid. It is needless to add that living wages will remain an ideal for many more years to come in a country like ours where fair wages even are rare, so far the workmen are concerned. So, the first condition for bonus claim has no doubt been satisfied.

The next essential condition is that for profit sharing bonus, the workmen must show that the Company has really earned profits during the year. The Company has filed its duly audited balance-sheet and profit and loss account of the relevant year and it appears from the profit and loss account that the Company has suffered a net business loss of Rs. 58,815 during the year. If this be the business position of the year, the question of profit bonus does not arise at all. The Union was asked to file its calculation or computation of available surplus, if any, but it has not filed any. The Union in its written statement tried to allege that it suspected manipulation of accounts in purchase, sale, stock, income, expenses and appropriations to make a show of lower income. In view of the allegations of the Union, I allowed the Union an inspection of the Company's books and papers even though the prayer was made at an unusually late stage. But in spite of these inspections, the Union has not pointed out to me any figure whereon I may put my fingers for finding its fictitious nature as alleged. I may presume that the Union did not come across anything wherefrom it could be said that the balance-sheet and profit and loss account were not correct. One of the partners on the other hand swears that every entry of the balance-sheet and profit and loss account is correct and is supported by the books of accounts of the Company. The Union has not shown anything to the contrary. So the duly audited balance-sheet and the profit and loss account should not only be presumed to be correct, but from the basis of calculation also as it is proved and supported by the oath of a partner. So, I am unable to accept the vague allegation of the Union in this respect. Lastly, the Union tries to say that the amount of excise duty paid cannot be so big as shown. But this contention also has not been supported by any positive evidence or paper. From Ext. B it will be clear what was the amount of excise duty paid during the year. Excise duty on match boxes is a statutory liability and is payable in advance. No match box can go out of the factory without an excise band. From the statement of the Excise Inspector it appears that the rate of taxation is very high. Exhibit B shows the total production of the year. I cannot persuade myself to believe that the Company has inflated the figure of production and thus the excise duty paid during the year. It is difficult for one to believe that the Company can venture to falsify accounts on this statutory liability. The products cannot be surreptitiously removed from the factory without excise band, for no match box can be placed or sold in the market without an excise band. After the conclusion of the argument, the Union in order to create a sort of confusion sought to call for certain challans showing deposit of excise duty during the year. But I fail to see any reason for calling such papers at that late stage. Excise duty in respect of match boxes is not payable in cash. The quantum of boxes sent out of the factory during the year determines the excise duty, and each box sent out shows the duty paid on it. The rate is fixed. So, I do not find any reason to hold that the figure of excise duty paid has actually been inflated as alleged by the Union. Thus no material has been placed before this Tribunal for falsifying the balance-sheet or the profit and loss account. The Union speaks of suspicion only, but suspicion is no proof. Irregularity (not falsity) if any in maintaining accounts is already clear from the auditors' note. Subject to this remark, I cannot but accept the balance-sheet and the profit and loss account, as the basis.

It is now settled law that bonus has to be calculated according to Full Bench Formula involved by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in a case between Bombay Mill Owners' Association and Rastriya Mill Mazdoor Sangha, Bombay (1950 II L.L.J. 1247), and since confirmed in many a decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court. Bonus is payable out of available surplus, if any, from the gross profits after meeting the prior charges. But here we find a net loss of a big sum and I do not know where lies the magic wand in the hand of the Union by mere touch of which the big loss can be transformed into a net profit even after meeting the prior charges. The Union casts a suspicious eye only over two of the biggest items of the revenue expenditure mentioned in the profit and loss account. I have already discussed the item of excise duty. I am further told that the item of expenditure on "raw materials, stores, etc., consumed" appears to be suspicious. But nothing has been shown why I should disbelieve this entry or reject the same. The Union fails to show anything to the contrary even after inspection of the Company's account books. It is urged that the closing stock of raw materials, etc., has not been shown in the credit side of the profit and loss account. But I am afraid this is not essential. The closing stock of materials can be had from the balance-sheet. The debit side of the profit and loss account shows only "the materials and stores consumed" during the year for assessing the business profit. The debit side does not show the total quantity of raw materials and stores in stock or acquired during the year. So, the question of showing the closing stock thereof in the credit side does not arise at all. I see nothing wrong in the accounting itself. So, this argument or suspicion also has no basis. It has not been shown that the figure itself is fictitious. So, even if I deduct the whole amount of charity and donations, the interest paid to partners on their paid up capital (not business loan) and the amount of depreciation shown from the amount of loss shown, the net loss of Rs. 58,815 is not neutralised. I do not find any gross profit even then. I may also add that the Company is entitled to claim reasonable return on their paid up capital, notional normal depreciation, rehabilitation charges for plants, machineries, buildings, furniture, etc., as prior charges according to the Full Bench Formula. So, the question of having an available surplus for distribution of bonus cannot be dreamt of even in the aforesaid circumstances, as there was net loss and no gross profit. It is not the duty of the Tribunal to re-audit the Company's accounts in entirety with reference to the Company's books of accounts and to see if there was any profit as alleged by the Union. The Tribunal has to scrutinise the balance-sheet and the profit and loss account and call for supporting evidence only when any specific item is specifically challenged. But no case of challenge has really been made out against any particular item. So, I think, the Union or the workmen have totally failed to establish a case for bonus of any kind. They are not entitled to any relief accordingly.

This is my award.

Ramjhora Tea Estate, P.O. Ramjhora, district Jalpaiguri, and their workmen represented by the Duars Cha Bagan Workers' Union, P. O. Kalchini, district Jalpaiguri, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Ramjhora Tea Estate, P.O. Ramjhora, district Jalpaiguri, and their workmen represented by Duars Cha Bagan Workers' Union, P.O. Kalchini, district Jalpaiguri. (Case No. VIII-35/61.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri N. B. CHAUDHURI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 6777-I.R./IR/9L-57(A)/61, dated 11th November 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Ramjhora Tea Estate, P. O. Ramjhora, district Jalpaiguri (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Duars Cha Bagan Workers' Union, P. O. Kalchini, district Jalpaiguri (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The only issue referred to this Tribunal is whether the refusal of employment to Shrimati Reshmaya Bamni is justified. To what relief, if any, is she entitled?

AWARD

After service of usual notices, both the parties entered appearance and filed their respective written statements. Subsequently the workers prayed for hearing of the dispute either at Alipurduar or at Jalpaiguri. Accordingly, the case was fixed for hearing at Jalpaiguri with the consent of both the parties. But on the date fixed for hearing, neither party appeared before this Tribunal for hearing of the case. No step also was taken by either party in this connection. So, I assume that the parties had no longer any dispute between them on the date of hearing. Accordingly, I pass a "no dispute" award.

This is my award.

AWARD

By Order No. 2910-I.R./IR/11L-147/59, dated 5th June 1961, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Ruby Industries, 35 Canal East Road, Calcutta-11, and their workmen represented by Ruby Industries Mazdoor Union, 38/H/27 Manicktalla Main Road, Calcutta-11, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by Notification No. 808 I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

This reference was made by the Government for adjudication of an industrial dispute, relating to claim of bonus for the year 1959-60 of the workmen represented by Ruby Industries Mazdoor Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union), set up against their employer, viz., Messrs. Ruby Industries (hereinafter be referred to as the Company)

Immediately after receipt of the reference, notices were sent out for service upon the parties. The Union entered appearance in time but the notice issued to the Company was received back unserved with the remark "Left". Thereupon the Union was asked to furnish further address, if any, of the Company. The Union, then filed a petition on 25th October 1961 admitting the closure of the factory of the Company and furnishing the address of the head office of the Company. Accordingly fresh notice was sent. The Company appeared and filed written statement on 17th February 1962. The Union has, for a considerable time, been absenting without taking any step on the several dates fixed. So the Union was given fresh notice of the date fixed for hearing of the case. In spite of proper service of the notice afresh the Union has not appeared to pursue the case. However, in absence of the Union without any cause and justification, the case was taken up ex-parte. The Company adduced evidence, oral and documentary.

Issue

The only issue formulated in the order of reference is bonus for the year 1959-60, i.e., the claim for a solitary year only. But it is clear from the evidence placed before this Tribunal that the Company's financial year was according to English calendar year. It is the evidence of the Company's witness, Shri Ram Ranjan Roy, that prior to the reference, there was a conciliation proceeding and in the conciliation proceeding, the Company made it abundantly clear that their accounting year was according to English calendar year. Exhibit A(3) is the letter, dated 18th March 1961, addressed by the Company to the Conciliation Officer on the subject. This letter was made Annexure A to the Company's written statement. On the basis of this letter from the Company, the Conciliation Officer asked the Company to submit accounts for the year ended 31st December 1959, vide Ext. A(1) and accordingly the Company submitted the balance-sheet for the year ended 31st December, 1959, vide letter Ext. A(2), dated 1st April 1961. Exhibit B is the copy of the said balance-sheet, which shows that the Company made no profit in that year but incurred loss to the tune of Rs. 8,219-20 nP. It is difficult to appreciate in spite of these documents before the Conciliation Officer how there could be a reference like the present one.

Apart from this, there is evidence to show that the Company closed down the factory by notice in writing, dated 8th of April 1961, Ext. A (which was made Annexure E to the written statement) with effect from 10th of April 1961. It appears from this document that copy of the notice was furnished to the Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, as well as to the Conciliation Officer. This closure of the business was on account of losses sustained by the concern. This closure of the factory was practically admitted by the Union in the petition filed before this Tribunal on 25th October 1961 by the Vice-President of the Union. This admitted closure of the factory with effect from 10th April 1961 having been admitted, I wonder how there could be a reference like the present one, made about a couple of months after the closure. The reference is dated 5th of June 1961. However, as I have just found that the closure of the factory being admitted, any dispute with reference thereto would fall outside the perview of the Industrial Disputes Act, as was held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case reported in 1957, Vol. I, L.L.J. 235. The industry in question is no longer in existence and as such the present dispute is not entertainable. It may also be pointed out that the business was causing loss as would appear from the balance-sheet, Ext. B, and on that ground, the Company closed down its business. So, the concern was within its rights in closing down its business because it is the fundamental right of an employer to close down his business.

Therefore, for the reasons stated above, the workers' claim of bonus for the year 1959-60 is hereby rejected.

This is my award.

This dispute was previously referred to the First Labour Court, by order No. 5328-I.R./IR/11L-597/58, dated the 16th December 1958, for adjudication which has been replaced by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal constituted under notification No. 3115-I.R./IR/3A-6/59, dated the 21st June 1960, and has in consequence been abolished by notification No. 3508-I.R./IR/3A-9/59, dated the 11th July 1960.

The Schedule

Whether the dismissal of Shri Abodh Naravan Dubey is justified? To what relief is he entitled?

Notices were duly served on the parties. 30th July 1962 was fixed for hearing of the case. None appeared on behalf of the Company.

The Union examined the workmen concerned Shri Abodh Narayan Dubey who does not claim reinstatement, but he claims compensation for the period of unemployment. According to him, Shri

Dubey served under this Company for one year and three months on a monthly salary of Rs. 75 per month. He is, therefore, entitled to compensation equivalent to two months, i.e., Rs. 150 in all including the notice pay. Issue

Whether the dismissal of Naroo Rai, Dh bahadur Mangar and Kamal Tamangini justified? To what relief, if any, are t entitled?

This is a reference regarding some industrial d putes existing between Messrs. Balasun (Nahore) T Estate, Darjeeling (hereinafter be referred to as t Company), and their workmen represented Darjeeling Chia Kaman Mazdoor Union, Darjeeli (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

The reference was received on 11th Novemb 1961. Immediately, thereafter, both parties we summoned to appear and to file their respecti written statements. The Union complied in tim but the Company took several adjournments befo they actually filed their written statement.

There is only one issue formulated for the purpo of adjudication of the dispute existing between th parties. It is about the dismissal of three workme viz., Naroo Rai, Dhanbahadur Mangar and Kam Tamangini. Both parties have since settled the dis pute amicably out of Court and have this day file a joint petition of compromise with a prayer for a award on compromise. I have perused the term and conditions agreed upon between the parties an incorporated in the joint petition of compromise The Company has agreed to offer service to the son or daughter of the workman Naroo Rai and to re-employ the other two workers, viz., Dhanbahadur Mangar and Kamal Tamangini. These terms are fair and reasonable. On acceptance of the terms, I give an award on compromise. The joint petition of compromise, dated the 25th of August 1962, but filed on this day before the Tribunal, do form part of the compromise award as an annexure.

Messrs. Balasun (Nahore) Tea Estate owned by the Darjeeling Consolidated Tea Ltd. post office Tung, district Darjeeling

And

Their workmen, represented by the Darjeeling District Chia Kaman Mazdoor Union, Chowk Bazar, Darjeeling.

The humble joint petition of the Management The Darjeeling Consolidated Tea Co. Ltd., abovenamed and the Darjeeling District Chia Kaman Mazdoor Union abovenamed —

Most respectfully Sheweth:

(1) That through intervention of common and mutual friends the parties abovenamed have mutually compromised the above dispute out of Court on the following terms and conditions: —

(a) That the dismissal of Naroo Rai from the services of the Company stands justified but the Company offers to take his son or his daughter in services as may be decided by the Company, with effect from the date he or she is notified by the Company.

(b) That the dismissal of Dhanbahadur Mangar from the services of the Company stands justified but in view of this compromise the Company offers to re-employ him, with effect from the date he joins his duties and undertakes to work according to the rules and regulations as are prevalent on the Estate.

(c) That the dismissal of Kamal Tamangini from the services of the Company stands justified but in view of the compromise offers to re-employ her, with effect from the date she joins her duties and undertakes to work according to the rules and regulations as are prevalent on the Estate.

(d) That the Union hereby assures the Company that the workers who are so re-employed will behave properly.

(e) That the workers shall not at any time claim back wages and other benefits incidental thereto.

In the circumstances your petitioners pray that an award may kindly be passed on the aforesaid terms and conditions and your petitioners as in duty bound shall ever pray.

For the Company: Shri C. L. Ganguly, Advocate.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed by Shrimati Arati Guha, a workman employed in the factory of Messrs. I. R. P. (Radio) Private Ltd., alleging that the employer in contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act refused work to her on and from 11th November 1961 onwards and has thereby terminated her services by way of dismissal without any justification whatsoever. It is prayed by the workman that the Company should be directed to reinstate her in services and that she should be given compensation for the period of her unemployment.

Messrs. I. R. P. (Radio) Private Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) filed a written objection contending therein that there was no contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act and the application is not maintainable in law. Regarding the merits of the case, it is alleged that Shrimati Guha failed to report to duty on 10th November 1961 in pursuance of the terms of a tripartite settlement which was binding upon the parties and for that it was so treated that the workman had left the employment of the concern of her own accord. It is further alleged that the name of Shrimati Guha was struck off from 10th November 1961 and there arose no question of refusing employment to her as alleged.

The case came up for hearing on 28th August 1962, when both the parties adduced evidence, oral and documentary, in support of their contentions.

It appears from the evidence that there was a strike in the factory on and from 5th July 1961. A dispute arose before the Conciliation Officer as to the manner in which the striking workers would be allowed to resume work. The evidence shows that the parties felt during the period of strike as to how the strikers would be allowed to resume work. A tripartite settlement was made by the Conciliation Officer, the terms of which are given in the memorandum of settlement, marked as Ext. "C". The sum and substance of the agreement is to the effect that amongst the workers on strike, 12 of them would be allowed to resume work on and from 10th November 1961, and the rest of the strikers would be allowed to resume work on and from 13th November 1961. Admittedly, Shrimati Guha was one of the striking workers falling within the first batch of 12 workers, who were allowed by the Company to resume work on and from 10th November 1961. The terms of settlement nowhere indicate that a worker within the first batch failing to report for work on the particular date, i.e., on 10th November 1961, would not be allowed to resume work if he reports on the next date. The case of Shrimati Guha is that due to her illness she could not report to duty on the 10th November but that on the very next date, i.e., on the 11th November 1961, she reported to duty and was refused employment. It is, however, contended by the Management that Shrimati Guha did not report to duty on the 11th and, therefore, there arose no question of refusing employment to her. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case in the light of evidence adduced, I have no hesitation in holding that Shrimati Guha reported to duty on the 11th and the 13th November 1961 (12th being Sunday), and that she was refused employment on both the dates. The President of the Union, Shri Bose, who has been examined in this case, sent a letter, Ext. 2, to the employer on 13th November 1961, under certificate of posting, stating therein that Shrimati Guha was refused permission to resume work on two successive dates, i.e., on the 11th and the 13th November 1961, and for that the President wanted to know why such action had been taken and if she had been discharged or suspended. The employer gave no reply to that. It is alleged by Shrimati Guha that she sent under certificate of posting a medical certificate along with a letter to the Management stating that she could not report to duty on the 10th November due to her illness (vide Ext. 6). The Management denied having received any such letter. Be that as it is, it is proved by evidence that the Management refused employment to Shrimati Guha from the 11th November 1961 without assigning any reason, in writing, to the workman concerned. No doubt, the employer has got a right to dispense with the services of a workman for justifiable ground. The employer at the same time knows it best why and how the services of a workman had been terminated. Such termination of service might arise from (i) discharge, (ii) dismissal for misconduct, (iii) retrenchment, (iv) resignation and (v) retirement of a workman on reaching the age of superannuation. By such refusal of work of Shrimati Guha the employer had treated her as workman, whose employment was liable to be terminated.

Admittedly Shrimati Guha wrote a letter to the management on 15th December 1961, i.e., about a month after, in order to ascertain from the employer why she had been refused employment. In the said letter she also mentioned that unless she was allowed to resume work she would take it that she had been wrongfully dismissed (vide Ext. D). It was only on receipt of this letter that the employer informed Shrimati Guha by the letter, dated the 25th December 1961, that her name had been struck off from the Staff Register as she failed to report to duty on the assumption that she had left the job. In the face of this letter there cannot be any other case possible for the employer to justify the action for termination of service except by proving a case of voluntary resignation on the part of the workman concerned. I would at once say that there was no case to substantiate the allegation of voluntary resignation. It is natural for the workman not to give any importance to the employer's action to striking off the names of workman from the register except for the purpose of treating the same as an action of dismissal. The workman in the case had been for the first time intimated about the fact of her dismissal from service by this letter, dated the 25th December 1961 (Ext. D). Such dismissal of a workman cannot be treated as being retrospective from any previous date. It is clear from the letter that the dismissal must be deemed to have been taken with proper intimation to the workman concerned with effect from 25th December 1961, i.e., during the pendency of the proceeding before the Tribunal. Obviously, therefore, there is no substance in the contention of the employer that the dismissal took place from 10th November 1961, i.e., at a time when the proceeding before the Tribunal was not pending. It may be noted that the proceedings before the Tribunal commenced on 21st November 1961. I accordingly hold that the employer by taking the action of dismissal of Shrimati Guha without my approval had contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The employer has made out a case to support the action of dismissal of Shrimati Guha that she must have reported to duty on 10th November 1961 in terms of settlement and her failure to report on that particular date was a violation of terms of settlement for which she stood dismissed. Upon a plain reading of the terms of settlement I find Shrimati Guha should have reported for work on and from 10th November 1961, i.e., either on the 10th November or within a reasonable time from that. In fact, she reported to duty on the very next date, i.e., on 11th November 1961. The employer by refusing employment to her from 11th November 1961 on the ground that she failed to report to duty on the previous date wanted to justify the action of dismissal. The fact of her dismissal was communicated to her by the letter, dated the 25th December 1961. Such action on the part of the employer was clearly unjustified, arbitrary and capricious. In the circumstances she must be reinstated within a month from the date of publication of this award. Considering the circumstances of the case, I give her half the wages for the entire period of her unemployment at the rate of wages she was drawing just before the strike. The entire period of her unemployment would be counted towards the length of service without causing any break in the continuity of her service.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Samnuggur Jute Factory Co. Ltd. (North Mill), Bhadreswar, district Hooghly, and their workmen represented by National Union of Jute Workers, Victoria Jute Mill and Samnuggur North Jute Mill Branch, Ferry Ghat Street, Telinipara, Hooghly, referred under G.O. For the Union: Shri Nikhil Ranjan Roy, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department, order No. 1114-I.R./IR 7L-15/61, dated 9th March 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Samnuggar Jute Factory Co. Ltd. (North Mill), Bhadreswar, district Hooghly (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by National Union of Jute Workers, Victoria Jute Mill and Samnuggur North Jute Mill Branch, Ferry Ghat Street, Telinipara, Hooghly (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Two issues have been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication and they are as follows:

1. Whether the dismissal of Sarvasree Gani, Md. Sadullah and Md. Sukur is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?
2. Whether the lock-out declared by the management with effect from 26th October 1960 is justified? To what relief are the workmen entitled?

AWARD

Both parties have filed their written statements in respect of the matter under reference.

The case of the workmen in short is this: The three persons mentioned above in the issue No. 1 were members of the Union concerned and they were falsely and capriciously charge-sheeted for their Union activities alone. Though they denied the charges, they were wrongly dismissed by the management without any proper enquiry and without giving them any reasonable opportunity to defend themselves. They along with 14 others were alleged to have assaulted Shri Murarka, an Assistant Manager of the mill, but the allegation was baseless. The workers agitated against this act of victimisation on the part of the management and raised an industrial dispute on 25th October 1960. This annoyed the management very much and they illegally and unjustifiably declared a lock-out of the entire mill on and from 26th October 1960.

On the other hand the management case may be briefly stated as follows: The three workers of the issue No. 1 along with 14 other persons criminally assaulted Shri Murarka on 22nd October 1960 and so management issued charge-sheets against them on 24th October 1960 and forthwith placed them under suspension. After this order of suspension on them, badli workers were recruited in their places to run the looms of these charge-sheeted persons—all of them being weavers of hessian section. The badli workers worked peacefully on 24th October 1960. All the charge-sheeted workmen except Gani Mia submitted their replies to the charge-sheets on 25th October 1960. Gani Mia submitted his reply on 29th October 1960. In spite of the order of suspension, the charge-sheeted persons entered the factory in the forenoon of 25th October 1960, compelled the badli workers to leave their respective work places and started working on the looms. They refused to leave the looms of the department in spite of all pursuasions. They continued their work like this till the end of the first shift and the management did not venture to oust them forcibly as some tension was prevailing in the department as a result of this situation. From the commencement of the second shift, however, all the weavers of the hessian section started a stay-in strike and all the looms were kept idle. They refused to come to terms with the management. Management issued notices warning them about the possible repercussion but the workers turned a deaf ear to the notices. So, by a third notice in the evening of that day the management declared their decision to stop runnnig the mill until the management was assured of normal and peaceful resumption of work. Thus, the management was compelled to lock-out the entire mill hands as a result of the illegal strike of the hessian weavers and so the workmen are not entitled to any compensation in law.

Decision

Issue No. 1

This issue has not been pressed before me at the time of hearing. I am informed that these three workmen have settled their dispute if any out of Court and nobody seeks any relief on their behalf before this Tribunal. So I find that there is no longer any dispute in this respect between the parties. P.W. 1 Sukur Ahammed admits that all these three persons received their dues in full and final settlement and left the job finally. So I have nothing to say against or interfere with the management decision regarding these three persons. Ther is no longer any dispute regarding these three persons.

Issue No. 2

There is no dispute that the management declared a lock-out of the entire mill with effect from 26th October 1960. Workmen's allegation is that the lock-out was declared without any justification and so they are entitled to compensation for the lock-out period. The management on the contrary submits that they were rather compelled to declare a lock-out on account of the illegal and unjustifiable strike by the weavers of the hessian department and so they are not entitled to any compensation in view of the provisions of section 25-E(iii) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The section 25-E(iii) of the Act provides that no compensation shall be paid to a workman who has been laid off if such laying off is due to a strike or slowing down of production on the part of the workmen in another part of the establishment. So the real point at issue is whether the lock-out was justified and whether the provisions of the said section are really attracted under the circumstances of the present case. There is no doubt that lock-out of the mill means laying off of all workmen of the factory who were otherwise entitled to work. Management's contention is that the lock out was the necessary consequence of the illegal strike of the hessian section weavers. The workmen allege that in fact there was no strike at all as alleged by the management. It is argued in the alternative that even if there was a strike by the hessian weavers, the management had no reason to close down the entire mill. These are questions of fact and must be decided in the light of the facts and circumstances disclosed by the evidences on record.

There is no dispute that 17 weavers of the hessian section of the mill were charge-sheeted for an alleged assault on Shri Murarka, the Assistant Manager, and also for other riotous and disorderly conduct on their part on 22nd October 1960. These charge-sheets were issued on 24th October 1960 and all the charge-sheeted persons were forthwith placed under suspension. All these persons except one submitted their replies to the charge in the forenoon on 25th October 1960. One of them submitted his reply on a later date. I am not any longer called upon to decide whether the allegations made in the charge-sheets were true or not; and whether the disciplinary action if any taken against any one of them is justifiable. But the charge-sheets, the replies and the fact of suspensions are not at all in dispute. It is also not challenged that badli weavers were appointed in place of all the suspended weavers and the badli workers worked on 24th October 1960 and joined their duties on 25th October 1960 also. It is the positive evidence of Shri Parthi Sarathi Chaudhuri, the Senior Labour Officer of the mill as well as of Shri Babulal Sharma, the then Hessian Weaving Overseer of the mill, that all the charge-sheeted persons except one or two, forcibly entered the Hessian Weaving Department in the forenoon of 25th October 1960, compelled the badli weavers to leave their looms. and started working on the looms though these charge-sheeted persons were admittedly placed under suspension with effect from the previous day. They refused to leave the department in spite of positive requests by the officers concerned and persuasions of Works Committee members and the Sirdars. The management did not venture to physically oust them by force under an apprehension of more serious trouble. From the deposition of P.W. 2 Shri Ram Bhattacharjee and P.W. 3 Shri Kashinath Laik, it is clear that there was a meeting of a section of the workers in the afternoon of 24th October 1960 and I am afraid for some reason or other the charge-sheeted persons were encouraged to take law in their own hands and enter the mill in a highhanded manner and start working in spite of their suspension. The first shift of the work was to end by 10-36 a.m. and the management did not think it fit to take any strong action against them during the first shift and simply issued a notice of warning to all the charge-sheeted persons.

The management was contemplating to prevent the charge-sheeted persons from entering the factory at the commencement of the second shift which was to begin at 12-30 p.m. But the charge-sheeted workmen somehow got scent of it and they did not go out of the factory during the recess period also. From the commencement of the second shift all the weavers of the hessian section acted in unison and stopped all the looms of this section. Thus they launched a stay-in strike, though other departments were carrying on their normal work during the second shift on 25th October 1960. The management failed to pursuade the weavers of this section to run the looms and so they issued the second notice Ext. C(1) with a further warning. But this notice also made no impression on them and hessian production was completely stopped during the second shift. So after the close of the day the management issued a third notice Ext. C(2) declaring a lock-out of the mill from the following day. These circumstances are amply proved by the depositions of two witnesses examined by the management before this Tribunal and the documentary evidences produced by the parties. P.W. 1 Sukur Mohammed one of the charge-sheeted persons says that he did not enter the factory on 25th October 1960, after submitting a reply and this may be a fact as the said Labour Officer also admits that one or two of the charge-sheeted persons did not enter the factory on that day. So Sukur Mohammed throws no new light in the matter. P.W. 2 Ram Bhattacharjee, the Secretary of the Union, has no personal knowledge in the matter as he was not a workman of the mill. P.W. 3 Kashinath Laik, a member of the Union concerned, alleges that all the departments of the mill including hessian weaving section worked normally in the second shift of 25th October 1960. But this witness is given a lie on the point by Union's own document Ext. 1. It is stated in this letter that the charge-sheeted workmen replied to their charge-sheets on that day and reported to their respective places of work only to find that all the belts of the Hessian Weaving Department had already been removed. It is nobody's case that the work of the Hessian Weaving Section stopped during first shift. The charge-sheeted persons surprised the management by making a forcible entry and taking to action in the first shift even though they were under suspension and had no right to run the looms or report for duties. So the allegation of removal of all the belts was surely directed towards the second shift. Then it is sufficiently clear that there was no weaving in Hessian Section during the second shift be it either due to removal of all the belts of this Section as alleged by the Union or on account of strike by the hessian weavers as alleged by the management. So Shri Laik's words carry no conviction with me. So the question arises what actually led to the stoppage of work in the Hessian Section during the second shift. The allegation of removal of belts made in Ext. 1 is not supported by any positive evidence on the side of the workmen. Shri Laik does not say anything of the kind and the other two witnesses of the Union are not competent to say anything on the point. On the other hand both the Labour Officer and the Departmental Overseer swear that the allegation of removal of belts is not true and that all the hessian weavers launched a strike and refused to work or run the looms. I have no reason whatsoever to disbelieve them, in the absence of any evidence to the contrary. So there is no escape from the conclusion that the entire Hessian Weaving Section was brought to a standstill during the second shift of 25th October 1960, by the weavers themselves. A few hundred weavers work in the Hessian Section alone and this strike meant a tremendous loss of production and busniess of the Company.

The Union may refer to the Production Register Ext. D which shows as if there was some production of hessian in the afternoon shift of 25th October 1960. It is nobody's case that there was any production on any shift of 26th October 1960. From the deposition of Shri Chaudhuri (O.P.W. 1) it is clear that the production record of a particular date shows the production of the evening shift of the previous day and that of the morning shift of the date of record. Question of production in the morning shift of 26th October 1960 does not arise as there was lock-out from that morning. From the deposition of Shri Sharma (O.P.W. 2) it is clear that the Ext. D does not actually show the exact number of cuts woven in any particular date. It is really a register of hessian cuts measured on any particular day. The hessian cloths after being woven are sent out in cut pieces to the finishing and measuring departments and these cuts are entered in the register after their measurement only. So there is a time-lag between actual weaving and measuring and thus in noting the cuts in the register. Accordingly hessian cuts woven in the morning shift of 25th October 1960 may actually be measured and noted in evening shift of 25th October 1960 and this is all the more probably because Ext. 1 also indirectly shows that there was no hessian weaving in the afternoon shift of 25th October 1960. So the story of strike and standstill position in the hessian department remains unshaken.

So the next question to be considered is whether the said strike can justify the lock-out or closure of the entire mill. Union's contention is that the strike of the hessian weavers alone cannot justify laying off of all the workmen of the mill. But the evidence of the Hessian Weaving Overseer is very clear on the point. The work of the factory department is dependent on the milling department and vice versa. Management cannot work on one side keeping the other side idle. The layout arrangement is such that if there be stoppage of work in one section, the other section will also have to be stopped. If the weaving section stops, this will lead to the stoppage of work of the spinning section. This is not due to any mechanical difficulty but this is due to the process of work. The reason for closing down the entire factory on account of suspension of work of Hessian Section is that the work of different sections of the mill is linked with one another, and one section cannot be operated while the other is idle. Unless the beams are released from the looms regularly, yarn cannot be twined indefinitely in the absence of too many spare beams. From the batching department raw materials are supplied simultaneously to the Hessian Section and Sack Weaving Section and in this case also one section cannot be kept idle indefinitely while the other section is working. It is almost impossible to close down the Hessian Section and at the same time run the other sections. This being the unchallenged evidence of the Overseer who is no longer in the employment of the present Company, I see no reason why he should be disbelieved. So there cannot be any doubt that the lock-out of the mill was compelled by the unreasonable attitude and unjustifiable strike of the Hessian Weaving Section. The workers and the Union should have awaited the decision of the management in respect of the charge-sheeted workmen who were apparently charged with a very serious offence. They had no right or justification whatsoever to force their entry into the mill and go on working in spite of their suspension when the charge-sheeted persons found that the management prudently did not apply force on them and they evidently refused to allow the workers a chance of aggravating the situation, the weavers who were out to create some sort of trouble and fish in troubled waters took recourse to strike and brought the entire weaving section to a standstill. It is idle to argue that the spirit of victimization alone induced the management to declare a lock-out. So I think that there was ample justification for declaring lock-out of the entire mill. There might be many innocent workers who were not ready to join hands with the trouble mongers. But their laying off was nevertheless due to a strike and stoppage of production on the part of the workmen of the Hessian Section of the same establishment. So the section 25-E(iii) applies to this case and no workman is entitled to any compensation under the law. The issue No. 2 is decided accordingly.

Thus, no workman is entitled to any relief in this case. This is my award.

By order No. 174-I.R./IR/11L-648/58, dated the 17th January 1959 the Government of West Bengal referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shewnath Mohanlal and their workmen represented by Barrabazar Jamadar Sangh, relating to the undermentioned issue to the Second Labour Court for adjudication.

Issue

Bonus for 1957 and 1958.

After several adjournments the case was fixed for hearing on 16th August 1962. On that date Shri K. K. Maitra, Advocate, appeared for the Company, but none appeared for the Union. The Union was absent on three preceding dates also. The Union did not show any reason for its absence on any of these dates; nor did it apply for any adjournment. Thus it is clear that the Union does not want to proceed with this case. Hence I hold that there is no longer any industrial dispute in this case.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. B. N. Guha & Co., 1 Nundo Kishore Street, Calcutta-4, and their workmen represented by West Bengal Shops and Establishments Employees' Association, 107 Lower Circular Road, Calcutta-14. (Case No. VIII-381/61).

Present:

Present for the Company: Shri C. L. Ganguly, Advocate.

Present for the Union: None.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 by the West Bengal Government, Labour Department, order No. 7559-I.R./IR/11L-178(A)/61, dated Calcutta, the 7th December 1961, for adjudication upon the following issue.

Issue

Whether the termination of service of Shri K. C. Das Sharma is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

In the written statement of the Union the following case was made out. Shri K. C. Das Sharma, the workman concerned, was appointed as an office assistant from 1st August 1956. On 21st April 1961 he was thrown out of employment unreasonably and unjustifiably, violating the principles of natural justice. The action of the Company was quite illegal. This workman, along with other colleagues of his, protested against the unjust activities of the Company which thus became displeased with him. On these allegations the Union prays for reinstatement of the concerned workman with full back wages, etc.

The contention of the Company, as appears from its written statement, is as follows. The dispute raised here is an individual dispute, not an industrial dispute. None of the Company's employees is a member of the Union, at the instance of which the present reference has been obtained, nor did these employees espouse the cause of Shri Sharma. The Union is incompetent, and has no locus standi, to raise the present dispute. The reference is, therefore, bad in law and unmaintainable. The workman concerned was transferred to Jagadalpur as an accountant. As that branch was abolished, the Company served a letter of discharge to him offering his legal dues. The allegation as to violation of law or natural justice or victimisation is wholly untrue. For these reasons, therefore, the case of the Union must fail.

Decision

Both parties put in their written statements in usual course. From 16th April 1962 to 9th June 1962 the Union remained absent all through on as many as five dates, though the Company was represented on three of those dates. Ultimately the case was adjourned to 27th August 1962 for hearing. On that date also the Company was present and the Union remained absent. I therefore proceeded to dispose of the case in the Union's absence under rule 21 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules of 1958.

Company's accountant named Hari Prasad Roy Choudhury was examined. The letter of discharge of the workman concerned was put in by the Company, and marked Ext. A. Ext. A shows that the Jagadalpur branch of the Company was abolished and hence the service of the workman was no longer required. The Company allowed one months notice pay to the workman. There is nothing against the Company's action in point of merit.

As regards the legal objection, it is in evidence that the employees of the Company are not members of the Union at whose instance the present reference was obtained, and that these employees never took up the cause of the workman for raising the present dispute. It is also in evidence that the Company's concern is not covered by the Shops and Establishments Act. There is nothing to counteract these evidences. That being so the present dispute is nothing but an individual dispute; not an industrial dispute at all. Thus the reference is incompetent and unmaintainable in law.

In view of the above findings, the reference stands rejected. Award is passed accordingly.

By its Order No. 7033-I.R./IR/8L-59/61, dated 21st November 1961. Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act an industrial dispute between Messrs. Victoria Cotton Mills Ltd. and their workmen represented by Victoria Cotton Mills Mazdoor Union on the following issues:

1. Bonus payable in 1961.
2. Whether adjustment proposed by the Company of the amount paid as advance in 1960 against the bonus payable in 1961 is justified?

There was however an addendum to this refernce by Government Order No. 2333-I.R./IR/8L-59/61, dated 20th January 1962. By this addendum a third issue was added, namely, whether the workmen are entitled to any financial relief for the period of the lock-out since 3rd November 1961.

The parties filed their written statments in due course, and at the hearing only one witness was examined on behalf of the Union and on behalf of the Victoria Cotton Mills Ltd. four witnesses were examined.

The facts involved in this reference are mostly beyond dispute and these are that in the year 1960, the workers insisted on the payment of bonus though under the award in force at the time they were not entitled to any bonus and then what the Company did was to give the workmen two weeks' wages as advance. These two weeks' wages were to be recovered by the Company though the parties are not at one how this advance is to be recovered. For the year 1961, the Company declared bonus equivalent to 15 days' wages, but at the same time wanted to deduct out of this bonus, the wages for 12 days, i.e., for two weeks which had been granted in the preceding year as advance to the workmen. The workmen did not agree to this and about 200 workmen sat down in front of the Manager's room from about 11 or 11-30 a.m. on the 11th of October and would not allow the Manager, the Spinning Master, Shri Ayenger, and the Head Clerk, Shri Harikant Misra, to go out of the Manager's room. The workmen continued to sit like that throughout the day and the night of the 11th of October 1961 and also up to about 7 p.m. on the 12th. As a result of this, the Company declared a lock-out of the mills on the 12th which was a holiday and the lock-out thus became effective from the 13th October. This lock-out ended on the 26th of November 1961 and the mills reopened with effect from the 27th of November 1961, vide the notice Ext. X.

Issue No. 1

Admittedly, the bonus payable in this concern is linked up to dividend and admittedly on that basis 15 days' wages were declared as bonus for 1961. Both the parties accepted that as correct and as a matter of fact they have filed a petition of compromise stating that 15 days' wages are payable as bonus for the year 1961 according to the Textile Award of 1958 and that this bonus remains unpaid as a result of the industrial dispute in the matter under reference to this Tribunal. As regards the quantum of bonus, therefore, my award is that 15 days' wages are payable as bonus for the year 1961 according to the Textile Award of 1958.

Issue No. 2

The controversy as to how the advance made to the workmen in 1960 in lieu of bonus which was not payable for that year according to the terms of the award of 1958 should be recovered, led to the unfortunate happenings of the 11th and 12th October 1961 and ultimately to the lock-out. It is, however, not disputed now and it was never disputed by the workmen that this advance was recoverable but the dispute was as to how it should be recovered. The Company's case is that there was an agreement between the management on the one hand and some of the workmen representing the workmen on the other that this should be recovered in its entirety from the bonus payable in 1961. The Union on the other hand maintains that there was no such agreement on behalf of the workmen. As a result of the discussions during the hearing of the case, the parties came to an amicable settlement on this issue also and the agreement is as follows:

> "That out of the 15 days' wages to be paid as bonus for the year 1961, the Company would deduct three days' wages as part repayment of the advance of 12 days' wages in 1960 and that 12 days' wages should be actually paid on account of bonus for 1961 by the 30th of September 1962 and that the remaining nine days' wages out of 12 days' wages advanced in 1960 would be recoverable by the Company from the wages of the workmen payable from the first week of November 1962 at the rate of one day's wages every alternate week from every workman who took the said advance and that neither the Union nor the workers shall have any right to withhold such payment on any account whatsoever".

I think this is a very reasonable solution of the whole dispute. Issue No. 2, however, raises the question of the justification of the adjustment proposed by the Company of the advance of 1960 against the bonus for 1961. The amicable settlement does not appear to have touched this question. I shall have occasion to point out in connection with issue No. 3 that the adjustment proposed by the Company was not justified and I shall not repeat in connection with this issue what I shall have to say in connection with issue No. 3. Issue No. 2 is accordingly answered as follows:

That the adjustment proposed by the Company of the amount paid as advance in 1960 against the bonus payable in 1961 is not justified and that the settlement arrived at between the parties during the hearing of this reference, on this issue, represents a fair and just settlement of the question.

Issue No. 3

This issue, as I have already said, was introduced by the addendum. The question whether the workmen should be entitled to any financial relief for the period of lock-out since 3rd November 1961 depends for its answer on the further question how far for this lock-out the workmen were responsible and how for the employers themselves were responsible. This naturally makes it pertinent for the Tribunal to enquire into the share of responsibility of each of the parties to the lock-out.

Admittedly, the lock-out was the result of things that happened in consequence of the employers' proposal to deduct the whole of the advance, made in 1960, from the bonus for 1961. According to the Company, its proposal for such recovery was the result of an agreement between themselves on the one hand and some workmen representing the workmen in general on the other. The Union, however, denies any such settlement and alleges that even if there was such a settlement, it was not binding on the Union.

This makes it necessary for me to look into the so-called agreement between the management and the workmen. This agreement is Ext. A. It is an agreement typed on a sheet of paper bearing the printed letter-head of the Company and it is dated the 15th September 1960. It is signed by Shri Ananda Ram, Shri Subodh Adhikary and an Oria worker whose name Shri Ayenger could not decipher or otherwise state. It is the evidence of Shri Ayenger that these men, namely, Ananda Ram, Subodh Adhikary and an Oria worker who signed in Oria saw the Manager in his room with this agreement Ext. A and handed it over to him in presence of Shri Ayenger who happened to be in the Manager's room at that time. In his cross-examination, Shri Ayenger admits that of the three signatories to Ext. A, Subodh Adhikary was the only member of the works committee, and that Ananda Ram was invited in every works committee meeting, though he was not a membr of that committee, the reason of this special invitation to him being that he is a prominent workman. There is no indication in the evidence how many representatives of the workmen were on the works committee but this much is admitted by Shri Ayenger that the dispute over the bonus was started in the works committee but it was not decided in the works committee meeting. Evidently, therefore, unable to come to any decision in the works committee meeting, these workmen appeared before the Manager with Ext. A which somebody must have typed on the letter-head of the Company and presented it to the Manager. The question is whether this agreement can be held to be an agreement between the management on the one hand and the workmen on the other. If the agreement is to bind the workmen, it must be proved that these workmen who signed had any legal authority to negotiate and settle this matter with the management on behalf of the workmen. No such authority has been proved and even if it be assumed for the sake of argument that the question could be legally decided in the works committee, a few workmen only one of whom was a member of the works committee could not settle it outside the works committee as these workmen appear to have done. Clearly then, the so-called agreement on which the Company relies, even if it be held to be perfectly genuine, cannot be held at all binding on the workmen as a whole, though it may bind only the signatories and no one else. The relevant portion of this agreement Ext. A runs as follows:

> "We are prepared to accept two weeks' wages as advance bonus, to be adjusted out of the profit-sharing bonus to be declared out of the working of the Mill for the year 1959-60. This payment is to be made before Puja this year, i.e., 1960".

It is true that two weeks' wages which mean 12 days' wages were actually paid as an advance in 1960. It is not clear from the evidence whether it had already been decided on, or whether it was in pursuance of this agreement that two weeks' wages should be paid as bonus. As a matter of fact as no bonus was admittedly payable for 1960, it was not open to any one to describe it as such. It was only a recoverable advance. Its description on in Ext. A is thus evidently wrong. The question in controversy between the management and the workmen is how this advance should be recovered. The agreement indicates the mode of recovery by describing the advance as an "Advance bonus", although it does not in so many words, say that it should be recovered out of the bonus payable in 1961. The Company, of course, did not recover any portion of this advance till bonus for the year 1961 became payable. That suggests that the management believed quite honestly that there was a legal binding agreement between the management on the one hand and the workmen on the other but in this, the anagement was clearly mistaken because the agree-ent signed by three workmen, only one of whom as a representative of the workmen in the works ommittee and outside the works committee meet-g, cannot be held to be legally binding on the orkmen as a whole although it might bind the ignatories themselves.

The question now arises how far this belief on the art of the management was responsible for what appened later. It was the insistence of the anagement on a recovery of the whole amount of he advance out of the bonus payable for 1961 hich led the workmen to squat in front of the Manager's room in large numbers, thereby prevent-g the Manager and others coming out of the Manager's room and leaving the mills even for nswering calls of nature. I shall deal later with he details of what happened as a result of the ction of the workmen on the 11th and 12th October 961. Here I am trying to deal with the respon-ibility of the management only for what had appened. As the management was not right in elieving that the agreement Ext. A was binding on ll the workmen, its insistence on giving effect to he terms of this agreement by recovering the whole f the advance from the bonus for 1961 invited rotests from the workmen and these protests ppear to have assumed the form of a large number f workmen squatting before the Manager's room on h 11th of October 1961. That this led to the ock-out is not disputed.

The next question is whether the workmen also ere responsible to some extent for the lock-out. It s admitted by Shri Krishna Mahanta, the only wit-ess for the workmen, in his cross-examination that bout 200 workers sat down in front of the Manager's room in the factory about 3 or 4 yards way from the door of that room. This happened ree days before the beginning of the Pujas in 1961. le also admits that the 200 workmen were sitting n front of the room of the Manager on the 12th of ctober 1961 also. He further admits that on the 1th at about 5 p.m. when he saw the police men n the factory, he saw 200 workmen sitting in front f the Manager's room and on the 12th of October 961, which was a holiday, he went to the mills. s a matter of fact he admits that he was inside rom about 5 p.m. on the 11th October up to 1 a.m. n the 12th October 1961 and he did not leave the ctory at 5 p.m. on the 11th October 1961 when he as off duty and he sat in front of the Manager's om in pursuance of the demand for bonus. Then, n behalf of the employers, as I said already there re four witnesses examined. The Manager of the ictory at the time Shri K. Rajgopal having left the mploy of the mill was not available for examination n behalf of the management. Shri Iyenger, the pinning Master, S.P.W. 1, says in his examination-n-chief that on the 11th of October 1961, A shift, he workers collected at about 11 a.m. or 11-30 a.m. front of the office and by 2-30 p.m. on the 11th hen the B shift came out at the end of their duty ours, they encircled the officers, i.e., the Manager, imself and other officers and after that they were ot allowed to take water or to attend nature's calls r to leave the room, wherein they were confined. uring the night, Shri Iyenger fainted on account of ant of food and water and medical assistance had h be called in. He further adds that throughout the night the workers were shouting and disturbing them from taking rest. He says in his cross-examination that on the morning of the 12th October 1961 he was carried to the hospital in an ambulance in a semi-conscious condition and he was admitted in the hospital. The evidence of Shri Harikant Misra, the Head Clerk, is that from the mornnig of the 11th the workers were shouting and trying to create troubles for bonus and after the Excise officials had passed the years for delivery to the parties and when the lorry was going out of the mills, the workers did not allow the lorry to pass. After obtaining permission from the Excise officials the yarn bales were unloaded from the lorry and put back in the godown. At about 12 noon on the 11th, when it was time for the Manager, the Head Clerk and the Spinning Master who were inside the Manager's room to go for their lunch, the workers did not allow them to go out of the room and from the 11th till the 12th evening they were kept confined in the room. The Head Clerk of course says in his examination-in-chief itself, that he was allowed to go out for answering calls of nature but the other two officials were not allowed to do so. At about 8 a.m. on the 12th, however, Rajgopal, the Manager, was allowed to go out for answering calls of nature, but some of the workers accompanied him up to his residence and the Manager had to finish his ablutions within the fixed time allowed by the workers and he had to return to the factory within that time. He also speaks of Shri Iyenger having fallen sick and having been admitted to the hospital. In his cross-examination he says that on the 11th the workers who were squatting there were peaceful and they were claiming bonus and there was no indication of any trouble. But on the 11th as well as on the 12th he heard at some intervals abuses from some of the workers and they were abusing the Manager. In his cross-examination he also speaks of the stoppage of the lorry on the 11th and says that thereafter there was no work and so there was no lorry going out. Although he says that there is documentary evidence to show that on the 11th the lorry was actually loaded and that having been stopped by the workers, it had to be unloaded, he has not brought any such document with him. The third witness is the Jamadar of the mills and he also confirms the evidence of the Spinning Master and the Head Clerk. He further says that at about 7 p.m. on the 12th when the workers left, he closed the gate. Shri Sachimoy Sur, the next and last witness, is a departmental supervisor. His evidence is that on the 11th of October 1961 when he was off-duty at 10 p.m. he went to the gate for going home. He found a large number of workmen, some of whom were sitting at the gate and some were standing and they prevented him from going out of the mills. He then went into the rest room, provided for the members of the staff for rest, where he found other officials also. He had to spend the night in this room. At about 7 or 7-30 a.m. on the 12th the Manager sent for him and he accompanied Shri Iyenger in an ambulance to the Howrah Hospital. He also speaks of an earlier incident of 1961, with which we are not very much concerned here. In his cross-examination, he was questioned as to whether he complained to the management about his having been stopped from going home on the night of the 11th of October 1961 and he says he did not. Obviously, when the Manager, the Spinning Master and the Head Clerk themselves were practically kept imprisoned inside the Manager's room, it was hardly any use for a subordinate officer bringing to the notice of the management what was happening, because the management itself knew that and was quite powerless to remedy the situation. On the evidence, therefore, I am satisfied that the workmen did squat in large numbers in front of the Manager's room, kept the Manager, the Spinning Master and also to some extent the Head Clerk imprisoned in the room so that the Manager or the Spinning Master could not go out for their food or even for answering calls of nature, though the Head Clerk was allowed to go out from time to time to answer calls of nature. The Spinnnig Master fell sick in the mills in the morning and was removed in an ambulance to Howrah General Hospital where he was admitted and kept till the evening of the 12th. Apart from this, there was no violence, but it is obvious that the Manager or the Spinning Master could not come out of the room for their food or for answering the calls of nature. For a large number of men to behave in a manner which leads to the imprisonment of some men, responsible for the management of the factory, is clearly an offence punishable in law and the mere fact that there was no actual violence cannot mitigate an offence of this character. That the lock-out had to be declared largely because of this is obvious. The responsibility, therefore, of the workmen for bringing about the lock-out is also quite clear.

Clearly then both the management and the workmen are partly responsible for the lock-out, the management because it wrongly believed Ext. A to be a binding agreement between the management on the one hand and the workmen on the other, and the workmen, because they squatted in large numbers in front of the Manager's room and virtually made the Manager and the Spinning Master prisoners in that room. The controversy between the parties was certainly not such as could have been settled by discussions amongst themselves as it was solved during the hearing of this reference.

In view of the partial responsibility of each of the parties, namely, the management and the workmen for the lock-out, it is necessary that both should be financially penalized. The penalty for the management is that it should be made to pay the workmen their wages and dearness allowance for a half of the period of the lock-out and the penalty of the workmen is that they should not be paid anything for a half of the period of the lock-out. It is true that the workmen did not work during the lock-out and so did not earn any wages and to that extent even a half of their wages, which according to me should be paid by the management to them, has not been earned by them by their work but it cannot but be remembered that they could not work in view of the lock-out declared by the management and to the extent that the management was responsible for the lock-out the payment to the workmen represents the financial penalty imposed on it.

It has been argued on behalf of the employers that the reference precludes the Tribunal for considering the period of the lock-out, prior to the 3rd of November 1961, because the issue, as I have already said, definitely says whether the workmen are entitled to any financial relief for the period of the lock-out from 3rd November 1961. Admittedly, the lock-out began from the 13th of October 1961, the 12th of October having been a holiday and admittedly it continued up to the 26th of Novem 1961. The period of the lock-out, therefore, was days or more accurately 38 days, leaving out Sundays during the period. If the workmen are be paid their wages for a half of the period, th should be paid their wages for 19 days. If the iss is to be taken to mean that the reference is limi to that period of the lock-out which lies betwe 3rd November 1961 and 26th November 1961, th are 24 days of the lock-out covered by this peri In other words, the whole of the half of the peri of the lock-out for which the Company is to p the workmen their wages may easily be includ within the period of the lock-out from 3rd Nove ber 1961 to 26th November 1961. This peri contains to Sundays and consequently the enti period for which the workmen are to be paid m well be in this period, there being no payment f only one working day during this period. As it a possible construction of the issue as referred me and as the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to g beyond the reference, I think the Company shoul pay the workmen wages for 19 working days durin the period between 3rd November 1961 and 26t November 1961.

My award accordingly on this issue is that th workmen are entitled to their wages including dear ness allowance for a half of the period of the lock out and that this period of a half of the lock-out fo which they are entitled to their wages must be 1 working days between 3rd November 1961 and 26th November 1961.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Luxmi Engineering Co. (P) Ltd., 123 Narasingha Dutta Road, Howrah and their workmen represented by Luxmi Engineering Workers' Union, 14 Kalachand Nandi Lane, Howrah (case No. VIII-4561).

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department order No. 404-I.R.|IR|10L-16|61, dated 28th January 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Luxmi Engineering Co. (P) Ltd., 123 Narasingha Dutta Road, Howrah (hereafter referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by Luxmi Engineering Workers' Union, 14 Kalachand Nandi Lane. Howrah (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The only issue referred to this Tribunal for adjudication in this case is as follows:

Bonus payable in 1960.

AWARD

After service of usual notices, both the parties entered appearance and filed their respective written statements. The case of the workmen in short is this: The opposite party Company is a prosperous concern engaged in the manufacture of machine tools, shafts and other engineering products. It employs about 135 workmen, but the workmen are denied minimum wages calculated on the basis of accepted norms, and there is a wide gap between their existing wages and the living wages. The workmen of this concern have been receiving puja bonus for many years as a condition of service irrespective of profit or loss of the Company. The workmen, however, claim additional profit bonus over and above what has already been paid to them as puja bonus and|or bonus as a condition of service. The employer refuses to pay them this additional bonus, and hence the present dispute.

The Company's case on the other hand is that this Company started its factory in 1946, and its financial position is rather insignificant compared to other engineering industries of this region. The Company has been suffering from various handicaps and as a consequence thereof it has been sustaining loss year after year for the past several years. The wages paid by this Company to its workmen compare favourably with those prevailing in similar nature of industries of this region. It is conceded by the Company that the concept of living wages is yet far too distant in the case of much bigger industries, also not to speak of small industries like the present one. It is denied that any bonus is paid—either contractual or customary. The employer, however, paid advance of 13 days' wages and also wages for another 13 days on condition of the workmen's completing certain specific jobs in time during the trading year 1366 B.S. The said advance, however was not recovered from the workmen as a gesture of good will. The trading year of this Company is according to Bengali Calendar year, and in view of the losses incurred by this Company the question of further payment of bonus does not arise at all.

Other facts will appear from the body of the award that follows :

Decisions

It is the accepted principle of law by now that the first essential condition to be satisfied before any demand for bonus can be successfully maintained is that the wages of the workmen must fall short of the living standard. It may be mentioned in this connection that there is no claim for bonus in this case either on the ground of custom or as a condition of service. The workmen's claim is for additional bonus out of surplus profits if any. To get profit-sharing bonus, it is incumbent on the workmen to prove that there is a gap between the existing wages and the living wages. I have already mentioned that there is wide gap, according to the workmen, between the existing wages and living wages in the present case. On the other hand, the Company does not dispute this position. Rather it is admitted categorically in the written statement by the Company that the concept of living wages and the money contents of different items forming the same are too far distant in the case of biggest industries even, not to speak of this small industry. So, it goes without saying that the first essential condition for a claim for bonus has really been satisfied in this case.

The second condition for a successful claim of bonus is that the Company must earn some profits in the course of the business year under consideration. The workmen claimed bonus payable in 1960 in the present case. But the business year or the trading year of the Company runs according to Bengali Calendar year commencing on the first of Baisakh and ending on the last day of the month of Chaitra. In this view of the matter, the business year concerned is 1366 B.S. The Company has filed its duly audited balance-sheet and profit and loss account for the year 1366 B.S. From the profit and loss account of the year it appears that the Company suffered a net loss of Rs. 16,276 in that year. If this be the true state of affair of the Company's business for the relevant year, the question of granting any profit bonus does not arise at all. The learned representative for the workmen, however, contends that the loss shown in the profit and loss account is the product of manipulation, and the real state of affairs if taken into consideration will disclose some profits, and also some net surplus for distribution as profit bonus. So, to come to a definite finding on this disputed point, I am really required to scrutinise the profit and loss account and the balance-sheet of the Company. It is not in dispute that for calculation of profit and available surplus, if any, I am to determine the gross profits of the Company and deduct prior charges therefrom for ascertaining the available surplus, if any, in accordance with the Full Bench Formula. It is by now settled law that for the purpose of bonus, available surplus is to be calculated according to the Full Bench Formula laid down by the Labour Appellate Tribunal, in the case of Mill Owners' Association, Bombay versus Rastriya Mill Mazdoor Sangh, Bombay. This formula has been subsequently approved and illucidated by their lordships of the Supreme Court in many cases. So, for assessing the gross profits, I may start with a net loss of Rs. 16,276, i.e., net profit = – Rs. 16,276. To this amount, we can add now depreciation of Rs. 13,408, development rebate reserve of Rs. 13,140, donation of Rs. 150 and Rs. 2,602 as loss shown on revaluation. In this connection, I may point out that the Company has already paid Rs. 3,274 as bonus to workers, Rs. 6,459 as bonus to staff (vide manufacturing and trading account and also profit and loss account of the year). These two items of expenditure have been mentioned as revenue expenditure, and I do not like to add them back for assessing the gross profits. According to the workmen these amounts were paid as bonus either customary or as a condition of service. According to O.P.W. 1 Shri S. Kundu who is one of the Directors of the Company, 13 days' wages were paid as puja bonus and the rest was paid by way of ex gratia payment as an incentive for better production and completion of certain production target. Thus it is more or less conceded by both the parties that these payments were made irrespective of profit or loss of the year under consideration. So, the Management treated the same as revenue or business expenditure of the year under consideration. Thus the total amount to be added back comes to Rs. 29,300. If I deduct net loss of Rs. 16,276 the net gross profit for bonus purpose comes to Rs. 13,024. According to the Full Bench Formula, the Tribunal has to deduct certain prior charges out of the gross profits before any bonus is distributed out of surplus profits if any. The prior charges to be deducted out of gross profits are notional normal depreciation, income-tax if any payable, reasonable return on paid up and working capital and also additional rehabilitation charges if any due to the Company. The Company in the profit and loss account makes no provision for payment of income-tax on the ground that it has actually earned no income. If the amount of gross profit as shown above be taken into consideration, and if there be any profit even after deducting statutory depreciation; I am afraid, notionally the Company is entitled to deduct some amount, out of net gross profits as income-tax. But in fact, if the Company is allowed to deduct the statutory depreciation out of the gross profits shown above, no income-tax may actually be payable. So, for the present, I do not calculate income-tax payable out of gross profits. From the balance-sheet it will appear that the Company made additions to its fixed assets other than land during the year under consideration. The written down value of the plants and machinery at the commencement of the year was Rs. 63,226 and additions to plants and machineries worth Rs. 52,507 were made in the previous year. Thus the total value of the plants and machineries at the commencement of the year under consideration was Rs. 1,15,786, and normal depreciation for this item alone comes to Rs. 8,683. The written down value of factory shed, furniture, electric installations, motor car, patterns, and tools and implements was Rs. 22,930, Rs. 3,586, Rs. 4,185, Rs. 3,749, Rs. 3,757 and Rs. 4,277, respectively. Thus, the written down value of these items comes to Rs. 42,484. In addition to this amount, the Company made certain additions during the year under consideration, but it is not clear in which part of the year these additions were actually made. The new additions are worth a fairly big amount and development rebate can be claimed thereon. So, apart from new additions also, the normal depreciation allowable for the said items under the Income-tax Act will be a fairly big amount. Thus it is needless to mention here that the whole of the gross profits shown above will be neutralised by the statutory depreciation including development rebate, and so the Company is perfectly right in saying that in the year under consideration no income-tax was actually payable because the Company is entitled to deduct out of its gross profits statutory depreciation before assessable income is calculated. I may mention here that the Company has not placed any material before this Tribunal for calculation of notional normal depreciation in accordance with the straight line method on the basis of original cost of fixed assets. But incidentally it may be pointed out here that ordinarily notional normal depreciation is not likely to be less than normal depreciation calculated on written down value in accordance with the Income-tax Act. In this view of the matter I may at once observe that the net gross profits mentioned above will be consumed by notional normal depreciation alone even if it be assumed in this case that the notional normal depreciation will be similar to normal depreciation admissible to the Company. Besides this, the balance-sheet will show that the Company's paid up capital was Rs. 1,80,000 during the year under consideration. Usually, the Company is entitled to deduct as prior charge 6 per cent. return on this capital out of gross profits. No evidence has been adduced to show that the Company is not entitled to 6 per cent. interest in the present case. So, if the return on paid up capital be calculated at 6 per cent. only, the return due to the Company on this account comes to Rs. 10,800. Thus there is no escape from the conclusion that the Company really had no net profit or available surplus for distribution as profit bonus. P.W. 1 Shri Niranjan Dalai, a workman of the Company, in his deposition tries to say that the Company has not shown all the actual sales as sales in its books of accounts in order to make a show of loss during the year under consideration. But in his cross-examination he admits that he cannot cite a single instance of sale which has not been recorded or correctly recorded in the books of account of the Company. He also says that he had never any occasion to look into the account books of the Company nor he ever saw the balance-sheet of the Company for the year under consideration. He categorically states: it is a surmise only that the accounts have not been correctly maintained by the Company. Thus the allegation of this workman has no legs to stand upon. The learned representative for the workmen next draws my attention to certain items of expenditure shown in the profit and loss account. The profit and loss account shows that the Technical Director of the Company was paid an allowance of Rs. 12,000 for the year under consideration. It will also appear from the profit and loss account that the Managing Agents were paid remunerations of Rs. 12,000 and the Directors were paid Rs. 18,000 as remunerations for the year under consideration. This is a private limited Company and except one, all the Directors are members of one family or are close agnates. It is urged that the Company has appropriated the bulk of the income earned towards allowance and remunerations of the real proprietors or shareholders in order to deprive the workmen of their just claim for bonus. So, I must look into the evidence that has been adduced by the parties in this connection. The only witness examined on behalf of the workmen admits that all the Directors come to the factory daily. They upervise the work of the factory and look after its nanagement. They also keep themselves engaged in he factory throughout the working hours. Under hese circumstances, if the Directors claim a fair emuneration for themselves and if the Managing Agents claim some remuneration, it is difficult for me o say that the claim is unjust or unreasonable. I nay also point out that Shri M. L. Kundu is the Technical Director of the Company. He is an M.E. of the Jadavpur University. He has also foreign qualifications. He looks after the technical side of he Company. So, if such a Technical Director laims Rs. 1,000 a month as his remuneration or llowance and if this has been allowed actually by the hareholders or the Board of Directors by an express esolution, this Tribunal has no reason for not treating he same as revenue expenditure. Similarly, the Managing Director and other Directors who keep hemselves engaged throughout the year in the factory nd manage the business, and if the Company pays ufficient remuneration to them, they cannot be dis-llowed on the allegation that the expenditures were nreasonable. It is the positive evidence on the side f the Company that these remunerations were settled n a meeting of the shareholders and the Board of Directors. Thus these expenditures were sanctioned xpenditures considered reasonable by the Company. Even the test of commercial necessity laid down in the ncome-tax Act, cannot be availed of and these xpenditures cannot be rejected on the allegation that here was no commercial necessity therefor be-ause tribunal has no authority to apply same for onus purposes. So, I am unable to accept the ontention that these items of expenditure should not e treated as business expenditure or revenue expendi-ure So, these items cannot be added back to inflate he amount of gross profits.

Thus considering all the facts and cirmumstances of he present case and the facts and figures as disclosed y the balance-sheet and the profit and loss account nd judged by the principles laid down in the Full Bench Formula, I may at once observe that there would be no available surplus for distribution as profit onus to the workmen. The result is that the work-men are not entitled to any further bonus for the year nder consideration. The claim for bonus accord-ngly fails.

This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 4057-I.R.|IR|9L-47|59, dated 20th August 1959 the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Gandrapara Tea Estate and their workmen represented by the Zilla Cha Bagan Workers' Union relating to the undermentioned issue to the Second Labour Court for adjudication.

Issue:

1. Whether the termination of employment of the following workmen is justified. To what relief, if any, are they entitled?—
   (a) Shri Kharga Bahadur of Antaria Sirdar,
   (b) Shri Lok Bahadur of Antaria Sirdar,
   (c) Shri Jagat Bahadur of Antaria Sirdar and
   (d) Shri Lal Bahadur, Duffadar

The facts of the case, briefly stated, are as follows: Sarvashri Kharga Bahadur, Lok Bahadur and Jagat Bahadur, the first three named in the issue of the order of reference were ordinary labourers at Gandrapara Tea Estate: Lal Bahadur, the last named person in the issue of the order of reference was a Duffadar at the above Tea Estate. On 18th June 1958 identical charge-sheets were issued to Sarvashri Kharga

Bahadur, Lok Bahadur and Jagat Bahadur. The charges mentioned in these charge-sheets are quoted below:

"(1) On 13th June 1958 at 8 a.m. in Totapara Division of Gandrapara Tea Estate you were wilfully insubordinate to, and insulted your superior (Duffadar) when you were refused work for turning out late. This, if proved, is an offence under the Standing Orders in force on this Estate.

(2) On the same occasion you behaved in a disorderly manner prejudicial to the good running of the estate and incited others to leave the worksite contrary to orders."

They were dismissed with effect from 1st July 1958 on those charges. Two charge-sheets were issued by the Manager of Gandrapara Tea Estate against Lal Bahadur Chetri on 18th June 1958. The charge mentioned in one of those charge-sheets is as follows: "On June 13th at 8 a.m. in Totapara Division of Gandrapara Tea Estate you left without permission the work which you were put in charge and ordered the men to leave their work contrary to the Manager's orders. This, if proved, is an act subversive of discipline and is conduct prejudicial to the good running of the estate." The charge in the other charge-sheet is as follows: "On May 26th 1958 at 12 o' clock in my office you were asked to return the tarpaulin which was loaned to you. On your request I allowed you to keep that for 14 days more. You did not return it after the agreed time of 14 days. On June 13th, 1958 you were warned and were ordered to return the tarpaulin without further delay, but you again completely ignored my order." He was suspended for three weeks as a punishment on account of the above two charge-sheets. On 29th August 1958 the Manager issued two charge-sheets to him. The charges mentioned in one of those charge-sheets were (1) dishonesty in connection with his employer's business under clause 13C(II) of the Standing Orders; (2) Wilful disobedience to a lawful order under clause 13C(I) of the above orders; (3) Neglect of work under clause 13C(X) of the above orders. The details of charges mentioned in that charge-sheet are as follows: (1) That on the morning of 27th instant you reported to Doctor Babu that you had been given 7 days' sick leave by me. This was quite untruthful and calculated to give the Doctor wrong information. This amounts to an offence of dishonesty in connection with your employer's business [Section 13C(II)]; (2) that when ordered to meet me at the office at 7-30a.m. on 28th to talk about the above offence, you deliberately disobeyed my order, and proceeded on your own business off the garden [section 13C(I)]; (3) Having disregarded my order to appear at the office at 7-30 a.m., you proceeded off the estate on your own business without permission, while you were under garden medical treatment. By doing so you thereby neglected your work as a Duffadar of the estate [section 13(X)]". The other charge-sheet was on account of refusal to accept the former charge-sheet. He was dismissed with effect from 27th September 1958 on account of the above two charge-sheets.

The case of the Zilla Cha Bagan Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), in brief, is as follows: Lal Bahadur and Jagat Bahadur were and are respectively the President and the Secretary of Gandrapara Branch of the Union, and Kharga Bahadur and Lok Bahadur were and are importar office bearers and workers of the said Branch. Th management of Messrs. Gandrapara Tea Estate (here inafter referred to as the Company) looked upo the Union with disfavour and was trying to dismi the important workers of the Union since the forma tion of the Branch in February 1958. The dis missals of the above four workmen were acts of vict misation for their belonging to the Union. On 12t June 1958 there was some trouble in the garden du to illegal and whimsical actions of the then Assistar Manager of the Tea Estate. On that date th workers engaged in plucking had been given work i a block known as Nayabagan and on completion c plucking at that block workers were asked to pluc leaves at Block No. 5 of Totapara Division. Accord ingly all the workers went to Block No. 5 and con tinued plucking there; but when the bell rang, th Assistant Manager who was then on the spot did no allow them to leave and go for weighment as usua and they were directed to continue the pluckin The Assistant Manager told them that the time c plucking had been changed and they would have t work for 15 minutes more. The Assistant Manager' action in changing the working time without previou intimation was in violation of Standing Orders an Plantation Labour Act. One worker named Bal Baha dur went to answer a call of nature and on his retur the Assistant Manager severely abused him and threw away his plucked leaves. The workers in a bod protested against this illegal action of the Assistan Manager. This enraged the management and it wa out to victimise by picking out the important worker of the union. On 13th June 1958 a large numbe of workers, all belonging to the Zilla Cha Bagai Workers' Union, were refused work on the allegatio that they were late in joining their work; but as a matter of fact most of them joined the mela in time but the chaprasi Budhram Mahali who is a leader o the rival Union delayed in allotment of work an allotted work to the workmen belonging to his unio within 7-30 a.m. when he refused to allot work t others alleging that time for joining work was alread over. The workers who were refused work include Kharga Bahadur, Jagat Bahadur and Lok Bahadur they requested the Chaprasi at 7-35 a.m. to allot then work, but they were refused. There upon they lef the place. The allegation that the above three workers were insubordinate to and insulted an Duffadar or that they behaved in a disorderly manne or incited any worker to leave the worksite is abso lutely false. The charges framed against them wer all vague and misleading. The charges did no specify the name of the Duffadar or the manner in which he was alleged to have been insulted. The charges also did not state the names of the person who were alleged to have been incited to leave the worksite. The time given to them to answer the charges was too short, particularly in view of the fac that they were all illiterate and the charges were in English language. The enquiry, if any, was held in absence of the above workers in complete violation of the principles of natural justice. No statement made by any witness at the enquiry was explained to the workmen nor was any copy of such statement supplied to them nor were they given any opportunity to cross-examine any witness. During the conciliation proceedings the Union came to know that certain written statements were taken from some persons who are important workers and office bearers of the rival union, but the above three charge-sheeted workmen were not given any opportunity to look at those statements nor were those statements explained to them. Two charge-sheets were handed over to Lal Bahadur on 29th August 1958 directing him to submit explanation by 12 a.m. of 30th August 1958. The charge-sheets were in English and it was not possible for him to reply to them within 12 a.m. of 30th August 1958. The charge that he refused to accept the first charge-sheet is false. He was attacked with inflamation of eyes with fever on 25th August 1958. Due to the aggravation of the eye trouble he could not work on 27th August 1958; on his way to the hospital he met the Manager who enquired why he was not working. He replied that the reason was his eye trouble. The Manager then enquired of him how long it would take him to recover from the eye trouble; he replied that it might take a week. He never told the dactor that the Manager had granted him leave for 7 days. He only reported to the doctor his talk with the Manager and requested the latter to recommend leave for 7 days. Accordingly the doctor recommended him leave for 7 days. The Manager did not ask Lal Bahadur to meet him at the office on 28th August 1958. Lal Bahadur was directed by the officer-in-charge, Nagrakata police-station to appear at that police-station on 28th August 1958 in connection with a theft case. As Lal Bahadur was a witness in that case he went to that police-station in spite of his eye troubles as he apprehended that the disobedience of the order of the Officer-in-charge, Nagrakata police-station, might lead him into trouble. No enquiry about the charge-sheets issued to him was held. So the Union contends that the four workmen mentioned in the issue of the order of reference were dismissed in violation of the principles of natural justice and that their dismissals are instances of victimisation and unfair labour practice.

The case of the company, on the other hand, is as follows: The general practice in that tea estate is to start work at 7 a.m. and the management has the right to refuse work to any workman who arrives more than half an hour after the above time, as provided by the Standing Orders and the Plantation Labour Act. This right, however, is very sparingly exercised and only after warning against late attendance proves ineffective. Though the muster should normally close at 7-30 a.m., on 13th June 1958 the workmen were allowed to take up work even up to 7-45 a.m. Kharga Bahadur, Lok Bahadur and Jagat Bahadur were amongst those who arrived at the work-site after 7-45 a.m., and accordingly were refused work for the day. This infuriated the above three workmen and they behaved in an insubordinate manner to the supervisory staff, i.e., the Duffadars who are executing the management's orders and insulted them with abusive language. They also incited other workmen to leave work and went to the area where the women were working and intimidated them into leaving the work-site. Lal Bahadur, although a member of the supervisory staff, incited workers to stop work and made a common cause with the unruly workmen. He also behaved in a disorderly manner and subsequently left the place of work during working hours without permission. He also disobeyed a lawful order of the management to return a tarpaulin which had been loaned to him by the management. Thereafter on 13th June 1958 charge-sheets were issued to the above four employees, and all of them submitted their explanations on 20th June 1958. As the explanations were not considered satisfactory by the management, an enquiry was held on 28th June 1958 when the above four workmen were present; witnesses were examined and the above workmen were given every opportunity to defend themselves. At the said enquiry it was proved conclusively that they were guilty of the charges; but the management, as a measure of leniency proposed to refrain from dismissing them provided they gave an undertaking not to misbehave in future. This offer was refused by them except Lal Bahadur, and consequently the management dismissed the remaining three for the offences mentioned in the charge-sheets issued to them on 18th June 1958. Though Lal Bahadur gave an undertaking of good behaviour, he totally disregarded the same and in the morning of 27th August 1958 he made a false statement to the garden doctor that he had been given 7 days' sick leave by the garden Manager, as a result of which the garden doctor mistakenly believed that he was acting in accordance with the wishes of the Garden Manager and concurred in granting him such leave for 7 days. When this was brought to the notice of the Garden Manager by the farden doctor, Lal Bahadur was asked to see the Manager on 28th August 1958 at 7-30 a.m. Lal Bahadur deliberately disobeyed that order and instead left the farden on his own business without permission. He was therefore charge-sheeted for the above offence on 29th August 1958; he, however, refused to accept the charge-sheet. He was then further charge-sheeted for refusing to accept the former charge-sheet. Both the charge-sheets were delivered to him by a chowkidar on 29th August 1958 at 10 a.m He was asked to submit his explanation by 12 noon on 30th August 1958; but as he did not turn up on that date, he was asked by a letter, dated 6th September 1958 to appear at the garden office at 7-30 a.m. on 10th September 1958 for an enquiry. As the letter, dated 6th September 1958 was received by him on 11th September 1958, the management by its letter, dated 13th September 1958 asked him to attend an enquiry on 22nd September 1958 at 7-30 a.m. at the garden office. Eventually the enquiry was held in his presence on 23rd September 1958, when witnesses were examined and cross-examined. At the said enquiry his guilt was proved and as there were no extenuating circumstances, he was dismissed with effect from 27th September 1958. The Company has also denied the allegation of victimisation made by the union and has stated that it was not aware that the workmen mentioned in the issue of the order of reference were important office bearers of the Gandrapara Branch of the Union. The Company has also denied the allegations of the Union that the charge-sheets issued to the above four workmen were vague, misleading or false, that a large number of workers belonging to the union were refused work although they came to work within the proper time, that the chaprasi Budhram Mahali delayed the allotment of work to them and that Kharga Bahadur, Jagat Bahadur and Lok Bahadur requested the chaprasi to allot them work at 7-35 a.m. The Company therefore contends that the termination of employment of the workmen mentioned in the issue of the order of reference is justified.

The Company has also raised a preliminary objection to the effect that this is not an industrial dispute on the ground that the Union mentioned in the order of reference is not the representative union of the workmen of the tea estate and that it is the West Bengal Cha Sramik Union, registered No. 2233, which is the representative union of the workmen of this tea estate and the majority of the workmen are members of that Union.

Findings

I first take up the preliminary objection raised by the Company. The contention of the Company is that the Union which has espoused the cause of the workmen in the present case does not include in its membership a majority of the workmen employed in the tea estate. But the Company does not contend that no workman employed in the tea estate is a member of that Union. It has been held by the Supreme Court in the case of Associated Cement Company that even a Union consisting of a minority of the workmen in an establishment can raise a valid industrial dispute on behalf of the workmen of that establishment. If the contention of the Company in the present case is accepted in toto, this only means that a minority of the workmen employed by the Company are members of the Union mentioned in the order of reference. According to the above decision of the Supreme Court such a Union can espouse the cause of the workmen. Hence I hold that this is an industrial dispute and reject the preliminary objection of the Company.

I now enter into the merits of the issue. In considering the issue I split it into two parts, one relating to the termination of employment of Kharga Bahadur, Lok Bahadur and Jagat Bahadur and the other to that of Lal Bahadur. The first three have been dismissed on charge-sheets issued to them on 18th June 1958. The charge-sheets which are identical contained allegation of some misconducts committed by them on 13th June 1958. The contention of the Company is that at the enquiry held about the charge-sheets the above three were found guilty of the charges mentioned in the charge-sheets. The first ground on which the decision of the management has been challenged by the Union is that the charges mentioned in the charge-sheets are vague in that the name of the Duffadar who is alleged to have been insulted by the three charge-sheeted workmen has not been mentioned in the charge-sheets. I concede that the name of the Duffadar ought to have been mentioned in the charge-sheet; but the omission of the name of Duffadar has not in any way misled any of the charge-sheeted workmen. In their replies to the charge-sheets they have denied the allegation mentioned therein; but they have not stated that they were handicapped in giving their replies on account of the omission of the name of the Duffadar. Further at the enquiry evidence on behalf of the Company was led showing which Duffadar was meant in the charge-sheets. The charge-sheeted workmen did not say that they were taken by surprise when the name of the Duffadar in question was disclosed at the enquiry. So I hold that the omission of the name of the Duffadar has not vitiated the charge-sheets, as it did not in any way mislead the charge-sheeted workmen. The Union has described the charges to be vague also on the ground that they did not contain the names of the workers whom the charge-sheeted workmen are alleged to have incited to leave work; but it is in evidence that a large number of workmen were incited by the charge-sheeted workmen to leave work; so it cannot be expected that the charge-sheets would contain a list of the names of the workers who were incited to leave work. Moreover, the omission to mention the names of such workers has not in any way misled the charge-sheeted workmen.

The second ground on which the decision of the management has been challenged by the Union is that the enquiry was not properly held. The argument of the Union is that statements of witnesses recorded previously in the absence of the charge-sheeted workmen were tendered as evidence at the enquiry. It is true that a decision against charge-sheeted workmen cannot be taken on the basis of statements of witnesses recorded behind their back. But in the present case it is the evidence of Mr. Lennox, the then Manager of the tea Estate who held the enquiry that those statements were read over and explained to the charge-sheeted workmen and they were asked to cross-examine the makers of the statements who were present at the enquiry. But, according to Mr. Lennox, the charge-sheeted workmen instead of cross-examining these witnesses only shouted at them. The Union has also pointed out some defects in the evidence adduced at the enquiry on behalf of the company. For example, the name of Lok Bahadur does not appear in the statement of Sukra Duffadar who is alleged to have been insulted. Again the name of Budhram Chaprasi who is alleged to have been present at the time of Sukra Duffadar being insulted appears as a witness only in regard to the enquiry about Kharga Bahadur. There are some similar defects in the evidence adduced at the enquiry. But in spite of these defects, the evidence which has been led at the enquiry is such that if an enquiring officer comes to a finding of guilt on that evidence, that finding cannot be called perverse. Jagat Bahadur produced three witnesses in his defence at the enquiry about him. The Enquiring Officer considered their evidence also. It is now settled law that when the evidence adduced at a domestic enquiry, if believed by the Enquiring Officer, leads to the finding made by him, and adjudicating tribunal should not interfere with such finding. In the present case the evidence adduced at the enquiry clearly leads to an inference of guilt of both the charges mentioned in the charge-sheets issued against the above three workmen. If the Enquiring Officer believed that evidence and came to a finding of guilt, this finding cannot be questioned.

The Company has also adduced before me evidence in support of the charges mentioned in the charge-sheets. In cross-examining the witnesses of the Company the Union has made much about the point whether Budhram Chaprasi or Sukra Duffadar was the Melawala, i.e., distributor of work. The Company has contended that Sukra Duffadar was the Melawala on that day, whereas the Union contends that Budhram Chaprasi was the Melawala. Weighing the evidence of both sides on this point I believe the evidence adduced on behalf of the Company and hold that Sukra Duffadar was the Melawala on that day. Moreover, the question whether Sukra or Budhram was the Melawala is not material in ascertaining the truth of the charges mentioned in the charge-sheets. It is in evidence that both of them were insulted by the three charge-sheeted workmen. There is also convincing evidence that the three charge-sheeted workmen incited other workmen to leave work. These are clearly misconducts for which the punishment of dismissal has been provided for in the Standing Orders of the Company Ext. A1.

I next consider the case of Lal Bahadur Chetri. On 18th June 1958 he was given two charge-sheets, one relating to his conduct on 13th June 1958 in leaving work without permission and ordering men to leave their work and the other relating to his failure to return a tarpaulin loaned to him. He was suspended for three weeks on account of the above two charge-sheets. Whereas the Company says that he was given that punishment as he pleaded guilty to the charges and asked for a lenient punishment, he in his evidence does not admit this. The circumstances leading to the infliction of this punishment are not material for the present adjudication, because that punishment is not a subject matter of the present dispute. The relevant charge-sheets for which he has been dismissed are the two charge-sheets issued to him on 29th August 1958. The first of these two charge-sheets relates to three misconducts and the second charge-sheet is for the refusal to accept the first charge-sheet. The Company has adduced evidence to the effect that enquiries about the two charge-sheets were properly held. There is no reason whatsoever to disbelieve the evidence of the Company on this point. The Company has also adduced evidence before me in support of the two charge-sheets. The only evidence on behalf of the Union in refuting the charges mentioned in the two charge-sheets is the uncorroborated testimony of Lal Bahadur himself. There are some statements in his evidence which clearly show that he has not stated the truth. For example, in connection with the first charge mentioned in the first charge-sheet, dated 29th August 1958 he says that when he met the doctor, the doctor enquired of him whether he had met the Manager; but the evidence in the case clearly shows that the doctor could have no knowledge of Lal Bahadur meeting the Manager. So obviously the statement of Lal Bahadur as to the doctor asking the question is not true. On the other hand, witnesses on behalf of the Company have corroborated one another for proving the charges mentioned in the two charge-sheets. These charges with the exception of one are misconducts for which the Standing Orders provide for a punishment of dismissal. The exception is charge No. 3 in the first charge-sheet, dated 29th August 1958. That charge is on account of Lal Bahadur Chetri leaving the tea estate without the permission of the Manager. For that reason he has been charged with neglect of work. But it is on evidence that he was on leave, whether obtained rightfully or wrongfully, on that day. So if he remained at the tea estate on that date, it is not understood what work of the tea estate he would have done on that date. It has been suggested on behalf of the company that it is the practice in the tea estate for a workman to obtain the prior permission of the Manager for leaving the tea estate even outside the hours of work. There is no written order in support of that practice. Even if it be accepted that such a practice was in existence and had a binding effect, the conduct of Lal Bahadur Chetri on that day could be described as insubordination or indiscipline. But such a conduct cannot, by any stretch of imagination, be called neglect of work. So I hold that the charge of neglect of work mentioned in the first charge-sheet, dated 29th August 1958 is based on a misconception of law and the company ought not to have taken any action on that charge. But the other two charges in that charge-sheet and the charge of refusing to accept that charge-sheet have been conclusively proved. As I have already stated, these charges merit dismissal according to the provisions of the Standing Orders of the Company Ext. A1.

The Union has raised the plea of victimisation saying that the four workmen mentioned in the issue of the order of reference were important office bearers and workers of the local unit of the union. The company has denied any knowledge of the holding of such position by the workmen in question. The Union has not been able to show that the company was aware that the four workmen in question were important office bearers or workers of the Union. In support of the plea of victimisation the Union has also brought in an incident of 12th June 1958. The contention of the Union is that the workers in a body protested against the illegal action of the Assistant Manager on that day and that this enraged the management and led it to pick out the important workers belonging to the Union for punishment. It however appears from the evidence of the witnesses of the company including the Assistant Manager himself that the Assistant Manager did nothing improper on that date. Further, it is on evidence that no worker was punished or no charge-sheet was issued to any worker for what happened on 12th June 1958. Again if the management was angry for what happened on 12th June 1958, it would have picked out Lal Bahadur who was involved in the incident of that date. It is difficult to imagine that the Company would pick out the four workmen mentioned in the issue of the order of reference for what happened on 12th June 1958. The Union admits this much that the first three mentioned in the issue of the order of reference were refused work on the allegation of turning up late on 13th June 1958. So it cannot be said that whatever the company said in this matter is all fabrication. So the plea of victimisation fails.

In view of the above considerations, I hold that the termination of employment of Sarvashri Kharga Bahadur, Lok Bahadur, Jagat Bahadur and Lal Bahadur is justified. Hence they are not entitled to any relief.

Though in the order of reference there are names of five Companies, it was an admitted position at the hearing that there was no existence of the Company named as "Messrs. Paharpur Yards," which was one of the four Companies included in the reference by a Corrigendum, dated the 23rd March 1962, issued by the Government with reference to the original order of reference which contained the name of only one Company, Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills Ltd. The Union specifically brought the fact of non-existence of the Company named as "Messrs. Paharpur Yards" in the Corrigendum to the notice of the Tribunal by a special petition filed on 3rd May 1962. No objection to this special petition was filed by the Companies and when the case was taken up for hearing, it was admitted by both sides that there was no Company by the name of Messrs. Paharpur Yards and none of the concerned workers named in the order of reference was an employee of such a Company. So, Messrs. Paharpur Yards goes out of the reference altogether. The dispute referred to this Tribunal is to be adjudicated on the footing that it is a dispute between the other four Companies, (1) Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills Ltd., (2) Messrs. Steel Rolling Mills of Bengal, (3) Messrs. Khemchand Rajkumar and (4) Messrs. Rajkumar (India) Ltd. It is an admitted position that all these Companies are under the same management and have a common office.

In the written statement filed by the Union, the concerned workers, who were employees of each of the four aforesaid Companies, are named separately in paragraph (4). The Union's case in this respect has not been disputed or denied. So, the undisputed position arising out of the Union's written statement in this respect stands as follows: Workers Nos. (1) to (14) named in the issue were employees of Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills Ltd.; worker No. (15) of the issue was the employee of Messrs. Rajkumar (India) Ltd.; workers Nos. (16) to (21) of the issue were employees of Messrs. Khemchand Rajkumar; and the remaining workers Nos. (22) to (29) of the issue were employees of Messrs. Steel Rolling Mills of Bengal.

The relevant case put forward by the Union may be briefly summarised as follows: The workers submitted a charter of demands to their respective employers in November 1957. The employers became vindictive and started terrorising the workers for their Union activities. They did not at all consider the charter of demands. The employers went so far as to cause false criminal cases to be instituted against their workers and these workers were refused employment without any charge-sheet. The Union placed the matter before a Conciliation Officer of the Government. In course of the conciliation proceedings, a settlement was arrived at between the Companies and the Union representing the workers. The relevant terms of the settlement were as follows:

"(i) The workers against whom police cases are pending regarding incidence of 1st April 1957 and 3rd April 1957 shall remain suspended till the final disposal of police cases by competent court or courts.

(ii) Till the final disposal of the case as above, the workers concerned shall be paid 50 per cent. of wages as subsistence allowance, for all the working days, festival holidays, national holidays, etc., with effect from date.

(iii) The workmen, who are convicted finally, shall be dismissed from their services of the Company and those who are either discharged, acquitted or dropped from the cases shall be reinstated in their jobs with full benefits less the monies received by them as subsistence allowance under paragraph 2 above."

The criminal cases against the workers were disposed of in due course and all the concerned workers were either discharged or acquitted. After the disposal of the criminal cases, the workers reported for duty but the Companies refused to reinstate them and also refused to pay them the subsistence allowance for the suspension period, as agreed upon. This action of the Companies was wholly unjust, unfair and illegal. The concerned workers are, therefore, entitled to be reinstated to their service under the respective Companies and to be paid all their wages and allowances for the period of their non-employment including the subsistence allowance according to the aforesaid settlement.

Each of the four concerned Companies, which are now covered by this reference, has filed a separate written statement. Excepting some special cases with regard to some of the concerned workers' their general case is practically the same. They have also raised some preliminary objections against the maintainability of the present reference and have challenged it as without jurisdiction. Only two such preliminary objections were pressed at the hearing and these were:

(1) The concerned Union named in the order of reference is not competent to represent the workers of these Companies, because a large number or majority of workers of these Companies are not members of this Union and so it is not an industrial dispute at all which can be referred for adjudication under section 10, Industrial Disputes Act; and

(2) The settlement in question was legally terminated under section 19(2), Industrial Disputes Act, by the Companies by notices, dated 9th April 1958, and so the settlement ceased to have any existence after the expiry of two months from that date and in these circumstances there was no existence of the settlement at the time of the reference and consequently there could be no industrial dispute over the settlement at that time.

Apart from the aforesaid legal objections, the general case put forward by the Companies may be briefly summarised as follows: No charter of demands was ever submitted to those Companies in November 1957 and these Companies never took any vindictive attitude and never terrorised the workmen for their Union activities. The Companies never instituted false cases against the workers who were members of the Union. On the other hand, the workers themselves became unruly and there was rioting within the factory on 1st April 1957 and 3rd April 1957 and police cases were started against the workers by the State Government. The settlement between the Companies and the Union, dated 4th May 1957, is admitted. The concerned workers were suspended in terms of that settlement. The Companies, however, terminated the said settlement by notices, dated 9th April 1958, which were sent by registered post to the Union and these were duly received by the President of the Union, Shri K. K. Ram. The settlement thus ceased to be binding upon the Companies after the expiry of two months from the date of the notices and the Companies are not now bound by the terms of the said settlement. The concerned workers never reported for duty after the disposal of the criminal cases, as alleged in the written statement of the Union. Some of the workers are either dead or accepted their discharge or dismissal or retrenchment from service and some are working somewhere else. The special cases of the Companies in respect of this plea will be stated later. The workers absented themselves from duty for a long time after the termination of the settlement with the Companies and so their services were automatically terminated by the Companies and this action was not unjust or unfair or illegal.

I now come to the special cases put forward by some of the Companies in respect of some of the concerned workers. Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills Ltd. has pleaded the following special case. Workers Nos. (2) Bhagat Singh, (4) Benarasi, (6) Chanan Singh, (8) Gurnail Singh, (10) Niranjan Singh, (11) Sohan Singh and (14) Kalika Misir amicably settled their disputes with the Company and also settled their accounts with the Company and took payments of the settled dues and left the service of the Company. Among these workers Nos. (6) Chanan Singh, (8) Gurnail Singh, (11) Sohan Singh and (14) Kalika Misir were retrenched. Workers Nos. (5) Mohan, (7) Ram Audh and (9) Kunain Singh were dismissed, as it was ascertained that they were working elsewhere during their period of suspension.

No special case has been put forward by Messrs. Raj Kumar (India) Ltd.

Messrs. Khemchand Rajkumar has pleaded the following case: Worker No. (17) Harjit Singh and worker No. (21) Ram Naresh were dismissed, as it was ascertained that they were working elsewhere during their period of suspension.

Messrs. Steel Rolling Mills of Bengal has pleaded the following special case: Workers No. (22) Karnail Singh, No. (24) Trilok Singh and No. (28) Sarvan Singh left the Company's service voluntarily after settling their accounts with the Company and taking payments under the settlement. Among them, Karnail Singh was previously retrenched. Worker No. (23) Gurbachan Das was also previously retrenched.

I first take up the preliminary objections raised by the Companies.

There is absolutely no substance in the first preliminary objection. Apart from the clear and competent evidence of the Union President, Shri K. K. Ram (P.W. 1), that the workers of these Companies were and are members of this Union, the undisputed fact stands out that the Companies themselves recognised this Union as the authorised representative of their workers and entered into a settlement with the Union in their dispute with the workers after the alleged disturbances on 1st April 1957 and 3rd April 1957, which led to the institution of criminal cases against the workers. It is also the case of the Companies that they terminated the aforesaid settlement with the Union, dated 4th May 1957, by notices to the Union. The Companies thus fully recognised the representative character of the Union in relation to their workers and had transactions with it accordingly. The present dispute under reference basically relates to the aforesaid settlement, dated 4th May 1957. The Companies cannot now turn round and question the representative character of the Union in relation to their workers and it cannot be permitted to plead that the Union does not represent the workers and so the Union is not competent to raise any industrial dispute in regard to the workers in connection with the admitted agreement, dated 4th May 1957. It is also proved that it is a registered trade Union (vide Ext. 3). I have already referred above to the evidence of the Union President that the workers of these Companies are members of th Union. There is no contrary negative evidence on the side of the Companies. None of the witnesses examined on behalf of the Companies has testified that the workers of these Companies were or are not members of this Union. The learned Advocate for the Companies sought to support the preliminary objection under consideration by referring to section 22 of the Trade Union Act and contending that this Union does not fufil the requirement of this section. This contention has absolutely no substance. Section 22 of the Trade Unions Act governs the internal constitution of a registered Trade Union and lays down a minimum proportion of officers who must be persons actually engaged or employed in the concerned industry. The object of this section is obviously to provide against too many outsiders gaining control of the executive administration of a registered Trade Union. In the present case, there is of course no evidence on either side to prove what proportion of the total number of officers of this Union are engaged or employed in the concerned industry. But then the fact remains that this Union is a registered Trade Union and section 22 falls under chapter III which enacts the rights and liabilities of registered Trade Unions. When this Union is a registered Trade Union, it may be legally presumed that it has fully complied with the requierments of chapter III and necessarily with the provisions of section 22. In this view of the matter, I reject the contention that this Trade Union is debarred from sponsoring the present dispute on behalf of the workers of these Companies by section 22 of the Trade Unions Act. In view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, I reject this preliminary objection and hold that this Union is fully competent to represent the workers of these Companies and to raise an industrial dispute on their behalf and this industrial dispute has been raised by the Union and so the reference of the dispute by the Government to this Tribunal for adjudication was quite competent and the Government acted within its jurisdiction in making the reference.

There is also no substance in the second preliminary objection raised on behalf of the Companies. The settlement in question, dated 4th May 1957, might have been terminated by the Companies by their notices, dated 9th April 1958, as alleged, but that would not take away the right of the Union to raise an industrial dispute of the present nature basically relating to the aforesaid settlement, dated 4th May 1957. The question whether the said settlement was duly terminated according to law and, if so, what would be its effect upon the rights and liabilities of the parties arising out of the settlement would be one of the main points of the decision in the present case. By terminating the settlement, as alleged, the Companies cannot plead that there can be no industrial dispute in regard to the effect of that settlement. Accordingly I reject this preliminary objection also.

Before proceeding further, I should place on record here that according to the admissions of both parties at the hearing, worker No. 1 Shri Golak Behari Jana and worker No. 18 Shri Ram Dhari of the issue, who were employed respectively under Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills and Messrs. Khemchand Rajkumar, have died. This fact has also been testified to by P.W. 7 Shri Satyanarayan Sonar without any challenge from the Companies' side. As these two workers are dead, the dispute in respect of them must be deemed to have ceased to exist and accordingly a "no dispute" award is to be made in respect of them.

Before taking up the general cases of the parties as to the implications and effect of the admitted agreements, dated 4th May 1957, and how far the concerned workers are entitled to reliefs by way of getting suspension allowances and/or reinstatement according to the terms of the agreement, I consider it proper to take up the special cases of the two Companies, Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills and Messrs. Steel Rolling Mils of Bengal, in respect of some of their concerned workers, to the effect that that these workers voluntarily left their services after settling their accounts with the Companies and taking payments of the settled amounts in full and final settlement of their claims. These two Companies have contended that the dispute in regard to these workers must also be deemed to be non-existent, because of their voluntary relinquishment of the Companies' services after taking payments in full and final settlement of all their claims after amicable adjustment of accounts. If these special cases of the Companies are proved, I think it must be held that the disputes in respect of these workers have become non-existent. I have already named the concerned workers of each of these two Companies in respect of whom this special case has been placed.

I first take up the cases of the concerned workers of Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills covered by the aforesaid special case. They are workers Nos. (2) Bhagat Singh, (4) Benarasi, (6) Chanan Singh, (8) Gurnail Singh, (10) Niranjan Singh, (11) Sohan Singh and (14) Kalika Misir. None of these workers has come forward to give evidence and deny the aforesaid special case of the Company in regard to them. The Company has produced and proved some petitions and receipts and vouchers (Ext. D series) in support of the aforesaid special case. Exhibit D(3) is a petition by Benarasi to the Company asking for payments of all his dues. Exhibit D(2) is the account settled in respect of this worker. Exhibit D(1) is the receipted voucher showing payment of the settled amount to him and his acceptance thereof in full and final settlement of his account and Exhibit D is the letter of this worker to the Company acknowledging receipt of his settled dues and intimating that he has no further claim against the Company. Exhibit D(5) is the settled account of Kalika Misir and Ext. D(4) is the receipted voucher showing payment of the settled amount to him and his acceptance thereof in full and final settlement of his account. Exhibit D(7) is the settlement of account of Sohan Singh and Ext. D(6) is the receipted voucher showing his acceptance of the settled amount in full and final settlement of his account. Exhibit D(9) is the settled account of Niranjan Singh and Ext. D(8) is the receipted voucher showing his acceptance of the settled amount in full and final settlement of his claim. Exhibit D(11) is the settled account of Gurnail Singh and Ext. D(10) is the receipted voucher showing his acceptance of the said amount in full and final settlement. Exhibit D(13) is the petition of Chanan Singh and Ext. D(12) is the receipted voucher containing his settled account and also his acknowledgment of receipt of the amount in full and final settlement of the amount of his claim. Exhibit D(15) is the settled account of Bhagat Singh and Ext. D(14) is the receipted voucher showing his acceptance of the settled amount in full and final settlement of his account. It appears from the receipted vouchers that excepting Benarasi, who was paid only some leave wages according to his settled account, all other workers were paid all their due wages including notice pay, gratuity and in some cases, railway fare. On behalf of the Union, all the documents of Ext. D series have been challenged as false and fabricated by some suggestions made in the cross-examination of the Companies' General Manager, Shri G. C. Singal (O.P.W. 4). But none of these concerned workers have come forward to challange these documents as forged or fabricated or to deny the settlement of accounts and the payments thereunder shown by them. I see no reason to reject the documents of Ext. D series as not genuine and bona fide. And on the basis of these documents supported by the evidence of the Companies' General Manager, Shri G. C. Singal, I fully satisfied that all these concerned workers amicably settled there disputes with the Company and left the Company's service voluntarily after settling their accounts and taking payments of the settled dues in full and final settlement. Necessarily, I also hold that there is at present no dispute beween these workers and the Company and so there is to be a "no dispute" award in respect of these workers. The Company also pleaded in respect of the workers Chanan Singh, Gurnail Singh, Sohan Singh and Kalika Misir that they were retrenched. There is no satisfactory evidence, however, to prove any legal retrenchment in respect of these four workers. But in any case, as it is found that they amicably settled their disputes with the Company and left the Company's service after taking payments according to the amicably settled accounts, the question of their retrenchment becomes immaterial and it would not affect the position that at present there is no dispute between them and the Company. In the result, there is to be a "no dispute" award in respect of the aforesaid seven workers of Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills, irrespective of the general cases of the parties relating to the agreement, dated 4th May 1957.

A similar special case in respect of workers Nos. (22) Karnail Singh, (24) Trilok Singh and (28) Sarvan Singh has been pleaded by Messrs. Steel Rolling Mills of Bengal. The Company has produced and proved the settled accounts and receipted vouchers of Ext. J series to prove this case. These vouchers and settled accounts have only been challenged as not genuine and as fabricated documents in the suggestion made on behalf of the Union to the General Manager of the Companies, Shri G. C. Singal. The Suggestion has been denied. None of these concerned workers has come forward to deny this special case of the Company and also the settled accounts and vouchers of Ext. J series. On the evidence, I see no reason to reject the documents as false and fabricated. On the contrary, I accept them as quite genuine and correct. These documents show that these workers amicably settled their accounts with the Company and took payments of the settled amounts in full and final settlement and the payments included not only due wages but also notice pay and gratuity. The settlements of accounts and taking payments thereunder as shown by these documents clearly indicate that these workers voluntarily left the Company's service after taking their settled dues by amicable accountings. No doubt the Companies' further case in respect of Trilok and Sarvan Singh is that they were also retrenched. There is of course no satisfactory evidence to prove any legal retrenchment of these workers. But then this would be immaterial when it is proved that they voluntarily left the Company's service after settling their accounts and taking payments of the settled amounts. In their cases, it is to be held that they amicably settled their disputes with the Company and voluntarily left the Company's service after settling their accounts and taking payments under the settlements in full and final settlement of their claims. Necessarily, it is to be held that there is at present, no dispute between the Company and these workers and accordingly, in their cases also, a "no dispute" award is to be made as in the case of other seven workers of Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills dealt with above. No legal retrenchment of worker No. 23 Gurbachan Singh by payment of his dues has been proved. So, he must go out of the special case.

I now come to another special case of Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills regarding workers Nos. (5) Mohan, (7) Ram Audh and (9) Kunain Singh. This case is that they were dismissed from the Company's service as they were found to be working in some other Companies during the period of their suspension. Exhibits B(4), B and B(1) are their respective letters of dismissal on this ground. All these letters were issued on 7th December 1957. Of course, if it is proved by satisfactory evidence in the present case that really these workers were serving elsewhere during their period of suspension, that may be a sufficient ground for dismissal of the workers from the Company's services, because suspension did not terminate the employer-employee relation between the Company and these workers and these workers continued to be employees of this Company on suspension and they were entitled to get suspension allowance. The Tribunal should independently go into this matter and decide what was the correct position. Exhibits E and E(1) show that this Company enquired of Messrs. Bajrang Electric Co. whether these three workers were employed in that Company and that Company replied stating that they were working under that Company on temporary basis from 2nd December 1957. There is no reason to disbelieve the reply of Messrs. Bajrang Electric Co., which was given in due course of business. All these three workers have given evidence in this case and among them Ram Audh and Kunian Singh, who has given his name before this Tribunal as Kundan Singh (P.W.s 8 and 9), have admitted that they worked under Messrs. Bajrang Electric Co. This supports the reply of the Bajrang Electric Co. [Ext. B(1)] in the matter. Mohan (P.W. 3) has, however, denied that he ever worked anywhere else since his suspension. He is belied by the reply of Messrs. Bajrang Electric Co. [Ext. B(1)]. On a consideration of the entire evidence on this subject, I hold that it has been proved that all these three workers took up service under Messrs. Bajrang Electric Co. since 2nd December 1957. This means that they took up service under another Company when they were still employees of Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills. It does not matter that they were under suspension at that time. By their taking up service under another Company in that manner, they must be deemed to have voluntarily left the service of Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills and in any case this amounted to grave misconducts on their part justifying dismissal. I hold, therefore, that their dismissal by the Company by the letters, Exts. B(4), B and B(1), with effect from 2nd December 1957 was justified. They are, therefore, not entitled to reinstatement to this Company's service, but there is no reason why they should not get the suspension allowance for the period preceeding their dismissal, i.e., up to 1st December 1957. Accordingly, I hold in their case that their dismissal was justified and they are not entitled to reinstatement, but they are entitled to get suspension allowance from 4th May 1957 to 1st December 1957, less any amount already paid on this account.

I now take up a similar special case of Messrs. Khemchand Raj Kumar in respect of workers No. (17) Harjit Singh and No. (21) Ram Naresh, who were the employees of this Company.

Exhibits H and H(1) show that this Company enquired of Messrs. R. Sen & Co. as to whether Harjit Singh was working under the latter Company and this Company replied stating that Harjit Singh had been working as a Crane Driver under it since 18th October 1957. So, in his case a proper enquiry was made from the concerned Company and it was ascertained that Harjit Singh was really working under that Company. This worker, Harjit Singh, has given evidence in this case. He is P.W. 2. In his evidence, he has admitted that he worked for 2/4 days under Messrs. R. Sen & Co. as a budli, but according to the reply of Messrs. R. Sen & Co. [Ext. H(1), dated 28th January 1958], he had been working continuously under this Company since 18th October 1957. So, it is clear that he took up regular and permanent service under Messrs. R. Sen & Co. His dismissal from service on this ground was justified according to my decision already recorded above. He was dismissed with effect from 20th January 1958 by the letter, Ext. 1, dated 28th January 1958. As it is proved that he was working under Messrs. R. Sen & Co. since 18th October 1957, he would not be entitled to any suspension allowance from that date if he is found to be entitled to suspension allowance after decision of the general cases of the parties.

In the case of worker No. (21) Ram Naresh, no letter of dismissal by the Company is found in the exhibits on the Company's side, but there are Exts. H(2) and H(3) which show that Messrs. Khemchand Rajkumar under whom this worker was employed, enquired of Messrs. Braithwaite, Burn and Jessop Construction Co. by its letter, dated 13th February 1958, whether this worker was in the employment of that Company from 1st May 1957 to 31st December 1957 and this Company replied stating that this worker served as a temporary durwan during that period. It is clear, therefore, that this worker also took up service under another Company during the period of suspension and worked for a pretty long time. He was, therefore, liable to be dismissed on this ground on the basis of my decision on the point recorded above. As he took up appointment under Messrs. B. B. J. & Co. since 1st May 1957, before the date of the settlement in question, dated 4th May 1957, he must be deemed to have relinquished the Company's service before the date of the settlement and as such he would not be entitled to any relief in this case, whatever may be the decision of the general cases of the parties.

I will now take up the general cases of the parties. It is an admitted position that there were some trouble and disturbances in the factory of these Companies on 1st April 1957 and 3rd April 1957 and after these disturbances, the concerned workers of this case were criminally prosecuted and police cases were started against them and while the police cases were pending, there were four separate agreements between the Union and these four Companies on 4th May 1957 before a Conciliation Officer. Exhibits 1 to 1(c) are these admitted agreements. It was agreed by the parties that:

(1) the workers against whom police cases were pending regarding incidents of 1st April 1957 and 3rd April 1957 shall remain suspended till the final disposal of police cases by competent courts;

(2) the workers who are finally convicted shall be dismissed and those who are either discharged, acquitted or dropped from the cases shall be reinstated with full benefits, less the monies already received as subsistence allowance.

It is also an undisputed position that this settlement was terminated by the concerned Companies by notice, dated 9th April 1958. Exhibit G is a copy of one of the notices. The settlement was between the Companies and the Union and the notices were issued to the Union. The Union President, Shri K. K. Rai (P.W. 1), has admitted that he received a letter from the Companies terminating the tripartite agreement, dated 4th May 1957. This tripartite agreement was the settlement in question. The settlement was, therefore, lawfully terminated under section 19(2), Industrial Disputes Act, and according to the provisions of this section, it ceased to be binding on the parties after the expiry of two months from the date of the notice, i.e., from 9th June 1958. It is contended on behalf of the Companies that as the settlement itself was legally terminated and ceased to be binding upon the parties from 9th June 1958, all rights and liabilities which flowed from that agreement also ceased to be operative from 9th June 1958, and in these circumstances, the workers concerned are not entitled to any benefits on the basis of that settlement. It is argued that the settlement and the rights and liabilities flowing from it were completely extinguished with effect from 9th June 1958. On behalf of the Union, it has been contended that though the settlement was formally terminated with effect from 9th June 1958 by the notice under section 19(2), Industrial Disputes Act, dated 9th April 1958, the rights and liabilities arising therefrom were not completely extinguished and these must be deemed to be operative and binding upon the parties until the dispute is legally adjudicated by a competent authority or another settlement is made. No precise authority on the effect of termination of settlement by a notice under section 19(2), Industrial Disputes Act, has been placed before me, but authorities on the point of effect of termination of an award by a notice under section 19(6), Industrial Disputes Act, have been placed before me by both parties. On behalf of the Companies, the case of Messrs. Lister Antiseptic and Dressing Co. Ltd. [1953(I) L.L.J., page 581] has been cited in support of the proposition that after an award is terminated by a proper notice under section 19(6), the operation of the award comes to an end after the expiry of two months from the date of the notice and no claim could thereafter be made on the basis of that award. This case was decided by the Labour Appellate Tribunal. On behalf of the Union, reliance has been placed mainly on the Supreme Court decision in the case of Burn & Co. Ltd. [1957(I) L.L.J., page 226], for the proposition that in spite of the formal termination of an award under section 19(6), Industrial Disputes Act, by a party, the terms and conditions of the award should continue to govern the parties until there is a material change in the circumstances on which the award was based justifying any modification of the same. Reference has also been made to a similar decision in the case of Jamuna Mills Ltd. by the Bombay High Court [1957(I) L.L.J., page 620], under the Bombay Industrial Relations Act. The decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Alibhoy Sharfally & Co. [1957(II) L.L.J., page 301], has also been referred to in support of the proposition that even if there is termination of an award by a notice under section 19(6), the employer is under an obligation to continue the same terms and conditions of the award till a fresh award is made or a fresh agreement is reached and status quo is to be maintained during the interim period. In my view, the decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal reported in 1953 [(I) L.L.J., page 581] cannot be accepted as good law in view of the subsequent decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Burn & Co. Ltd. [1957(I) L.L.J., page 226] as also the later decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Alibhoy Sharafally & Co. [1957(II) L.L.J., 301], and the correct legal position must be held to be that the termination of an award by a notice under section 19(6), Industrial Disputes Act, does not necessarily extinguish the award in all respects, but the terms and conditions of the award shall continue to govern the parties until there is a material change in the circumstances on the basis of which the award was made, or there is a fresh agreement or an award in the matter. But then it is to be seen that the aforesaid decision was made in the case of an award mainly on the basis of the principle underlying the rule of res judicata in civil suits, as clearly indicated by the Supreme Court in the case of Burn & Co. Ltd. It was held that though the rule of res judicata as enacted in section 11 of the Civil Procedure Code is in terms inapplicable to the decisions of Industrial Tribunals, but the principles underlying it, expressed in the maxim interest rei publicae ut sit finis litium is founded on sound policy and is of universal application. This principle can have no application to a private agreement between the parties. In my view, this principle cannot be made applicable to a private agreement and settlement between parties in an industrial dispute and the period of duration of the agreement or settlement must be strictly governed by the provisions of section 19(2), Industrial Disputes Act. In this view of the matter, I hold that with the termination of the settlement with effect from 9th June 1958 by the notice under section 19(2), Industrial Disputes Act, the whole settlement came to an end and the rights and liabilities arising out of the settlement cannot be enforced according to the strict letters of the settlement. This would amount to the position that the workers who are governed by the general cases of the parties, and excluding those in respect of whom there are special cases which have already been decided above, cannot claim any benefits strictly on the basis of the settlement, dated 4th May 1957. But that would not necessarily mean the end of the Union's case regarding the workers who fall under the general cases of the parties. This Tribunal has also got to decide whether, apart from the strict terms of the settlement, such workers are entitled to any relief. The very issue of this case makes this position perfectly clear. The first question of the issue is whether the concerned workmen are entitled to subsistence allowance and/or reinstatement in view of the agreements, dated 4th May 1957. The second question, which is very pertinent, stands thus: "If not, what relief, if any, are they entitled to?" This part of the issue clearly indicates that the Tribunal has also got to decide whether the concerned workers are entitled to any relief even if they are not entitled to the reliefs stated in the first question on the basis of the agreement, dated 4th May 1957. So, this Tribunal must decide apart from the strict letters of the agreement, dated 4th May 1957, whether the concerned workers who are not governed by special cases are entitled to any relief. In my view, they are entitled to some reliefs upon the general position which must be legally deemed to have arisen after the termination of the agreements. Apart from the workers covered by the special cases already disposed of above, the other workers must be deemed to be in the services of these Companies after the termination of the agreements, because there is nothing to show that there was general dismissal or termination of services of all the workers. At the same time, they must be deemed to be under suspension after the termination of the agreements, because they were suspended following the disturbances which took place on 1st April 1957 and 3rd April 1957. In this connection, we have got to look to the spirit of the agreements. The concerned workers were all criminally prosecuted and at the same time kept suspended and it was agreed that if they were discharged or acquitted, they would be reinstated to service and during their suspension period, they would get 50 per cent. of their wages as suspension allowance. So, the question whether they were really guilty of any offence in connection with the disturbances was left to the decision of the criminal courts and the Companies agreed to abide by that decision. It is very significant to note that the Companies themselves did not issue any charge-sheet to any worker and necessarily there was no domestic enquiry against any worker regarding his participation in the disturbances. It is an admitted position that all the workers were either discharged or acquitted and none of them was found guilty and convicted. In these circumstances, it must be held that they were not guilty of any offence in connection with the alleged disturbances in the factory on 1st April 1957 and 3rd April 1957. In the aforesaid circumstances, they can certainly claim appropriate reliefs from the Companies as workers who were suspended on the basis of their alleged participation in the disturbances but who were found to be not guilty. When there was no domestic enquiry against any of these workers regarding any charge in connection with the disturbances and when there is also no independent evidence before this Tribunal to prove that they were really guilty of misconducts or some offences in connection with the disturbances of 1st April 1957 and 3rd April 1957, they must be held to be innocent workers and in these circumstances, they can quite legitimately claim appropriate reliefs by way of suspension allowances and reinstatements after the termination of the criminal cases. The Companies were of course within their rights in suspending the workers after the disturbances and pending the decision of the criminal cases and the workers cannot claim anything more than a reasonable suspension allowance during the interim period and in my view, the reasonable allowance must be assessed at 50 per cent. of their basic wages according to the spirit of the settlement, dated 4th May 1957. In any case, there is no reason why the concerned workers, not covered by the special cases, should not get at least suspension allowances for the period up to the termination of the settlement by notice under section 19(2). Excepting the admissions of some of the concerned workers who have given evidence that they got 2 or 3 or 4 months' suspension allowance, there is nothing to prove that the suspension allowance was duly and regularly paid to the workers. The primary position, however, will be that the workers covered by the general cases of the parties will be entitled to suspension allowance from 4th May 1957 all along till the disposal of the criminal cases and they would also be entitled to reinstatement which was unjustifiably denied to them. An attempt has been made by the Companies to prove that the workers did not come forward to claim reinstatement after the disposal of the criminal cases. The workers who have given evidence in this case have stated that they came forward for reinstatement, but they were straightway refused reinstatement by the General Manager of these Companies, Shri Singal. It appears from the evidence that the last of the criminal cases was disposed of on 27th January 1960 [vide Ext. 2(a)] and the Union wrote letters to the Companies (Ext. 4 series) on 21st April 1960 asking for reinstatement of the workers, but there was no response to these letters. In the circumstances of the case, it cannot be said that the Union did not act promptly in asking for reinstatement of the concerned workers and the workers voluntarily absented themselves from work and failed to report for work within a reasonable time after the disposal of the criminal cases. So, the plea that the workers themselves did not come up for reinstatement is absolutely unacceptable. In the result, I hold that except the workers who are found to be disentitled to any relief by virtue of the special cases dealt with and disposed of as above, all other workers covered by the general cases of the parties are entitled to be reinstated to the Companies' service and to get suspension allowance at 50 per cent. of their basic wages from 4th May 1957 till the date of reinstatement, less any amount which might have been actually paid to any worker or workers by way of suspension allowance. I have already indicated above that the Companies have produced no evidence to prove that any suspension allowance was paid to any worker, but there are admissions of some workers who have given evidence in this case that two, three or four months' suspension allowances were paid to them. In this state of evidence, I would hold generally that three months' suspension allowances were paid to the workers. The workers who will be entitled to suspension allowances according to my decisions recorded above would, therefore, get suspension allowances from 4th May 1957 on the basis that three months' allowances have already been paid to them.

On the basis of my findings and decisions and some admissions of parties recorded above, I make the following award in this case.

A "no dispute" award is made in respect of worker No. (1) Golak Behari Jana and worker No. (18) Ramdhani or Ramdhari, who are admittedly dead.

A "no dispute" award is also made in respect of workers Nos. (2) Bhagat Singh, (4) Benarasi, (6) Chanan Singh, (8) Gurnail Singh, (10) Niranjan Singh, (11) Sohan Singh and (14) Kalika Misir, who were former employees of Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills, and workers Nos. (22) Karnail Singh, (24) Trilok Singh and (28) Sarvan Singh, former employees under Messrs. Steel Rolling Mills of Bengal on the basis that the disputes in respect of them ceased to exist after they voluntarily left the Companies' services after settling their accounts with the Companies amicably and taking payments of the settled amounts in full and final satisfaction of their claims.

As regards workers Nos. (5) Mohan, (7) Ram Audh and (9) Kunain Singh or Kundan Singh, I award that their dismissal by the Company from 2nd December 1957 for serving elsewhere during the period of suspension was justified and they are not entitled to any relief except that they will get suspension allowance at 50 per cent. of their basic wages from 4th May 1957 to 1st December 1957, less three months.

As regards No. (17) Harjit Singh of Messrs. Khemchand Rajkumar, I award that his dismissal from service for working elsewhere during suspension period was justified and so, he would not get reinstatement, but he would get suspension allowance at 50 per cent. of his basic wages from 4th May 1957 to 18th October 1957, less three months.

As regards worker No. (21) Ram Naresh, I award that he is not entitled to any relief in this case, as he must be deemed to have voluntarily relinquished his service under the Company since 1st May 1957 when he took up appointment under Messrs. B. B. J. & Co. and it was before the settlement between the Company and the Union, dated 4th May 1957.

As regards the remaining workers in respect of whom there is no special case by any Company, viz., workers Nos. (3) Satya Narayan, (12) Kedar Jeswara and (13) Mohd. Hossain of Messrs. Bombay Steel Rolling Mills, worker No. (15) Jainti Das of Messrs. Rajkumar (India) Ltd., and workers. Nos. (16) Karan Singh, (19) Bansi Dhar, (20) Kinoo Chamar, (23) Gurbachan Das, (25) Singhara Singh, (26) Lodhai, (27) Suraj Bhan Singh and (29) Singhara Sadhu of Messrs. Steel Rolling Mills of Bengal, I award that they are to be reinstated to their services under the Companies on their reporting for duty within 15 days from the publication of this award and they shall get suspension allowance at 50 per cent. of their basic wages from 4th May 1957 till the date or dates of their reinstatement, less three months. The suspension allowances are to be paid by the Companies within a month from the publication of the award.

S. K. RAY,

Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

3-9-1962.

By order of the Governor,

S. C. MUKHERJEE, Asst. Secy.

No. 4726-I.R./IR/11L-48/62. 16th October 1962. Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 541-I.R./IR/11L-48/62, dated the 19th February 1962, the industrial dispute between Messrs. F. N. Gooptu & Co., 12 Beliaghata Road, Calcutta-15, and their workmen represented by F. N. Gupta Workers' Union, 12/1/1 Beliaghata Road, Calcutta-15, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. F. N. Gooptu & Co., 12 Beliaghata Road, Calcutta-15, and their workmen represented by F. N. Gupta Workers' Union, 12/1/1 Beliaghata Road, Calcutta-15, referred under G.O. No. 541-IR/IR/11L-48/62, dated the 19th February 1961. (Case No. VIII-49/62.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present

Shri P. C. PAL, Judge.

Appearances

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak, Trade Unionist, with Shri Bhawani Roychowdhury, Secretary of the Union, and Shri Ramen Banerjee, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate.

This reference has come to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947, under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 541-I.R./IR/11L-48/62, dated 19th February 1962, for adjudication of the following issue:

Issue

Whether refusal of employment to Shri Bimalendu Chatterjee is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

The case of the Union as adumbrated in its written statement is briefly this: The concerned workman, Shri Bimalendu Chatterjee, was a permanent employee under the Company since March 1939. Since about last two years he was performing the duties of record-keeper and despatcher and doing other sundry jobs in the office of the Company. On and from 1st June 1961 he became sick and therefore took leave till 31st July 1961. On the expiry of his leave he went to resume his duties on 1st August 1961 with a fit certificate from his panel doctor. The Company kept the fit certificate but did not allow this workman to sign in the attendance register and to resume his duties. Thereafter he made several representations to the Company, but without any effect. Next conciliation meetings followed but no settlement could be effected as the Company refused to send representative in any of those meetings. Hence this reference. On these allegations the Union characterises Company's refusal to give employment to the concerned workman since 1st August 1961 as illegal, mala fide and against all principles of natural justice, and prays for his reinstatement to the former job with all back wages, etc.

The Company's contentions as appear in its written statement are thus: The concerned workman, Shri Bimalendu Chatterjee, is too old and physically unfit to discharge his duties on account of his age and by way of generosity he was given lighter job as record-keeper. From 1st June 1961 he took two months' leave on production of medical certificate from a panel doctor, but such certificate was not acceptable as the workman was an office employee. Because of his old age, his employment is liable to be terminated. However, if he is declared by a competent medical officer of the category of Civil Surgeon of 24-Parganas, to be physically fit to carry out his work in normal way, he would be at liberty to join his work at any time. For these reasons the Union's case should be rejected. In the written statement the Company raised a legal objection that it is an individual dispute and not an industrial dispute; but this objection was not pressed at the time of hearing.

Decision

Shri Bimalendu Chatterjee, the concerned workman, has been examined in this case on the side of the Union. The Union has put in Employees' State Insurance Identity Card (Ext. 1), a copy of the Company's letter to the Regional Director of Employees' State Insurance Corporation (Ext. 2, dated 23rd September 1961). The two medical certificates of the panel doctor were tendered by the Company and made exhibits for the Union (Exts. 3 and 4). No witness is examined on the side of the Company which, however, has produced the leave application of Shri Chatterjee, dated 31st May 1961 (Ext. A). The bottom portion of this leave application appears to be torn off and this has also been testified to by Shri Chatterjee (P.W. 1).

It is an admitted fact that Shri Chatterjee took two months' leave from 1st June 1961 to 31st July 1961 on the ground of illness. It is also a fact that the medical certificate from the panel doctor was submitted by Shri Chatterjee to the Company. That appears to have been subsequent to the filing of the leave application and even the grant of leave which was on 3rd June 1961, vide Ext. A. It is further admitted that Shri Chatterjee had, on the expiry of two months leave, gone to resume his works by production of fit certificate from the panel doctor of the State Insurance Corporation (vide Ext. 3). The Company appears to have refused to allow Shri Chatterjee to work on and from 1st August 1961 by not accepting the panel doctor's fit certificate. The Company did not issue any formal letter in that respect. It is only in the Company's written statement that it makes out the case firstly that the cerificate from a panel doctor is unacceptable to the Company and secondly that Shri Chatterjee can be given work if he is found physically fit for normal work by a medical officer of the category of the Civil Surgeon of 24-Parganas. It is not understood how and why in a matter like this, the certificate of a panel doctor would become useless or would not be acceptable by the Company at all. No sufficient or adequate reason or explanation is offered for rejection of such a medical certificate. These two objections on the part of the Company are themselves useless and untenable.

The next objection taken in the written statement of the Company is that Shri Chatterjee is too old and physically unfit to do the normal works of the office job. The Company did not require him to be examined by any medical officer of its own choice. For the first time such an objection is made in the Company's written statement. There is no evidence whatever on the side of the Company in support of its contention. It appears from nowhere that Shri Chatterjee was unable to work normally by reason of old age before he took leave for two months. It is therefore quite strange that the Company would call him physically unfit due to old age, just after the dispute arose. In view of the Company's contention it appears as if Shri Chatterjee became suddenly unfit for work in course of the period of two months leave and thereafter. Such a plea is wholly unacceptable. Shri Chatterjee has given his age to be 57 or 58 years. Of course he appeared to have been older. But that does not necessarily mean that he was very very old and infirm. Even no question of infirmity was alleged in the Company's written statement, though this was spoken of by Shri Dasgupta in course of his argument. Shri Chatterjee has admitted that he is a bit hard of hearing. But this is also not enough to say that he is physically unable to do the works of the record-keeper and despatcher. It is true that he had applied for his Provident Fund money, but that action of his cannot go against his present claim as he did not actually take the P. F. money. It may be mentioned in this connection that in Ext. 2 the Company wrote to the Regional Director of the Employees' State Insurance Corporation that Shri Chatterjee absented himself without leave from 1st August 1961 to 7th September 1961 and as such his services were deemed to have been terminated. This was nothing but an untrue statement. The present objections of the Company are other than those mentioned in Ext. 2.

Considering all these facts and circumstances together, I hold that Shri Chatterjee is not physically or mentally unfit for doing his normal works and that Company's refusal to give him work since 1st August 1961 was totally unjustified.

In the result the Company is directed to reinstate Shri Chatterjee to his former job with continuity of his service, and to give him all back wages for the period of his forced unemployment, within one month from the date of publication of this decision in the "Calcutta Gazette".

An award is passed accordingly.

AWARD

Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by order No. 4716-IR/IR/11L-107/60, dated the 7th September 1960, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the abovementioned dispute to this Tribunal for its adjudication.

This dispute was previous referred to the First Labour Court by G.O. No. 2721-IR/IR/11L-33/59, dated 23rd June 1959, for adjudication which has been re placed by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal constituted under notification No. 3115-IR IR/3A-6/59, dated the 21st June 1960, and has in consequence been abolished by notification No. 3508-IR/IR/3A-9/59, dated the 11th July 1960.

The Schedule

1. Whether the lay off of a section of workmen with effect from 2nd March 1959 is justified? To what additional relief, if any, other than the prescribed lay off compensation, are they entitled?

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act relates to a dispute in respect of the justifiability of the lay-off of 93 workmen of Messrs. Britannia Building & Iron Co. Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company). The workmen are represented by the Britannia Building & Iron Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union).

It is the case of the Union that the formation of this particular union was not favoured by the Management and the Management therefore made attempts to crush the union and to attain their object they laid off 93 workmen of the company who happened to be members of this particular union. The union alleges that the Company's plea of alleged lack of orders and raw materials is nothing but a story and this lay off of the workers was resorted to by the Company to victimise the workmen who happened to be members of this union. The union therefore claims that the 93 workmen who had been laid off from 2nd March 1959 are entitled to compensation in excess of the amount statutorily fixed.

The Company, on the other hand, submits that on account of paucity of orders and shortage of raw materials the Company, the main work of which was to erect structural fabrications, was compelled to lay off 93 workmen of different sections from 2nd March 1959. The Company paid the lay off compensation as statutorily fixed to the workers laid off and that, although the workers had been laid off from 2nd March 1959, the Company gradually started absorbing the laid off workmen from April, 1959 and that by the end of August 1959 they absorbed all the 93 workmen who had been laid off on 2nd March 1959. The Company denies that they laid off 93 workmen only to break the union. It is the definite case of the Company that they had never any mala fide intention, as within 6 months they absorbed all the workers gradually and batch by batch, and paid to the workers the statutory compensation during the period of lay off.

Decision

The Company states in its written statement that on account of paucity of orders and shortage of raw materials, it was compelled to lay off the 93 workmen from 2nd March 1959. The Company has filed the notice of lay off (Ext. A, dated 28th February 1959 and also Ext. B). The Company also filed a statement showing production in the years 1957, 1958 and 1959. It appears that from March, 1958 the Company was having loss in production and in February/March 1959, the production was 20.6 tons. The production in February, 1958 was 227.15 tons. So, it appears that within a year the production fell from 227 tons to 20 tons only. This list (Ext. C) was prepared from the production register. Ext. D shows the number of orders secured in 1958 and 1959. This document supports the case of the Company that there was paucity of orders which led to fall in production from the later part of 1958 to February 1959. There is nothing on the side of the union to prove that the company laid off 93 workmen with the object of breaking the union representing the 93 workmen laid off and other workmen of the Company. It is admittedly a fact that although the 93 workmen had been laid off from 2nd March 1959 the Company started absorbing the workers into permanent category from April 1959 and that by the end of the month of August 1959 all the laid off workmen were absorbed on permanent basis. So, there is no merit in the case of the union that there was no justification for the Company to lay off the 93 workmen from 2nd March 1959. On the contrary, the Company's documents clearly prove that the Company was compelled to lay off the workmen on account of paucity of orders and shortage of raw materials. The Union now submits that when laying off, the Company did not observe the principle of 'last come first go'. The Works Manager Shri Hari Pada Gupta (O.P.W. 1) says that workers were laid off according to shortage of work in each particular department. The union examined P.W. 1 Shri Kali Pada who admits in his cross-examination that the workers laid off belonged to various departments, such as, smithy, structural section, foundry, machine shop, etc. P.W. 2 Manick Chandra Das says that some workers junior to him were retained while he was laid off. A similar case was made out by P.W. 3 Bankim Behari Roy and P.W. 4 Shri Badal Naskar, but these facts and these names of the workers were not mentioned in the written statement of the union and the Company was therefore not in a position to meet this case of the union at the time of hearing. Be that as it may, as P.W. 1 admitted that the workers of the Company worked in a large number of departments it is quite possible that more workers of a particular department might have been laid off and some workers junior to them and belonging to different departments might have been retained in service. There is nothing on the side of the union to show any mala fide intention on the part of the Company in selecting the individual worker for laying off only to victimise them or to break the union.

Considering these facts and circumstances, I find that the Company was not actuated by any mala fide intentions and that the lay off was not actuated by any ulterior motive. This being the case, the workmen who had been laid off are not entitled to any additional relief other than the prescribed lay-off compensation which was paid to them. This is my award.

The index number of Bankura-Midnapore came down by 2 points from 109 in December 1961 to 107 in January 1962 and remained steady at 107 in February 1962. In March 1962, the index again went up to 109 points. The fall in January was mainly due to fall in prices of Rice, Fish and Vegetables. In February the effect of fall in prices of Firo-wood was off-set by rise in prices of Pan-Supari and service charge for Cinema. The index, however, moved up in March mainly due to rise in prices of Rice, Vegetables, Pan-Supari and Bidi.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDERS

No. 3944-I.R./IR/8L-2/60.—6th September 1962.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 2339-I.R./IR/8L-32/58, dated the 27th May 1959, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, and their workmen represented by Garden Reach Textile Workers' Union, Q-77 Akra Road, Calcutta-24, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order, being a matter specified in the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the First Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal Shri Bairagi, a workman of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had terminated the service of the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Bairagi, T. No. 73/74, Warp Spinning "C" of 1/1 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, a workman of Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, against the aforesaid Company. (Case No. 94 of 1959 under section 33A.)

For the Union: Shri P. P. Pathak and Shri Arun Sen

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by Shri Bairagi, a workman of Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., for an award directing his reinstatement with full compensation for the period of forced employment. It is his case that he was granted leave for two weeks from 25th May 1959 to 8th June 1959 and for going to his village home where his mother was lying seriously ill, that unfortunately on 30th May 1959 his mother died, that he again sent in by registered post an application on 2nd June 1959 for extension of leave for 15 days and that it was received by the Company on 4th June 1959. It is further his case that he came back to Calcutta on 23rd June 1959 after completing the last rites of his mother and went to the Factory Manager on the following day with an application, a copy of which is Annexure "B" to his application under section 33A and was marked Ext. 2. He was not, however, permitted to resume his duties and he kept on going to the factory daily and every time he was asked to come another time. Disgusted with this, Bairagi wrote to the Factory Manager another letter, Annexure "C" to his application, dated 27th June 1959, to allow him to resume his duties or else let him know how his employment stood. Then the Union on his behalf is said to have written to the Deputy Labour Commissioner and ultimately the petitioner addressed another letter, dated 30th June 1959, to the management and as the petitioner did not receive any reply to any of those letters he came to the Tribunal with an application under section 33A.

The written statement of the Company admits that Shri Bairagi went home on leave with effect from the 25th May 1959 but denies it was granted on account of his mother's illness as alleged. The Company also denies that the date of death of his mother was ever mentioned in the application for extension of leave which was received by the Company on 4th June 1959. It is the Company's case that the application for extension was granted, as prayed for but he was asked to submit the certificate from the Gram Panchayet in proof of his mother's death, adding that on his failure to do so, the application for extension would be deemed to have been not granted and he was to report himself for duty within three days. It is said that the said letter was issued to him on 17th June 1959. It is denied by the Company that the workman reported himself to the Factory Manager with an application marked Annexure "B" to the complaint on 24th June 1959 but the Company's case is that the complainant overstayed the period of extended leave as prayed for by him and reported on 27th June 1959 when he was asked to submit an application showing cause for this delay in reporting himself for duty even after the expiry of his extended leave as prayed for and also a death certificate in proof of his mother's death. The Company's case is that instead of complying with these directions Bairagi submitted an application, dated 27th June 1959, falsely stating that he had submitted an application on 24th June 1959. The Company also denies that the workman used daily to attend the factory and that he used to be put off from time to time. The Company denies the allegation of harassment, and makes a counter-allegation that the workman failed and neglected to explain the reasons for his overstay and for not producing the death certificate in proof of the death of his mother and although he was repeatedly directed to comply, he went on submitting application after application and finally he was told that disciplinary action would be taken against him for not showing cause for overstayed his leave and he submitted another application on 30th June 1959. It is the Company's case that it never terminated the services of the workman.

That Bairagi went on leave from 25th May 1959 to 8th June 1959 and that he sent an application Ext. 5 to the Factory Manager in a registered cover on 2nd June 1959 and that it was received by the Company on 4th August 1959 are admitted facts. The questions, therefore, which arise for decision in this case are first whether the Company terminated the services of the workman and, if so, whether it was justified in doing so and secondly whether there was any contravention on the part of the Company of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The original application for leave has not been produced by the Company, presumably because it is not disputed that Bairagi asked for and was allowed leave from 25th May 1959 to 8th June 1959. The Company, however, denies that in that application the workman stated that he was asking for leave on the ground of his mother's illness. It was open to the Company to prove by producing the original application for leave which must be in its custody, whether in fact Bairagi had stated that he was asking for leave on the ground of his mother's illness but as the Company did not produce that application the presumption must be that if it had been produced, it would not have supported the Company's case. In other words, it must be held on the ground of the non-production of that application by the Company that probably Bairagi had asked for leave on the ground of his mother's illness. But whether that is so or not is not very material. It is stated by Bairagi in Ext. 5 which admittedly reached the Company on 4th June 1959 that he went home on 15 days' leave as his mother was ill, and that his mother had died but the date of her death is not disclosed in it. The Company was, therefore, right in stating that Bairagi had not disclosed in Ext. 5 the date of his mother's death. This application Ext. 5 admittedly reached the Company on the 4th June 1959, i.e., four days before the expiry of the leave already granted to him but the Company did not admittedly send any reply to him till the 17th of June 1959 although clause 9(b) of the Standing Orders, Ext. 6, requires the management to send a written reply to an application from a worker for an extension of the leave already granted to him, either granting or refusing the extension, if his address is available and if such reply is likely to reach him before expiry of the leave originally granted to him. In other words it was the duty of the Company under the standing orders to tell the worker whether his leave was extended or not before the end of the leave already granted. Exhibit 5 itself gives the address of the workmen. It is amazing how slowly the application moved from department to department in the office of the factory. It does not appear to have reached the Spinning Master Shri Pasupati Jyoti S.P.W. 3 till the 13th and he returned it on that very day with his comments. But again the post card, said to have issued, was admittedly not issued till the 17th June 1959. The workman says that he did not receive any reply to his application. The Company has not produced any evidence that a post card was actually sent to him under a certificate of posting. The certificate of posting might well have been produced by the Company but it has not been produced. It must accordingly be held that in all probability there was no post card sent to the workman at all on the 17th June 1959 or on any other date telling him that his leave had been extended as prayed for. At the same time, as the Company admits that the leave had been extended subject to one condition, namely, that the workman must produce a certificate from the Gram Panchayet that his mother died on 30th May 1959 as alleged by him, the position must be taken to be what the Company admits. In other words, it must be held on the admission of the Company that Shri Bairagi was granted an extension of leave from 2nd June 1959 to 23rd June 1959. In other words it was his duty to resume on the 24th June 1959. Bairagi claims that he went to the factory to resume his duties on the 24th, but it is denied by the Company in its written statement and it is also denied in the evidence adduced on behalf of the Company. On this point, there is the oral evidence of the workman supported by a copy of his application, dated 24th May 1959, which is obviously a mistake for 24th June 1959 and on the other hand there is the evidence of the Factory Manager himself and the Spinning Master. In his application under section 33A Bairagi states in paragraph 5 that he returned to Calcutta on 23rd June 1959 and on the following day went to the Factory Manager of the Company with an application, a copy of which was made Annexure "B" to his application which is marked Ext. 2. It was thus distinctly stated by Bairagi in his application that he reported himself for duty to the Factory Manager on the 24th June 1959. His statement, however, in his evidence is that first he went to the departmental in-charge on the 24th June 1959, who asked him to go to the Labour Office and he did not give him any work and then he saw the Factory Manager with the original of this application. In his cross-examination he stated that the Factory Manager whom he saw is Sudhir Sen but he could not give the name of the departmental in-charge to whom he went and when it was suggested to him whether his name was Jyoti he could not say if his name was Jyoti. He claims to have gone also to Bijoy Babu but there is nothing in his application under section 33A to show that he ever went to the departmental in-charge or to the Labour Officer, nor is there anything to support his statement that he actually went to the Factory Manager on the 24th June 1959. He admits that when he handed over the letter, a copy of which is Ext. 2, to Sudhir Babu he did not get any receipt from him. The Company denied having received any letter, dated 24th June 1959, and it was stated by the Company in its written statement that the workman had stated falsely in his letter, dated 27th June 1959, that he had submitted an application on 24th June 1959. Apart from the statement of the workman there is nothing whatever to show that the Company in fact did receive such a letter. Shri Sudhir Sen stated in his examination-in-chief that Bairagi first met him on the 27th June 1959, after the 17th June 1959 when the post card is alleged to have been sent to him and he did not receive any letter from Bairagi between the 23rd June and the 27th of June 1959 and on the 27th June 1959 when Bairagi met him for the first time he told him that he had already been asked by a post card under a certificate of posting to produce the death certificate of his mother from the Gram Panchayet. He also says that Bairagi met him again on the 29th June 1959 when also he was told to produce the death certificate of his mother from the Gram Panchayet. In his cross-examination no question is put to him regarding Ext. 2 although it was the distinct case of the workman in his application under section 33A that he saw the Factory Manager with an application, ›py of which is Ext. 2 and although Bairagi ›elf stated in his examination-in-chief that he the Factory Manager with the application Ext. 2 in his cross-examination he says that he handed the letter of the 24th June 1959 personally to Factory Manager, Sudhir Babu. There is thus no ıble evidence before me to enable me to hold actually the workman handed over the original ›xt. 2 to the Factory Manager on the 24th June), as stated by him both in his application under ıon 33A and in his evidence. According to the ence adduced on behalf of the Company Bairagi reported himself for duty on the 27th of June) and not on the 24th as alleged by him. Even extended period of his leave expired on the 23rd. ›ould thus have been his duty to report himself duty on the 24th but on the evidence of the tory Manager himself and the Spinning Master Jyoti whom there is hardly any reason to ›elieve on this point, it must be held that Bairagi ›rted himself for duty on 27th June 1959 and on 24th June 1959. It is again the evidence of Factory Manager that he told Bairagi once on 27th and again on the 29th that he must produce the Gram Panchayet a certificate about the th of his mother on the 30th of May 1959. If the ıpany had no motive to harass him, the only onable course the management could have ›wed was either to allow him to work on condition he produced within a number of days the ificate of the Gram Panchayet as to his mother's h on the 30th May 1959 or to tell him that he ld not be permitted to join till he produced such ertificate. It is the latter course the Company ns to have adopted and that is the evidence of Sudhir Sen, the Factory Manager. The npany's case on this point is confirmed by the orsement of Shri Jyoti on the application Ext. 5 he workman for an extension of his leave. This orsement is dated 13th June 1959 and it states t his leave will be granted if he can produce a th certificate from the Gram Panchayet. Clearly n, even before the workman came back the stand en by the management was that the workman st produce the death certificate from the Gram ›chayet. Even if the Company might not have mated that to the workman by a post card as ged by it, there is no reason to think that the tory Manager Shri Sudhir Sen refrained from ing him this when the workman appeared sonally before him on the 27th June 1959. It st accordingly be held on the evidence that the rkman was told on the 27th June 1959 and again 29th June 1959, as stated by Shri S. Sen in his dence, that he must produce the death certificate m the Gram Panchayet. That the workman did produce the death certificate is not disputed. He not produce a death certificate even during the ring of this case. It must accordingly be held t the workman deliberately refrained from ducing a death certificate of his mother from the am Panchayet, as he was directed to do and the agement would not permit him to rejoin his es till he filed that certificate.

he question now is whether that amounts to a nination of the service of the workman by the loyer. In my opinion it does not, because it open to the workman easily to obtain permission join by producing the death certificate of his ther from the Gram Panchayet as he was directed do, but when he did not take that obvious step, he has to thank only himself for his going without work and the management can hardly be held responsible for his non-employment. It was the workman himself who by refusing to carry out the direction of the management, a direction which the management could legitimately give to him in the circumstances of the case, must be held to have brought on himself his fate, namely, his non-employment in the Company. In other words it must be held that there was no termination of the service of the workman by Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd.

The workman has not alleged in his application under section 33A how the employer contravened any part of the provisions of section 33 nor has anything transpired in the evidence to show that it did so, as a matter of fact in the view I have taken on the main question namely whether there was any termination of the service of the workman by the employers, the question of contravention does not arise at all. Consequently it must be held that the application is not maintainable and further that the applicant is not entitled to any relief on the merits because there was no termination of the service of the workman by the employers. My award accordingly is that the application is not legally maintainable because there has been no contravention by the employer of any of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act and as a matter of fact the question of such contravention does not arise because there was no termination of the service of the workman by the employers. It is also my award on the merits that the workman is not entitled to any relief because there was no termination of his service by the employers.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Rajlaxmi Hosiery, P-163 C.I.T. Road, Beliaghata, Calcutta-10, and their workmen represented by Sramik Union, Howrah, 63/1 Kali Banerjee Lane, Howrah, (Government order No. 7506-I.R./IR/8L-61/61, dated the 1st December 1961.) (Case No. VIII-375/61.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri S. Banerjee, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri K. S. Mitra, Advocate.

Government of West Benagl, Labour Department, by order No. 7506-I.R./IR/8L-61/61, dated the 1st December 1961, and by a subsequent corrigendum No. 268-I.R. I.R./8L-61/61, dated the 25th January 1962, referred an industrial dispute as existing between Messrs. Rajlaxmi Hosiery, P-163 C.I.T. Road, Beliaghata, Calcutta-10 Proprietor, Shri Pasupati Nath Das, and their working represented by Sramik Union, Howrah, relating to a particular issue, for adjudication by this Tribunal. The issue framed by the Government in the Order of Reference stands as follows:

1. Whether termination of service of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(i) Shri Hare Krishna Sen.

(ii) Shri Sushen Kumar Biswas.

(iii) Shri Bimal Kumar Kundu.

AWARD

After services of usual notices upon the parties the workmen represented by Sramik Union, Howrah (hereinafter referred to as the Union), filed their written statement on 12th March 1962. It is alleged by the Union that this industry which is a long-standing manufacturing concern, making different varieties of hosiery products, employed about 25 workmen mostly on piece-rate basis. Three workmen who are involved in this dispute had been working as Cutter in this concern. They were told by the Manager on the 9th July 1961 that the rates of remuneration had been reduced to annas 3 per dozen from annas 3-6 per dozen for some items of genzi for the work done in the month of June 1961. As a result of that Shri Hare Krishna Sen and Shri Sushen Kumar Biswas refused to accept wages. The other worker Shri Bimal Kundu signed the voucher for the payment without scrutinising the contents thereof and later on refused to accept the reduced wages. The management took such attitude of the workmen as a challenge to the authority and refused employment to these three workmen on and from the 11th July 1961, without assigning any reason. Thereafter all the three workmen reported the matter to their Union which took up their cause and made attempts for settlement of the dispute through the conciliation machinery of the Labour Directorate. All attempts for settlement by that Directorate ultimately failed on account of the adamant attitude taken by the employer.

Messrs. Rajlaxmi Hosiery Factory (hereinaf referred to as the Company) filed the written sta ment on 26th May 1962. It is contended there that this is an "individual dispute" concerning thr workmen and not an "industrial dispute", and, such, this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudic upon the dispute. It is further alleged that t cutters, engaged by the employer worked piece-rate basis on contract for service with obligation to work for fixed period in a day or fixed hours and that they were not employed the owner in the sense of being connected by relationship of master and servant. Besides, it contended that the owner never refused work these three persons and they themselves volu tarily abandoned and discontinued their work by n reporting to duties.

After completion of the preliminary stages the ca came up for hearing on 23rd July 1962. On thi date evidence on the side of the Union was take The case was adjourned to 16th August 1962 fo further evidence. The Union examined fiv witnesses including these three persons who ar involved in this dispute. Parties filed a joint peti tion praying for adjournment on the ground th there was a talk of compromise going on betwe the parties. The prayer was allowed and the c was adjourned to 19th September 1962. As talk of compromise failed, the case was taken up hearing and the evidence was concluded on th date. After close of evidence the learned lawye of the parties advanced their arguments in suppo of their contention on the next date, i.e., on 20 September 1962.

After the close of arguments, a talk for amicab settling the dispute started between the parties a the learned lawyers entered into decision about t terms of settlement. After the talk proceeded some length, they requested the Tribunal so that th award might be kept reserved for a few days.

On the next date, i.e., on 21st September 1962 th lawyers of the parties informed that an amicabl settlement resolving the dispute had been mad between the parties. A joint petition of compromis covering the terms of settlement is filed. The term appear to be fair, and reasonable. I accept th prayer of the parties.

The dispute thus ends in a compromise. A award enclosing the terms of settlement, marked a Annexure "A", is made.

Messrs Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24.—Opposite Party.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Shri Gangadhar, a workman of Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., for his re-instatement to his original post with full compensation for the period of forced unemployment or such other relief as may be deemed proper. Admittedly Gangadhar went home on leave from the 27th May 1959 to the 5th June 1959, both days inclusive. Although in his application under section 33A it is stated that he was on leave from 27th May 1959 to 8th June 1959 and although in his application Ext. 1 it is stated that he took leave from 27th May 1959 to 6th June 1959, his leave pass Ext. 1(3) and also his application Ext. 1 itself shows that he was actually on leave from 27th May 1959 to 5th June 1959. In Ext. 1 it is curious that he at first stated that he had taken leave from 27th May 1959 to 6th June 1959, but in the concluding paragraph when he prayed for leave from 6th June 1959 to 26th June 1959, it becomes obvious that he had originally taken leave up to 5th June 1959 only. In any event this is placed beyond all doubt by the leave pass Ext. 1(3).

It is the applicant's case in his application under section 33A that just on the eve of starting for resuming duty he fell ill and had no other alternative but to apply for an extension of leave for another fortnight on the advice of the Medical Officer per registered post along with a medical certificate from that officer. It is further his case that he came back to Calcutta and went to his department in the mills on 22nd June 1959 to resume his duties but was unfortunately refused employment and asked to report to the Factory Manager of the mills and on the following day he went to the Factory Manager and submitted a petition along with a medical certificate but as he did not receive any reply from the Company he again wrote to the Factory Manager on 27th June 1959 asking for permission to resume his duties. Thereafter he approached the Garden Reach Textile Workers' Union which asked for the intervention of the Deputy Labour Commissioner but even then the Company did not do anything. The petitioner again wrote to the Company on 30th June 1959 but no reply was given and so the petitioner thought his services had been terminated and he applied to the Tribunal under section 33A.

The written statement of the Company denies having terminated the services of the workmen and alleges that the workman was allowed leave from 27th May 1959 to 5th June 1959 and that an application for an extension of the leave already granted was received in the office of the Company on 8th June 1959 but without any Medical certificate in support of the application and as such an application was to reach the employer under clause 9(b) of the Standing Orders before the expiry of the leave, it could not be treated as an application for an extension. It is further the Company's case that the complainant not having applied for extension of leave reasonably before the expiry of the leave originaly granted and not having explained to the satisfaction of the Manager his inability to return before the expiry of his leave, he lost his lien on his appointment under clause 9(c) of the Standing Orders and he was informed on 23rd June 1959 when he returned after the expiry of his leave that his prayer for extension of leave had not been granted and that his name had been kept in the Badli list and he was ordered to work as a Badli but he refused to do so

The first question for consideration in this case is whether there was any termination of the services of Gangadhar by the Company. The answer to this question depends on the further question whether the Company was justified in treating Gangadhar's lien on his service as automatically lost by his overstaying the leave. This necessarily brings in the question whether the workman really overstayed his leave and if so whether in the proved circumstances of the case he was justified in doing so. In other words the first question to be considered on this application is whether Gangadhar really fell ill on the 5th of June 1959 as alleged so as to be unable to return to duty on the 6th. In his application under section 33A as I have already stated, he does not mention the date when he actually fell ill nor does he mention the kind of illness he was suffering from. He starts in that application by misstating either carelessly or deliberately the date when his leave was to expire and then says that on the eve of his departure for resumption of duty he fell ill. As he states that his leave was from 27th May 1959 to 8th June 1959 it may mean anything from the 8th of June 1959 backwards. In his examination-in-chief he merely states that he had taken leave from the 27th May 1959 and the day when he was to start he had blood dysentery. But a little later he says in his examination-in-chief that he sent a registered letter to the Company on the 5th or 6th June 1959 and he was to have rejoined on the expiry of the leave on the 6th of June 1 In his cross-examination, however, he states for first time that he fell ill of blood dysentery on morning of the 5th June 1959, had to be carried a Government dispensary about two miles off h his house and was detained in the dispensary 3 days. The application Ext. 1 for an extension his leave is a typed application which does not say w exactly he fell ill but merely states that due to suf ing from bacillary dysentery he could not his duty in due time.

The application itself does not bear any date the envelope and the registered receipt bear the pos seals, dated 5th June 1959, showing that the let was posted on 5th June 1959. There is no mentio in the application of any medical certificates accom panying this letter and the workman admits in cross-examination that the Babu who wrote his app cation which was a manuscript application and not typed one was not told that a medical certific would accompany the application. It certainly seem strange that the applicant who had been caref enough to obtain a certificate from the doctor und whose treatment he was placed would not take trouble of mentioning to the person who typed application the fact that a medical certificate wo accompany this application. The workman said t there was a medical certificate accompanying t application, Ext. 1, for the first time in the applic tion he filed before the Manager on the 23rd of Ju 1959, Ext. 2. Prior to that there was nothing writing to show tha a medical certificate accompan the application for an extension. It is also his e dence that the doctor who gave him the medical c tificate also gave him the fit certificate but then fit certificate which is Ext. 2(1) does not menti anything about the earlier certificate or even that treated him. This fit certificate seems to be a curio one. It says that the workman was unfit from n June 1959 and that he was quite fit to resume h duty on 22nd June 1959. The certificate itself dated 17th June 1959. It is difficult to say whe the workman was under his treatment from the of June 1959, the certificate does not give any in cation of that. It is equally difficult to understa why he does not indicate the kind of illness workman was suffering from. In all these circu stances it is hardly possible to hold on the evide that he really fell ill on the 5th of June 1959 as now alleges and that he was not in a position to jo on the expiry of the leave originally granted to hi

It is the workman's own case that he did n report himself for duty till the 22nd of June 195 Even if he had fallen ill, his original prayer for exte sion was from 6th June 1959 to 20th June 195 When, therefore, he reported himself for duty on 22nd June, he had already overstayed his leave nearly 17 days if the leave was to expire on the and by two days if the leave was to expire on t 20th. As I have already held that on the eviden it is not established that the workman actually fe ill of bacillary dysentery as stated by him in his ev dence, so as to be unable to report himself for du on the expiry of the leave originally granted to hi he must be held to have overstayed his leave by days.

In this connection I must point out that the Com pany was not right in its view that paragraph 9(b of the Standing Orders, Ext. A, requires the workman to apply for an extension so that his application for such extension may reach the Company before the expiry of the leave originally granted to him. All that paragraph 9(b) says is that if the workman after proceeding on leave desires an extension thereof, he shall apply to the Manager who shall send a written reply either granting or refusing the extension of leave to the workman if his address is available and if such reply is likely to reach him before the expiry of the leave originally granted to him. It merely means this that when a workman desires an extension of his leave he has to apply to the Manager and the Manager has to reply in writing granting or refusing this leave provided first that the address of the workman is available and secondly that such reply is likely to reach him before the expiry of the leave originally granted to him. In other words this paragraph requires of a workman desirous of an extension of his leave, the duty of sending an application and it requires of the management the duty of giving the workman a reply in writing provided the two conditions mentioned are satisfied. There is no obligation on the part of the workman to apply in every case so much in advance of the expiry of the leave granted to him as to reach the employer before the expiry of that leave. As a matter of fact, there may be cases where it becomes impossible. For example, if Gangadhar had really fallen ill on the 5th of June 1959 as alleged, it would have been impossible for him to send to the Company a written application on the 5th and if it was despatched on the 5th it could not possibly have reached the Company in Calcutta on the 5th when the leave was to expire. But this wrong construction by the management of this paragraph of the Standing Orders does not seem to me to affect in any way the merits of the case.

The next question is whether by overstaying his leave the workman automatically lost his lien on his service under paragraph 9(c) of the Standing Orders. Paragraph 9(c) of the Standing Orders runs as follows:

> "If the workman remains absent beyond the period of leave originally granted or subsequently extended, he shall lose his lien on his appointment unless (a) he returns within eight days of the expiry of the leave and (b) explains to the satisfaction of Manager his inability to return before the expiry of his leave. In case the workman loses the lien on his appointment, he shall be entitled to be kept on the Badli list."

The automatic loss of lien on the part of the workman is, however, conditional on two things, namely, first that he returns within eight days of the expiry of the leave and secondly, that he explains to the satisfaction of the Manager, his inability to return before the expiry of his leave. As the paragraph stands both the conditions have to be fulfilled. Evidently he did not fulfil the first as he did not report within eight days of the expiry of his leave nor did he fulfil according to the management the second condition because according to the Manager, the only witness examined on behalf of the management, he was told on the very first day, namely, on 23rd June 1959 first, that his leave application was rejected and he could work as a Badli; secondly that he had applied for an extension actually after the original leave had already expired and this application for extension of leave was not accompanied by any medical certificate and thirdly by that the fit certificate produced by him did not disclose the nature of the disease he had been suffering from. In his cross-examination he states that in none of the applications of the workman was any order noted that as he had not sent any medical certificate along with his application for extension of leave, that as he applied for extension late and as the fit certificate produced by him did not disclose the nature of the disease he had suffered from, he should work as a Badli. The workman, however, denies all this and he also denies that he was ever told to work as a Badli but he admits in his cross-examination that he would have declined to work as a Badli, had he been asked to do so even before he filed this application. There is no reason why the Manager should be disbelieved on this point because of the workman's denial and because of the Manager's omission to record on any of the applications of the workman any order to that effect. The management said all this for the first time in writing in Ext. 5, dated the 13th of July 1959, after the workman had filed the application under section 33A on the 9th of July 1959. There is no allegation against the management that it had any motive to victimise this particular workman. When, therefore, the workman reported himself for duty there is hardly any reason why the management should have refused him employment, if in fact he was willing to work as a Badli. There is equally no reason why the management should not have told him straightaway when he appeared on the 23rd June 1959 why he could not be allowed to join unless he agreed to work as a Badli. In these circumstances it must be held that when the workman appeared before the Manager on the 23rd of June 1959 he was told to join as a Badli because his application for an extension of leave had not been granted on grounds disclosed by the Manager as stated by the Manager himself.

In this connection relience was placed on behalf of the workman on three cases of the Labour Appellate Tribunal. The first is the case of Muir Mills Company Limited versus Shri Ram Lal and Shri Hukum Chand., 1957 L.A.C. 271. This was a case in which the issue for adjudication by the Tribunal was whether the employers had wrongfully and/or unjustifiably deprived Sarbashri Ral Lal and Hukum Chand, of their permanancy in the Spinning Department and if so, to what relief the workmen were entitled and from what date. The whole case of the workmen themselves appears to have been that they were substitutes or Badlies and the Tribunal found that the claims of these workmen had been ignored while substitutes junior to them had been made permanent. The Tribunal had rejected the evidence on behalf of the employer that the workers' work was not up to the mark because the management could not produce the record of the work of Badlies. Before the Labour Appellate Tribunal on behalf of the management the case of Nillimarla Jute Mills Co., Ltd., and Chittavalsa Jute Mills Co. Ltd., and their workmen 1953 II, L.L.J. page 502, was referred to and the Labour Appellate Tribunal from that decision observed that the Badlis are not workmen of the Company except when they were actually taken in for work. This is one of the cases on which reliance was placed on behalf of the workman. It was reported also in 1953 L.L.C. page 440. In this case the question before the Labour Appellate Tribunal was whether the mere fact that the Company maintained a Badli Register to take from amongst them persons in rotation to fill up casual vacancies every day required it to pay an allowance to the Badlis for the period during which they were not actually engaged although they might have been present and it was held by the learned Appellate Tribunal that there was no justification for any such payment. Obviously, neither of these cases has any bearing on the question at issue before me. A Badli is not certainly a workman when he is not engaged but then that does not help one in determining whether or not when a workman has lost his lien he can be rightly placed on the Badli list as paragraph 9(c) of the Standing Orders of the Company provides. The only other case relied on behalf of the workman is the case between Jeshwant Sitaram Rane and Goodlass Wall Ltd., in 1954, L.L.J. page 505. This is a case more to the point. In this case the Standing Orders of the Company inter alia provided for automatic termination of the services of an employee overstaying the sanctioned leave and without explaining the reason for such overstay within fifteen days from the expiry of the sanctioned leave. In this case it was common ground between the parties that on the 13th June 1953, the date of expiry of the leave, there was to the credit of the complainant sick leave of three days and a half. Nevertheless the opposite party refused the extension of leave applied even for three days and a half, and sent a telegram on the 12th June 1953 communicating this refusal. The Appellate Tribunal in this case referred to an earlier decision of a Full Bench of that Tribunal which held that in the case of automatic termination for overstaying leave without satisfactory explanation the Industrial Tribunal was at liberty to examine the explanation offered by the employee for his absence and other circumstances for the purpose of seeing whether the employer acted with an honest purpose. Following that principle the Labour Appellate Tribunal held in the case that the action of the management in automatically terminating the service of the complainant on the 30th June 1953 without giving him the sick leave that was admittedly due to him was wrong according to its own Standing Orders and consequently it was a case not of automatic termination but really of discharge. In the case before me it was not the case of the applicant in his application that he had sick leave or any other leave due to him, although he stated here for the first time that he had various kinds of leave due but that evidence is useless in view of his manifest inability in cross-examination to answer what kind of leave it was against which the leave originally granted to him on the 27th of May 1959 was debited according to him. Besides the question whether any kind of leave was due to him or not cannot be gone into without working into the entire leave accounts of the workman. On behalf of the workman no such step was ever taken. In these circumstances it must be held that this case of the Labour Appellate Tribunal also does not help the workman in any way.

My award accordingly in that the workman by overstaying his leave, and by failing to report for duty within eight days of the expiry of the leave and also to explain to the satisfaction of the Manager, his inability to return before the expiry of the leave had lost his lien on his appointment and was rightly placed in the Badli list by the management. It was not thus a case of the termination of his employment by the management. There was, therefore, no question of any contravention by the management of any of the provisions of section 33.

The application under section 33A is not thus maintainable nor is the workman entitled to any relief on the merits.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by Order No. 6220-I.R./IR/11L-44(A)/61, dated the 28th October 1961, referred this industrial dispute for adjudication by this Tribunal. The said Government by an order, dated the 23rd May 1962, in the shape of a Corrigendum change the preamble of the order of reference and corrected the names of some of the workmen concerned in the dispute.

Issues

1. Is the retirement of the followning workmen justified? What relief, if any, they are entitled to?-

Sarvashri (1) Sukdeo, (2) Obiraj, (3) Gourahri Mohanti, (4) Hasmat Ullah, (5) Dinabandhu Das, (6) Ridhyanath Das, (7) Sadatullah, (8) Sayed Khaza Box, (9) Banwari, (10) Matrab Ali Mallick, (11) Fardin, (12) Mannu, (13) Satyadeo, (14) Basarat, (15) Asrafali, (16) Befan, (17) Mangroo, (18) Munai, (19) Sonai, (20) Asani Kr. Adak, and (21) Nanigopal Ghosh.

2. What should be the age of superannuation?

Apparently, the Corrigendum issued by the Government does not in any way alter the nature and character of the dispute and it eimply rectifies some formal mistakes appearing in the original order of reference.

Upon receipt of the order of reference, notices were issued upon the parties for appearing and for filing written statements. The workmen employed in T. T. Shed, Tea Warehouse, Hide Road Warehouse, Kantapukur Shed and No. 3 King George's Dock, represented by Bird & Co. Labour Union of Calcutta, duly filed their written statement on 28th February 1962.

It is contended by the Union that there was no fixed age of retirement of the workmen employed at the Tea Transit Sheds and that the Company by the letter, dated 23/28th March 1961, suddenly informed a number of workmen that should retire with effect from 1st April 1961. The Union at once brought the matter to the notice of the Labour Directorate soliciting intervention. The Union in the written statement referred to the correspondence that passed between the Union and the Labour Directorate at the stage of conciliation. Be that as it is, no final settlement could be arrived though the medium of conciliation and so the dispute had been referred to compulsory adjudication by the Tribunal. It is contended by the Union that the age of superannuation of the workmen should be fixed at 64 years or, in the alternative, the workmen should be allowed to work so long as they are found physically fit.

The employer, i.e., Messrs. Bird & Co. (P.) Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), filed its written statement on 27th August 1962. It is contended by the Company that only 11 workmen out of the 21 workmen, mentioned in issue No. 1 of the order of reference, had retired from service and that the rest of the workmen are not, therefore, concerned in this dispute. It is further alleged that only such workmen who had been found to be above the age of 55 years by an independent Medical Officer had been asked to retire and this was done in accordance with the suggestion of the Assistant Labour Commissioner in the stage of conciliation. The Company aserts that there is an existing long-standing practice in the matter of rètirement of the workmen and that the retirements of these workmen took place in conformity with the long-standing practice. The dispute came up for hearing on 21st August 1962 and on 31st August 1962. After conclusion of evidence, the learned representatives of the parties advanced arguments in support of their respective contentions. Before entering into the merits of the dispute, it is necessary to mention certain broad facts over which there is no controversy between the parties. Messrs. Bird & Co. is a labour contractor of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. and Messrs. Joint Steamer Companies in connection with the transit of tea chests at Tea Transit Shed, Tea Warehouse, Hide Road Warehouse, Kantapukur Shed and No. III King George's Dock. Messrs. Bird & Co. works for Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. and for Messrs. Joint Steamer Companies in the matter of handling the tea chests which arrive by rail, steamer and flats at those destinations. The major part of the work is carried on by the Company at those sheds under the system of employment of sub-contractors. The Union had demanded abolition of the contract labour system and absorption of the entire labour force, as direct employees of this Company. The question of abolition of the contract labour system was one of the issues referred to tribunals for adjudication firstly in 1955 and then in 1960. The award in the first reference case was given by Shri G. Palit, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal, as published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 30th June 1955. The subsequent award was given by me and it was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 16th February 1961. In both the awards, the demand for abolition of the contract labour system, which was of course found to be detrimental to the interests of the workmen, had for various reasons as given in the award been rejected. Though a large number of issues had been involved in both the two adjudication proceedings, the question of fixation of retiring age of the workmen of the Company never cropped up as an issue for decision. There are about 100 workmen employed at the different sheds who are concerned in this dispute. The workmen involved in the dispute are designated as Coopers, Leading Hand, Markman, Overseers, Supervisors, Clerks, Peons, Muster Gang Labourers and Muster Gang Sardars. The Muster Gang Labourers had been treated as casual workers and by the award of Shri G. Palit, they were directed to be treated as permanent workers and ranked as Coopers. The workmen designated as Muster Gang Labourers as employed by the Company do miscellaneous types of jobs. I had discussed in my award published on 16th February 1961 the nature of work done by the workmen known as Muster Gang Labourers and both the parties admit that the nature of work done by the workmen had been correctly stated in the said award. It would thus appear that the workmen involved in the dispute or at least a majority of them are to do work of a manual nature. Keeping in view the board facts as stated above, it is necessary to decide the issues involved in this dispute.

Issues 1 and 2

Both the issues being inter-connected are taken up together for the sake of convenience. There is no doubt that the Company asked about 21 workmen to retire from service with effect from 1st April 1961 on the ground that they had attained the age of 55 years. Immediately after the issue of the letter asking such persons to retire, the Union took up the cause of the workmen and wrote a letter, dated 31st March 1961, protesting against the action of the employer. Admittedly, the age of superannuation of the workmen had not been fixed by any previous award or by any certified standing orders, or by any written contract of employment, or by any service rules of the Company. It is contended by the Company that there exists a long-standing practice providing that a workman would reach the age of superannuation on attaining the age of 55. There is no cogeant evidence to establish the existence of such a practice. Had there been any such practice, the Company might have given particulars about the age of retirement of the persons who had retired prior to the issue of the letter asking the workmen to retire with effect from 1st April 1961. There is no evidence to show at what age the workmen had been asked to retire when they had retired beforehand. It also seems curious to me that so many workers all on a sudden be asked to retire for the reason that they had attained the age of 55 years. Obviously, all these workmen had not reached the age of 55 years on any particular date. The Company proved a letter, dated 7th June 1961, written by Shri N. C. Kundu, Assistant Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, enclosing therein the copy of the letter received from the Medical Officer, Kidderpore Labour Welfare Centre, wherein the age of all these 21 workmen mentioned in the order of reference had been given. It appears from the opinion given by the Medical Officer that 11 workmen, as mentioned in the list, were found to be 60 years' old or above that. The other 10 workmen had been found to be below the age of 55 years. The contention of the Company is that they retained in service those workers who were found to be below the age of 55 years and asked only the rest of the workmen who were aged 60 or above 60 to retire. The Union does not challenge the correctness of the opinion given by the Medical Officer. I take it, therefore, that all these 11 workmen who are at the moment involved in the dispute were above the age of 60 years on the date of their retirement on 7th June 1961.

The question arises for consideration as to what should be the age of retirement of the particular type of workmen, who are employed in these sheds. In the case of Messrs. Guest, Keen and Williams reported in 1959(II) L.L.J., 405, the Hon'ble Supreme Court laid down certain principles which are to be followed in fixing the age of superannuation. In fixing the age of superannuation, it is necessary to take into account the following factors: (1) the nature of the wage structure, (2) the retirement benefits and other amenities enjoyed by the workmen, (3) nature of work assigned to the workmen in course of the employment, (4) character of the climate where the workmen work, (5) prevailing practice in the past, and (6) the practice prevailing in the past in the matter of retiring the employees. It is at once clear to me that the employer had allowed persons to be retained in service even when they had reached the age of 60 years. Naturally, the Company had been getting requisite and proper services from such workmen who had reached the age of 60 and, therefore, did not consider it necessary to ask them to retire. It shall not at the same time be idle to think that the workmen working in these sheds and doing manual work are expected to retain physical fitness in a better manner compared to those working within closed door office rooms. It is true, the age of retirement of the head office employees of Messrs. Bird & Co. had been fixed at 55 years by the Mercantile Tribunal in the award published in the "Calcutta Gazette" under Order No. 2258, dated 7th May 1949 (vide Ext. A). But the employees of Messrs. Bird & Co. at the head office enjoy better facilities in the matter of wages, retiring benefits and other conditions of service compared to the workmen concerned in this dispute. The employees working in the sheds are paid dearness allowance at 5 per cent. less than the rates at which the employees of the head office are paid. Besides, it appears that the provident fund rules had been introduced for these workmen in 1955. Of course, for the period of service prior to 1955, the workmen are paid gratuity. But I am not satisfied from the evidence that any record of service showing the actual date of recruitment is maintained by the Company. It is also not known at what age these persons are recruited. I am also inclined to hold that the wage structure of the workmen is just above the level of fair wage and the emoluments obtained by the workmen leave no surplus to them Besides, the retirement benefits which the workmen would get would be small and inadequate. There is of course no hard and fast rule wherefrom a uniform practice to be followed by all the concerned employers in the matter of retirement of their workmen can be propounded. Every case must be judged on its own merits in the background of the facts and circumstances disclosed by evidence with due regard to the principles enunciated by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case cited above From all these considerations, I fix the age of superannuation at 60 years.

So far as the 11 workmen who are really involved in this dispute are concerned, the learned representative of the Union at the time of opening the case conceded that he did not press the case of Shri Aswini Kumar Adak (serial No. 20) and Shri Nanigopal Ghosh (serial No. 21). The rest of the workmen as I have found had reached the age of 60 when they had been asked to retire. Naturally, therefore, there arises no question of reinstatement of those persons or giving them any compensation for their retirement. This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 514-I.R.|IR|11L-398|58, dated 13th February 1959, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred an industrial dispute between Messrs Lokenath Sur and Subhas Chandra Sur and their workmen represented by Sankha Silpa Samity relating to the undermentioned issue to the Second Labour Court for adjudication.

Issue 1: Whether refusal of the Company to allow the workmen, mentioned in the attached list, to resume work is justified. To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

List

(1) Shri Maya Ram Rakshit.
(2) Shri Biren Chandra Rakshit.
(3) Shri Sudhir Ram Sur.
(4) Shri Basanta Kumar Sur.
(5) Shri Biswanath Sen.
(6) Shri Nanoo Gopal Sen.
(7) Shri Tarak Nath Nag.
(8) Shri Kali Kanta Nandi.
(9) Shri Nil Kamal Sur.
(10) Shri Braja Kishore Sen.
(11) Shri Jantrana Sen.
(12) Shri Lakshmi Naran Nandi.
(13) Shri Monohar Sen.
(14) Shri Kristo Madhab Sur.
(15) Shri Fakir Chand Dutta.
(16) Shri Gour Gopal Sen.
(17) Shri Paritosh Dutta.

On receipt of the order of reference notices were issued to Messrs Lokenath Sur & Subhas Chandra Sur (hereinafter referred to as the Company) and to Sankha Silpa Sramik Samity (hereinafter referred to as the Union). In pursuance of the notices the Union filed a written statement on behalf of the workmen and in due course the Company filed a written statement in reply. Thereafter four of the workmen mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference, viz., Sarvashri Maya Ram Rakshit, Nil Kamal Sur Monohar Sen and Paritosh Dutta filed a separate written statement in support of their case. That written statement broadly supports the case of the Union. The Company filed a written statement in reply to that written statement also.

Both the Union and the Company have imported in the evidence certain matters which are not necessary for determination of the issue mentioned in the order of reference. Leaving aside those extraneous matters, I state below the facts in issue in the present case.

The case of the Union as well as of the four workmen who have filed a separate written statement, as disclosed in their written statements and evidence, is as follows: The Company is a manufacturer of conch-bangles. The workmen of the company are deprived of minimum privileges in regard to leave, pay and other conditions of service. For realisation of economic demands they formed the Union. Then the proprietor of the Company started various disruptive actions against the trade union movement for suppressing the united efforts of the workmen for the realisation of their economic demands. The Company used to supply conches to the workmen who cut them into conch-bangles, delivered them to the company and got remuneration on a piece-rate basis. A few years back the Company diminished the number of conch shells supplied daily to each workman; as a result there was a decrease in the income of the workmen. The workmen requested the Company to increase the number of conch-shells supplied, but to no effect. Their request became insistent in 1958. On 3rd September 1958 the 17 workmen named in the list attached to the order of reference went to the Gadi (office) of the proprietor of the Company and requested them to increase the number of conch shells supplied, pointing out that it was not possible for them to maintain their families with the remuneration which they received by the small work given to them. In the midst of the talk at the instigation of Shri Loke Nath Sur, one of the proprietors some relations of the proprietors attacked the 17 workmen and beat them. They came out to the verandah of the Gadi. A police van then came and took the workmen and some of the relations of the proprietors and Shri Loke Nath Sur to the Thana. Both sides made diaries there. In the following morning the 17 workmen went to the Gadi of the proprietors to take the conch-shells for cutting into bangles, as usual. The proprietors told them that they would not be given work. The workmen then went to the factory of the Company where they had been working and found it closed with two constables standing near the gate of of the factory. Since then they are not being given any work. So the Union and the four workmen who have filed a separate written statement contend that the refusal of the Company to allow the 17 workmen mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference to resume work is unjustified.

On the other hand the Company has denied the allegation that it took any action to disrupt the Union. The case of the Company is that the 17 persons mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference like other persons standing in the same relationship with the Company were not workmen of the Company. They were independent contractors to whom the Company supplied conch-shells on the contract that the latter would deliver bangles and would get remuneration at the rates agreed to by the parties. Even all the 17 persons mentioned above were not the contractors of the Company; of them Sarvashri Birendra Chandra Rakshit, Basanta Kumar Sur and Nanoo Gopal Sen were not the contractors of the Company; they were respectively son of Maya Ram Rakshit, son of Sudhir Ram Sur and brother of Biswanath Sen; the Company had no relationship with the above three. The Company had to reduce the number of conch-shells supplied to each contractor, as it could not procure a sufficient number of conch-shells on account of stoppage of imports of conch-shells from Ceylon. The Company communicated its inability to increase the supply of conch-shells and the reason to the contractors. On 3rd September 1958 the 17 persons named in the list attached to the order of reference and some other contractors came to the Gadi of the Company and demanded supply of more conch-shells and also increase in the rates of remuneration. They came to the Gadi in the evening and kept the proprietors confined there till about 11 p.m. when Shri Loke Nath Sur, one of the proprietors tried to leave the Gadi, some of the contractors dragged him and as a result his cloth was torn. A trouble ensued and the police came. The police took away some of the contractors to the Thana. None of the 17 persons named in the list attached to the order of reference came for work from the following day. Other contractors came and took work. No work could be done for about seven days after 3rd September 1958, as some of the above 17 persons prevented other contractors from taking work. So the Company contends that it did not stop giving work to the 17 persons mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference.

Shri N. D. Manna, Counsel, appearing for the Company has also raised a preliminary objection that this Court cannot enter into the question whether the 17 persons named in the list attached to the order of reference are workmen of the Company on account of res-judicata. He points out that in an earlier dispute between the same Company and the same Union about the dismissal of two persons this Court held that two persons were independent contractors. As the relationship of those two persons with Company in the same as that of the present persons with the Company, the question whether 17 persons are workmen of the Company cannot agitated again.

Findings

I first take up the point of res-judicata raised Shri Manna. In support of his contention he referred me to a decision of the Calcutta High C in the case of Walford Transport Ltd., reported page 495 of 65, Calcutta Weekly Note. In that two Unions of the workmen of the Company w parties to two disputes in which the question whet Car Salesmen were workmen was involved. In earlier dispute is was held that they were not wo men. His Lordship of the Calcutta High Court h that the question could not be raised in the l dispute, though the Union was a different Uni In the case before me the same Union has raised b the disputes. It has been admitted by P.W. 1 S Sudhir Ram Sur, the main witness on behalf of Union that Shri Govinda Chandra Sur and S Krishna Kanta Nandy whose dismissal was the s ject matter of the earlier dispute before this Co had the same conditions of service as the 17 perso mentioned in the list attached to the order of ref ence. So it is clear that the question as to whet the present 17 persons are workmen of the Compa is the same as to whether Shri Govinda Chandra S and Shri Krishna Kanta Nandy were workmen of t Company. As I decided that questions in the earli case, viz., case No. VIII-C-177|1958 arising out Government of West Bengal, Labour Departmen order No. 3406-I.R.|IR|11L-398|58, dated 14 August 1958, this question cannot be raised agai according to the decision of the Calcutta High Cou mentioned above.

I next enter into the question whether the 1 persons mentioned in the list attached to the ord of reference should be considered as workmen or i dependent contractors of the Company in conside ation of the evidence adduced in this case. In th several cases decided by the Supreme Court an different High Courts some factors have been men tioned as determining the question whether certai persons are to be treated as workmen or independen contractors of a company. The more important o these factors are: (1) whether the work is done a the premises of the Company or the workers; (2 whether the workers do the work themselves or with the assistance of others; (3) whether the worker have fixed hours of attendance; (4) whether the Company has control over the hours of work of the workers; (5) whether the Company exercises super vision as to the manner in which the work is done. In the present case P.W. 1 Sudhir Ram Sur says that the 17 persons mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference used to work in the factory owne by the Company. The Company, on the other hand contends that the so called factory is nothing but shed with no arrangement for locking it against tre passers. For cutting conch bangles the workers pu some bamboo posts within that shed; these are th only properties contained in the shed. The she belongs to a sister concern. The workers used t pay a monthly rent of Re. 1 each to that siste concern. Whatever may be the truth about the s called factory, the place of work is not very importan in this case. The more important factors are whether

Company supervised the manner of work and ether the whole time of the workers was at the posal of the Company. P.W. 1 Shri Sudhir Ram says that the proprietors of the Company used supervise the work of the persons working in the called factory to be sure that the quality of their rk was alright. In the same breath he says that y tested the quality of the work at the time these sons handed over the products to them. It appears m the evidence of P.W.1 that what the proprietors the Company were interested in was the quality of work done by the persons. So it is difficult to ieve that the proprietors supervised the manner of ecution of the work. P.W. 3 Shri Paritosh Dutta, of the 17 persons has given a complete lie to the dence of P.W. 1 in this respect. I quote below evidence in this respect: "There was no stipu- ion that I would work for that Company alone. ile working for the above Company I also did work of other mahajans. Our attendance was noted. We had no fixed hours of duty. The mpany or its officers did not supervise our work. e Company could not compel me to work on the ys on which I did not like to work. The output our work was not fixed." The above evidence arly shows that the factors which constitute the ationship of master and servant were singularly sent in the present case. Hence on the evidence duced in this case I hold that the 17 persons named the list attached to the order of reference were lependent contractors of the company and not its rkmen.

The next question is whether the Company refused allow these 17 persons to resume work after 3rd ptember 1958. It is admitted by both sides that re was an incident on 3rd September 1958. The ion contends that at the instigation of Shri Loke- th Sur, one of the proprietors of the Company me of his relations attacked these 17 persons. On e other hand, the Company contends that the 17 rsons confined the proprietors of the Company and ysically prevented Shri Lokenath Sur when the ter was about to leave; so the trouble started. it be true, as is contended by the Union, that the persons simply demanded more conch shells, it ems improbable that the proprietors would become gry for that reason and start the trouble. On the her hand, it is more probable that the 17 persons came angry on the refusal by the proprietors to give em more conch shells and started the trouble. It is so quite likely that the 17 persons went to the gadi the Company that night with a premeditation to eate a trouble. P.W. 1 says that only the 17 rsons went to demand more conch shells on that y: because other workers were being given suffi- ent work. In the same breath he admits that the oprietors had no animosity against the 17 persons. the contention of P. W. 1 that the proprietors re making a discrimination against the 17 persons es not stand scrutiny. On the other hand, the titude of the 17 persons lends support to the sugges- n of the Company that they went there for the rpose of not only getting more work but also to rce the proprietors to increase their rates of remu- ration The Union contends that the Company used to allow the 17 persons to work from the lowing day, whereas the Company contends that y did not turn up for work. The Company also tends that not only these 17 persons did not turn for work, but some of them prevented other con- ctors from taking work; as a result no work could be done for about seven days. After what happened on 3rd September 1958 it would be too much to think that the 17 persons turn up for work on the following day. Even if it be believed that they turned up for work and were refused, in view of the fact that there was no relationship of master and servant between the Company and them and of what happened on 3rd September 1958, nobody can find fault with the Company if it refused to give work to those 17 persons.

To sum up, my findings in this case are: (1) The consideration of the question whether the 17 persons named in the list attached to the order of reference are employees of the Company is barred by res-judicata. (2) The Union has not been able to prove in this case that the above 17 persons were employees of the Company. (3)The Union has not been able to adduce convincing evidence to show that the Company refused to allow these 17 persons to resume work. (4) Even if it be held that the Company refused to allow the above 17 persons to resume work, the action of the Company in the circumstances of the case is justified.

Hence I answer the issue in the favour of the Company and against the 17 persons named in the list attached to the order of reference. So I hold that they are not entitled to any relief.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an Industrial dispute between Messrs. East India Clinic Ltd., 8/5, Alipore Road Calcutta-27, and their workmen represented by the All Bengal Hospitals Workers' Union, 12 Arpuli Lane, Calcutta-12. Case No. VII-35/62.

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

Shri S. K. Ray, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate, assisted by Shri Atul Roy, Pleader.

For the Company: Shri P. P. Jinwala, Counsel, assisted by Shri A. Chowdhury, Counsel, and instructed by Shri D. Basu Thakur of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and re-produced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 480-IR/IR/11L-41/62, dated the 12th February 1962.

Issue

1. Is the refusal of employment to Miss. E. Mower, justified? To what relief, if any, is she entitled?

The relevant case put forward by the Union on behalf of the concerned worker in the written statement may be briefly summarised as follows:

The concerned Company, Messrs. East India Clinic Ltd., used to run two nursing homes, viz., (i) Riordans Nursing Home and (ii) Elgin Nursing Home up to some time in 1959, and these two Nursing Homes were finally amalgamated into a single unit under the name of Woodlands Nurusing Home. The employees of the two former Nursing Homes were retained in the new unit on the same terms and conditions of service as before and with continuity of service. The present concerned worker, Miss E. Mower, was appointed as a staff Sister in the Riordans Nursing Home by the Company on 28th January 1949, and she was duly confirmed in her service under the Company by the Company's letter dated 2nd June 1949. The appointing authority was the Secretary of the Company. While working as a Staff Sister in the newly created Woodlands Nursing Home, the concerned worker, Miss Mower, along with other former employees of the Riordans Nursing Home, used to be tormented and persecuted by two successive Matrons, Miss Pratt and Miss O'Mayers, who formerly served in the Elgin Nursing Home. These Matrons favoured the former workers of the Elgin Nursing Home. Their behaviour towards the former workers of the Riordans Nursing Home, including the present concerned worker, was connived at by Mr. Hodder, the Scretary of the Clinic. The position, however, improved after Miss Livingstone was posted as First Matron in the Woodlands Nursing Home on her return from U. K. Miss Livingstone promised to elevate Miss Mawer to the position of Night Superintendent on the basis of her satisfactory and efficient service. There was, however, some deterioration in the situation relating to Miss Mower because one Dr. Higson, who was connected with this Nursing Home, started a vile campaign against Miss Mower and he had some rude encounters with her. Miss Mawer protested against such behaviour of Dr. Higson, but as she could not have any remedy, she submitted a resignation letter, dated 30th July 1960 to Miss Livingstone the First Matron, by way of threatening. Thereafter Miss Livingstone informed her verbally that Dr. Higson had been censured and there was no necessity for her to submit resignation. The aforesaid resignation letter cannot be construed as a proper, regular and lawful tender of resignation, because it was not addressed to the appointing authority. The Secretary of the Clinic, however, by his letter dated 9th September 1960, accepted the aforesaid resignation of Miss Mawer and terminated her service, though she had been continuing to work as usual even after the expiry of one month's notice of resignation given in her letter with effect from 1st September 1960. The acceptance of the resignation by the Secretary was wholly illegal, arbitrary, unfair and malafide and there was really on resignation by Miss Mawer at all. The termination of her service under the Company on the basis of the said resignation was wholly unjust, unfair, malafide and opposed to the principles of natural justice. She is, therefore, entitled to be reinstated to service with full back wages.

In the written statement filed on behalf of the Company, it has challenged the order of reference of the present dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication as bad in law, invalid, void and of no effect upon four preliminary objections, of which only two were pressed at the hearing and the other two were given up. The two preliminary objections pressed at the hearing were as follows:

(i) The other employees of this Clinic are not members of the concerned Union or any Union and have not taken up the case of Miss Mawer and, in any event, the majority of the employees of the Clinic have not taken up her case and so, it is a case of individual dispute concerning Miss Mawer only and is not an industrial dispute at all.

(ii) At the time when she submitted her resignation, Miss Mawer was a Night Superintendent and her duty was to supervise the work of other Staff Sisters and she was drawing a total remuneration or wages amounting to Rs. 525 per month. She was, therefore, empployed in a supervisory capacity on wages exceeding Rs. 500 per month and consequently, she was not a "workman" within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Apart from these preliminary objections, the relevant case on merits put forward on behalf of the Company is briefly as follows:

It is the practice in the Clinic that the Secretary signs all appointment letters, but the staff including the nursing staff, comes under the direct supervision of the Matron. It was a term of the employment of Miss Mawer that her employment would be terminated on one month's notice by either side. Miss Mawer was promoted as Night Superintendent in the Clinic some time after Miss Livingstone took charge of this Nursing Home in March 1960. Miss Mawer duly tendered her resignation by her letter dated the 30th July 1960 with one month's notice according to the relevant term of her employment. On the expiry of the notice period, the employment of Miss Mawer automatically came to an end, but she continued for a while in a temporary capacity. Her resignation was duly accepted by the Committee and the Secretary on behalf of the Clinic on 4th August 1960, after the resignation letter was forwarded to the Secretary by the Matron to whom sisters address their letters according to common practice. Miss Mawer knew that her resignation letter addressed to the Matron would be forwarded to the Secretary and she desired that it should be so forwarded. On the expiry of the notice period, no substitute for her in the position of Night Superintendent was immediately available and so she was asked to carry on for the time being on a temporary basis by Miss Livingstone and Miss Mawer voluntarily agreed to this and continued her service beyond one month's notice period. The acceptance of her resignation was duly communicated to her by the Secretary's letter, dated 9th September 1960. In view of her resignation, she is not entitled to any relief in the present case. The allegations in the Union's written statement about alleged persecution and oppression of the staff of the former "Riordans' Nursing Home" by Miss Pratt and Miss O'Mayers are denied. The alleged campaign against her by Dr. Higson and the alleged rude encounters between her and Dr. Higson are also denied. It is, however, stated that Dr. Higson, who was one of the many practising doctors who brought patients to the Nursing Home, reported verbally to Miss Pratt and Miss O'Mayers on Miss Mawer's defeciency as a Nursing Sister. He also wrote a letter regarding Miss Mawer. There was nothing mala fide in the matter of termination of the service of the concerned worker and her service stood terminated by her own voluntary resignation, as already indicated above.

Before going to the merits of the case, I must dispose of the aforesaid two preliminary objections raised on behalf of the Company, because upon these preliminary objections, the reference itself has been challenged as bad, not maintainable in law and without jurisdiction.

I now take up the first preliminary objection. It cannot be gainsaid that basically and par se the present dispute is an individual dispute concerning the non-employment of only one employee of the Company, Miss Mawer. It is, however, now well-settled that such an individual dispute may be transformed into an industrial dispute if it is taken up and sponsored by a large number of workers of the establishment concerned either by themselves, or through a Union of the workers of the same establishment, or through a Union of the general industry to which that particular establishment belongs, though it is not a Union of that particular establishment. The real test is whether there is a collective and concerted demand for relief in respect of the dispute by a large or substantial number of workers of that establishment. These principles have been laid down in the case of Express Newspapers (Private) Ltd [1959(I) L.L.J., page 600]. In the present case, the dispute concerning the non-employment of Miss Mawer has been taken up and sponsored by The All Bengal Hospital Workers' Union. It is not a Union of this particular establishment, but it is a general Union of the workers of all hospitals and allied concerns. If it were a Union of the workers of this particular establishment, it could have been at once presumed that this dispute has the support of quite a large and substantial number of workers of this establishment and so, it has become an industrial dispute. But that being not the case, and the sponsoring Union being the general Union of the workers of all hospitals and allied concerns, it has got to be proved that quite a large or substantial number of workers of this establishment are members of this general Union and so, the taking up of the case by the Union indicates that it has the support of a large or substantial number of workers of this establishment and the onus to prove this would lie upon the concerned Union because according to the ordinary rule of onus, the Union would fail if no evidence is adduced. The aforesaid principle has also been laid down in the case of Express Newspapers (Private) Ltd., referred to above. Coming to the evidence on this point, I find that there is nothing but some oral testimonies of the concerned employee, Miss Mawer (P.W.1) and Shri Dipnarayan Das, the Assistant Secretary of the concerned Union. When challenged in cross-examination, Miss Mawer has been constrained to admit that some of the nursing staff are members of the Union, but she cannot say who they are. She cannot name any other staff of the Nursing Home who is a member of this Union. She has also further admitted that she has not discussed her case with any other member of the nursing staff or subordinate staff and they have not taken any interest and no other member of the staff is disputing with the authorities regarding her case. These statements clearly indicate that she stands quite alone in her dispute with the Company and her dispute has not been taken up or sponsored by any other worker of this Company. P.W.2 Shri Dipnarayan Das has stated that about 25 to 28 employees of this Nursing Home are members of this Union, but in cross-examination, he has been constrained to admit that he cannot give the name of any nurse who is a member of the Union. He has also added the plea that he cannot give any name because it is a confidential matter. There is absolutely no substance in this plea and I reject it. It follows, therefore, that he cannot give the name of any other nurse of this Nursing Home who is a member of this Union, because he does not know any name. He has further admitted that there are books to show that the employees of this Nursing Home are members of this Union, but no book has been produced and the explanation given is that these are with the auditors. I am unable to believe this explanation also. Finally, he has admitted that he has got a list of members of the Union hospital-wise, but he has not produced it even and his explanation is that he was not asked to produce it. It was his duty to produce it to show that really some employees of this Nursing Home are also members of this Union, because the onus of proof of this lies upon the Union. He has also made the further statement that they took up this case when Mis Mawer approached them. He has also added that many other people of the Nursing Home came to them for the case, but he cannot name any of them. He has then said that they held a meeting after calling some important workers of this Nursing Home and in that meeting, they decided to take up this case and there is record to show this in the office. But no such record has been produced and there is no explanation for this. After carefully considering the oral evidence of Miss Mawer and Shri Dipnarayan Das, and also after having regard to the fact that though existence of documents to prove that some workers of this Nursing Home are also members of this Union has been admitted, yet no document has been produced and the explanation for non-production is unsatisfactory and unacceptable. I come to the conclusion that it has not been proved that any other employee of this Nursing Home is a member of this Union and this dispute has not been taken up by any other employee of this Nursing Home. I may again refer back here to the clear admission of Miss Mawer herself that other members of the Nursing Staff are not taking any interest in the dispute and no other member of the staff is disputing with the authorities regarding this case. Upon the evidence, therefore, the factual position is that no other employee of this Nursing Home is taking any interest in the dispute and there is no collective and concerted demand for relief in regard to the non-emplpoyment of Miss Mawer by any section of the employees of this Nursing Home. This dispute, therefore, remains an individual dispute which is its basic nature and it has not been transformed into an industrial dispute by any manner recognised by law. Accordingly, I accept this preliminary objection and hold that it is an individual dspute concerning Miss Mawer and it has not been legally transformed into an industrial dispute as understood in law. Necessarily, I hold that the order of reference is bad and not maintainable in law and without jurisdiction. There can be no reference of any dispute under section 10, Industrial Dispute Act for adjudication, unless it is industrial dispute.

I now take up the second preliminary objection. It is admitted by Miss Mawer that on 5th May 1960, she was promoted to the post of Night Superintendent and in this capacity, her duty was to look after everybody's work and also to do floor duty and her total wages in this position amounted to more than Rs. 500, including allowances. So, at the time when the dispute arose over her non-employment, she was employed as Night Superintendent and her total wages exceeded Rs. 500. It may be also held from her own evidence that her official duty as Night Superintendent was purely supervisory, but in times of emergency, she might have had some times to do floor duty. Her own statements in this respect in cross-examination are as follows:- "The Matron's duty is in day. She hands over the charge to the Night Superintendent. My duty was to see that other nurses worked properly and things ran smoothly. My total emoluments including D. A. and Midwifery allowances were more than Rs. 500." No doubt in assessing the nature of employment, the designation itself is not always conclusive and the real nature of the work done by the person is to be considered. In the present case, the evidence of Miss Mawer herself clearly indicates that as Night Superintendent, she was principally and almost wholly employed in a supervisory capacity, though in times of emergency, she might have had to do floor duty or lend a hand in a delivery case. O.P.W. 2. Miss Olga Miller, who is serving as Assistant Matron in this Nursing Home since April 1960, has testified in her evidence that the Night Superintendent has to take the place of Matron during the night and she can call the Matron only in a case of extreme emergency and it is her function to supervise other staff during night. In cross-examination, she has of course stated that when the working hands are short, the Night Sister may have to give a lending hand for delivery and one of the ordinary duties of the Night Sister is to call the doctor in night time. Even assuming that by 'Night Sister' she means Night Superintendent, this evidence fits in with the evidence of Miss Mawer that in times of emergency, she might have been required to do floor duty at night. Miss. Olga Miller was asked about a duty roster and she admitted that a duty roster is maintained, but stated that this roster will not show the nature of duties of the Floor Sister and the night supervisor and it will only show the periods of duty. The duty of a Floor Sister has been stated by this witness to be to watch a case of delivery up to a certain stage and then call the Night Sister, if necessary. Considering the entire evidence on the question as to the nature of employment of Miss Mawer and the duties that she was required to perform at that ime, I am fully satisfied that she was employed as a Night Superintendent and her duties were mainly and almost wholly supervisory in character. Necessarily, she is excluded from the definition of "workman" as given in clause (s) of section 2, Industrial Disputes Act by sub-clause (iv) of that clause. She was not, therefore, a "workman" as defined in section 2(s), Industrial Disputes Act at the relevant time. It is contended that as she was not a "workman" at the relevant time, there could be no industrial dispute over her non-employment as defined in section 2(k), Industrial Disputes Act. Of course, in the definition of 'industrial dispute' as given in clause 2(k), Industrial Disputes Act, it is not required that he dispute connected with the employment or non-employment must be in connection with a "workman". It lays down that the dispute must be a dispute between employers and employers or between employers and workmen or between workmen and workmen and it must be connected with the employment or non-employment, etc., of "any person". It has been held by the Supreme Court in the case of Demakuchi Tea Estate (A.I.R., 1958 S.C., page 356), that though the dispute connected with the employment or non-employment, etc., may relate to "any person" who may not strictly fall within the definition of "workman", yet in order to be an industrial dispute, it must be shown that a dispute over that matter has arisen between the employers and the workmen who have raised it and these workmen have some community of interest with the person on whose behalf the dispute is raised and this person must be one in those employment or non-employment, etc., these workmen have a direct or substantial interest. In the present case, it has been found that the person to whose non-employment this dispute relates, is not a 'workman' falling within the definition of section 2(s), but that would not by itself make this dispute a non-industrial dispute. The other workmen of this establishment having community of interest with Miss Mawer and substantial interest in her employment might raise an industrial dispute regarding her case, but it has not been proved in the present case that any number of workmen of that category has raised this dispute. I have already decided under the first preliminary objection that no other employee has interest in or raised this dispute. In view of this position, it must lso be held here that this dispute has not been aised by any number of workmen of this establishment having community of interest with this mployee or any substantial interest in her employment or non-employment. At most, only nursing staff may be said to have such community of interest with her and substantial interest in her employment or non-employment, but there is no evidence o prove that any member of that staff has raised any dispute or is sponsoring it. I have already held under the first preliminary objection that it has not been proved that any number of workmen of this establishment are members of the sponsoring union and also that no other workman of this establishment is concerned in the dispute. I may again refer back here to the admission of Miss Mawer in evidence that no other member of the nursing or subordinate staff has taken any interest in this dispute and no such member is diputing with the authorities regarding her case. In this view of the position arising in connecton wth the second preliminary objection under consideration, I also hold, following the decision in the Supreme Court case referred to above, that it is not an industrial dispute and as such, the present referencet is bad and not maintainable in law and without jurisdiction, because here can be no reference for adjudication under section 10, Industrial Disputes Act unless there is an industrial dispute.

Both the preliminary objections are, therefore, accepted as above. The necessary legal position is that the reference is bad and not maintainable in law and without jurisdiction and this Tribunal is not competent to entertain the reference and adjudicate upon it. After this it is unnecessary to go into the merits of the case and strictly speaking, this Tribunal is not competent to pass any award on merits Still, for the purpose of making the record complete, I will briefly record my findings on the merits of the case.

The crucial question in connection with the merits of the case is whether the Company unfairly and illegally terminated the services of the worker in a mala fide manner. We must start from the admitted position that Miss Mawer submitted the resignation letter with due notice for one month dated the 30th July 1960 (Ext. A) and according to this letter, the resignation was to take effect from 1st September 1960. This resignation letter is admitted. The Company acted on the basis of this resignation letter, but the actual termination of her service on the basis of the resignation letter was delayed by a few days beyond the notice period and the Company's case is that during this period, she was kept on a temporary basis, because no suitable substitute for her was immediately available. On behalf of the worker and the sponsoring Union, it has been contended that it was not a real and bona fide letter of resignation and the reason for this as given in the written statement of the Union is that she was much persecuted and tormented by some previous Matrons of the Nursing Home, who formerly were on the staff of the Elgin Nursing Home, whereas Miss Mawer was on the staff of Riordans Nursing Home, and after amalgamation of these two units into a single unit under the name of Woodlands Nursing Home, the aforesaid Matrons of the Elgin Nursing Home were in the habit of persecuting and tormenting the members of the Riodans Staff, and further that, one Dr. Higson had started a campaign against Miss Mawer which compromised her reputation and respect. As regards the story of persecution and torment by Miss Pratt and Miss O'Mayers, there is nothing substantive except the uncorroborated and oral testimony of Miss Mawer and this evidence is also very vague in material particulars and I cannot accept this evidence. In any case, the alleged torments and persecutions by Miss Pratt and Miss O'Mayers, could not have any bearing upon her resignation submitted on the 30th July 1960, because it is an undisputed position that since sometime before that, Miss Livingstone became her Matron and after she (Miss Livingstone asumed office, things improved for her (Miss Mawer) and she was promoted to the post of Night Superintendent on 5th May 1960. So, she was certainly not under any persecution or torment at or about the time when she submitted her resignation. As regards the allegations against Dr. Higson, there is also nothing but her own testimony. The Company has produced a letter from Dr. Higson dated the 27th August 1960 (Ext. I). It appears that his letter was written by him by way of reply to a previous letter of Miss Mawer to the Matron making some complaints against him. In the letter, Ext. I, Dr. Higson denied the charge that he was responsible for any campaign against her and also made some adverse remarks regarding the pormance of her duties on the basis of his own view of her handling of some patients sent by him. Dr. Higson is now in England according to the evidence of O.P.W. 1, Shri Kapil Mukherjee, and so, it was not possible for the Company to produce him for his examination. This letter was written by Dr. Higson pretty long after Miss Mawer had submitted her resignation letter dated the 30th July 1960. No doubt it shows that she made some previous complaints against this doctor, but hte complaints have not been proved. It has not been proved that Dr. Higson held any position of authority in the administrative set up of the Nursing Home, or that the authorities were really influenced in an adverse way against her by any complaint made by Dr. Higson. There is no satisfactory evidence to prove the alleged rude encounters between Miss Mawer and Dr. Dr. Higson. In any case, whatever might have happened between Miss Mawer and Dr. Higson, it was more or less their personal affair and the most important part of the whole thing is that there is no evidence to show that the Nursing Home authorities took any notice of what happened between her and Dr. Higson and sought to penalise her in any way on the basis of Dr. Higson's remarks. In the resignation letter, the specific reason for her decision to leave the establishment was stated to be her seriously impaired state of health. There were also allegations against Dr. Higson, but it is of little importance as I have already indicated above. I have no hesitation to hold upon the evidence that Miss Mawer herself decided to resign her service under the Company and accordingly submitted the letter of resignation voluntarily of her own accord with the real and bona fide intention of leaving this Nursing Home. Though the letter of resignation was addressed to the Matron, who was the immediate superior to Miss Mawer, it was duly forwarded to the Secretary, who placed it before the Committee and the Committee at its meeting held on 4th August 1960, accepted the resignation and recommended to the Trustees that she be paid the full share of the Company's contribution to the Provident Fund (vide Ext. H). This decision was, however, communicated to her by the Secretary's letter dated 9th September 1960 (Ext. C). Though her notice expired with effect from 1st September 1960, she was kept on for some time on a purely temporary basis. This is practically admitted by Miss Mawer in her evidence. She says that she worked till the end of September and then discovered that she was put on a temporary basis and she drew her salary on temporary basis. O.P.W. 2, Miss Olga Miller, the present assistant Matron in this Nursing Home, has stated in her evidence that Miss Mawer continued to work up to September 1940, and no suitable substitute for her could be found in August 1960, and for both sides' convenience, the authorities kept her for another month and she had not also found any alternative employment and it was understood that keeping her for one month more was on temporary basis. This evidence fits in with the surrounding circumstances and the probabilities of the case and also to some extent with the admission of Miss Mawer that she was kept on temporary basis. So, the facts are that Miss Mawer submitted her written resignation giving reasons, the principal reason being her impaired state of health, the notice of resignation expired at the end of August 1960, but in the meantime, her resignation was accepted by the Committee at the meeting held on 4th August 1960, but after the expiry of the notice period, she was kept on temporary basis for another month, because no suitable substitute was immediately found and she worked on purely temporary basis for this additional month and she knew of this and during her continuance on temporary basis, she was informed of the Committee's decision to accept her resignation by the Secretary's letter dated 9th September 1960, but there was no protest or demur from her to the effect that she had not really resigned but had simply put in her threaten-resignation only without seriously meaning to resign. Had it been a threatened resignation and not a real resignation, she would have certainly written to the authorities clarifying her position when she received the Secretary's letter, dated 9th September 1960, intimating that her resignation had been accepted, but she did nothing of the sort and she quietly continued to work on temporary basis up to the end of September 1960. From the facts set out above, I hold that her resignation letter dated 30th July 1960, was a real and bona fide letter of resignation reflecting her decision to resign from the service of the Nursing Home. In addition to the reason of ill-health given in the letter, she might have been influenced in submitting the resignation by the alleged conduct of Dr. Higson as a physician connected with the Nursing Home but not in a position of authority, but that does not matter in the least. It is clear beyond doubt that she took a firm and voluntary decision to resign from the service of the Nursing Home and no one in a position of authority in this Nursing Home influenced her in any way in submitting the resignation. Much is made of the fact that the resignation was addressed to the Marton, who was not the appointing authority and had no right to take any decision on it and not to the Secretary, who was the appointing authority and who could deal with the matter of resignation, subject to the decision of the Committee and it is contended that this shows that Mis Mawer did not really intend to resign but it was a mere show of resignation. I am not impressed by this argument. As already indicated above, the Matron was her immedate superior in office and on behalf of the Company, letters of Ext. G series have been proved to show that the Nurses and other staff subordinate to the Matron always submit their resignation letters to the Matron. I am satisfied that it was a common practice, for the subordinate staff to submit resignations to the Matron in-charges and Miss Mawer only fell in line with this practice and followed it by submitting her resignation to the Marton. The resignation letter was to go through the proper channel and the Matron was certainly the person through whom the resignation letter was to go to the higher authorities for necessary action. Miss Mawer certainly knew of this. So, she addressed the resignation letter to the Matron. There is no point in saying that her addressing the resignation letter to the Matron shows that she did not mean seriously and really to resign but it was only her threatened resignation. It is further significant to note that Miss Mawer never withdrew the resignation letter in writing, either during the notice period or during the extended period or one month during which she worked on a temporary basis. Considering all the above facts and circumstances I hold that Miss Mawer took the firm and voluntary decision to resign from the service of the Nursing Home and accordingly she submitted the resignation letter dated the 30th July 1960 (Ext. A) to the Matron for transmission to the authorities for necessary action and she stuck to the letter of resignation during the notice period and also during the extended period of one month during which she was kept on a temporary basis and so, the termination of her service after 30th September 1960, was primarily based upon her voluntary resignation and though the notice period was extended by one month, she was employed purely on temporary basis during this period. It is not a case where the Company terminated her service illegally, wrongfully or mala fide, but it is a case where she herself brought about termination ofher service by voluntary resignation. The Company did nothing else than terminate her service on the basis of her own voluntary resignation and the temination was, therefore, justified and consequently, Mis Mawer is not entitled to any relief on the basis that her service was wrongfully terminated in a mala fide manner. This is my final decision on the merits of the case.

After recording briefly my findings and decision on the merits of the case in order to make the record complete, I must award on the basis of my decisions on the preliminary objections as recorded above that this reference is bad and not maintainable in law and without jurisdiction and the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain the reference and adjudicate upon it and I award accordingly.

Caltex (India) Limited, United India Life Building, 22 Chittaranjan Avenue, Post Box No. 2382, Calcutta-1, and (iv) Messrs. The Indo-Burma Petroleum Company Limited (Managing Agents: Steel Brothers and Company Limited), Gillander House, Netaji Subhas Road, Post Box No. 383, Calcutta-1, on the one hand, and their workmen represented by the Bengal Oil and Petrol Workers' Union, Shramik Bhawan, 177-B Lower Circular Road, Calcutta-14, on the other, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order was referred to the Board of Conciliation constituted under the said order for promoting a settlement;

And whereas the said Board of Conciliation has submitted to the State Government its report on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said report as shown in the annexure hereto.

REPORT

By its order No. 2768-I.R./IR/15L-15/62, dated Calcutta, the 27th June 1962, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, an industrial dispute between (i) Messrs. Burmah Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India Limited, Hongkong House, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta-1, (ii) Messrs. Esso Standard Eastern Inc., 6 Church Lane, Calcutta-1, (iii) Messrs. Caltex (India) Limited, United India Life Building, 22 Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta-1, and (iv) Messrs. The Indo-Burmah Petroleum Company Limited (Managing Agents: Steel Brothers and Company Limited), Gillander House, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, on the one hand and their workmen represented by the Bengal Oil and Petrol Workers' Union, Shramik Bhawan, 177B Lower Circular Road, Calcutta-14, to this Board of Conciliation constituted under section 5 of the Act on the following issue:—

Bonus for 1961 for the Operatives, Service, Transport, Security and Craft workmen in the Companies' establishments.

The Board met for the first time on the 21st of July 1962, for deciding the question of procedure to be followed by the Board and it was decided unanimously that both the parties should file their own written statements. The next meeting of the Board took place on the 31st of July 1962, when Dr. Mrs. Bose, one of the representatives of the Union, was absent. The rest of the members thought it would be necessary to go through the written statements of the parties carefully and also to find out whether an agreement between the parties was possible. The next meeting of the Board was on the 11th of August 1962 when there was no open sitting. The members and the Chairman sat in the Chairman's chamber and discussed the matters. The negotiations that were proceeding between the Union on the one hand and the Oil Companies on the other had not yet been completed and the next meeting of the Board was fixed for the 27th of August 1962. The Oil Companies represented by Messrs. Chopra and Ryan on the one hand and the workmen represented by Dr. Mrs. Bose, the President of the Union, on the other, were happy to report for the information of the Board an agreement on the issue referred to it. The complete text of the agreement will form part of the report. This agreement is signed on behalf of the Oil Companies by the Personnel Managers of the four Companies and also by Messrs. Chopra and Ryan representing Messrs. Burmah-Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India Limited and Messrs. Caltex (India) Limited respectively and on behalf of the Union by Dr. Mrs. Bose, its President.

Although Dr. Mrs. Bose and Messrs. Chopra and Ryan are members of the Board they signed the agreement as representing the Union and the two Oil Companies, namely, Messrs. Burmah-Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company of India Limited and Caltex (India) Limited. There is no bar legally or otherwise, specifically mentioned in the Act or the Rules framed thereunder nor do I know of any case in which the membership of the Board was held to be a bar to representatives of the parties on the Board signing the agreement on behalf of the Companies and the workmen whom they represent on the Board.

In this connection it may be pointed out that the issue actually referred to the Board was linked up with another question, namely, that of extension of the long term agreement for one year after its expiry in April 9, 1962. The parties, instead of agreeing to an extension of that agreement for one year after April 9, 1962, have come to an agreement that it should be extended up to the 31st of December 1962 and this also forms part of the agreement on bonus for 1961, the issue actually referred to the Board.

During the discussions two additional points came up, namely, the question of disposal of a number of pending charge-sheets connected with the present dispute and the question of retrenchment. It was agreed that maximum liniency would be shown in respect of any charge-sheet connected with the dispute and there would be no victimisation and also that ultimate findings in such cases would be referred to the Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal. On the other point namely, retrenchment, the Union expressed its fears about possible retrenchment of labour and asked for a written assurance that there would be no reduction in the existing complement of labour by way of retrenchment during the period of the extension and the representatives of the Oil Companies on the Board stated that they could give a verbal assurance on this score on the assumption that the Union would co-operate but not a written assurance.

A further point also arose as to the mode of payment of the bonus. On this question on behalf of the Oil Companies there was an assurance that whatever mode of payment is in vogue in any of these Companies would be followed for the payment of this bonus.

Several joint conferences were held in order t effect an amicable settlement between the partie mentioned above including conciliation proceedings before the Conciliation Officer and Labour Com missioner and finally before a Board of Conciliation appointed by the Government of West Bengal an the following settlement was arrived at.

III. Terms of Settlement.

This Settlement is made on the 27th day o August 1962, in the presence of the Board o Conciliation between Burmah-Shell Oil Storage & Distributing Co. of India Ltd., Hongkong House Calcutta, Esso Standard Eastern Inc., 6 Church Lane, Calcutta, Caltex (India) Ltd., 22 Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and Indo-Burma Petroleum Company Ltd., "Gillander House", Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, being the parties of the First Part (hereinafter called "the Companies") and the Com panies' Labour, Service, Transport, Security and Craft workmen in the Companies' establishments in Budge Budge, Chitraganj, Narculdanga, Paharpur Ramnagar, Ramkristopur, Sibpur, Dum Dum and Burmah-Shell and Indo-Burma Petroleum Branch Offices in Calcutta Industrial Area, being the parties of the Second Part (hereinafter called "the Workmen").

Whereas the Bengal Oil & Petrol Workers' Union (hereinafter called "the Union") has placed on behalf of the Workmen a demand on the Companies for Bonus for 1961, and whereas the bipartite and tri-partite discussions between the parties having failed, the Government of West Bengal referred the matter to a Board of Conciliation by their Order in the Labour Department No. 2768-I.R./IR/15L-15/62, dated 27th June 1962, and whereas as a result of the deliberations of the said Board of Conciliation, the parties have come to a Settlement; now, this settlement witnesseth and it is hereby agreed between the parties hereto as follows:—

1. The Companies agree to the ad hoc payment of Bonus for the year 1961 only, in full and final settlement, at the same rate as has been granted for 1960 and on the following terms and conditions:—

(a) The Companies will pay to all permanent workmen (except those who have already received their Bonus for 1961) covered by this Settlement who have been in the service of the Companies during the year 1961, bonus equivalent to 9.24th of the basic wages earned during the said year in full and final settlement of bonus for the said year.

(b) The Bonus will be calculated only on the basic wages earned during the said year excluding all allowances and additional earnings, such as, Dearness Allowance, Overtime, etc.

(c) Bonus as above will be paid to the eligible workmen on and from 31st August, 1962.

(d) Substantive claim for bonus from those who have been in service of the Companies during the year for which bonus is payable under the terms of this Settlement, but who cease to be in service of the Companies on the date of payment will be entertained only if a written application is received from them within six months of date of payment.

2. In the interest of ensuring industrial peace the Companies and the Union agree that the terms and conditions of service as embodied in the Conciliation Settlement between the parties, dated 8th April 1959, for all categories of workmen covered by this Settlement shall remain effective till 31st December, 1962. The parties may discuss their demands as from November 1, 1962, but the Union agrees not to raise or pursue demands/disputes involving any additional financial commitments, for any period prior to 1st January, 1963.

3 This Settlement shall not in any way prejudice the right, if any, of the Party of the Second Part to raise a demand for Bonus for the year 1962.

It witness whereof the parties hereto have hereunto set their hands the day, month and year first abovewritten.

No. 4104-I.R./IR/11L-477/60.—11th September 1962. -Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 6173-I.R./IR/11L-477/60, dated the 29th November 1960 read with its Corrigendum No. 313-I.R./IR/11L-477/60, dated the 24th January 1961, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Radha Kristo Dutta & Sons Private Ltd., 125/126 Old China Bazar Street, Calcutta-1 and their workmen represented by Shri Murari Mohan, c/o Shri Monmatha Nath Ghosh, 23/1A Tarak Chatterjee Lane, Calcutta-6, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Radha Kristo Dutta & Sons Private Limited, 125/126 Old China Bazar Street, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Shri Murari Mohan, c/o Sri Monmatha Nath Ghosh, 23/1A Tarak Chatterjee Lane, Calcutta-6. (Case No. VIII-619/60.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S N GUHA ROY, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company (Directors): Shri Mansuklal Mehta, Advocate.

For the workmen: Shri T. P. Chatterjee, Advocate.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 6173-I.R./IR/11L-477/60, dated the 29th November 1960, of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Radha Kristo Dutta Private Ltd. and their workmen, represented by Shri Murari Mohan and subsequently by Corrigendum No. 313-I.R./IR/11L-477/60, dated Calcutta, the 24th January 1961, the name and the address of the Company was corrected to Messrs. Radha Kristo Dutta & Sons Private Ltd. The only issue is whether the termination of employment of (a) Murari Mohan Kumar, (b) Gour Mohan Chatterjee, (c) Jitendra Nath Raha, (d) Monmatha Nath Ghosh, (e) Pran Ballav Sen and (f) Patiram Sarma is justified and to what relief, if any, they are entitled.

As the notices on Messrs. R. K. Dutta & Sons Private Ltd. came back unserved with the endorsement "not known", notices had to be served under order 29, rule 2(a) of the Civil Procedure Code on the Directors. All the Directors except one Shri Gobordhan Dutta filed their written statements but Gobordhan Dutta did not appear at all at any stage of the proceedings. The written statements of all the Directors are to the same effect. These written statements after giving the history of the concern state that the Company's business mainly consisted of the export of readymade garments to places outside India and that it had been running at a loss since its inception and it was practically closed since Baisakh 1364 B.S. and that since then there has been no transaction of business. It is stated that to meet the major portion of its liabilities the Company had to sell its property, premises No. 22, Maharshi Debendra Road, Calcutta, on or about April or May 1959 at Rs. 3,10,000 and that in execution of a decree in favour of one Durgadas Mundra against the Company certain items of furniture belonging to it were sold and that in execution of another decree in favour of one Gokuldas Mundra its office was sealed by the bailiff. On deposit of the amount of this degree by one of the Directors, Shri Shyam Chand Basak, the shop premises were opened by the bailiff on 9th May 1961 in presence of Shyam Chand Basak, Nabakumar Dutta and Bidyut Dutta. The other Directors including the Secretary Gobordhan Dutta did not turn up although due notice was given for the purpose. Inside the shop some books of accounts and other papers were found lying scattered and damp due to the heavy rains. There were two cots and two locked iron safes which could not be opened as the keys were with the Secretary who was absent and consequently no inventory could also be made. About the termination of the services of the workmen it is alleged in paragraph 15 of the written statement of Amal Kumar Dutta that the six workmen had full knowledge of the deteriorating condition of the business and of its ultimate closure and that their services were admittedly terminated prior to 9th September 1958, the date on which they claimed one month's pay in lieu of notice in their letter of that date to the Labour Officer. The workmen, on the other hand, in their written statement allege that the office of the Company was put under lock and key in Ashar 1366 B.S. but at the same time the Company asked the workmen concerned to attend their office regularly and in pursuance of the said direction the workmen continued to attend their office but four of them were paid wages only up to Baisakh 1366 B.S. and the remaining two up to Chaitra 1365 B.S. only and thereafter in Aswin 1367 B.S. the management verbally terminated the services of the workmen. It is the allegation of the workmen that the Company has not been closed in circumstances beyond the control of the Company.

Admittedly then, the shop was closed down, whether with effect from Baisakh 1364 B.S. as alleged in the written statement of the Directors or with effect from Ashar 1366 B.S. as stated by the workmen. There is thus no dispute between the parties about the fact of closure of the shop. It is not material for our purpose whether the shop was closed with effect from Baisakh 1364 B.S. or Ashar 1366 B.S. That date would have been relevant only if the questions of the arrears of wages due to the workmen could have been gone into on this reference, but this is clearly beyond its scope as is the question of any gratuity to the workmen. The only questions for decision are first whether the circumstances that led to the closure of the shop and the business of the Company were beyond the control of the Directors or not; secondly whether the workmen were all in the employ of t Company up to the date of the closure; and thirc what relief they are entitled to.

That these men were in the employ of the Compan up to the date of the closure is not seriously disputc in the evidence adduced on behalf of the Directo The Directors examined before me, namely, Sarv shri Shyam Chand Basak, Naba Kumar Dutta an Amal Kumar Dutta stated in their examination-in-chi itself that the Company never terminated the servic of the workmen but they themselves left their emplo ment. Shri Shyam Chand Basak, witness No. 1 fc the Directors, says in his examination-in-chief "W did not serve any one with any notice of terminatic of service but these employees left the employ (Messrs. Radha Kristo Dutta (P.) Ltd., of their ov accord as that Company had no longer any fund an could not pay them and they joined other firms an all of them except Pran Ballav joined the other Com pany, viz., R. K. Dutta & Co." In his cross-examin tion he repeats that they did not terminate the serv of the workmen nor did they ask the workmen t resume their duties because as the shop was close there was no work for them. This seems to sugges that up to the time of the closure these workmen wer still in the employ of the Company. Nava Kuma Dutta states in his examination-in-chief that the work men are no longer in the employ of the Compan because the Company has been lying under lock an key and none of these employees go there and he distinctly states in his examination-in-chief itself tha the employees ceased going to the Company from the day when the shop was put under lock and key and sold and then he goes on saying that the employees were already trying for jobs elsewhere and all of them entered the employment of other concerns. He also says that he is the husband of Shrimati Arati Dutta the Proprietor of Messrs. R. K. Dutta & Co., and of the six employees, Murari Mohan Konar, Monmatha, Gour Mohan and Patiram Sarma entered the service of Messrs. R. K. Dutta & Co. since the locking of the shop of Messers. Radha Kristo Dutta & Sons (P.) Ltd. and Jiten and Pran Ballav were not employe there. He also says that Gour Mohan is also a part time worker of Messrs R. K. Dutta & Co. He an Jiten are employed in a shop of Ashu Roy who dea in yarns and also umbrellas. From this also it clear that all these employees were in the employ of the Company up to the date of the closure of the shop In his cross-examination also he denies that the terminated the services of these employees and say that the fact is that since the locking up of the sho none of the employees attended their duties. Whe he is confronted with the statement in his writte statement that the termination of the service of th employees was justified, he cannot say what he mean by that statement. Shri Amal Kumar Dutta, anothe Director and the last witness for the Comapny says in his examination-in-chief that they never terminate the services of the workmen and they themselves left their employ prior to 9th September 1958 when they wrote a letter to the Labour Department. He states in his cross examination that when the workmen left their employ they did not send to them any letter of resignation but they wrote to the Labour Commissioner about it. As against this out of the six witnesses examined for the workmen, all except Patiram says that even after the closing of the shop they continued to attend the office till Aswin 1367 B.S.

when they were verbally told by Gobordhan Dutta, Secretary, not to go any more. That is the statement of Murari Mohan Konar, of Shri Gour Mohan Chatterjee, of Shri Jiten Raha, of Shri Monmatha Nath Ghosh, and of Shri Pran Ballav Sen. Patiram Sarma, however, says in his examination-in-chief itself that when the shop was closed in 1366 B.S. none of the Babus used to attend it and he himself could not make out what he ought to do in the circumstances and he began to do work elsewhere. By "Babus" here he probably means the Directors and not the workmen. There is no reason whatever why Patiram, a very old durwan, should make a false statement. If the durwan began to work elsewhere since the closing of the shop, it is hardly likely that the other workmen would keep on coming to the office, and sitting on a bench outside the closed shop and in the compound and then going away. First, it is most unnatural, particularly in view of the workmen's full knowledge of the financial condition of their employers, as disclosed in their own application, Ext. 3, secondly it is not stated in the workmen's written statement which of the Directors asked them to go on attending the office and ultimately told them to shift for themselves, though here they attributed it to Gobordhan Dutta. In these circumstances, I am inclined to hold on the strength of the durwan's evidence that all these workmen were in the employ of the Company up to the date of the closure of the shop whether this closure actually took place in Baisakh 1364 B.S. or Aswin 1366 B.S. That clearly entitles them to compensation under section 25 FFF of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The question next arises whether the undertaking was closed down on account of unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the employers so as to entitle the workmen to compensation only under the proviso to section 25 FFF(1) not exceeding their average pay for three months or whether the workmen are entitled to compensation under section 25(F) (b). Under section 25 FFF read with section 25F(a), the workmen are also entitled to a month's notice or in lieu of such notice to wages for one month. In this case admittedly no notice was served as required by section 25FFF(1) read with section 25F(a). Consequently there is no doubt that the workmen would be entitled to one month's pay in lieu of notice.

The only other question is whether they should be paid compensation under the proviso to section 25FFF(1) or under section 25F(b). This again depends on the answar to the question whether the closure was due to circumstances beyond the control of the employers. It is the evidence of Shri Shyam Chand Basak, one of the Directors of the Company, that it had purely export business and used to export ready-made garments to South Africa and the countries neighbouring South Africa and the business of the Company had already closed before he entered the Company as a Director and since his entry into it as a Director there had been no business at all. In his cross-examination also he says that the Company used to export ready-made garments and he never saw this Company dealing in cloth apart from export business and during his time it was never an agent of Messers. Buckingham & Carnatic Mills Fabric. Of course he admits that he only used to attend meetings as a Director, but after he became a Director, apart from attending meetings, he used to go to the shop of the Company and to see the Babus and the employees there. But he had no responsibility about the working of the Company. It was suggested to him that the losses shown were mere losses on paper but he repels the suggestion. It was also suggested to him that mutual disputes among the Directors as to which of them should control the Company had led to the present circumstances but he denies this. The Director next examined is Naba Kumar Dutta. He also says in his examination-in-chief that the main business of the Company was to export ready-made garments to South Africa and later to East Africa but since April 1948 the export of goods to South Africa was completely banned. Even then, some goods were exported to Rhodesia but from 1953 or 1954, as far as he can recollect, the export of goods to Rhodesia was also stopped because there were no orders as their prices were considered to be high. It is his statement that even prior to this the Company was running at a loss and then on account of the losses which resulted in debts the Company had to be closed down that is to say, the work of the Company ceased. He admits in his examination-in-chief itself that the Company has not gone into liquidation but the shop of the Company has been lying under lock and key for the last 4 years or so, i.e., since 1364 B.S. During his cross-examination by Shri G. C. Mitra representing some of the Directors he stated in answer to a question from the Tribunal that the number of employees of Messers. Radha Kristo Dutta (P.) Ltd. in 1933 was about 50 or 60, or even more and that this number was gradually dwindling and it was reduced to six only about 1954 or 1955. There are now before the Tribunal the cases of six workmen only. In his cross-examination on behalf of the Union he says that he has been a Director of Radha Kristo Dutta (P.) Ltd. since 1942. No question appears to have been put to him challenging any part of his statement regarding the stoppage of the export business of the Company, although questions were put about various other matters to which he testified in his examination-in-chief. For example, in his cross-examination he says that he would not be able to give the exact date when the shop was locked and sealed. According to him, premises No. 22, Maharshi Debendra Road, the only substantial property of the Company had to be sold prior to the closure of the shop. In his cross-examination he was confronted with a number of counterfoils of rent receipts Exts. A series. How the workmen got hold of the counterfoils is not explained, but Shri Dutta admits that these are genuine counterfoils, bearing his signatures. There are altogether eleven counterfoils Exts. A to A(10). Of these six, namely, Exts. A to A(5) are counterfoils for realisation of rent for different parts of 22 Maharshi Debendra Road. The counterfoils themselves do not bear any date but they bear the dated signatures of one of the workmen, G. Chatterjee. The date on Exts. A to A(4) is 28th March 1959 and that on Ext. A(5) 21st March 1959. As far as one can judge from the counterfoils, the last date of realisation of rent for 22 Maharshi Debendra Road appears to have been 28th March 1959. The fact that 22 Maharshi Debendra Road had to be sold for debts is not disputed. Ext. 3 is an application by the six workmen to the Labour Officer, Government of West Bengal, on the 9th of September, 1958. In this application it is stated distinctly that this Company Messers. R. K. Dutta & Sons (P.) Ltd. under whom they have been serving for a long time had completely stopped their business altogether for the last three years on account of mismanagement and misappropriation of the Company's fund by the Directors of the Company and the Company had no other income save and except the rent realised from a house property at 22 Maharshi Debendra Road and they came to learn that this house property of the Company was going to be sold out before the Puja and that the intending buyers had sent a letter to the Company, dated 28th January 1958, for confirmation of the price at Rs. 3,10,000 and that the Company had confirmed the price and that the earnest money had already been accepted by the Company on 8th September 1958. In this the workmen prayed to the Labour Officer for immediate steps being taken for the realisation of the gratuity payable to them and one month's pay for notice. It was also distinctly stated there that the Company would no longer do any business henceforth as its financial position was very awkward. It is obvious from Ext 3 that by September 1958 negotiations of the sale of the premises No. 22 Maharshi Debendra Road, were well underway. The counterfoils would go to suggest that probably the house was not sold till after March 1959. All the other five counterfoils Exts. A(6) to A(10) relate to 125 Old China Bazar Street. These also bear the dated signatures of Shri G. Chatterjee. Exts A(6), A(8) and A(9) are all dated 11th March 1959. Ext. A(7) is dated 10th March 1959 and Ext. A(10) is dated 21st March 1959. This is not probably where the shop of the Company was located for the evidence of the Directors seems to indicate that the shop is still in the possession of the Company. According to Shri Nava Kumar Dutta, 125 Old China Bazar Street did not belong to Radha Kristo Dutta (P.) Ltd. but it had been let out to that Company by the Official Receiver. As the Company could not pay rent regularly it was rejected from the premises by the Official Receiver about five years ago, i.e., sometime in 1957. But obviously this ejectment could not have taken place five years ago as the counterfoils Exts. A(6) to A(10) show that the Company was realising rent for parts of those premises even in March 1959. From these counterfoils, it would thus appear that 22 Maharshi Debendra Road was sold and the Company was ejected from 125 Old China Bazar Street sometime after March 1959. It appears from the printed letter-head of Ext. 1 that the address of the Company was 125 and 126 Old China Bazar Street The date of Ext. 1 is of course 14th August 1961. That would not necessarly mean that 125 Old China Bazar Street was still in the occupation of the Company, because the old letter-head might have been used without scoring out the address 125 Old China Bazar Street having gone out of the possession of the Company, it is more than probable that premises No. 126 still belongs to the Company. That this is so is clear from the statement of Shri Amal Kumar Dutta in his cross-examination, that all papers of the Company were in its registered office at 126 Old China Bazar Street.

Then there is the evidence of Shri Amal Kumar Dutta who was one of the Directors and used to look after the management. His evidence also is that the business of the Company consisted of export business and the agency of Buckingham & Carnatic Mills and these were the only items of business carried on by the Company. According to him, export means export of ready-made garments to Rhodesia. Then he goes on to say that it began to work at a loss even from the beginning and these losses continued up to 1364 B.S. when they amounted to Rs. 3,50,000. To meet the liabilities the Company had to sell its house property at Maharshi Debendra Road sometime in April or May 1956, but the date of the sale of 22 Maharshi Debendra Street is clearly wrong, as already pointed out, because Ext. A series show rent being realised on behalf of the Company for parts of that house even in March 1959. Shri Amal Kumar Dutta further states that by the end of 1364 B.S. the Company was forced to close down its business. He denies in his cross-examination that the Directors were not on good terms with each other. He also says that all papers of the Company were at its registered office at 126A Old China Bazar Street. This is also the evidence of the other Directors, who say that the papers were lying in a scattered condition and some of the papers were damaged due to rain water. In cross-examination he repeats that the Company continued to lose from its inception. This is the entire evidence on the side of the Directors. It is true that Shri Gobordhan Dutta, the Secretary of the Company, has not turned up nor has he filed any written statement. It is also true that certain papers called for on behalf of the workmen from the Company have not been produced. As against this there is on the other side the evidence of the six workmen involved in this reference. Shri Murari Mohan Konar, the workmen who is looking after the case on behalf of the workmen, states in his examination-in-chief itself that the business of the Company consisted of export of ready-made garments which used to be made from the goods the Company received from Buckingham & Carnatic Mills and these ready-made garments were exported to South Africa and he further states that the business had to be closed down due to strained relations among the Directors Even then there were sufficient orders and there were also stocks. He attributes the strained relations to the funds of the Company by which he presumably means a misuse of those funds. He also says that the shop of the Company was under lock and key but the key was with one of the Directors. Shri Shyam Chand Basak, a witness of the Company, admitted that when he deposited the decretal dues of one of the creditors of the Company, namely, Gokuldas Mundra, he obtained the key from the court and served notices on the rest of the Directors, calling upon them to appear and have the shop opened and then have an inventory made of whatever there was in the shop but the other Directors did not take any notice of his notice and the shop has been lying closed all the time since then. All the Directors examined says that important papers are all with Shri Gobordhan Dutta Shri Shyam Chand Basak further states that the Company is indebted to the Income Tax Department to the extent of Rs. 14,000 or 15,000 for taxes due and that for these dues the decree the Company has obtained against Shri Gobordhan Dutta has been attached. The evidence of Murari Mohan Konar in his examination-in-chief that even when the business had to be closed down there were sufficient orders and stocks does not appear to me to be supported by their own application Ext. 3, dated 9th September 1958, to the Labour Officer, because in that it is distinctly stated by them that the Company was no longer going to do any business thenceforth as their financial position was very awkward and they were asking the Labour Officer to take steps for realisation of their ratuity and one month's pay for notice without delay. f as a matter of fact, there were sufficient stocks of ıe Company it was most unlikely that they would not ıention that if only to have their own dues realised om the sale proceeds of these stocks. That at once ows that the workmen were trying in their evidence) give a better picture of the Company's financial osition than it actually had been for the last few ears There may, however, be some truth in the llegation made on behalf of the workmen that the elations amongst the directors themselves have been mewhat strained. The decree against Gobordhan utta by the Company, though a consent decree, ems to point in that direction. Whether that led the present awkward position of the Company, it is ifficult to say from the materials on the record. The incipal factor, however, which, as far as one can ake out from the materials on the record, led to the ompany's difficulties seems to be the stoppage of its ports to South Africa and Rhodesia some years ack. The Company's balance-sheets Exts. 2, 2(1) nd 2(2) for the years ending on the 31st Chaitra 361 B.S,1362 B.S. and 1363 B.S. show losses every ear. Exhibit 2 the balancesheet for the year 1361 .S. shows that in 1360 B.S. the net loss carried over the balancesheet for that year amounted to s 47,813-5-7 pies and in 1361 B.S. the net loss rried over to the balance-sheet was Rs. 15,012-5-3. xhibit 2(1) shows that the net loss carried over to ıe balance-sheet in the year 1362 B.S. was s 38,470-0-6 pies and Ext. 2(3) that in the year 1363 S. the net loss carried over to the balance-sheet as Rs 18.707-13-4. The total loss for the years 360, 1361, 1362 and 1363 B.S. thus come up to s 1,20,003-8-8. Clearly, therefore, the Company as in an extremely tight financial position even by e year 1363 B.S. That its business had completely opped was admitted by the workmen in their letter xt 3, dated the 9th September 1958, to the Labour fficer. The main factor which seems to me to have en responsible for this is the stoppage of their port business, their agency of the products of essrs Buckingham & Carnatic Mills Ltd., which so ceased before Shri Shyam Chand Basak became director, having been only a source of supply of aterials for the export business, as it is in evidence at out of the fabrics which they obtained through is agency they had ready-made garments made and ese were exported to South Africa and Rhodesia. he explanation added at the end of section 5FFF(1) provides that an undertaking which is osed down by reason merely of financial difficulties ncluding financial losses) or accumulation of undis- osed of stocks shall not be deemed to have been osed down on account of unavoidable circumstances yond the control of the employer within the mean- g of the proviso to this sub-section. If, therefore, e shop had been closed down only by reason of ancial difficulties, it would not have been open to e Tribunal to hold that the undertaking was closed wn on account of unavoidable circumstances yond the control of the employer. But, as pointed t already, the main factor responsible for the esent financial position of the Company is the oppage of its export business. As exports to South frica were banned and as the orders from other arts of Africa fell on account of the high prices of ıe Company's goods, losses of the Company adually mounted up. The factors that led to the losure of the shop and the closure of the Company's business were then first the stoppage of its export business and secondly, its financial losses, due mainly to stoppage of its export business and probably in part to other factors such as internal squabbles amongst the directors themselves. In these circumstances it must be held that the business of the Company had to be closed down by reason of unavoidable circumstances beyond the Company's control. That all the workmen have put in more than a year's service is not disputed. The workmen are thus entitled to compensation under the proviso to section 25FFF(1) i.e., they are entitled to three months' wages as compensation. They are also, as already found, entitled to one month's wages in lieu of notices which had to be, but were not, served on them. They are thus entitled in all to four months' wages by way of compensation. The pay of each of the workmen is available from Ext. 3, proved on behalf of the employees and not disputed on behalf of the workmen. These figures are:

Murari Mohan Konar	..	Rs. 142 per month
Gour Mohan Chatterjee	.	Rs 117 ,, ,,
Jitendra Nath Raha	..	Rs. 106 ,, ,,
Monmatha Nath Ghosh	..	Rs. 81 ,, ,,
Pran Ballav Sen	..	Rs. 108 ,, ,,
Patiram	..	Rs. 60 ,, ,,

The compensation, therefore, payable in all, including one month's wages in lieu of notice would be as follows:

Murari Mohan Konar	..	Rs. 142×4 568
Gour Mohan Chatterjee		Rs. 117×4=468
Jitendra Nath Raha	..	Rs. 106×4=424
Monmatha Nath Ghosh	..	Rs. 81×4=324
Pran Ballav Sen	..	Rs. 106×4 424
Patiram	..	Rs. 60×4=240

My award accordingly is that the termination of the employment of Sarbasri Murari Mohan Konar, Gour Mohan Chatterjee, Jitendra Nath Raha, Monmatha Nath Ghosh, Pran Ballav Sen and Patiram Sarma was due really to the closure of the shop which again was due to circumstances beyond the control of the employers. The workmen are entitled to compensation under the proviso to section 25FFF(1) to a maximum of three months' wages and also to another month's wages in lieu of the notices under section 25F(a). The compensation to which each is thus entitled is given below:

Murari Mohan Konar	..	Rs. 568
Gour Mohan Chatterjee		,, 468
Jitendra Nath Raha	.	,, 424
Monmatha Nath Ghosh	.	,, 324
Pran Ballav Sen	..	,, 424
Patiram Sarma ..	..	,, 240

No. 4635-I.R.|IR|11L-46|62.—15th October 1962. —Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 445-I.R.|IR|11L-46|62, dated the 8th February 1962, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Goodyear India Limited, 209 Acharyya Jagadish Bose Road, Calcutta-17, and their workmen represented by Goodyear India Employees' Union, 35|B Wellington Street, Calcutta-13, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the third schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Goodyear India Limited, 209 Acharyya Jagadish Bose Road, Calcutta-17, and their workmen represented by Goodyear India Employees' Union, 35|B Wellington Street, Calcutta-13. (Case No. VIII-31 of 1962.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. N. GUHA ROY, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri D. Basu Thakur, Solicitor, Messrs. Orr. Dignam & Company, Solicitors.

For the Union: Shri P. Ghose, President, Goodyear India Employees' Union.

AWARD

In this reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 445I.R.|IR|11L-46|62, dated the 8th February 1962, of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Goodyear India Limited and their workmen, represented by Goodyear India Employees' Union, the only issue is bonus for the year 1960.

Admittedly bonus was paid by the Company for the year 1960 to its workmen of the Calcutta Area to which the dispute is confined at the rate of one and a half month's consolidated wages. The Union claims additional bonus at the rate of four and a half months wages.

The Company on the other hand challenges the Union's right to claim additional bonus for 1960. The reasons for the claim of the Union and for the challenge of its claim on behalf of the employers will appear as I deal with this issue.

On behalf of the Union no witness was exami and on behalf of the Company only one witness, the Chief Accountant was examined.

For the purpose of calculating the available surp each of the parties filed its own computatic According to the Union's computation the availa surplus for distribution as additional bonus Rs. 14,95,000, out of a total available surplus Rs. 18,24,000, Rs. 3,29,000 having been alrea spent on payment of bonus on an all-India bas According to the computation of the Company, ho ever, this available surplus according to the Uni is more than double that of the Company. It h now to be seen what is the correct available surpl according to the principles laid down in the Fu Bench Formula.

The balance-sheet for the year 1960 is Ext. The gross profits for the year, as shown in th balance-sheet, amount Rs. 27,44,493.14. Both th parties in their computations accept this figure h the computation of both the parties again, the item to be added to the gross profits are the same and th amounts in both are taken from the balance-sheets without any alterations. After these additions to th gross profits according to the profit and loss account the amounts in both the computations come to Rs. 40,58,000. Then, about the deductions to be made from this amount the two computations dis agree. In the computation filed on behalf of the Company there are seven items of deductions whereas in the computations filed on behalf of the Union there are only five items. The items which are included in the Company's computation but are left out from the Union's are the items on the profit on sale of assets and miscellaneous income, i.e., items No (d) and (f) of the Company's computation.

These two items are included in the Company items of deduction on the ground that he workm do not contribute to any part of these items. Wh the assets belonging to the Company are sold, part of the profits which accrue to the Company these transactions can justly be attributed to th labour of the workmen. As regards miscellaneou income the evidence of the only witness, namely, Sh Subramanian's on behalf of the Company is as follow in his examination-in-chief:

> "The miscellaneous income as shown in th balance-sheet consists of all commissions on sal of our brand products by our local manufacturers By 'local manufacturers' I mean National Rubbe Manufacturing Company who manufacture for u our brand products. To this our employees do not contribute anything."

This statement does not appear to have been challenged in cross-examination at all. As these are the commissions received by the Company on sale of their brand products, manufactured by their local manufacturers, the workmen of the Company do not contribute by their work to any part of the commission thus earned. They are, therefore, not entitled to share in this income to which their labour does not contribute at all. The Company is, therefore, justified in including these two items, namely, the profit on sale of assets and miscellaneous income in the items to deducted from Rs. 40,58,000.

As regards the other five items which are included in both the computations, the two disagree as regards the amounts to be deducted. It has got to be seen what are the correct amounts to be deducted under these heads. Under item (a) income tax as per statement A, the Company deducts a sum of Rs. 16,44,000 whereas the Union deducts only Rs. 15,00,000. The Company has shown in its calculation in Schedule A how this income tax was arrived at. Out of the notional gross profit as per formula namely 40,58,000 which was evidently entered in Schedule A by mistake as Rs 40,38,000, the Company after deduction of the statutory depreciation at Rs. 3,63,000 and development reserve rebate of Rs. 41,000, arrives at the balance Rs. 36,54,000. The income tax assessment calculated at 45 per cent amounts to Rs. 16,44,000. That Rs. 40,38,000 in Schedule A of the Company's calculation and reproduced in Schedule A of the Union's calculation probably from the same mistake in the Company's Schedule A is a mistake, there can be no room for doubt as is clear from the Company's Schedule A itself and the correct figure is Rs. 40,58,000 which, according to the both parties, is the notional gross profit as per formula. The Union in its Schedule A has also deducted out of this amount, merely the statutory depreciation of Rs. 3,63,000, the development rebate reserve Rs. 41,000 and also Rs. 3,29,000 on account of bonus already paid so as to arrive at the figure Rs. 33,05,000 and the income thereon calculated at 45 per cent. is roughly Rs. 15,00,000. Thus the only difference between the Company's calculation in Schedule A and that in the Union's calculation in Schedule A is the inclusion in the figure to be deducted the latter and the exclusion from the former, of the bonus, already paid, amounting to Rs. 3,29,000. The deduction of bonus to an employee for services rendered is however dependent under section 10(2)(x) of the Income Tax Act of 1922 which is applicable to this case, on certain factors mentioned in the proviso to section 10(2)(x) and it is impossible till assessment is made how far the bonus actually paid to the employees for services rendered would be deducted in calculating the income tax payable on the profits of business. The bonus paid, therefore, should be left out of account in calculating the income tax payable on the notional gross profits. As there was no other difference between the Union's calculation and that of the Company, I think the Company's figure of Rs. 16,44,000 should be taken as correct because the rebate that the bonus paid may earn is difficult to calculate till actual assessment is made.

Then the next item of deduction in the Company's computation is the notional normal depreciation of Rs. 4,06,000 whereas in the Union's computation what has been deducted is the statutory depreciation of Rs. 3,63,000 and not the notional normal depreciation at all. The statutory depreciation is the depreciation allowed under section 10(2)(vi) of the Income Tax Act. In the case between Surat Electricity Company Staff Union and Surat Electricity Company, 1957, II, L.L.J. 648, the Labour Appellate Tribunal took into consideration the Full Bench decision of the bonus payable by the Electricity concerns in U.P. Electric Supply Co. Ltd. and their workmen 1955, II, L.L.J. 431 which interpreting the bonus formula, and following it, allowed normal depreciation including multiple-shift depreciation but not initial or additional depreciation, and then it pointed out that if the normal depreciation taken for the purpose of the formula is the actual normal depreciation allowed by the present day Income Tax Law the concern in the end would get less than the total amount of depreciation to which it is entitled, and it went on to say that this was not the intention of the Full Bench. It also pointed out that under the provisions of the Income Tax Act the deduction allowed under the head of depreciation in the early years of the use of machinery is heavy, so as to give relief to the assessee, and as this heavy deduction would have the effect of unduly lessening the available surplus under our bonus formula to the prejudice of labour even in a year of prosperity, the Full Bench postulated for a more even distribution of depreciation over a period of years; and there was at no time any intention to deprive the employer of his full depreciation. It held that for the purpose of the bonus formula, the initial and additional depreciation which are disallowed by the formula, must be ignored in fixing the written down value and in determining the period over which the normal depreciation will be allowed, and the result will be a notional depreciation. This notional amount of normal depreciation according to the Company is Rs. 4,06,000. Exhibit 1 is a certificate of its Auditors Messrs. A. F. Ferguson & Co., Chartered Accounts, that Rs. 4,06,000 is a fair estimate of the depreciation which would have been allowed as normal depreciation by the Income Tax authorities in the year ended 31st December 1960, if double depreciation allowances had not been taken into account to reduce the written down value. Shri Ghosh on behalf of the Union refers to the schedule of fixed assets as on 31st December 1960 and the Company's balance-sheet and points out that the total original value of the assets was Rs. 34,33,809.95 and by the 31st of December 1959 the depreciation amounted to over Rs. 24,00,000 and the written down value at the end of December 1959 amounted to only about Rs. 10,00,000 so that the depriciation during 1960 was nearly a half of the total written down value. The notional depreciation which the Company has taken into account is only Rs. 4,06,480 which is considerably less than the depreciation written off during 1960. Presumably the depreciation in this schedule follows the provisions of the Income Tax Act because they relate only to the factory equipment, machinery and tools, furniture and fittings, motor cars and trucks, but the notional normal depreciation, as pointed out by the Labour Appellate Tribunal as already referred to is different. There is nothing before the Tribunal to suggest that the notional normal depreciation taken by the Company into account on the strength of the estimate of its Auditors in Ext. 1 is in any way wrong. The Supreme Court in the Associated Cement Company Limited and its workmen 1959, I L.L.J. 644 on which Shri Ghosh relied in connection with another matter mentions with approval the decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Surat Electricity Company and observes that the normal depreciation mentioned in its judgment in Sriminaksi Mills Ltd., and their workmen 1958-I, L.L.J. 239 was not intended to mean anything other than the notional normal depreciation as explained by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Surat Electricity Co. Ltd. This item of deduction, therefore, in the Company's calculation must also be taken to be correct.

Then as regards bad debts written off, the amount withdrawn from reserves and development rebate reserve which are items (c), (e) and (g) of the computation of the Company and items (c), (d), (e) of the Union's computation, both the computations take the same figures, so that there is no difficulty here at all. As on the points on which the computation of the Union and that of the Company disagreed in this part of the computation I have found that the Company's calculation is correct, the total figure which under the Company's calculation comes to Rs. 22,02,000 should be taken to be correct in place of the Union's calculation of Rs. 19,40,000.

Then the next item in both is the return on the paid-up capital. Admittedly the paid up capital is only Rs. 15,000. The Company has calculated the return at 8.57 per cent. and the Union at 6 per cent. only. Yet according to the Union the return amounts to Rs. 9,000 whereas according to the Company it amounts to only Rs. 1,000. Evidently both the parties miscalculated this figure. At 6 per cent the return on Rs. 15,000 is only Rs. 900 whereas at 8.57 per cent. it is Rs. 1,285.50 n.P. In a previous award by me between this Company and its workmen published in the "Calcutta Gazettee" of September 7, 1961, the return on the working capital was taken to be 5 per cent., i.e., exactly 50 per cent. of the return on the paid up capital as recommended by the Tariff Commission. The Company does not appear to have taken 10 per cent. as the return on the paid up capital but has taken it to be 8.57 per cent. On the materials before me there is nothing to show that this is an unduly high figure and the amount involved is also negligible. So it does not really matter for the purpose of the bonus formula whether the return on the meagre paid up capital of Rs 15,000 is only 6 per cent. or 8.57 per cent. On both these grounds the Company's figure taken at Rs. 1,000 only may be left undisturbed.

Then the next and the last item is return on reserves used as working capital. The two computations differ first as regards the estimate of the working capital actually used and next as regards the return on it. According to the Company the total working capital included the entire reserve, as shown in Schedule B of the Company's computation consisting of (1) reserves and surplus as per balance-sheet amounting to Rs. 149,17,000, (2) provision for taxation Rs. 13,32,000, (3) provision for sale tax Rs. 5,83,000, (4) provision for overseas travel Rs. 71,000, (5) provision for retiring gratuities Rs. 3,93,000 and (6) depreciation fund Rs. 24,18,000 and the Company has calculated the return thereon at 5.7 per cent. and this figure comes to Rs. 11,25,000. But according to the Union the amount of working capital comes to Rs. 142,72,000 in the following way:

	Rs.
Surplus brought forward from previous year as per balance-sheet ..	1,38,08,000
Provision for retiring gratuities ..	3,93,000
Provision for overseas Travel ..	71,000 and it has calculated return thereon at 2 per cent. and this figure amounts to Rs. 2,85,000. To both these computations provision for retiring gratuities and provision for overseas travel are common. In the Company's computation, the figures of reserve and surplus under Schedule B of its computation are apparen taken from the first page of its balance-sheet whe the reserves and surplus at the end of 1959 are shov to be Rs. 1,49,16,750. But the Union has taken figure from page 2 of the profit and loss account, this balance-sheet where Rs. 138,08,898 was shown the balance carried to balance-sheet for the year 195 Obviously, therefore, while the Company in its cor putation takes into account not merely the reserv at the end of 1959 or at the beginning of 1960, b also the surplus under different heads at the end 1959 or at the beginning of 1960, the Union tak into consideration only the balance carried to th balance-sheet at the end of 1959 or at the beginnin of 1960. It is the evidence of Subramanian, th only witness on behalf of the Company, no witnes being examined on behalf of the Union, in his exam nation-in-chief that the entire amount of the reserv at the beginning of the year 1960 amounting t Rs. 197.14 lakh was utilised for the business of th Company in 1960. In his cross examination he state as follows:

> "In our computation we have demanded return on reserves, shown in Schedule B, a amounting to Rs. 197.14 lakh as that was a par of our working capital. We have not receive assessment for 1960 so that what rebate the Com pany will be paid on the bonus in respect of prio years is unknown. The bonus shown in item E [presumably of item 2(E) of the Company's com putation] is bonus paid in respect of 1960 and o prior years and not merely in respect of prio years because the figure Rs. 3,29,000 is not onl for prior years. The figure Rs. 2,07,249 repre sents bonus for the year 1960 and the balanc for the previous years. The amount paid a bonus for prior years was paid only in 1960; so the rebate, if any, will be on the assessment fo 1960, and we have not yet received any assess ment for 1960, as already stated".

Then it was argued by Shri Ghosh that the amounts earmarked in the balance-sheet as provision for taxation and for sales tax could not be used as part of the working capital because by their very nature the amounts, are fluctuating. What fluctuates is the amount of taxation, either income tax or sales tax, in a particular year. But the amount earmarked for meeting the tax demands whatever they are, is fixed and there is no inherent improbability of this amount being utilised as part of the working capital, provided that whenever an assessment is made the taxation demads can be met out of this amount. The Company must have always at its disposal a certain amount of liquid cash for meeting such demands and out of that cash it can always meet the tax demand and then set off such payments against the amount earmarked for taxation. I do not think, therefore, that on the materials before me there is any reason to doubt the truth of Subramanian's evidence that the whole of the reserves standing at Rs. 1,97,14,000 was utilised as part of the working capital in the year. The Company has calculated the return thereon at 5.7 per cent. But in another award, as already pointed out, between this Company and its employees I allowed a return only at 5 per cent. and there is no reason why the return to be allowed on this occasion should be higher than that. At 5 per cent. the return comes to Rs. 9.86 lakh and not Rs. 11.24 lakh. The available surplus, therefore, is Rs. 8,69,000 and not

Rs. 7,31,000 as shown in the Company's calculation, and Rs. 18,24,000 as shown in the Union's calculation.

On behalf of the Union reliance was placed on the Supreme Court decision in the case between Rohtas Industries Ltd., and their workmen and others in 1962, 1, L.L.J. 49 in which as the Court had not the benefit in that case of any evidence as regards the comparative position of the wage structure of the factory concerned as compared to other industries in the neighbourhood or as regards all the other matters to be taken into consideration in deciding whether the share of the workmen should be small or large, and their Lordships were of opinion that in the absence of any such evidence the bonus should be fixed at a figure which would have the result of giving the workmen on the one hand and the industry and the employer on the other more or less equal benefit. The Supreme Court, however, had pointed out in the case of the Associated Cement Company, already referred to, that three parties are entitled to claim a share of the available surplus arrived at under the formula, labour claims bonus from it, the industry claims a share for the purpose of expansion or other needs and the shareholders return on their investments and their Lordships laid down certain criteria for fixing the ratio of distribution amongst these three parties. The Supreme Court case on which reliance placed on behalf of the Union has not in any way modified this decision. It was only in a particular case where in the absence of any evidence on certain points their Lordships observed that the ratio of distribution should be more or less equal as between the two parties namely the industry and the workmen. If out of the available surplus of Rs. 8,69,000, bonus is distributed to the workmen of the Company at all stations at the uniform rate of the consolidated wages of two and a half months the total amount needed for this purpose, I am told, would be Rs. 3,47,000 lakhs, leaving a balance of Rs. 5.22,000 lakhs for distribution amongst the share-holders and the industry. Admittedly for Bombay and Madras, bonus has been already awarded by Tribunal for 1960 at the rate of two and a half months' consolidated wages. In my previous award on a reference of an industrial dispute between this Company and its workmen I pointed out that it was desirable for a concern having branches in different places in India to pay bonus to all its employees, wherever they may be engaged, bonus on a uniform basis. The accounts of the Company are admittedly on an all India basis and there is really no reason at all why all the workmen should not be paid bonus on a uniform basis. As the Bombay and the Madras Tribunals have awarded bonus at a uniform rate of two and a half months' consolidated wages, i.e., 5|24th of the annual wages of the workmen and as I think this is quite fair in view of the available surplus, my award is that the Company in the Calcutta area should also pay bonus for the year 1960 at the rate of 5|24ths of the annual consolidated wages of a workman, entitled to bonus. Admittedly the workmen of the Calcutta area had already been paid at the rate of one and a half months' salary, i.e., 1|8th of their annual consolidated salary. The additional bonus, therefore, to which the workers are entitled is at the rate of one month's consolidated wages or 1|12th of their consolidated wages in the year 1960, and this must be paid within a month of the award coming into effect.

AWARD

Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by Order No. 6171-I.R.|IR|11L-357|60, dated 29th November 1960, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Chayya Cinema and their workmen, represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, relating to the issue as framed in the order of reference.

The issue as framed runs as follows:

ISSUE

Whether the dismissal of Shri Sanatan Sadhukhan is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

On receipt of the order of reference, notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statement.

The workman represented by the Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union) filed the written statement on 24th December 1960. It is alleged by the Union that Shri Sanatan Sadhukhan was a senior operator in the employment of this Company and he was the Secretary of the Union's House Committee and a member of the Executive Committee of the Union, for which the employer was not pleased with him. Shri Sadhukhan came to duties on the 5th of June 1960 in an ailing condition and after the matinee show was over he asked the Manager for permission to go home because of severe pain from boils. The Manager asked him to approach the Proprietors, and accordingly at about 8-30 p.m. Shri Sadhukhan approached Shri Sambhu Barick, one of the Proprietors. Shri Barick instead of granting him leave, asked Shri Sadhukhan to sign a blank sheet of paper, which Shri Sadhukhan refused. At this, Shri Barick got enraged and assaulted Shri Sadhukhan. Shri Sadhukhan being so assaulted waited there till the show was over and on the 6th of June 1960 he lodged a written protest with the Company. He also filed a petition praying for sick leave on 6th June 1960. Then the Company brought out a fabricated and false charge against Shri Sadhukhan and kept him suspended with effect from 7th September 1960 and Shri Sadhukhan gave reply to the charge. The Company then dismissed him from service by a letter, dated the 13th June 1960.

Messrs Chhaya Cinema (hereinafter be referred to as the Company) then filed the written statement. It is alleged that the Company is not aware whether Shri Sanatan Sadhukhan was an active member of hte Union. The Company also denied the allegation that Shri Sadhukhan approached Shri Barick for leave and that he had been assaulted It is contended by the Company that written complaint had been received from Messrs. Evergreen Pictures Corporation, the Servicing Engineers of this Cinema House, that the operating staff was tampering with the equipment, causing various troubles in the smooth running of the same. There had been many occasions in recent past when there occurred break-down in the machineries. The management, therefore, kept close watch on the machine and on the operators to find out if there was any tampering of the machine. According to the version of the Company, on 5th June 1960, after the matinee show was over, the Manager went to the operating room and found Shri Sanatan Sadhukhan busy in passing a screw driver in between the teeth and two gears of the Projector Machine No. 1 and when challenged Shri Sadhukhan could not give any answer. The management rang up Messrs. P. M. Das Co., a firm of Servicing Engineers, and that company inspected the machine and submitted a report on 7th June 1960 On the basis of these materials, a charge-sheet was served on Shri Sadhukhan on 7th June 1960 to which he submitted an explanation which was found completely unsatisfactory. In the circumstances, when Shri Sadhukhan had wilfully damaged the machine and that he was caught redhanded and that he had no explanation to offer, he was dismissed from service on 13th June 1960.

At the time of hearing, from the side of the Union Shri Sadhukhan, Shri Pran Gopal Kundu, an assistant operator, Shri Sunil Kumar Biswas, another assistant operator and Shrimati Niropama Dasi, a worker, had been examined.

The Company, on the other hand, examined Shri K. J. Press, a Resident Engineer of Evergreen Pictures Corporation, Shri Krishnalal Das, the Proprietor of J. M. Das & Co. and Shri Lalit Mohan Bose the Law Officer.

Besides, a volume of documents had been proved by the parties in support of their respective cases.

After conclusion of evidences, the Learned Lawyers representing the parties, advanced arguments in support of their respective contentions.

The simple case is whether the dismissal of Shri Sanatan Sadhukhan was justified. There is no dispute on the point that Shri Sadhukhan, who was an operator in Chhaya Cinema, employed since April 1958, had been charge-sheeted by the Company Exhibit 3 is the charge-sheet, dated the 7th June 1960. The charge-sheet was issued by the Manager of the Company wherein it is stated that immediately after the matinee show was over on the 5th June 1960 Shri Sadhukhan was found by the Manager himself to tamper with the Projector Machine in absence of other operators. It was further alleged that such reports had been received from the Servicing Engineers in the past, for which the management kept keen watch to find out the mischief-monger. Shri Sadhukhan was asked by the management to submit his explanation, and pending receipt of the explanation, he was kept under suspension. It is contended by the Union that Shri Sadhukhan was suffering from an abscess and after the matinee show was over, he approached the Manager for leave and then he verbally prayed for such leave from Shri Sambhu Barick, who asked him to sign a blank sheet of paper and when he refused Shri Barick abused him and pushed him for which he got a sprain in his neck. It appears that Shri Sadhukhan filed written application praying for leave on 6th June 1960 and in that application the allegation had been made that he had been abused and pushed by Shri Sachin Barick (Ext. 1.). Admittedly, no written application for leave had been filed by Shri Sadhukhan before he sent this letter, Ext.1, under Certificate of Posting on 6th June 1960. In normal course, an employee seeking leave has got to file application for leave. It seems highly improbable that Shri Sadhukhan would verbally apply for leave on the night of 5th June 1960. It is still more improbable that upon such a verbal prayer, he would be asked to sign a blank sheet of paper. P.W.1 Shri Sadhukhan in cross-examination categorically stated that he never heard any complaint from any worker that when a worker asked for leave he was directed to sign a blank paper. I have no hesitation in disbellieving the case of the workman that he verbally applied for leave and that he had been asked to sign a blank paper.

It is clear from the evidence that there had been some incident on the 5th June night. The version of the Company is that Shri Sadhukhan was caught redhanded by the Manager, in the state of tampering with the Projector Machine No. 1 after the matinee show was over. I take it that the matinee show was over by about 5-30 p.m. and so, according to the management, the occurrence relating to the alleged misconduct took place shortly after 5-30 p.m. O.P.W. 1, Shri Press, the Resident Engineer of Evergreen Pictures Corporation, proved the letter, Ext.A(1), dated 2nd June 1960, wherein serious allegation had been made that they suspected that some one of the operating staff was deliberately tampering with the equipment for which they were put to unnecessary troubles and inconveniences to attend to the equipment frequently. In that letter it was also mentioned that in the situation they might be compelled to give notice to terminate the service contract. It further appears from another letter Ext.A of this Company that they had to render services to Chhaya Cinema on a large number of days and supply spare parts from the period from January to July 1960. I have no hesitation in placing reliance upon the evidence of O.P.W 1 Shri Press, as supported by documentary evidence. It is quite natural that in the face of such complaints, the management kept close watch over the machine in order to detect how the tampering was going. In this situation, the then Manager of the Company Shri Bose found Shri Sadhukhan passing a screwdriver in the machine. Exhibit C is the report of the Manager, dated the 5th June 1960. It is alleged by the Larned Counsel for the Union that Shri Bose, who submitted the report should have been examined. I find that the management made best attempt to get him examined. Admittedly, Shri Bose is not in service of this Company at present. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case as a whole, I find no reason why the report of Shri Bose, as in Ext.C, should not be taken as made by him. O.P.W. 2 Shri Das, the Proprietor of Messrs. J. M. Das & Co., proved two letters, marked Ext.B, dated 4th June and Ext.B(1), dated 7th June 1960. It appears from those letters that he examined the Projector Machine before the matinee show on 6th June 1960 and set it right. On receipt of a telephonic call from Shri Bose that the machine was jammed again on 5th June 1960, he inspected the machine on 6th June 1960 and was definitely of opinion that the same had been tampered by the operator by mischievous manipulations on his part. It was only on the basis of the report submitted by Shri Bose and the opinion given by Shri Das that the charge-sheet had been issued. From the side of the Union certain medical certificates had been produced to show that Shri Sadhukhan was suffering from an abscess from 4th June. But the fact remains that he came to the Cinema House on the 5th June. Shri Sadhukhan wanted to say that he was absent without leave on the 4th June 1960. I do not believe him on the point as no such allegation was made in the written statement. It is significant to note in this connection that Shri Sadhukhan went to the Calcutta National Medical College Hospital at about 1 p.m. on the night of 6th June 1960. Evidence had been adduced to the effect by the Union that Shri Sadhukhan first went to the police-station and then to the Medical College on the night of 5th June. Now, what could be the reason for going to these places at dead of night on the 5th June. Clearly it was for the purpose of creating evidence in favour of the workman about his illness, and other matters in support of his case. I am inclined to hold that the workman after being caught redhanded wanted to create evidence, which might protect him from the consequences, arising from such act of gross misconduct. Evidence had been led by the Union that Shri Sadhukhan had been slapped in the ground floor of the Cinema House by Shri Sachin Barick. It is curious to note that in the letter Ext.5, dated 7th June 1960, and in the letter Ext.1, dated 6th June 1960, it was alleged that Shri Sadhukhan had been pushed by Shri Barick and that he fell on the ground. The story of assault, in the face of the contradictions, cannot be believed.

I have no hesitation in coming to my conclusion that the version of the workman that he had verbally prayed for leave and that he was asked to sign a blank paper and then assaulted by Shri Barick are entirely false. Even then, it is necessary for the employer to prove that the workman committed such gross misconduct as alleged in the charge. Admittedly, no departmental enquiry had been done by the employer.

It is true that in normal course an enquiry should be done by the employer, giving all opportunities for defence to the workman concerned before he can be punished. But there are the facts and circumstances, peculiar in a particular case when a departmental enquiry might be considered redundant. In the instant case, the Manager himself detected the acts done by the workman. The Manager as the top officer of the Company stands in the position of employer. He has got the right to hold enquiry and punish a workman. The Manager thus happened to be the main witness for the Company with respect to the offence committed by Shri Sadhukhan. Shri Sadhukhan on being charge-sheeted submitted an explanation, the particulars of which are entirely untrue. He just fabricated a story in defence, which from the evidence on record is proved false. I gave opportunities to the parties to adduce evidence, so that I could find if Shri Sadhukhan was really guilty of the charge.

Evidence had been led by the parties before the Tribunal in order to assist me to come to my conclusion whether the charge levelled had been established. Upon careful consideration of the evidence, I find that Shri Sadhukhan was guilty of the charge of misconduct as levelled against him. It is immaterial for me to consider what part Shri Sadhukhan played with reference to the Trade Union. There is no reason to think that the management proceeded with ulterior motive to victimise Shri Sadhukhan.

In the circumstances, I hold that he dismissal of Shri Sadhukhan was justified and that he is not entitled to any relief.

No. 4289-I.R.|IR|4L-35|60.—24th September 1962.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 1875-I.R.|IR|4L-35|60, dated the 26th April 1960, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Refugee Motor Transport Co., Guskara, Burdwan, and their workmen represented by Burdwan Zilla Motor Karmachari Samity, Burdwan District Congress Office, Burdwan, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Second Labour Court;

And whereas the said Second Labour Court has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Refugee Motor Transport Co., Guskara, Burdwan, and their workmen represented by Burdwan Zilla Motor Karmachari Samity, Burdwan District Congress Office, Burdwan. (Case No. VIII-C-69|60.)

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri H. R. DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri N. K. Roy, Advocate.

For the Company: None.

AWARD

By Order No. 1875-I.R.|IR|4L-35|60, dated 26th April 1960, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Refugee Motor Transport Co., Guskara, Burdwan, and their workmen represented by Burdwan Zilla Motor Karmachari Samity, relating to the undermentioned issue, to the Second Labour Court for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the discharge of Shri Tulsi Charan Mandal is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

Burdwan Zilla Motor Karmachari Samity (hereinafter referred to as the Union) and Messrs. Refugee Motor Transport Co., (hereinafter referred to as the Company) have both filed written statements in this case. After several adjournments on the prayer of either of the sides the case was fixed for hearing on 3rd August 1962. The Company was absent on that date; it did not show any reason for the absence nor did it pray for adjournment. Nevertheless the case was adjourned to 13th September 1962 for hearing. The Company was absent on that date also. So the case was heard ex-parte on that date.

The case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows.

Shri Tulsi Charan Mandal, the workman mentioned in the issue of the order of reference, was a conductor in a bus owned by the Company. He was appointed by the Company in that bus on the 4th Magh 1365 B.S. and was working from that date. He took an active part in the work of the Union. For this reason the proprietor of the Company became ill-disposed towards him and started harassing him in various ways. On 16th November 1959 the proprietor of the Company dismissed him without issue of any charge-sheet or showing any reason for his dismissal. So the Union contends that the dismissal of Shri Tulsi Charan Mandal is unjustified.

The Company on the other hand has contended that Shri Tulsi Charan Mandal was never employed by the Company. The Company has denied the allegations made by the Union in its case before this Court. The Company has contended that as there is no relationship of employer and employee between the Company and Shri Tulsi Charan Mandal, this is not an industrial dispute.

So the points for determination are:

(1) Whether Shri Tulsi Charan Mandal was an employee of the Company.

(2) Whether he was dismissed by the Company

As has been stated already, the Company was not present on the date of hearing of the case. The Union has examined one witness, viz., Shri Tulsi Charan Mandal in support of its case. There was none on behalf of the Company to cross-examine him. So his evidence stands unchallenged. The Company did not adduce any evidence in support of its case. The unchallenged evidence of Shri Tulsi Charan Mandal proves that he was employed by the Company with effect from the 4th Magh 1365 B.S., that he was dismissed by the Company on 16th November 1959 without any reason and that he was getting a monthly salary of Rs. 75.

Hence I hold that the discharge of Shri Tulsi Charan Mandal is unjustified. So I order that he shall be reinstated and be paid back wages from the 4th Magh 1365 B.S. until the date of reinstatement at the rate of Rs. 75 per month.

nd whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has mitted to the State Government its award on the industrial dispute; low, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of ion 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV 947), the Governor is pleased hereby to pub- the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

he matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Hindusthan Motors Ltd., P.O. Uttarpara, district Hooghly, and their workmen represented by Hindusthan Motor Workers' Union, Bhadrakali, district Hooghly. (Case No. VIII-654/60.)

FORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

ri N. B. CHAUDHURI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

the Company: Shri S. K. Bose, President and Shri K. P. Mukherjee, Vice-President of Bharat Manufacturers Traders and Dealers' Association.

the Union: Shri S. K. Achariya, Counsel and Shri Ram Sen.

he Government of West Bengal by its Labour partment Order No. 6729-I.R./IR/10L-68/60, d 19th December 1960, referred to this Tribunal industrial dispute between Messrs. Hindusthan tors Ltd., P.O. Uttarpara, district Hooghly (here- r referred to as the Company), and their workmen resented by Hindusthan Motor Workers' Union, drakali, district Hooghly (hereafter referred to as Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the ustrial Disputes Act.

he following issues have been referred to this bunal for adjudication in this case:

1. Whether the retrenchment of Shri P. K. Bhandari is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

2. Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(1) Shri Abani Kundu.
(2) Shri Bimal Chakrabarty.
(3) Shri Dulal Modak.
(4) Shri Santiranjan Dey.
(5) Shri Rabindra Nath Sinha.
(6) Shri Gopal Chandra Adak.
(7) Shri K. D. Roy.
(8) Shri Ram Samarth Singh.
(9) Shri Sk. Aminuddin.

3. Whether the termination of services of Shri S. K. Deb is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

After service of usual notices on the parties, both the parties entered appearance and filed their respective written statements. The case of the workmen in short is this: The workmen of the Company have organised themselves under a Union named Hind Motor Workers' Union for betterment of their service conditions and realisation of economic demands and other privileges through constitutional Trade Union movement. But the Company has not viewed this Trade Union movement with favour and has actually adopted victimising policy with the help of some interested persons. In pursuance of this motive alone, the persons mentioned in the order of reference have been victimised on different plea and discharged unjustifiably. Shri P. K. Bhandari is a permanent workman of the Company and worked for more than 12 years in different departments. On 25th January 1960 however the Management by a letter terminated his services on a plea of reorganisation of the department though there was no dearth of work for the said workman.

Similarly, the first five workmen of issue No. 2 have been victimised, simply because they took active interest in Union activities. The Management issued charge-sheets against them on 22nd February 1960. The charge-sheeted persons submitted their replies denying the allegations made against them, but in spite of it no proper enquiry was held into the charges levelled against them, and the Management unjustly decided to dismiss them. An application for approval of these dismissals was filed before the local Second Industrial Tribunal under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. But the learned Tribunal struck off this application on the ground that it had become functus officio by the time the application became ripe for hearing. Subsequently Government has been pleased to refer this dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Shri G. C. Adak was charge-sheeted by the Management on 6th February 1960 on the allegation of his adopting go-slow tactics. He denied the charge and yet the Management decided to dismiss him in total disregard to the principles of natural justice.

Shri S. K. Aminuddin, who was an active member of the Union, was charge-sheeted on 28th March 1960 on the allegation that he was collecting Union subscription from the workers in the Company's premises. But in spite of his denial of the charge, he was unjustifiably dismissed without any proper enquiry.

Shri Ram Samarth Singh was charge-sheeted on the basis of a false and fabricated complaint lodged by one Ram Abatar, and was also ultimately dismissed unjustifiably without any proper enquiry or sufficient legal evidence to establish the charges against him.

Shri S. K. Deb was a permanent workman of the Company. His right eye was injured during duty hours on 10th November 1959. After proper treatment in the Calcutta Medical College, he was declared fit for work. Thereafter he reported for duties to the Management, but they refused to allow him to join.

The Company's case on the other hand may be briefly stated as follows: The Company denies the allegation of victimisation and alleges that the members of this particular Union have on more than one occasion taken recourse to various unconstitutional methods and violent means to realise their unreasonable demands. Shri P. K. Bhandari is not a workman within the meaning of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. He was drawing a monthly salary of Rs. 500 and used to exercise powers and functions mainly of managerial nature. His services were terminated when the post he was holding was abolished and his duties were taken up by another officer in addition to his own duties.

As to the first 5 charge-sheeted workmen mentioned in issue No. 2, the Company alleges that they mercilessly assaulted one Shri R. Lingarajan who happened to be the Assistant Secretary of the Hind Motors Employees' Union and as a result Shri Lingarajan had to be hospitalised for a considerable time. The said five persons were duly charge-sheeted and were dismissed after a fair and impartial enquiry. As to the other persons of this issue, the Company's case is that they were charge-sheeted for sufficient reasons and had to be dismissed when they were found guilty for a fair enquiry. The charges brought against these persons were brought home to them at the departmental enquiry, and as such there was no question of victimisation in their case.

Shri S. K. Deb was involved in an accident which affected his right eye and ultimately the sight of his right eye was completely lost. For this disablement Shri Deb was paid Rs. 1,260 as compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act. As he was found unfit for performing his former duties, his services were terminated by a letter, dated 10th June 1960, and the Management had no animus against him.

Other facts will appear from the body of the award that follows:

Decisions

Issue No. 1

The question is whether the retrenchment of Shri P. K. Bhandari is justified. According to the workmen, Shri Bhandari was a permanent workman of the Company. But according to the Management, he was not a workman within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. There is no dispute that Shri Bhandari served this Company for more than a decade. Shri Bhandari is admittedly an M.A. in English. In his examination-in-chief he says that he first joined this Company as an Assistant only, and as an Assistant he worked in different departments. At first he worked as an Assistant in the Stores Department and later as an Assistant in the Local Research Department and lastly, as an Assistant in the Purchase Department. According to him, the Purchase Department was a part and parcel of the Supply Department, the officer-in-charge of this Supply Department at the relevant time was Mr. A. R. Weidman. It is also stated by him that Shri R. K. Jain was in charge of the Purchase Section of the Department. According to Shri Bhandari, his main duty was correspondence. He alleges that he had no authority to issue any charge-sheet against any workmen. He had, however, authority to sign letters which he used to dictate. He adds that he had no right to take any independent decision on behalf of the Company. It is conceded, however, that his total emolument was Rs. 500 at the time of his retrenchment. Shri Bhandari admits that he had authority to grant leave to employees working under him and pass final orders on leave applications submitted by his subordinates. Of course, he supplements his statement by saying that he used to pass final orders on leave applications after consultation with his superiors. It is also admitted by him that there is nothing in writing to show that he used to consult anybody before passing final orders on such leave applications. He also admits that he used to officiate in place of Shri R. K. Jain in his absence on leave. Shri Basant Kumar Dhurka (O.P.W. 3) deposes before this Tribunal on behalf of the Company in this connection. Shri Dhurka took over charge as Purchase Manager on 1st February 1960. According to this witness, Shri Bhandari was last working as the Officer-in-Charge of the Local Research Department as well as an Assistant in charge of the Purchase Department in the absence of Shri R. K. Jain. Thus at the time of his retrenchment, Shri Bhandari was working not only as the Officer-in-Charge of the Local Research Department but also as such of the Purchase Department. The function of the Local Research Department was to negotiate with the parties for development of new items. This department was in charge of placing orders with new Companies for components which were formerly being supplied by other Companies. This department was abolished because the Company was of the opinion that it was not required to be maintained as a separate deparment. According to this witness, the Local Research Department used to give some technical know-how also to the selected manufacturers of the components required. Thus according to the Management, the function of Shri Bhandari was never clerical. Shri Bhandari, of course, tries to say that his main duty was correspondence, and thus clerical only. As we ordinarily understand, the function or duty of a clerk is more or less of routine nature. But it is sufficiently clear from the oral and documentary evidence on record that the function of Shri Bhandari, an M.A. in English, was never intended to be mere clerical. Of course, it is needless to mention that in industrial concerns like the present Company, sometimes officers appointed go by the general designation of Assistant. Shri Bhandari was not only drawing a fair salary of Rs. 500 a month, but the Company also entrused to him sufficient responsibility in connection with certain types of work. Shri Bhandari himself admits that he was asked by Shri N. K. Birla to sign orders placed with other Companies on behalf of the Company. In this connection, I may refer to many a document which are marked Ext. C series in this case. These documents were signed by Shri Bhandari on behalf of the Management in various connections. Even a cursory reading thereof will show that Shri Bhandari's function was not that of a mere clerk. His function was more or less managerial. He placed many orders, gave many directions and entered into various correspondences and these could not be signed or negotiated except by one who was not exercising managerial functions. The documents placed on record by the Management in this connection are too many to be individually commented upon. But it will be sufficient for my purpose to say that these documents will show that Shri Bhandari was not treated at the relevant time as a mere workman or a clerk. He was an officer in charge of a particular department and he carried on his duties with full responsibility thereof. He signed all those correspondences for and on behalf of Hind Motors Ltd. and not for his superior officer. So, after carefully going through all those documents, my considered opinion is that Shri Bhandari was not an ordinary workman within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. He was an officer in charge of a particular section, though he might have other officers superior to him. Simply because he had no authority to dismiss or discharge any employee under him, it cannot be said that he was a "workman". He had several subordinates under him, and he was duly authorised to control and grant leave to them without any formal reference to any other superior officer. One can easily imagine that an ordinary workman is not entrusted with the duty of placing orders directing chase of orders placed on behalf of the Company, bargaining with other Companies for purchase of materials, carrying on negotiations in that connection, granting leave to subordinates, etc. These are really functions of managerial nature. Shri R. K. Jain was no doubt in charge of the whole Purchase Department, but he was not in charge thereof at the relevant time. Moreover, admittedly the Local Research Department was created for a special purpose, and this department was exclusively in charge of Shri Bhandari. It is also a general law that an officer in charge of a particular department is not usually expected to be a workman. So, in any view of the case, my considered opinion is that Shri Bhandari was not a "workman" at the time of his retrenchment, and so this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to enquire into the matter of his retrenchment.

Here I may point out that Shri Bhandari's retrenchment was necessitated by the reorganisation of the department as a whole. In fact, the Local Research Department had to be abolished for reasons best known to the Management. It is the accepted principle of law that it is the inherent right of the Management to reorganise its business, rationalise it and thus retrench officers and workmen, if necessary, to effect economy, provided there is no mala fides in the action of the Management. It is needless to say that commercial necessity reigns supreme in this sort of case. Simply because reorganisation or rationalisation may lead to retrenchment of certain workmen, the Management cannot be stopped from doing so if it is not actuated by any mala fide motive or spirit of victimisation. In this connection, I may refer to a decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of D. Macropollo & Co. (P) Ltd. vs. Their employees' Union and others (1958 II L.L.J. 492). The principles enunciated by their lordships in that case may be briefly stated as follows:

> "If a reorganised scheme has been adopted by the employer for reasons of economy and convenience and it has been introduced in all the areas of its business, the fact that its implementation would lead to the discharge of some of the employees would have no material bearing on the question as to whether the reorganisation scheme was adopted by the employer bona fide or not. In the circumstances, the Industrial Tribunal considering the issue relating to retrenchment should not attach any importance to the consequences of reorganisation. The resultant discharge and retrenchment would have to be considered as an inevitable though very unfortunate consequence of the reorganised scheme which the employer acting bona fide was entitled to adopt."

Of course, retrenchment, if any, must be effected without violating any provisions of law. There is no evidence to show that any other person was employed as his successor as the Officer-in-Charge of the Local Research Department. Shri Bhandari was not certainly discharged for any offence committed by him. There is no evidence to prove that the Management or anybody of them had any animus or mala fide motive against him. The Company for certain reasons decided to reorganise the Purchase Department as a whole, and in doing so to abolish the Local Research Department altogether. Shri Bhandari is no doubt a victim of this act of reorganisation. But in spite of every sympathy we may have for him, I am afraid the Company had every right to reorganise its Purchase Department and, if necessary, to retrench officers and workmen as a result. If reorganisation made his position surplus, Shri Bhandari must go of course with full statutory compensation. But simply because the functions or jobs which were formerly being attended to by Shri Bhandari will have to be done by some other officer in addition to his own duties, it cannot be held that Shri Bhandari must be retained. In fact, no other officer of his category was appointed in his place. The learned representative on behalf of the workmen no doubt contends that Shri Bhandari was retrenched on account of some mala fide motive. But I may point out that the party which alleges mala fides is to prove the same by reliable evidence. I am afraid the workmen have not been able to prove any fact or circumstance to lead me to believe that the act of retrenchment was nothing but an act of mala fides. In this view of the matter also, I may observe that the retrenchment of Shri P. K. Bhandari was justified even assuming that he was a "workman." If he be not a workman, as I have found above, the question of my adjudication in his matter does not arise at all. So, in any view of the case, issue No. 1 must be decided against Shri Bhandari and he is not entitled to any relief in this case.

Issue No. 2

This issue relates to the dismissal of nine workmen. I may at once mention that there is no longer any dispute between the parties in respect of Shri K. D. Roy. At the time of hearing, nobody represents his case, and the Union concerned does not press any claim on his behalf. Shri Roy does not appear before me also. So, I forthwith decide that there is no longer any dispute regarding Shri K. D. Roy and he is not entitled to any relief in the present case.

The first five persons of this issue, viz., Shri Abani Kundu, Shri Bimal Chakrabarty, Shri Dulal Modak, Shri Santi Ranjan Dey and Shri Rabindra Nath Sinha were dismissed on identical grounds. So, their cases may be considered together. Identical charges were brought against them and a joint domestic enquiry also was held in respect of all of them. The Company's case is that these workmen mercilessly assaulted one Shri R. Lingarajan, who was the Assistant Secretary of Hind Motor Employees' Union at the relevant time. He had to be treated in a hospital for a pretty long time. It is conceded by the workmen also that Shri Lingarajan had to be hospitalised for severe injuries. Neither party challenges the fact of assault on Shri Lingarajan and this assault was brutal and serious too. The question is who were the culprits in respect of this assault. According to the Management, these five persons with or without others assaulted Shri Lingarajan. The Management issued charge-sheets against these five persons and they submitted their replies denying the charges. The Company decided to hold an enquiry and it was conducted by Shri K. N. Mukherjee. The enquiry was taken up on 22nd March 1960 in presence of the charge-sheeted persons. The enquiry, however, could not be completed on that day and eventually it was adjourned till 26th March 1960. On that day, several witnesses were examined on behalf of the charge-sheeted persons also. After the completion of the enquiry, the Enquiring Officer found all the charge-sheeted persons guilty of the charges, and submitted a report to the Management accordingly. The Management accepted the finding of the Enquiring Officer and dismissed all of them. It will be superfluous to add in this connection that taking of disciplinary action by the employer against its employees is a Management function, and an Industrial Tribunal is not intended to sit on appeal against the decision of the Management. However, the law authorises interference by the Industrial Tribunal under certain special circumstances only. This principle has been enunciated in many a case by the Hon'ble Supreme Court. A Tribunal can interfere only when there has been want of good faith, victimisation or unfair labour practice, basic error or violation of natural justice and also where the finding as to misconduct is completely baseless or perverse (vide the case of Indian Iron & Steel Company Ltd. vs. Their workmen A.I.R. 1958 S.C. 130). In respect of these five persons no doubt charge-sheets were issued against all of them and they submitted their replies too denying the allegations. But the explanations failed to satisfy the Management and so they decided to hold an enquiry into the matter. The Management auhorised its Security Officer Shri K. N. Mukherjee to hold the domestic enquiry. Shri Mukherjee is a retired Special Superintendent of Police, Government of India. The evidence is that Shri Mukherjee held an enquiry in respect of these charge-sheeted persons on two days in presence of the workmen themselves. Shri S. K. Achariya, Counsel appearing on behalf of the workmen, urges before this Tribunal that the departmental enquiry and the proceedings in that connection have been vitiated by certain gross irregularities. It is contended that the statements of the witnesses examined at the domestic enquiry were not read over and explained to the charge-sheeted persons or the witnesses in spite of the demand to that effect by the charge-sheeted persons. It is also urged that no copy of these statements was supplied to the charge-sheeted persons, even though they verbally prayed for the same. It is urged that all the witnesses cited by the workmen for examination at the domestic enquiry were not actually released by the Management for examination at the enquiry. It is pointed out that the charge-sheeted persons were not allowed to explain the charges brought against them, and in fact no question was put to any one of them. It may be mentioned in this connection that Shri Mukherjee as Enquiring Officer did not take down the statements of different witnesses examined before him in his own hand writing. Admittedly, one stenographer was engaged for the purpose, and it is conceded by both the parties that Shri Mukherjee dictated the matter to his stenographer who took notes in shorthand. Shri Mukherjee also has been examined before this Tribunal on behalf of the Company and he also swears to that effect. He adds that he dictated the matter faithfully and correctly to the best of his ability. It is nobody's case that the statements were transcribed into longhand then and there. It is also clear from the statements of the workmen concerned that they asked for a copy of the statements soon after their statements were recorded in shorthand by the stenographer. So, it was practically impossible for the Enquiring Officer to supply copies of their statements then and there, even if he did so like. Shri Mukherjee simply states in his deposition that there was no procedure for giving copies of proceedings to the charge-sheeted persons, and so the question of supplying copies to the charge-sheeted persons did not arise. Of course, Shri Mukherjee adds that the charge-sheeted persons did not actually ask for any copy of the statements recorded at the time of enquiry. He concedes that there was no occasion for reading over the statements to the witnesses as the statements were converted into longhand after the conclusion of the hearing itself. But this much is conceded by both the parties that the witnesses were all examined in presence of the charge-sheeted persons and they also were taking notes while statements were being dictated by him to his stenographer. This part of the statement of Shri Mukherjee gets corroboration from Shri R. N. Sinha also, one of the charge-sheeted persons. Shri Sinha admits that they were taking notes of the statements of the witnesses and the cross-examination done on behalf of the workmen was so done with reference to the notes taken down by them. From the recorded proceedings of the departmental enquiry (vide Ext. N) it will be clear that all the witnesses examined at the domestic enquiry on behalf of the Company were cross-examined by all the different charge-sheeted persons separately. It will also be clear what questions were put in cross-examination and what were the answers thereto. So, it is a fact that the statements were neither read over nor explained to the witnesses. But it is not in evidence before me that the statements were not correctly or faithfully recorded at the domestic enquiry. Ten persons were examined at the domestic enquiry on behalf of the charge-sheeted persons. It is a fact that the charge-sheeted persons did not make any separate statement before the Enquiring Officer. So, it may be argued that the charge-sheeted persons were not allowed an opportunity to explain, if possible, the evidence adduced against them by the Company. In other words, no statement of the nature of a statement under section 342 of the Criminal Procedure Code was actually recorded and thus no opportunity of the nature contemplated by that section was afforded to the charge-sheeted persons. I am afraid, an enquiry before a Domestic Tribunal cannot be equated in all respect with an enquiry before a Court—civil or criminal. If the rules of natural justice were not violated, the departmental enquiry cannot be said to have been vitiated simply because the law of Court procedure was not followed by such domestic tribunal. From the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Union of India vs. Varma (T.R.) reported in 1958 II L.L.J. 259, it will appear that the Evidence Act has no application to enquiries conducted by such tribunals, even though they may be judicial in character. The law requires that such tribunals should observe the rules of natural justice in the conduct of the enquiry. So, the procedure followed in a court of law is not incumbent in such an enquiry and the finding of such an enquiry cannot be challenged on that ground alone. In the case of Woodbriar Estate, Devarshola and another vs. Their workmen reported in 19 F.J.R. 93, their lordships of the Madras High Court have held that there is no rule that the evidence in a domestic enquiry should be recorded in the language of the workmen concerned or that the procedure of explaining the same to them should be adopted. So, in the absence of any positive evidence to show that the domestic enquiry was neither fair nor impartial, the proceedings cannot be said to have been vitiated simply because the statements were not read over and explained to them or that the workmen themselves were not allowed to make a statement of the nature as contemplated by section 342, Cr. P. C., or any other similar section. It is no doubt a fact that in certain respects the statement made by Shri C. N. Mukherjee before this Tribunal is at variance with those of the workmen concerned, and this is as to what had happened during the domestic enquiry. In this connection also I may refer to the case of Union of India vs. Verman referred to above, wherein it has been laid down by their lordships that where there is a dispute as to what happened before a court or tribunal, the statement of the Presiding Officer in regard to it is taken to be correct. In view of this principle enunciated by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, I may at once observe that unless there are very strong and cogent reasons for holding otherwise, the statement of the Enquiring Officer should be presumed to be correct. The allegation of the workmen before me is that Shri Mukherjee as an Enquiring Officer did not summon all the witnesses cited by them and so they were prejudiced in this enquiry. But Shri Mukherjee in his deposition before this Tribunal says that on the second day of the enquiry the charge-sheeted persons submitted a list of witnesses before him. He sent the list to the Works Manager through a bearer, so that the workmen mentioned therein might be permitted to come to give evidence at the enquiry. Some of the persons mentioned in the list actually came and were examined also. Shri Mukherjee adds that he rang up the Works Manager to allow all the witnesses to come and depose at the enquiry and he examined all the persons who had actually turned up for the purpose. Shri Mukherjee denies that he issued directions to the effect that not more than two witnesses should be permitted in respect of each of the charge-sheeted persons. He also denies that Shri Santi Ranjan Dey wanted to examine four witnesses and that he was allowed to examine only two witnesses. It is also categorically stated by Shri Mukherjee that on the second day no workman asked for any adjournment, so that they might examine further witnesses. Nobody raised any protest at the time that he was not allowed to examine all the witnesses he wanted. No sufficient evidence has been adduced to explain why the statement of Shri Mukherjee should be disbelieved on this point. He may be an employee of the Company. Nevertheless he is a responsible officer. There is nothing positive on my record to show that he had any bias or prejudice against the charge-sheeted persons. In this view of the matter, I am unable to accept the contention that the charge-sheeted persons were prevented from examining some of the witnesses they wanted to examine, and that they have been prejudiced by any such conduct of the Enquiring Officer. In fact, there is nothing before this Tribunal to show that the other witnesses, if any, cited by the workmen were actually willing to depose in favour of the charge-sheeted persons or that anybody on behalf of the Management prevented such named witnesses from deposing on behalf of the workmen concerned. If there be any truth in the allegation made by the workmen, I would normally expect them to try to examine some of them at least before this Tribunal, but nothing of this kind has been done or attempted. So, the allegations made by the workmen carry on convictions so far as this Tribunal is concerned. I am unable to accept the contention that the Enquiring Officer of a domestic tribunal must obtain the signatures of all the witnesses examined as well as those of the charge-sheeted persons on the recorded statements or proceedings of the enquiry. Neither any law nor any rule provides any such obligation. In the absence of any positive mala fides on the part of the Enquiring Officer, the statements recorded at the enquiry must be presumed to have been correctly recorded. I have gone through the entire proceedings, and there are evidences to show that the Enquiring Officer not only recorded the statements which were in favour of the Management, but also the statements which were apparently against it. Thus considering all the facts and circumstances, I am clearly of opinion that there is no evidence or circumstance to show that the rules of natural justice were actually violated at the domestic enquiry.

So, the next question I am to consider in this connection is whether there was any basic error, or whether the finding made by the Enquiring Officer was actually perverse or baseless. The departmental proceedingswill show that Shri Lingarajan mentioned at the time of enquiry all the five charge-sheeted persons as his assailants. It is also a fact that soon afer this assault, Shri Lingarajan could not name all the charge-sheeted persons. He actually mentioned at the time 2/3 names only and alleged that the other assailants were known to him by face only. Of course by the time the enquiry was held, he named all the five charge-sheeted persons; and his explanation is that he learnt the names of the other assailants later. Shri S. M. Sharma at the domestic enquiry stated that he was standing at a distance of about 50 feet from the place of assault, saw the incident, and identified all the five charge-sheeted persons as the assailants. Shri R. B. Sharma in his statement at the enquiry says that Shri Lingarajan told him that he knew the names of two of the delinquents definitely, and added that the other three persons were also in the assault. Shri R. B. Sharma adds that he gave Shri Lingarajan the names of the other three persons. But it is not clear from his statement how he could know the names of the other three persons, though he was not present at the time of the assault. No cross-examination was directed at the enquiry to this point. The Sepoy Durwan Shri Ganesh Singh of course stated that Shri Lingarajan was assaulted by the five charge-sheeted persons together with another person. This witness also identified all the five charge-sheeted persons to be the assailants. His positive evidence is that he actually saw the assault from the Railway Platform. Similarly durwan Shri Biswanath Prosad also saw these five charge-sheeted persons assaulting Shri Lingarajan and identified them. Thus it can be at once observed that there were positive evidences at the departmental enquiry to show that all the five charge-sheeted persons took part in the assault, and though Shri Lingarajan could not previously name all the five charge-sheeted persons, there were other witnesses who saw the assault and identified the assailants. Of course, the charge-sheeted persons themselves have denied the allegations all through. But it was for the Enquiring Officer to believe or disbelieve the case of the either party. So, it can be at once observed that there is no reason for me to hold that the finding of the Enquiring Officer is vitiated by basic error or perversity. It may at best be argued that the evidence at the departmental enquiry should not have been believed or considered sufficient to establish the charges against all these five persons. But I may point out that it is one thing to say that there is no legal evidence in support of the charge against all or some of the delinquents, and it is quite a different thing to say that the evidence, if any, is not sufficient for establishing the charge. In the former circumstance, the finding may be said to be baseless or perverse. But in the latter circumstance, the finding cannot be held to be perverse, because such a finding is also possible on the evidences recorded. So, in view of the principle enunciated by their lordships of the Supreme Court already referred to above, I am afraid this Tribunal cannot interfare with the findings of the departmental enquiry or the Management decision. This Tribunal is not supposed to sit on appeal on the finding of the Enquiring Officer of the decision of the Management. Thus after carefully considering all the circumstances, I am unable to accept the contention that the order of dismissal against these five charge-sheeted persons is bad in law. Some of the charge-sheeted persons no doubt pleaded alibi in defence. But the fact is that no proper evidence was adduced in support of this plea of alibi. Shri Abani Kundu alleged that he was in the house of one Upen Ghosh of Cotrang at the relevant time and there were several responsible persons present there. But peculiarly enough, none of these persons were examined either at the departmental enquiry or before this Tribunal. Shri R. N. Sinha also alleged that he was actually bedridden at the relevant time, but he also produced no convincing evidence on the point at the enquiry. Rather it is admitted that he left Calcutta for Banaras in t following evening. If he was so ill as to be bedridd in the previous forenoon it cannot be expected him that he moved to Banaras just in the followi evening. Be that as it may, I am not really sitti on appeal and reconsidering the evidence over aga It will be sufficient for my purpose to say that t workmen have not been able to establish a case f my interference.

Regarding Ram Samarth Singh, the charge again him was that he behaved very disorderly with anoth workmen named Shri Ram Abatar and snatch away from him some money belonging to him. Sh Singh of course denied the charge, and admitted there was an enquiry in his presence. Shri Sin also admits that there was a quarrel between hi and Shri Ram Abatar and he got annoyed with hi for some reason or other. Shri Ram Abatar mak serious allegations against him. Shri Singh al makes certain allegations against Shri Ram Abata There was an enquiry and witnesses were examin by the Enquiring Officer Shri K. N. Mukherje There were evidence at the departmental enquiry t show that Shri Singh was possibly guilty of th charges levelled against him. The Enquiring Offic believed the story of Shri Ram Abatar and foun Shri Singh guilty of the charges. It cannot be sai that the finding of Shri Mukherjee was altogeth baseless or perverse. Two stories were set up by th two rival parties and Shri Mukherjee believed th story of the complainant Shri Ram Abatar, and hi finding is not without support from the evidence o record. Of course, it is urged on behalf of this work men also that the proceedings were not read ove or explained to Shri Singh and that no copy of th proceedings was supplied to him even on reques My observations made above in connection wit similar arguments on behalf of other charge-sheete persons apply mutatis mutandis to the case of thi workman also. In the circumstances, I am o opinion that the finding in respect of this workma also cannot be said to have been vitiated on thes alleged grounds. The result is that this Tribuna cannot interfere with the decision of the Managemen regarding Shri Ram Samarth Singh also.

As per order of reference, I am required t adjudicate in the matter of dismissal of one Shr Gopal Chandra Adak. But the workman wh actually assails the order of the Management is Shr Gokul Chandra Adak. I am told that the affecte workmen is really Shri Gokul Chandra Adak and no Gopal Chandra Adak. If the Government reall means that the dismissal of Shri Gopal Chandra Adal should be adjudicated upon, I may at once observe that I have got nothing to do in the matter as n Gopal Chandra Adak appears before this Tribunal But I am afraid, the name of "Gopal" has only beer wrongly mentioned in place of "Gokul" and this i a mere clerical mistake. Assuming for the presen that Gokul Chandra Adak is the real workma concerned, let me see whether the order of th Management can be justified. I may point out in thi connection that Gokul himself alleges that he wa wrongly dismissed by the Management. The charg against him was that he took recourse to go-slow tactics in respect of certain job on a certain date and he was guilty of slowing down in the performance of work, which is a major misdemeanour according to the standing orders. He, of course, denies the allegation of go-slow, and his case is that at the relevant time he was given two simultaniously other finishing jobs also, and so he took a few hours to complete the disputed job. But the Management case is that he was given only one job, i.e., the disputed job and that job should not have taken more than half an hour to complete the same. The fact is that the workman concerned failed to complete this job even after 3 hours and 45 minutes. This man was personally present at the departmental enquiry where his Foreman as well as the Superintendent of the Die Shop deposed against him. The workman did not adduce any evidence in defence nor did he examine any witness in his behalf. At the enquiry one or two questions only were put by him to the Foreman concerned and nothing more. In the circumstances, the Enquiring Officer found him guilty of the charge and decided to dismiss him. Besides the general objection already discussed above, no special ground has been urged on behalf of this workman for my interference with the decision of the Management. It is stated before me by the workman concerned that he cited certain witnesses for examination at the departmental enquiry, but the Enquiring Officer Shri Mukherjee did not agree to examine those witnesses. Shri Mukherjee denies this allegation outright in his deposition before me, and for reasons already explained I am unable to reject the statement of Shri Mukherjee. In the circumstances, I do not find sufficient ground for my interference with the order of dismissal against Shri Adak.

Regarding Sk. Aminuddin, the charge against this workman is that he was guilty of collecting Union or party dues or fund or contribution on the Company's premises without written permission of the Manager. There is no dispute that he got a charge-sheet and gave a reply thereto. In his reply, he denies the charge altogether. His contention in the reply was that he had a receipt book in his custody, but did not make any collection on the Company's premises. The receipt book in question comes from the custody of the Management. The evidence of Shri Kulkarni, Area Manager, at the domastic enquiry was that while on his round at about 2-30 p.m. on 23rd June 1960, he noticed that 3/4 persons were standing in front of the work-table of Sk. Aminuddin and that some exchange of money was going on between Sk. Aminuddin and other workers. Shri Kulkarni at once went to the work-table and noticed Sk. Aminuddin fumbling and trying to hide something from his work-table. While Sk. Aminuddin was attempting to hide it, the receipt book fell from the work-table and Shri Kulkarni picked it up. This receipt book was seized and was actually produced at the time of departmental enquiry. Shri Sk. Aminuddin tries to say that the receipt book was actually missing from his pocket. But there is no basis for this story. The Enquiring Officer believed the story of Shri Kulkarni and found that Sk. Aminuddin was actually making collections on his work-table in the Company's premises and was detected in doing so by Shri Kulkarni while on his round duty. The enquiry was held in presence of Sk. Aminuddin himself where he did not examine any witness in his defence nor did he make any statement before the Enquiring Officer. There is no positive evidence on my record to show that any rule of natural justice was violated at the departmental enquiry in respect of this workmen or that he was not given any opportunity to defend himself. Of course, it is not denied that the statement of the witness was not read over or explained, but that is not sufficient to vitiate the departmental proceedings or the decision of the Management. Shri Kulkarni was the only witness examined at the departmental enquiry, and there was no evidence to the contrary. So, if Shri Kulkarni be believed, there was sufficient materials before the Enquiring Officer to find Sk. Aminuddin guilty of the charge brought against him. Sk. Aminuddin does not even deny before this Tribunal that he used to receive payments of subscriptions on the Company's premises when desired by his Union members. All that he tries to say is that he did not grant any receipt for such collection. Nevertheless he admits that he always keeps a bill book in his pocket even while in the Company's premises. So, there is no reason why Shri Kulkarni should be disbelieved. He saw the monetary transaction between Sk. Aminuddin and others. The receipt book was on the table at the time collection was being made. It may be that Sk. Aminuddin did not get sufficient time to issue any receipt for the collection already made, due to the sudden appearance of Shri Kulkarni on the spot. So, there cannot be any doubt whatsoever that Sk. Aminuddin was actually found collecting subscription from the Union members on the Company's premises. It is nobody's case that he had any permission or authority for making such collection on the Company's premises. So, the offence is complete, and there is sufficient material to establish the same. Of course, Sk. Aminuddin in his deposition before this Tribunal alleges that Shri K. N. Mukherjee did not send for the witnesses cited by him on his behalf. But I have already mentioned that Shri Mukherjee denied this allegation outright. Even in the enquiry proceedings it has been definitely noted that Sk. Aminuddin declined to make any further statement or bring any witness in his defence. So, in view of the principle enunciated in the case of Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. already referred to, this Tribunal is not in a position to interfere with the decision of the Management in respect of Sk. Aminuddin also.

Issue No. 3

So far Shri Santosh Kumar Deb is concerned, the facts are not in dispute. Shri Deb was a permanent employee of this Company and as a result of a certain accident while on duty he lost his right eye completely. He was treated in the Medical College Hospital. Though he lost his right eye, the Medical Officer concerned declared him fit for work. Shri Deb went to the Management and requested them to re-employ him in his old job. But the Management was not agreeable to keep him in employ in view of his said disability. Now the question is whether the Management was justified in refusing employment to Shri Deb under the circumstances. It is not in dispute that Shri Deb was adjudged that he was entitled to get Rs. 1,260 as compensation under the Workmens Compensation Act, and the whole of this amount was tendered to him. Shri Deb received part payment thereof, but refused to accept the balance. The contention of Shri Deb before me is that in spite of the loss of his right eye, he was quite fit to cary on his former duties. He adds that the Company in fact has another one-eyed man in its employ. So, the Management had no sufficient ground for refusing further employment to him. But I am afraid, it is for the Management to decide whether a particular workman is fit to carry on his duties in view of his disability mentioned above. Shri Deb used to work on drilling, milling, capstan lathe and copying lathe machines. It is conceded by both the parties that precision jobs are performed on these machines. It is also conceded that persons operating these machines are sometimes required to do highly precision jobs. So, in this view of the matter, it cannot be said that the Management was not justified in refusing further employment to Shri Deb, because of his loss of right eye. It may be said that the Management was rightly advised not to employ Shri Deb for such highly precision jobs on such delicate machines as mentioned above. It is a fact one A. K. Sarkar, an one-eyed man, is still in the service of the Company. But the circumstances of the two cases are different. Shri Sarkar works as a welder in the body building shop and the type of work he performs is more or less crude. So, Shri Sarkar's case cannot be cited as a precedent by Shri Deb. There is not the least doubt that Shri Deb deserves every sympathy of the Management. But the question before me is whether the refusal of further employment to him by the Management can be justified. The Company has to run its business, and it cannot possibly engage an one-eyed man like Shri Deb for work which requires sharp eye sight for precision jobs. In such a matters, surely the Management is the proper judge and this Tribunal cannot trust its decision on it. In this view of the matter, refusal of further employment to Shri Deb in his old work is not without justification. I would, however, be glad if the Management could provide Shri Deb with an alternative job of crude nature, the performance of which does not require so much sharp eye sight as is required in the case of precision job. It is not yet too late for the Management to reconsider the matter. Shri Deb however is not entitled to any relief in this case.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of four applications under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Babulal Chowdhury and three others, c|o Calcutta Boatmen Union, 14 Mati Sil Street, Calcutta, against the employer Messrs. Calcutta Steam Navigation Co. Ltd., 5 Fairlie Place, Calcutta-1. (G.O. No. 4337-I.R., dated 10th October 1958.) (Cases Nos. 281 of 1960, 282 of 1960, 283 of 1960 and 284 of 1960.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri N. D. Manna, Counsel.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

These four cases registered as cases Nos. 281 of 1960, 282 of 1960, 283 of 1960 and 284 of 1960, arising out of four distinct applications, all under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed on 26th November 1960, by four workmen of Messrs. Calcutta Steam Navigation Co. Ltd. are taken up together.

Case No. 281 of 1960 is filed by Babulal Chowdhury, a workman employed as a Dandee in boat No. 223 under this Company. Case No. 282 of 1960 is filed by Sk. Akbar, a workman employed as a Manjhi in boat No. 63 of the Company. Case No. 283 of 1960 is instituted by Sk. Nasir, a workman employed as a Manjhi in boat No. 211 of this Company. Case No. 284 of 1960 is instituted by Md. Emmamon, a workman employed as a Dandee in boat No. 60 of this Company.

In all these four cases it is alleged by the applicant workmen that they had been dismissed by the employer unjustly in contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The employer Company filed separate written objections in each case in denial of the contentions raised by the workmen.

A preliminary point of objection had been raised by the employer in all these cases that these applications under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed on 26th November 1960 are not maintainable inasmuch as there had been no contravention of provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Obviously I cannot enter into the merits of the allegations regarding the dismissal of the workmen in the scope of these applications, under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, unless it is, first of all, established that there had been a contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the employer. There is no dispute on the point that the employer had filed long before applications under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act seeking approval of the Tribunal in the matter of dismissal of these four workmen, and that the four applications so filed by the employer had been registered as distinct cases by this Tribunal. Three of these applications under section 33(2)(b) registered as case No. 6 of 1960, 8 of 1960 and 9 of 1960 had been filed on 24th December 1959 and these applications relate to the dismissal of Sk. Akbar, Babulal Chowdhury and Sk. Emmamon respectively. In all these three cases the letter of dismissal had been issued on 21st December 1959. In the letter of dismissal so issued by the employer, the workmen had been asked to collect the entire dues including a month's wages as offered to them. The remaining case, i.e., case No. 7 of 1960 was filed on 8th January 1960 and this is relating to Sk. Nasir who was dismissed on 7th January 1960. Clearly all these applications under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act had been filed very soon after issue of the letter of dismissal with due compliance of the provisions of law.

It is contended by the applicants that they were active members of the Trade Union and that they had been connected with the agitation relating to a demand for bonus, and that the employer with a view to victimise them brought false allegation of misconduct against them and charge-sheeted them accordingly on 4th December 1959. It is thus urged that the alleged misconduct was connected with the dispute regarding bonus and, therefore, the employer should have taken prior permission of the Tribunal as provided under section 33(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act before dismissing the workmen from service.

I had considered the point raised by the workmen while deciding the applications filed by the employer under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It was held by me that the charge of misconduct as made by the employer against the workmen was completely unconnected with the bonus dispute and the provisions of section 33(2)(b) and not section 33(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act was attracted. Rightly, therefore, did the employer file applications under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act seeking approval of the action of dismissal. The position, therefore, is that the employer had duly complied with the provisions of section 33 when the applications seeking approval of the Tribunal in the matter of dismissal of the workmen had been made immediately after issue of the letter of dismissal along with the offer of one month's wages to the workmen. I accordingly hold that there was no contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act and, as such, these applications under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act are not maintainable.

This is the award governing the decision in all these four cases.

For the Union: Shri Madan Mohan Saha, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri P Sanyal, Advocate, and Shri T. P. Chatterjee, Advocate.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Serajuddin & Co., P-16 Bentinck Street, Calcutta-1, and their Head Office employees represented by the Serajuddin & Co., and Allied Concerns Employees' Union, 52|7 Bepin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12, over the following issue, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 772-I.R.|IR|11L-428|61, dated the 7th March 1962.

Issue

1. Whether the transfer of the following workmen from Calcutta to Orissa is justified? To what relief, if any, they are entitled?

(i) Shri Abdul Aziz, (ii) Shri Abdul Gani, (iii) Shri Abdulla, (iv) Shri Md. Israil, (v) Shri Md. Rafique, (vi) Shri P. K. Halder, (vii) Shri M. L. Halder, (viii) Shri Sachidananda Roy and (ix) Shri B. C. Roy.

AWARD

Upon receipt of the order of reference, notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statement.

After notices had been duly served, the Head Office employees represented by the Serajuddin & Co., and Allied Concerns Employees' Union filed the written statement on 11th June 1962. Thereafter Messrs. Serajuddin & Co. filed the written statement on 18th July 1962.

After completion of preliminary stages the case came up for hearing on 19th September 1962. After the case was opened, some witnesses on behalf of the Union had been examined and the case was adjourned to 26th September 1962 for further evidence. On that date both the parties filed a joint petition stating therein that the dispute had been settled between the parties on the terms as stated in that position. The prayer is considered to be bona fide. The terms stated in the petition appear to be just, fair and reasonable. I, therefore, allow the prayer of the parties to have the dispute disposed of in terms of the settlement made by them. An award on compromise is, therefore, passed making this position, marked as Annexure "A", a part of the award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Manick Chand Chatter Singh, 111 Khengrapatty Street, Calcutta-7, and their employees represented by Calcutta Rangkal Mazdoor Congress, 35B Wellington Street, Calcutta. (Case No. VIII-C-83|59.)

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri H. R. DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee, Vice-President.

For the Company: Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate.

AWARD

By order No. 1060-I.R.|IR|11L-62|59, dated 17th March 1959, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Manick Chand Chatter Singh and their workmen represented by Calcutta Rangkal Mazdoor Congress relating to the undermentioned issues to the Second Labour Court for adjudication.

Issues:

1. Increase in Dearness Allowance.
2. Leave and Holidays.
3. Permanency of workmen.

Messrs. Manick Chand Chatter Singh (hereinafter referred to as the Company) are a concern which manufactures and deals in paints. On behalf of its employees the Calcutta Rangkal Mazdoor Congress (hereinafter referred to as the Union) has demanded the following in respect of the issues mentioned in the order of reference:

(1) Dearness Allowance at Rs. 35 per month to all categories of workmen, time-rated or piece-rated.

(2) Twelve paid festival holidays and one month's sick leave on half pay in a year.

(3) Permanency of service after six month's employment.

The Company has resisted the above demands of the Union on the ground of unreasonableness. As to the demand No. 1, i.e., increase in Dearness Allowance, the Company has also raised an objection that that issue is covered by an agreement which is binding upon the Company and its workmen. The agreement to which the Company has referred is an agreement between Calcutta Dye and Chemical Dealers' Association and Rangkarkhana workers. The agreement is dated 10th June 1949, a copy of which has been marked Ext. A in this case. It appears that the agreement was signed by one Hansraj Vishram, as President of the Association and by one Deven Sen and one Ananta Sarkar on behalf of the employees. It is admitted by the Company that the Association is no longer in existence. The Company contends that as it was a member of that Association at the time of the execution of the agreement, it and its workmen are bound by the terms of the agreement. As the workmen did not take any action to terminate the agreement, they cannot now raise any issue covered by that agreement. But O.P.W. 1 Punam Chand, a Partner of the Company, says in his evidence that the Company was started about 10 years back. So according to his statement the Company was not in existence at the time of the execution of the above agreement. He has no evidence to show that the Company was a member of the Association. Again there is no mention of any Union in the agreement. So it cannot be ascertained whether the workmen of the present Company were a party to that agreement. So that agreement is not binding on the Company or its workmen and as such that agreement cannot be res judicata in raising of the issue of Dearness Allowance by the Union. Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee appearing for the Union has argued that even if that agreement was binding, still this Court could enter into the question of increase of Dearness Allowance. In support of his argument he has referred to a decision of the Supreme Court of India in the case of Burn & Co. Ltd., reported at page 450 of L.L.J. 1959, Vol. I. In that case the Supreme Court has upheld the decision of an Industrial Tribunal increasing Dearness Allowance in spite of previous agreements. But the report of that case does not show whether these agreements were in force at the time of that Industrial Tribunal raised the Dearness Allowance. So that decision does not support the argument of Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee. As, however, I have held that the agreement in the present case is not binding on the Company or its workmen, I enter into the question of increase of Dearness Allowance covered by that agreement. The Company has pleaded its inability to increase the rate of Dearness Allowance. The rate of Dearness Allowance mentioned in the agreement is Rs. 20 per month. It appears that immediately after that agreement different concerns in the paint business adopted that rate of Dearness Allowance. Thereafter some concerns increased that Dearness Allowance by Rs 5, 10 and even larger sums. The present Company has not been able to show why it is unable to pay a higher Dearness Allowance which has since been adopted by other concerns in the business. In this connection Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee appearing for the Union has referred me to two decisions of the Supreme Court reported at page 450 of L.L.J. 1956 Vol. II and at page 339 of L.L.J. 1961 Vol. I. He has also referred to a decision of the Calcutta High Court reported at page 351 of L.L.J. 1961 Vol. II.

But those decisions have no bearing on the facts of the present case. Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee has completely misunderstood those decisions. However, in view of the evidence in this case, I reject the plea of inability of the Company and order that it shall pay a Dearness Alloweance of Rs. 30 per month with effect from 1st October 1962. The Union has demanded increase of Dearness Allowance for both time-rated and piece-rated workers. It is admitted by both sides that the piece-rated workers do not get any Dearness Allowance. The Issue in the order of reference has been stated as "Increase in Dearness Allowance". This term obviously means an increase in the existing Dearness Allowance and not creation of a new Dearness Allowance. So my order as to the payment of a Dearness Allowance of Rs. 30 per month shall be applicable to only the time-rated workers and not to piece-rated workers.

Issue No. 2—Leave and Holidays

It is on evidence that the Company grants one and half months' annual leave with pay and two paid festival holidays. The Union has demanded 12 paid festival holidays and one month's sick leave on half pay. The grant of leave with pay for one and half months in a year must be considered to be a very liberal provision. The Company also grants two paid festival holidays. If the workers want to be absent on other days which they consider to be festival days, they can easily enjoy those festival days out of the annual leave with pay provided for them. In view of the provision of leave with pay for one and half months in a year, the demand of one month's sick leave on half pay is very unreasonable. So I reject the demands of the Union on this issue.

Issue No. 3—Permanency of workmen

The Union has demanded that workmen should be made permanent after six months' employment. The Company has contended that temporary workmen cannot be made permanent unless they are made probationers. Acceding to such a contention would mean that the Company would be able to prevent temporary workmen from being made permanent for years together. If a workman is employed continuously year after year, it must be presumed that the work in which he is employed is of a permanent nature. There is no justification for keeping such a workman as a temporary workman. So I order that workmen in the Company shall be made permanent after one year of continuous service. Those who have already put in one year of service shall be made permanent with effect from 1st October 1962.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Kuber Singh, 57A Kali Krishna Tagore Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Paschim Bengal Mazdoor Congress, 7B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13. (Case No. VIII-262|1962.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. N. GUHA ROY, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri N. K. Mukherjee, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Jagannath Pandey, President of the Union.

In this reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4875-I.R.|IR|4L-38|61, dated the 8th August 1961, of an industrial dispute between Kuber Singh and his workman represented by the Paschim Bengal Mazdoor Congress, the only issue is whether the refusal of employment to Shri Bikramjit Singh is justified and to what relief, if any, he is entitled.

The case of Shri Kuber Singh in his written statement is first that it is not an industrial dispute at all but merely an individual dispute and so the reference is not maintainable and he secondly makes the case that Shri Bikramjit was employed by him as a driver of lorries temporarily for the first time on 17th July 1957 and he worked as such up to 5th June 1958 and form 1st September 1958 to 9th December 1958 and his last spell of service under Kuber Singh was from 13th May 1959 to 1st September 1960. It is further his case that Bikramjit used to transport goods on lorries from Calcutta to Burdwan. On 13th December 1959, after delivery of goods to a consignee at Burdwan, when he was due to return with the lorry he accepted 10 bags of biri tobacco from Messrs. P. S. Patel & Co., Biri Tobacco Merchant, for delivery to Sk. Aquituddin Abdul Sattar of 26|1 Market Street,

Calcutta, without any knowledge or permission of the employer and then it was alleged by P. S. Patel & Co. that the driver delivered only eight out of ten bags to the consignee and it was Kuber Singh's case that he knew nothing of this till a letter of demand for Rs. 529-11-0 was issued by P. S. Patel & Co. on 29th April 1960 on account of the price of two bags of tobacco. Eventually there was a suit by Messrs. P. S. Patel & Co. against Kuber Singh for recovery of this money but before the suit was filed, according to Kuber Singh towards the end of August 1960 a representative of Messrs. P. S. Patel & Co. of Burdwan came to his office and in the presence of the said driver, Bikramjit Singh, said that the goods were accepted at Burdwan by the driver for transport to Calcutta and that he gave delivery of eight bags only and was responsible for the non-delivery of two bags. He demanded payment of the price of two bags of tobacco from Kuber Singh, otherwise Civil and Criminal cases would be started by them. It is Kuber Singh's case that shortly thereafter Bikramjit Singh started absenting himself from duty with effect from 2nd September 1960 and he remained absent in this manner till he reported again on 8th February 1961 for collection of the arrears of wages when he was paid Rs. 683-5-6 for the period from 13th July 1959 to 1st September 1960 in full payment of his wages. Kuber Singh accordingly denied that he ever refused employment to the driver as alleged.

The Union's written statement on the other hand is that the Company employs eight workers and out of them six have espoused the cause of Shri Bikramjit Singh "and|or" are members of the Union and so the plea of Kuber Singh that the reference is not maintainable is not valid. Then the Union denies, among other things, the allegations that Bikramjit Singh carried tobacco leaves for P. S. Patel & Co., from Burdwan to Calcutta and that there was a short delivery of two bags by him. His case is that he worked up to 6th September 1960 and because he demanded wages for 13 months which remained unpaid his services were terminated from 6th September 1960.

The first question for decision in this case is whether the reference is at all legally valid. Prima facie the dispute is an individual one, because it relates to the dismissal of only one out of a number of employees of Kuber Singh. Even according to the Union, Kuber Singh employs nearly eight workmen. Bikramjit Singh, the only witness for the Union, admits that Kuber Singh employs six drivers and six coolies, and that he as well as the other drivers are members of the Union. The point was taken by Kuber Singh in his written statement before the Union was called upon to file its written statement and although this was denied by the Union in its written statement, there was no attempt on its part to prove the membership of the other employees or a majority of the other employees of Kuber Singh by calling for the Union register or the subscription receipts from those employees. As the Union was conducting its own case it was the easiest thing for it to produce its own register to show that a substantial number of the employees of Kuber Singh was enlisted as members of the Union. The non-production of the register raises an inference adverse to the Union's case that the other employees of Kuber Singh or most of them were the members of that Union. On behalf of the employer Kuber Singh there is the evidence of his Manager Shri Rajaram Singh to the effect that none of the other employees are members of Paschim Bengal Mazdoor Congress Union. According to him there are seven or eight drivers employed by Kuber Singh and ten coolies and none of these are members of the Union named. Serit against this there is the evidence of Bikramjit. It the burden of proving that it is not an individual dispute but an industrial dispute, lies on the Union which is the more competent than the employer to prove whether or not the other employees of Kuber Singh are its members, the non-production of the register must lead to the adverse presumption that had the register been produced it would have shown that the other employees of Kuber Singh are not members of the Union. In these circumstances it must be held that it is an individual dispute and not an industrial dispute and as such the reference itself is legally invalid.

The only issue referred to the Tribunal need hardly be gone into in view of the finding I have arrived at on the preliminary question raised on behalf of the employer but as evidence has been gone into on both sides on the main issue it is only fair that I should record my finding thereon. Whether or not Bikram Singh was paid his wages is not really relevant for the purpose of this issue, although it may come in incidentally, for even if Bikramjit Singh's wages are due that question has to be agitated in a different forum in a different proceeding and not before this Tribunal to which this question has not been referred. The only question which arise in connection with the issue referred is whether in fact there was any refusal of employment by the employer to Bikramjit Singh. Bikramjit's case seems to me to be falsified by several things in the evidence. The Union's case in its written statement is that Bikramjit Singh worked up to 6th September 1960 on which his services were terminated but then Bikramjit Singh states himself in his cross-examination that he was not employed by Kuber Singh from June 1960. It is, however, nobody's case that Bikramjit Singh's services were terminated in June 1960. Ext. A is the garage register from January to December 1960. It goes to show that he was present in July and August and took out lorries from the garage. He appears to have signed the register up to the 2nd September 1960 and thereafter he did not sign the register at all. Evidently, therefore, the case made out in the Union's written statement that he was in service up to the 6th of September 1960 and that his services were terminated with effect from that date is not correct. The case of Kuber Singh that Bikramjit Singh made himself scarce after a representative of P. S. Patel & Co., came to Kuber Singh's office and told Kuber Singh in presence of Bikramjit Singh that he had carried ten bags of tobacco leaves from Burdwan to a consignee at Calcutta and had delivered two bags short and that civil and criminal cases would be instituted by P. S. Patel & Co. Bikramjit Singh himself completely denies in his evidence He further denies that he went to Burdwan on that particular date. Of course, on behalf of the employer the garage register for that date has not been produced but the employer has proved the plaint and the judgment in the suit filed by P. S. Patel & Co. against himself. That suit was dismissed by the Court on the ground of limitation and it did not go into the merits of the case at all but the fact remains that P. S. Patel & Co. instituted a suit against Kuber Singh on the allegation that Bikramjit Singh, a driver of Kuber Singh, had carried in a lorry No. WGA 930 on 13th December 1959 ten bags of biri tobacco weighing 40 manuds 16 seers 4 chataks from Burdwan to Calcutta for delivery to Sk. Aquiluddin Abdul Sattar [illegible] 26|1 Market Street, Calcutta, and that he delivered [illegible]y eight bags out of ten. It is most unlikely that [illegible] allegation like this can be made falsely against Bikramjit Singh by a third party unless something like this had actually happened. The fact also remains that Bikramjit Singh started absenting himself after 2nd September 1962. In this connection the evidence of Bikramjit Singh regarding Ext. 1 is also worth mention. This Ext. 1 is a receipt by him, dated 8th February 1961, for Rs. 682-5-6 on account of his wages from 13th July 1959 to 1st September 1960. In his examination-in-chief he states that Ext. 1 does not bear his signature, whereas Ext. 4(2) does bear his signature. Ext. 4(2) is a receipt, dated 9th May 1958, for Rs. 216 on account of his wages from 17th September 1957 to 28th February 1958. In his cross-examination he says: "I used to sign the receipt after understanding what is written down. Ext. 1 bears my signature. I did not receive a single pie on that occasion. Ext. 4(2) does not bear my signature, nor does Ext. 4(3) nor does Ext. 4(4)". Clearly, therefore, Bikramjit Singh is on his own showing, absolutely unreliable. The signature which he denies in his examination-in-chief he admits in his cross-examination and the signature which he admits in his examination-in-chief he denies in his cross-examination. In these circumstances the only possible conclusion on the evidence is that Bikramjit Singh left the service of Kuber Singh of his own accord after 2nd September 1960 and that Kuber Singh did not terminate his service. My award, therefore, on this issue is that as Bikramjit Singh left the employ of Kuber Singh of his own accord there was no refusal of employment by Kuber Singh to Bikramjit Singh and the question of justification of such refusal does not, therefore, arise. Bikramjit Singh is not in the circumstances entitled to any relief. But as I have already pointed out even if this issue could be found in favour of Bikramjit Singh the reference would be liable to rejection on the ground that it is not legally valid as there was no industrial dispute at all but merely an individual dispute.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Peco Engineering and Manufacturing Works Private Ltd., 2A Khasmohal Street, Calcutta-6, and their workmen represented by Peco Engineering Mazdoor Union, 1 Gouribari Lane, Calcutta-4, referred to for adjudication under G.O. No. 5761-I.R.|IR|10L-207|61, dated 29th September 1961. (Case No. VIII-317|61

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. C. PAL, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri K. S. Mitra, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri S. K. Dhar, Advocate.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), by the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department Order No. 5761-I.R.|IR|10L-207|61, dated the 29th September 1961, for adjudication on the following issue, viz.:

1. Whether the dismissal of Shri Paresh Chandra Hazra is justified? To what relief, if any is he entitled?

The case as contended in the written statement of the Union is briefly this. The concerned workman Shri Paresh Chandra Hazra served under the Company for over 15 years with brilliant record of service. He was falsely charge-sheeted on 15th April 1961 and 22nd April 1961 only because he enrolled himself as a member of the Union and demanded increments of wages through the Union. This action of the workman was taken serious exception to by the Company which, while granting increments to the employees refused increments to Shri Paresh Hazra. To feed the grudge against him, the Company began to concoct ways and means for getting rid of this employee any how. With this end in view, the Company asked this workman to do some repair work in the private residence of the Company's Director and to do some minor repair works to the door and the window of the Company's factory latrine, which were no part of this employee's duty. On his refusal to do such job the Company charge-sheeted unjustifiably and held an enquiry which was not at all fair and proper. Ultimately this workman was dismissed by the Company and that was for his Union activities. The order of his dismissal is, therefore, unjustified by reason of victimisation, illegality, bias and non-compliance with the principles of natural justice. On these allegations the Union has prayed for reinstatement of the concerned workman with back wages, etc.

In the written statement of the Company, the averments are as follows. The Union concerned has no scope or authority to represent Paresh Hazra and hence the dispute is an "individual dispute"; so that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate the dispute. The allegation of the Union as to victimisation is unfounded. It is untrue that there was any demand of additional facility by or on behalf of the workman concerned. The Company was not even aware of the workman's being a member of the Union. The workman was the Carpenter of the Company and had to do carpentery and other works. It was a part of his duties to work outside the factory premises within the factory hours and used to be sent out for doing job works. The Company had a job at a house owned by the Chairman of the Board of Directors, which type of work was also done by the workman concerned on previous occasions. But he refused to do this work when ordered to do so on 13th April 1961. He persistently refused to give the hinges on the doors of a latrine in the factory premises when ordered to do so on 22nd April 1961. He was charge-sheeted, therefore, and was given sufficient opportunities to explain his conduct and defend himself. The domestic enquiry was quite fair and proper, and no principle of natural justice was violated at all. He was found guilty of gross misconduct as a result of the enquiry, and his dismissal was quite just and proper. For these reasons the case of the Union must be dismissed.

Decision

The witnesses examined for the Union are its Secretary named Shri Moni Mukherjee (P.W. 1), the concerned workman named Paresh Hazra (P.W. 2) and a co-worker named Samir Nandan (P.W. 3.). The Union has put in the charge-sheets (Exts. 1 and 1|A), copies of replies (Exts. 2 and 2|A), workman's objection to the enquiry (Ext. 3), Company's letter to the concerned workman, dated 15th May 1961 (Ext. 3|A), copy of the Union's letter, dated 20th May 1961, to the Labour Commissioner (Ext. 4).

On the side of the Company, three witnesses were examined, viz., Shri Bireswar Basak (O.P.W. 1), Company's Director and enquiry officer, Shri Upendra Chakraborty (O.P.W. 2), a Clerk under the Company and Shri Asit Kumar Basak (O.P.W. 3), Company's Engineer. The Company has put in the enquiry proceedings including the enquiry report (Ext. A), the charge-sheets (Exts. B and B|1), replies of the workman (Ext. C|1 and D|1), some letters of the workman praying for adjournment of enquiry, order of dismissal dated 17th May 1961, by the Director and the letter of dismissal, dated 17th May 1961 (Exts. F and F|1), copy of Union's letter to the Labour Commissioner and Company's reply to the Assistant Commissioner, dated 30th June 1961 (Ext. G|1), and a chart showing outside works done by the workman concerned on various dates (Ext. H, after objection).

First of all, I take up the question of legal objection taken in this case by the Company. It is contended that the present dispute is an "individual dispute" and not an "industrial dispute" because the Union, which represents the dispute, has no scope or authority to represent the workman Shri Paresh Nath Hazra. The present dispute appears to have been raised and the reference obtained at the instance of the Peco Engineering Mazdoor Union. Obviously, this is the Union of the employees of the Company which is styled as Peco Engineering and Manufacturing Works Private Ltd. It is argued by Shri Mitra for the Company that there is no evidence that any other employee of the Company took up the cause for the sake of Paresh Hazra or that there was a collective bargaining for his sake. When the Union itself appears to be the Union of the employees of the very Company, no question of such evidence would at all arise inasmuch as there would be the presumption that the employees of the Company are members of the Union and that when that Union represents the concerned workman, it would go without saying that other employees also espoused the cause of the particular workman. What is more is that O.P.W. 3 knows this Union since 1956 and admits that previously there were some references to the Industrial Tribunals regarding the disputes between this Company and its employees and also that this very Union might have represented the workers in these cases. This admission on the part of O.P.W. 2 goes to settle this matter. I hold in the result that the objection of the Company is futile and that the dispute is really an "industrial dispute".

I now pass on to the consideration of the case on merits. The first charge-sheet shows that Shri Paresh Hazra was asked to do a job in regard to Clump and Chadar but he refused to comply by stating that it was a job for private house. The second charge-sheet shows that Paresh was asked to fix hinges of the door of the factory latrine but he refused to do the work. It is an admitted fact that Paresh was asked to do these two particular works but he refused to comply. Obviously, therefore, he disobeyed those orders. This disobedience on his part would certainly amount to gross misconduct if these two jobs were really part of his factory duty. If, on the other hand, these were no part of his duty, then his refusal to comply would not amount to misconduct at all. So, this is the most vital point for consideration and decision in this case.

Except before me, and in the Company's written statement, no witness of the Company appears to have stated anywhere that the aforesaid words formed part of the workman's usual duty. It is true that this workman is the only carpenter employed at the Company's factory. It is equally true, as admitted before me by the workman, that he also did some works concerning machine, etc., when there was dearth of wood works. Thus he did not do only wood works but also works concerning machine, etc., occasionally. In the present case we are concerned with the question whether it was his duty to do any private works at the house of the Malick and any work in relation to the latrine of the Company's factory. The house work in question was in respect of a house of the Malick at Raja Dinendra Street. The evidence adduced before me by the Company is that the Company's registered office is located in a portion of the Malick's residential quarters which is other than the house at Raja Dinendra Street. It cannot, therefore, be said that the work concerning the house in question had no connection with the registered office of the Company. Nor can it be said that the particular job was in respect of any work for the sake of the Company as such. It was purely and undoubtedly a job of private nature. The Company has led evidence to show that on previous occasions the workmen concerned did similar jobs. The Company's chart shows that the workman did some outside jobs not in respect of any house but with regard to some other matters. The Union does not deny that the workman previously did works outside the factory, the works being those of the factory, and not private works as such. O.P.W. 3, who was examined by the Company last of all, has said that the Company also receives orders for contract works to be done outside the factory. Whenever these outside works are works of the factory or the Company as such, these were admittedly done by the workman concerned. Evidence does not show that Paresh did private works, that is, works not connected with the factory, outside the factory. During the domestic enquiry also no witness of the Company appears to have stated that works in relation to the private houses of the Malick were also works of the Company or formed part of Paresh's duty. Even if he might have done one job or two regarding private house of the Malick, that would not necessarily mean that he was duty bound to do such private works. It appears from Paresh's deposition given before me that on a previous occassion he refused to do similar private work and was charge-sheeted therefor, but on his reply the matter did not proceed further. For all these reasons, therefore, I hold that the house job in question formed no part of his duty and as such his refusal did not amount to misconduct.

Similar appears to be the position in respect of the latrine work. It is seen usually that ordinary or regular carpenters generally decline to do any job or work regarding latrines. Such works are generally done by a special class of carpenters. This is exactly the case of the Union here. Paresh Hazra (P.W. 2) and his witness Samir Nandan (P.W. 3) say that the former did not do any carpenter's work in respect of the factory latrine; such works being done by outside mistris. P.W. 3 works in the factory. about 5 or 7 cubits from where P.W. 2 used to work inside the factory. This P.W. 3 of course did not see actually any work done outside the factory room, but he asserts he could know afterwords. Of these three witnesses examined before me by the Company, only the Engineer, Ashit Basak (O.P.W. 3), says that the works at the factory latrine were also a duty of Paresh Hazra. There is no paper or record to show that Paresh had previously done any work at the latrine within the factory premises, except the statement of one Jaydev Basak made during the domestic enquiry. This Jaydev, however, has not been examined before the Tribunal, the plea being that he is no longer in service of the Company. In the face of evidence led by Paresh and his witness Samir in the Tribunal, the solitary statement of Jaydev before the enquiring Officer cannot be relied upon. Thus the Company has failed to prove satisfactorily that the latrine work was a part of Paresh's duty. So his refusal to do that particular job does not amount to misconduct as such.

It appears that there were two domestic enquiries on different dates—once in the factory office on 5th May 1961 by Bireswar Basak (O.P.W. 1) and again on 16th May 1961 at the residence of the Malick in his presence. The Union characterises both the enquiries as being improper and unfair. Evidence has been led on the side of the Union that Paresh took two witnesses with him named Samir Nandan and Haran Das (since resigned) to the place of enquiry but their evidence was not taken. This is spoken of not only by Paresh but also by Samir. Of course this allegation is denied by the Company's witness. But the fact remains that Paresh did not sign in his statement or any other statement purporting to have been made at the enquiries. This may suggest something wrong in connection with the enquiries themselves. The Malick Chuni Basak and the said Jaydev Basak are not examined before the Tribunal. O.P.W. 1 Bireswar Basak is the son of the Malick and Director of the Company. O.P.W. 3 Ashit Basak (Company's Engineer) is the son of O.P.W. 1. O.P.W. 2 Upendra Chakrabarty is a Clerk under the Company. They are thus interested witnesses. There is every reason to say that O.P.W.s 1 and 3 were biased against Paresh. The enquiry proceedings show that after Paresh's statement, Jaydev Basak and Ashit Basak were examined successively, and subsequently Paresh was asked whether he would cross-examine those two witnesses, and Paresh appears to have stated that cross-examination, if any, would be made "there", meaning thereby perhaps the Tribunal. O.P.W. 3 says here that Paresh, Jaydev and this witness were examined in presence of one another. This was quite irregular and improper. Though this witness says that Upendra Chakraborty was present then, he was not examined as witness. This Upendra Chakraborty says here that he and Paresh were present all along during the first enquiry but admits that no evidence of any witness for the Company was recorded in presence of Paresh Hazra. This is undoubtedly a vital departure from following the principles of natural justice. Thus it is found that the result of the domestic enquiry is vitiated by reason of bias and non-compliance with the principles of natural justice. Even the evidence per enquiry proceedings does not disclose such proof on which a reasonable or possible view as to the workman's guilt can be established under any of the charges; nor can it be said that on the materials concerning the domestic enquiry a good prima facie case has been established in favour of the Company. It is said for the Company that, even if the enquiry be taken at all to be unfair or improper, the totality of evidence adduced before this Tribunal is quite enough to justify the Company's findings as to the guilt of the concerned workman. But I am quite unable to accept this contention as valid. Adequate evidence has not been adduced here inasmuch as important witnesses like Jaydev Basak and Chuni Basak have not been examined on grounds of non-employment and illness respectively while as an extra witness in the Clerk named Upendra Chakraborty has been examined here without his speaking of anything about the incidents in question.

Evidence discloses that Paresh Hazra's demand for increment was refused while other employees were granted this benefit. The fact appears to be that the refusal of Paresh's demand was made simply because even one anna increment to him would require the Company to pay extra D.A. to him to the extent of Rs. 10 or Rs. 12. The Union's case is that to checkmate Paresh's claim he has been victimised in the shape of his dismissal. The facts and circumstances taken as a whole would indicate the truth of this contention to some extent at least.

In the result I hold that the order of dismissal of Paresh Hazra, the workman concerned, is unjustified.

Accordingly the Company is directed to reinstate this employee to his former job with continuity of his service, and to give him all back wages for the period of his involuntary unemployment, within one month from the date of publication of this decision in the "Calcutta Gazette". I give this award accordingly.

AWARD

By Order No. 5015-IR|IR|11L-266|60, dated the 23rd September 1960, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Bhattanagar, Lillooah, Howrah, and their workmen represented by the Swaika Mazdoor Union, 61 Chintamoni Dey Road, Howrah, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R.|IR|3A-2|57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issues

1. Wages including Dearness Allowance.
2. Grades and Scales of Pay.

The present reference relating to some industrial disputes existing between Messrs. Swaika Vanaspati Products Ltd. (hereinafter be referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by Swaika Mazdoor Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union) was received from the Government at about the close of the year 1960 during the tenure of my predecessor-in-office.

Record shows that immediately thereafter notices were sent out for service upon the parties who on receipt thereof entered appearance and filed their respective written statements. Considerable time was taken by the parties regarding production of material documents and inspection of each other's documents. The case was then taken up for hearing. Both parties examined their witnesses and tendered various documents into evidence. But just before the hearing of the arguments there was a talk of compromise which ultimately yielded satisfactory result and all the existing disputes were finally settled amicably.

Both parties have filed a joint petition of compromise on 19th September 1962 signed by the representatives of the parties and their respective Advocates. I have gone through the joint petition of compromise and carefully considered the terms of settlement. I have found them to be fair, reasonable and legal. So, the terms are accepted and award is given on compromise which do form part of the compromise award as an annexure.

This is my award.

Present:

Shri H. R. DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

By Order No. 6262-I.R.|IR|4L-73|59, dated 24th November 1959, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred an industrial dispute between Shri Anil Chandra Mukherjee, Bus Owner and his workmen represented by Birbhum Motor Workers' Association relating to the undermentioned issue to the Second Labour Court for adjudication.

Issue

1. Is the dismissal of Shri Baldeo Mridha, Bus Driver, justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

The case was fixed for hearing on 30th August 1962. On that date a petition on behalf of Shri Anil Chandra Mukherjee was filed praying for an adjournment on the ground that the case is likely to be compromised. Accordingly the case was adjourned to 27th September 1962 for the result of the talk of the compromise. On 13th September 1962 both the parties filed a joint petition of settlement. The terms of settlement are fair; so I accept them. The joint petition of settlement, a copy of which is enclosed herewith, will form a part of this award.

No. 4409-I.R.|IR|11L-399(A)|61.—27th September 1962.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 5992-I.R.|IR|11L-399(A)|61, dated the 26th October 1961, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Mineral Industries Ltd. 22|1 Dum Dum Road, Calcutta-2 (factories at Dum Dum Road, Calcutta-2 and Agarpara, 24-Parganas), and their workmen represented by Indian Mineral Industries Workers' Union, 4|5 Lalababu Lane, Calcutta-2, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order, being a matter specified in the Second Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Second Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal, Shri Hiralall Bhagat, a workman of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had dismissed the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 by Shri Hiralall Bhagat (c|o Indian Mineral Industries Workers' Union, 4|5 Lalababu Lane, Calcutta-2) against Messrs. Indian Mineral Industries Ltd., 22|1 Dum Dum Road, Calcutta-2, in relation to G.O. No. 5992-I.R.|IR|11L-399(A)|61, dated 26th October 1961. (Case No. 117|33A|1961.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. C. PAL, M.A., LL.B., Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal.

Appearance:

For the Applicant: Shri Parimal Das Gupta, Advocate.

For the Company (Opposite-Party): Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by a dismissed workman named Hiralall Bhagat against his employer (the Company Opposite Party) for reinstatement to his old job with full back wages, etc. The applicant's case is briefly this: He worked quite honestly and sincerely as a permanent worker for a long time. On 15th September 1961 he was charge-sheeted by the Company on false and frivolous allegations of gross negligence and misconduct. He submitted a written reply in due course by denying the charges. There was no proper enquiry, yet he was dismissed from service quite unjustifiably and illegally. The Company violated the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act during the pendency of the main reference. The order of dismissal cannot stand.

The Company's written objections are these: The Company did not at all violate the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Along with the dismissal of the applicant, one month's wages were remitted by money order which were refused. The Company also filed a case under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act in due course for Tribunal's approval of the action taken by it in dismissing the applicant. Thus the present application is not maintainable in law. Besides, in point of fact also the applicant can get no relief. The charge-sheet against him contained true allegations of misconduct by way of gross negligence on his part. There was fair and proper enquiry in his presence and he was found guilty. There was nothing wrong about the enquiry, and his dismissal was quite justified.

On the date of hearing of the case, the applicant failed to appear. He was, however, represented by his Advocate, Shri Parimal Das Gupta. Company's legal objection was heard. The matter falls under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. If this section was in any way violated by the Company, then and then only, the present application would be maintainable, otherwise not. It appears that along with the order of dismissal of the applicant, which was issued on 9th November 1961, the Company remitted one month's wages to the applicant by money order and also filed an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Act for Tribunal's approval of applicant's dismissal. Thus the legal requisites were duly fulfilled and section 33 was not contravened. Accordingly I hold that the application under section 33A is not maintainable. On this ground alone the present case fails.

Award is passed accordingly.

No. 3759I.R|1R|11L-244|60.—25th August 1962. —Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 5516-IR|IR 11L-244|60, dated the 1st November 1960, the industrial dispute between Messrs. A. J. Main & Co. Ltd., 151 Andul Road, Howrah, and their workmen represented by A. J. Main Workmen's Union, 164 Andul Road, Botanical Gardens, Howrah, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the second and the third schedules to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Third Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Third Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. A. J. Main & Co., Ltd., 151 Andul Road, Howrah, and their workmen represented by A. J. Main Workmen's Union, 164 Andul Road, Botanical Gardens, Howrah. (Case No. VIII—576 of 1960.)

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterji, Deputy Labour Adviser, Indian Engineering Association.

AWARD

By order No. 5516-IR|IR|11L-244|60, dated the 1st November 1960, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. A. J. Main & Co. Ltd., 151 Andul Road, Howrah, and their workmen represented by A. J. Main Workmen's Union, 164 Andul Road, Botanical Gardens, Howrah, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Indusrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by notification No. 808-IR|IR|3A-2|57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issues

(1) (a) Whether the existing Production Bonus Scheme needs revision? If so, what should be the revised scheme.

(b) Whether the clerical and subordinate staff in the factory should be brought under the purview of the Production Bonus Scheme, and if so, in what way the incentive earnings should be shared by them.

(2) Whether the canteen staff should be brought under the direct control and management of the company? If so, what should be the terms and conditions of their employment.

This reference relating to some industrial disputes existing between Messrs. A. J. Main & Co. Ltd., (hereinafter be referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by A. J. Main Workmen's Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union), was received from the Government for adjudication on three points as enumerated above.

As usual immediately after receipt of the reference, both parties were given notices, who promptly entered appearance, but the Union delayed in filing written statement. However, both parties having completed all tadbirs, the case was taken up for hearing, when parties talked of settlement of the disputes amicably and for which they asked for time. Adequate opportunities were given for negotiations and I am glad, that the parties have ultimately settled up the disputes amicably. The parties have not only amicably settled the disputes under reference but also some other disputes existing between them but not included in the order of reference.

Both parties have this day (9th August 1962) filed a joint petition of compromise signed by their respective representatives on 4th August 1962 together with enclosures (five sheets) and prayed for an award in terms of the settlement. I have perused the terms of settlement in respect of the disputes under reference. They are found to be fair and reasonable and as such, they are accepted. Both parties have also settled amicably another outstanding dispute regarding canteen staff which is, of course, not included in the order of reference and as such it is not taken into consideration being outside the scope of the present reference. But as desired, by both parties, let there be an award on compromise in terms of the joint petition of compromise. The joint petition of compromise together with the enclosures (five sheets) containing the terms and conditions agreed upon between the parties as a whole do form part of the award as annexures. As jointly agreed upon, the terms and conditions will come into operation with effect from 3rd day of September 1962.

This is my award.

Messrs A. J. Main & Co. Ltd., 151 Andul Road,

And

A. J. Main Workmen's Union

And

In the matter of an industrial dispute referred for adjudication under Government order No. 5516-I.R.|1R|11L-294|60, dated 1st November 1960.

The humble petition on behalf of the Company and the workmen represented by the Union.

Most respectfully sheweth:—

1. That by order No. 5516-I.R.|IR|11L-294|60, dated 1st November 1960, the following two issues were referred for adjudication by the Tribunal:

(1) (a) Whether the existing Production Bonus Scheme needs revision and if so, what should be the revised Scheme?

(b) Whether the clerical and subordinate staff of the factory should be brought within the purview of the Production Bonus Scheme and if so, in what way the incentive earnings should be shared by them?

(2) Whether canteen staff should be brought under the direct control and management of the company. If so, what should be the terms and conditions of their employment?

2. That after prolonged negotiations between the workmen represented by the Union and the Company, the parties have now voluntarily come to a mutual settlement with reference to all the issues referred for adjudication, outside the Tribunal.

3. That it is agreed between the parties that the existing Production Bonus Scheme should be revised and the revised scheme should be extended to clerical and subordinate staff in the manner and to the extent it is agreed upon between the parties.

4. That the revised Production Bonus Scheme for the hourly rated workmen as well as for the staff with details contained in Annexures A and B to the Scheme are enclosed and are collectively marked Enclosure I.

5. That with reference to issue No. 2 the parties have also come to a mutual settlement and the terms and conditions of the said settlement are enclosed and marked Enclosure II.

6. That there is no other or further dispute with regard to any of the issues referred for this adjudication.

7. That an Award in terms of the settlement may please be made and the terms and conditions agreed upon between the parties in Enclosures I and II may be made effective on and from 3rd September 1962.

ENCLOSURE 1

Production Bonus Scheme

(1) Production Bonus will be awarded to hourly paid workers at Howrah Works and also to staff at Howrah Works and at 16 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, who are drawing a total salary up to Rs. 600 per month on achievement of specified man-hours per ton as per Annexure 'A'.

Production Bonus will not be paid to learners, apprentices, trainees and canteen staff.

(2) In assessing tonnages, fabricated structural steelwork and "worked" materials only will be counted. Unworked bought-outs, bolts, nuts and rivets which do not pass through the Fabricating Workshop will not be counted.

(3) The point of measurement of produced tonnage will be after painting, marking, assembling and bundling has been done, and will include only those structural components challaned and ready for despatch before or on the last day of the specified period.

(4) The actual tonnage produced for any period shall be calculated weights of the tonnage produced as indicated in (3) or scale weight of the tonnage despatched during the period plus that awaiting despatch at the end of the period less that awating despatch at the beginning of the period.

(5) Man-hours for the period will be the paid working hours taken from the wage records of all hourly paid workers who are covered under the scheme. Due allowance will be made for paid holidays but overtime will be included. Any other day on which the Works may be closed, will be included when calculating man-hours for the period.

Man-hours per ton will be man-hours for the period divided by tonnage produced during the period.

(6) Production bonus will be paid:

Factory workers

(a) at full rate to workers who have worked for at least 90 per cent of the working hours for the period;

(b) at half rate to workers who have worked for 85 per cent of the working hours for the period;

(c) and at quarter rate to workers who have worked for 75 per cent of the working hours for the period.

Any workman who has worked for less than 75 per cent of the working hours for the period will not be entitled to share in the Production Bonus Scheme

Staff

(a) at full rate to staff who have worked for at least 90 per cent of the working days for the period;

(b) at half rate to staff who have worked for 85 per cent of the working days for the period;

(c) at quarter rate to staff who have worked for 80 per cent of the working days for the period.

Any employee who has worked for less than 80 per cent of the working days for the period will not be entitled to share in the Production Bonus Scheme.

For the purpose of calculating qualifying attendance privilege leave taken by hourly paid workers and privilege/casual leave taken by other workmen, in accordance with the leave rules, will not be treated as absence. If on account of any other reason whatsoever including sickness the required attendance is not attained by any workman or employee, production bonus will not be paid to him.

(7) The Management will decide the jobs to be fabricated in whole or in part during any given period and the Works Manager alone will direct progress of production.

(8) Accuracy in fabrication must always be maintained. If deterioration in the quality of workmanship is observed, the scheme will be withdrawn forthwith or alternatively the weight of components requiring rectification could be deducted from subsequent tonnage output.

(9) No disbursement will be made if the specified man-hours per ton are not achieved even if this is due to lack of orders, materials and|or shortage of labour power shortages, machinery breakdown, strikes, riots, civil commotion, lockouts, "go slow" or any other reason whatsoever.

(10) While the criterion is man-hours per ton, for the purpose of clarifying the scheme to workers, Annexure 'B' is attached showing man-hours per ton and relative tonnages based on 400 workers. It must be clearly understood that the tonnages indicated against man-hours per ton are subject to fluctuations if there is a change in the number of workers.

(11) The word "period" or "periods" mentioned in the scheme constitutes a period of four weeks in the case of hourly rated workers and twelve weeks in the case of staff who are covered under the scheme. The Production Bonus payable to staff and to hourly rated workers are detailed in Annexure A to the Scheme. Among the hourly rated workmen the unskilled workmen will be entitled to bonus according to Grade II and others according to Grade I on achievement of specified man-hours per ton.

No. 3841-I.R./IR/8L-2/60.—30th August 1962.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 2339-I.R./IR/8L-32/58, dated the 27th May 1959, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, and their workmen represented by Garden Reach Textile Workers' Union, Q-77 Akra Road, Calcutta-24, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order, being a matter specified in the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the First Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal Shri Parameswar Singh, a workman of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said company alleging that the said Company had terminated the service of the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under Section 33A filed by Shri Parameswar against Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., in connection with G.O. No. 2339-I.R./IR/8L/32 58, dated 27th May 1959. (Case No. 160/59 under section 33A.)

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by Shri Parameswar Singh for an award in his favour directing his employer Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., the opposite party, to allow him to resume his duties with full compensation for the period of unemployment or giving him any other relief which might be deemed appropriate in the circumstances of the case. The application states first that Parameswar Singh put in more than one year's service and that by Annexure A of his application, a copy of which is marked Ext. 1, dated 26th June 1959, he applied for issuing a permanent pass in his favour as he completed one year's continuous service in a vacant place and that thereupon his employer in order to deprive him of the facilities of a permanent workman asked him to resign from his service and this he naturally declined to do. Then he was reprimanded and threatened for his application to the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner which was annexed to his application as Annexure A(1) but which has not been proved during the hearing. Then he makes the case that he was refused employment on and from 1st July 1959. He then protested against this and applied to the Factory Manager for his intervention, Annexure B being a copy of that letter which was Ext. 2. Then the matter was taken up by the Union which wrote to the Deputy Labour Commissioner. There was some correspondence thereafter and as he received no reply he had no other alternative but to apply under section 33A.

The written statement of Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., on the other hand is that Parameswar Singh worked in the Maintenance Section of the Engineering Department as a Badli in place of absentee workers from time to time, that on 26th June 1959 he submitted an application, a copy of which is Annexure A to the application under section 33A which was not granted because the complainant had no right to be made a permanent workman. The Company, however, categorically denies that Parameswar Singh was ever asked to resign his service or that he had any occasion to decline to do so. It denies having had any knowledge of the complainant's letter to the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner having ever reprimanded or threatened him for the same. It is also the Company's case that the provident fund existing in the factory of the Company has been exempted and is not under the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner. The Company also makes the case that Parameswar Singh was a Badli worker and was asked to continue to work as a Badli as he could not be made permanent and had no right to be made permanent. So there was no occasion for anybody to ask him to resign from his service. The Company denies also that Parameswar Singh was ever refused employment on 1st July 1959 or on any other day and it is the Company's case that he was told to continue as a Badli worker and that he could not be made permanent as his services were not considered satisfactory and the complainant thereupon protested and left without accepting employment as a Badli. The Company admits having received the letter, dated 1st July 1959, i.e., Ext. 2, but says that the allegations made therein were found by the Factory Manager without any foundation and that even the Factory Manager asked him to continue as a Badli worker but he did not agree and left. The Company further makes the case that the complainant was repeatedly asked by the Departmental in-charge as well as by the Factory Manager to continue his employment as a Badli worker and that his services were never terminated but that Parameswar Singh did not accept the employment and the Company further stated that the opposite party was still prepared to provide him employment as a Badli worker, if he chose to accept the same. The Company also pleads that the application under section 33A is not maintainable because the dispute pending in this Tribunal under an Order of reference No. 2339-IR|IR|8L-32|58, dated 27th May 1959, is not connected with the dispute which is the subject matter of the present complaint by Parameswar Singh.

The first question for decision in this case is whether there was any termination of the service of Shri Parameswar Singh by the Company and whether in terminating his service the company contravened any provisions of section 33.

This question naturally involves a number of other questions, namely, first what was the status of Parameswar Singh when he was first admitted in the employ of Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., secondly whether he had the right to be made a permanent workman on his completion of a requisite number of days in a year and thirdly whether the Company in refusing to make him permanent violated any of the provisions of its agreement with him when it employed him.

As regards the status of the workmen Parameswar Singh's application merely states in paragraph 3 that he completed one year's continuous service in a vacant place and in paragraph 2 he merely states that he is a workman of the Company and served it for more than one year continuously. Then in paragraph 4 he states that in order to deprive him of the facilities of a permanent workman, the opposite party, i.e., Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., asked him to resign from his service. There is thus nowhere in the four corners of the application filed by the workman anything about what was his precise status when he was first employed by the Company. There is, however, a reference in paragraph 3 of the application to an annexure which as I have already stated is a copy of Ext. 1. Exhibit 1 is an application addressed to the Factory Manager on 26th June 1959 by Shri Parameswar Singh. It runs as follows:

"Re: Issue of permanent P.S.

Sir,

I have worked for 256 days continuously in a permanent vacant place and as such entitled to get permanent pass.

Hope you will kindly arrange for the above and oblige".

It is significant that the words "permanent vacant" were written after the words "the same" had been scored through. In other words in the application it was written first that he had worked for 256 days continuously in the same place but the words "the same" were subsequently replaced by the words "a permanent vacant." The workman did not produce on the first day his attendance cards although he admitted in his examination that he had 12 attendance cards in respect of one year's continuous service and he could produce all his cards before the Tribunal. It was also admitted by him that he had an Employment Book. He was asked to produce all the attendance cards and the employment book on the day following. He produced, however, only three of the cards and the employment book. The three cards were of June 1958, Ext. 4, of August 1959, Ext. 4(1) and of May 1958, Ext. 4(2) (?). The card Ext. 4(2) must obviously relate to May 1959 and not to May 1958, because admittedly this workman was not in the employ of Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., prior to June 1958. The employment book is Ext. 3. It throws no light on his status. The attendance cards are white cards and it is written at the top that these are attendance cards for temporary workers. Of course, the Company also makes the case that Parameswar worked as a Badli worker though the attendance cards show that the workman was a temporary workman. In the Standing Orders of the Company, Ext. C, a Badli workman is defined in clause 2(d) as a workman appointed in the post of a permanent workman or a probationer who is temporarily absent and a temporary workman is defined in clause 2(e) as a workman who has been engaged for work which is of an essentially temporary nature likely to be finished within a limited period. There is thus a difference between a Badli workman and a temporary workman, although in certain respects there is a similarity between the two. That however I shall deal with later on. The evidence of Parameswar Singh in his examination-in-chief is that he used to work in a vacant place and not as a Badli and since his appointment he worked in a vacant place. He also stated in his examination-in-chief itself that he cannot say whether he was described in the attendance card as a permanent workman, a probationer, a Badli workman, a casual worker or as an apprentice. Then in his cross-examination he says that he filed an application in his handwriting Ext. A before his first appointment in these mills and that at that time he also signed a printed form Ext. B. Exhibit A is entirely in Hindi. Its translation is Ext. A(1). This translation has been accepted by both the parties as correct. In the application he states that he worked as a filter and can do pipe filtting, water pump, etc., that he has little education and that he might be given work and he was prepared to work as per rules of the Company. On this application there are certain endorsements which, however, were not proved on behalf of the Company. Then Ext. B is a printed form in Hindi which also the workman signed before his first appointment in the mills. In this the last sentence, as translated in Ext. B(2) which is accepted as a correct translation of Ext. B by both the parties is as follows :

> "It is not the responsibility of the Company whether I get work regularly or not."

It is at once obvious from this sentence in Ext. B that what is now being sought to be made out on behalf of the workman namely that he was given employment in a permanent vacant place is not correct, for if he was employed to act in a permanent vacant place there could be no question of his having any occasion to state in Ext. B that it was not the responsibility of the Company whether he would get work regularly or not, the implication of his employment in a permanent vacant place being that he would be in regular employment till he is finally absorbed as a permanent workman. The matter, however, does not rest there. In his cross-examination Parameswar Singh further states that he had to do different types of work during his employment in the mills and he could not say whether he worked in the place of other workers and the only thing he knows is that he used to work in a vacant place but he cannot say whether he worked in the place of a permanent or a temporary workman. If he is not in a position to state whether he worked in the vacant place of a permanent workman or a temporary workman, one wonders how it was that in Ext. 1 he made the statement that he worked continuously for 256 days in a permanent vacant place. He further states in his cross-examination as follows :

> "I do not know whether I was working as a Badli in view of holding white attendance card. I cannot say whether my possession of a white card was an indication that I was a Badli worker. Only thing I know that I was given a white card. I cannot say whether I was given work in the maintenance department as a substitute in the place of absentees. It is true that during the course of my employment of one year I have done different types of work. It is correct to state that the workers who are in possession of white cards are to go daily and to work daily. I do not know whether Badli workers often are given regular work. I cannot say whether in the Engineering Department there are workers who are known as Badli workers."

He states later in his cross-examination that the workmen of the mills are given attendance cards of different colours and the attendance cards which he got were white. The attendance cards actually produced by him Exts. 4 to 4(2) are also white. The employment book Ext. 3 shows only that he was employed in the Engineering Department of the Kesoram Cotton Mills but it does not show what his precise status was, or whether he was a permanent, a Badli, or a temporary workman. According to him, other workers say that a yellow card is the sign of a permanent workman and he himself says that the attendance cards which are white denote the work of temporary workers. Clearly then, on his own showing as he had white cards he was a temporary worker and this is precisely what the attendance cards Exts. 4 to 4(2) show. He cannot enlighten us as to when the yellow pass is given to a workman in exchange of a white pass and he goes on to say that he does not know whether in the mills any worker is designated as Badli worker. The reasons for his application for being made permanent are, according to him, his completion of one year's service and the fact of some workmen having received yellow passes. He knows that some workers possess green attendance cards but he does not know what the green attendance cards mean. On this point the evidence on behalf of the Company is that of Shri S. K. Ojha, the Engineer of Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., who was Engineer in-charge of the department in which Parameswar Singh was working in 1958-59. It is to the effect that Parameswar was taken in as a Badli and he worked as a fitter in place of absentees. According to him Badli workers are also given white attendance cards and those of the Badlis who completed 240 days would get yellow cards and would be entitled to lay-off compensation but those cards are meant for substitute workers. He further states that the attendance cards of permanent workmen are green. On this point the evidence of the Labour Officer Shri Vijoy Bahadur Singh is that permanent workmen who work in the day shifts, i.e., A and B shifts, are given green attendance cards but those of the permanent workmen who work in the night shift, i.e., C shift, are given red attendance cards. Even according to Vijoy Bahadur Singh, the workman concerned was a Badli workman but the attendance cards produced by the workman show that he was not a Badli workman but a temporary workman. In spite of the evidence of Shri Ojha and Shri Vijoy Bahadur Singh, it must accordingly be held that the workman concerned was a temporary workman. On this the unproved endorsement on Ext. A throws a flood of light. The endorsement runs as follows:

> Trial taken. Appears satisfactory. He may be taken temporarily as a substitute fitter for three months."

Then there is an illegible signature, dated 11th June 1958. On the top of Ext. B also there is the writing in pencil "for three months." As these were not proved they cannot be taken into consideration and as the Company came out with the case both in its written statement and in its evidence adduced before me that Parameswar Singh was a Badli, this endorsement could not possibly have been falsely made by somebody on behalf of the Company at a later stage because in that case the Company would have come forward with the case that he was only a temporary workman. Any way, these endorsements in Exts. A and B have to be left out of account but even then the attendance cards produced by the workman Exts. 4, 4(1) and 4(2) conclusively prove that the workman was a temporary workman. Of course he continued in service not for three months only but for more than a year. That is the case of the workman and that is also admitted by the Company in its written statement and in its evidence. But that does not disprove the temporary character of his appointment or that he ceased to be a temporary workman. Even in Ext. 4(2) which is the attendance card for May 1959, as I have already said he is shown as a temporary workman. It is, therefore, clear that he was only a temporary workman and not a Badli workman.

The question now arises, what is the difference between a Badli workman and a temporary workman. A Badli workman, as defined in clause 2(d) of the Standing Orders, Ext. C, is a workman who is appointed in the post of a permanent workman or a probationer who is temporarily absent, whereas a temporary workman as defined in clause 2(e) is a workman engaged for work which is of an essentially temporary nature likely to be finished within a limited period. The similarity between these two categories of workmen is that both are employed for limited periods. In case of a Badli, the limits of the period of his employment are determined by the period of temporary absence of a permanent workman or a probationer, though this temporary period of his appointment may be extended by appointing him in another temporary vacancy caused by the temporary absence of a permanent workman or a probationer. In other words, when a Badli is appointed to work in the place of a permanent workman or a probationer during his temporary absence on leave, the period of his employment is limited by the period of the permanent worker's leave. It does not however necessarily mean that his employment will cease as soon as the permanent workman returns from leave. He may be employed as a Badli in another leave vacancy of a permanent workman or a probationer. In this way, the limited period of employment of a Badli workman is capable of indefinite extension. Similarly, in the case of a temporary workman, the period of his employment is limited by the temporary nature of the work for which he is employed. But that does not necessarily mean that his employment will cease immediately after the work for which he is initially appointed has been completed. If there is another temporary piece of work for which he may be deemed qualified he may be employed in that temporary job and in this way the temporary employment is also capable of indefinite extension. The difference between the two types of workmen is thus that a Badli can act only in the temporary leave vacancy of a permanent workman while a temporary workman can be employed only on work which is essentially of a temporary nature and likely to be finished within a limited period. The difference, therefore, between the two types of workmen lies in the difference between what constitute the limiting factors in their employment. There is also a similarity between the two types of workmen because both are employed for limited periods though these periods admit of almost indefinite extension.

As the workman was a temporary workman, the period of his employment was limited by the nature of the work. He had thus no claim on being made permanent even though he may have worked for more than 240 days continuously in a year. There is also nothing whatever in the Standing Orders to suggest that even a Badli workman or a temporary workman who has put in more than 240 days of continuous service in a year is entitled as a matter of right to be made permanent. The workman himself evidently knows nothing about it. The evidence on behalf of the Company is that a Badli, if he has put in 240 days, is entitled to a yellow card which means that he would be entitled to lay-off compensation. But Shri S. K. Ojha who stated this adds that this is meant only for Badli or substitute workmen. Shri Parameswar as a temporary workman would not be entitled to even a yellow card because the duration of his employment is limited by the nature of his work. When, therefore, Shri Parameswar Singh applied for being made permanent he had really no right to be made permanent. At the same time the Company also had no right to refuse employment him, if the work he was doing had not yet bee completed.

The next question, therefore, for decision whether the Company refused him employment terminated his employment. The evidence of th workman in his examination-in-chief is that he wa no longer in the employment of the Company an he has been refused work. He stated in Ext. B th he was entitled to get a permanent pass because h had worked for more than 240 days continuously i a permanent vacant place. In his next application Ext 2, dated 1st July 1959, he stated as follows.

> "Today, all on a sudden, I was denied wor by the department-in-charge Shri Ojha. He tol me that there is no work for me and if I nov resign, I may be taken back again in my job."

In his examination-in-chief apart from stating that h was denied work he did not say anything at all abou his application but in cross-examination he states a follows.

> "I made an application for making me a permanent workman and thereafter I was refused work. The Company never intimated to me in writing that no work would be given to me There has been no written communication to me from the Company intimating that my services have been terminated. The Company verbally told me that as I had prayed for making me a permanent worker, no work would be given to me. This was told to me verbally by Shri Ojha who was my departmental in-charge. Verbal communication from the Company was given to me also by Vijoy Babu, the Labour Officer Vijoy Babu told me to go to my departmental in-charge; then says he told me to come again and I went to him about 3|4 days thereafter. When on subsequent occasions, I visited Vijoy Babu, I used to wait for sometime and then Vijoy Babu used to tell me that he had not been able to do anything up till now, and that I should go again. My first visit to Vijoy Babu was on 26th June 1959 at about 9-30 a.m. On 26th June 1959 I went to my departmental in-charge Shri Ojha as I was asked by Vijoy Babu to approach him. When I approached Shri Ojha on 26th June 1959, he told me that he could not do anything, and I should better go to the Labour Officer, i.e., Vijoy Babu. I told him that Vijoy Babu had sent me to him but he said that nothing could be done. Subsequently to 26th June 1959 whenever I used to visit Vijoy Babu I used to see him at the Labour Office which is near the factory gate but I had no occasion to go to the department where I worked. It is not a fact that Vijoy Babu asked me to work as a Badli as I was doing before. It is not a fact that any officer of the Company asked me to work as a Badli as I was doing before."

As against this evidence of Shri Parameswar Singh there is on the side of the Company, the evidence of Shri Ojha and of Shri Vijoy Bahadur Singh. In his examination-in-chief, Shri Ojha states as follows:

> "In June 1959, Parameswar Singh did not approach me for any matter. Parameswar Singh was absenting himself without any leave. It was sometime in July 1959, one morning when I got a telephone call from the Factory Manager telling me that he had received a complaint from Shri Parameswar Singh alleging that he had been denied work on which I informed the Factory Manager that the allegations were absolutely incorrect; that he was absenting himself without information and he might be told to join duty as a Badli worker which he was. Sometime in the second week of July 1959 I received this telephonic communication in my own department."

Then he was shown Ext. 2 and he says that the allegations against him in Ext. 2 were false and it was not a fact that he asked Shri Parameswar Singh to resign from his service as was alleged in Ext. 2, and he says that he had no discussion with Parameswar Singh regarding his employment and non-employment. In his cross-examination he says hat nobody ever sent Parameswar Singh to him in he department in 1959 and he had no occasion to ee or talk to Parameswar Singh after the 1st July 1959. As he never reported for duty there was no occasion for him to tell him to continue in his work. He further says later on when the Factory Manager elephoned him and told him that the workman had alleged that he had been refused work he said over he telephone that the workman was not reporting for work and that the worker was absenting himself. But this he did not report in writing. He also epeats here that he told the Factory Manager that f Parameswar Singh wanted to work, he could continue as a Badli worker. Shri Vijoy Bahadur Singh in his examination-in-chief on this point states as follows:

"In July 1959, Parameswar Singh met me at my office. I do not remember the date. Parameswar Singh told me that he must get a permanent post and a permanent job. Up to that date he was not getting permanent work but was getting work as a Badli worker. I told Parameswar Singh that at the moment there was no vacant permanent post and as such he should work as a Badli worker and that when a permanent post became vacant his case would be considered. Thereafter he did not work as a Badli worker. In July 1959, I did not send him to departmental in-charge. By departmental in-charge I mean Mr. Ojha who is present in court."

In his cross-examination he states that he cannot say if Parameswar Singh was asked in writing to join his work, and there is no practice in their Company for informing a Badli workman in writing that he should join when he starts absenting himself, nor could he say without looking into the records if they wrote to Audhoo, Badli worker, that he should join within three days. The statements, therefore, of these witnesses Shri Ojha and Shri Vijoy Bahadur Singh go to show that there was actually no refusal on the part of the Company to employ Shri Parameswar Singh and according to them he merely absented himself so that according to them there is no question of the employers terminating his services.

On behalf of the workman Shri Arun Sen referred to the statement in paragraph 7 of the Company's written statement that the complainant was repeatedly asked by the departmental in-charge as well as by the Factory Manager to continue his employment as a Badli worker and he argued that this gave the lie direct to the statement of Shri Ojha. It is undoubtedly true that according to this part of the written statement of the Company Shri Ojha, the departmental in-charge repeatedly asked Shri Parameswar Singh to continue his employment as a Badli worker, although Shri Ojha states that he never asked him to do so because he never appeared before him after the 1st of July 1959. The allegation however in Ext. 2, dated 1st July 1959, is that on that very day he was refused employment by Shri Ojha who told him that there was no work for him and that if he then resigned, he might be taken in again in his job. Clearly then, according to Ext. 2 it is on the 1st of July 1959 that Shri Ojha is alleged to have told Shri Parameswar Singh that there was no work for him and if he resigned he might be taken in again. But in his cross-examination he states distinctly that he saw Vijoy Bahadur Singh on 26th June 1959 at about 9.9-30 a.m. and on 26th June 1959 he went to his departmental in-charge Shri Ojha as he was asked by Shri Vijoy Bahadur Singh to approach him and when he approached Shri Ojha on 26th June 1959, he told him that he could not do anything and that he should better go to the Labour Officer, i.e., Shri Vijoy Bahadur Singh and when Shri Parameswar Singh told him that Vijoy Babu had sent him to Shri Ojha, Shri Ojha said that nothing could be done. There is nothing in the evidence of Shri Parameswar Singh that he saw Shri Ojha after 26th June 1959, although he states that he saw Shri Vijoy Bahadur Singh even after 26th June 1959 and Shri Vijoy Bahadur Singh also says that he saw him in July 1959. There is thus between the statement made by Shri Parameswar Singh in Ext. 2, his letter to the Factory Manager and his evidence this difference that while in Ext. 2 he makes the positive statement that Shri Ojha refused him employment on 1st July 1959, in his cross-examination he makes the equally positive statement that is was on 26th June 1959. As a matter of fact in his application under section 33A in paragraph 5 also he says that he was refused employment from 1st July 1959 though in the application he does not clearly say who refused him employment. So there is a difference between the statement of Shri Parameswar Singh in his application under section 33A and that in Ext. 2. This together with evidence in cross-examination and his silence in his examination-in-chief would go to suggest that in all probability the case of Shri Parameswar Singh is not true. At the same time it must be said that in paragraph 7 of the written statement of the Company, the statement that Parameswar Singh was repeatedly asked by the departmental in-charge to continue in his employment as a Badli is contradicted by the statement of Shri Ojha himself and to that extent it seems probable that the Company also did not try to make out a true case. But then as there is no reliable evidence on the side of the workman to show that there was really any termination of his services by the employer, it is impossible to find as a fact that there was any such termination of his services by the Company in spite of the fact that the Company's statement in paragraph 7 of its written statement stands contradicted by Shri Ojha's evidence that he had no occasion on 1st July 1959 or after that to tell Parameswar Singh to continue to work as a Badli.

In this state of the evidence my award is that Shri Parameswar Singh was really employed in the Kesoram Cotton Mills for about a year as a temporary workman, that he started absenting himself sometime after having applied for being made permanent and that there was no termination of his services by the employer. As there was no termination of his services by the employer there is no question of the Company having contravened any of the provisions of section 33, so that the application under section 33A is not maintainable and the applicant is not entitled to any relief.

In conclusion I should like to add that the mere fact that the Company in its written statement as well as in its evidence consistently tried to make the case that the workman was a Badli although his attendance cards Exts. 4 to 4(2), issued by the Company itself, distinctly go to show that he was a temporary workman seems to suggest that there is a great deal of confusion in the mind of the management itself about the category to which a particular workman belongs and this confusion in the management regarding the category to which a workman belongs is likely to lead to worse confusion in the mind of the workman. I think the management should seriously look into this and devise ways and means for removing whatever causes its own confusion and the causes of misapprehension on the part of the workmen. Every workman has the right to know to what category he belongs when he is employed and if he is subsequently transferred to another category during the course of his employment, he has equally a right to know to which category he is transferred. It is essential that the workmen must have clear ideas as to their rights and obligations and it is the responsibility of the management to see that the workers are left in no uncertainty as to any of these matters.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing betw Messrs. Luxmi Narayan Cotton Mills L Rishra, Hooghly, and their workmen represen by the Luxmi Narayan Cotton Mills (No. Workers' Union, 49|A N. K. Banerjee Ro Rishra, Hooghly. (Case No. 378 of 1961.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribun

Present for the Company: Shri P. K. Sany Advocate.

Present for the Union: Shri P. P. Pathak, an offic of the Union.

The Government of West Bengal by its Order N 7508-I.R.|IR|8L-22(A)|61, dated the 2nd Decemb 1961, referred this industrial dispute concerning t dismissal of a workman to this Tribunal for adjuc cation.

Upon receipt of the said order, notices were issu upon the parties for appearance and for filing writt statements.

After the notices had been duly served, the worl men represented by the Luxmi Narayan Cotton Mil (No. 2) Workers' Union filed its written statemer on 22nd December 1961, duly signed and verified b the Secretary of the Union. It is alleged by th Union that the workman Shri Chitta Dutta, who ha been dismissed by the employer, was a Section Mistr of the Ring Frame Section in B shift, and that he ha put in 10 years of spotless service in this Mill. I is further alleged that Shri Dutta was an activ member of the Union. Acccording to the case c the Union, Shri Dutta was charge-sheeted on 29t May 1961 wherein certain baseless allegations ha been made against him. Shri Dutta submitted hi explanation denying the charge on 31st May 1961 After that the employer dismissed him from servic by a letter, dated the 5th June 1961. It is contende that the action of the employer was illegal, mala fid and against all principles of natural justice.

Messrs. Luxmi Narayan Cotton Mills Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) then filed their written objection on 6th March 1962. It is alleged by the Company that Shri Dutta had been found working against the interest of the Company for which the production of the Ring Frame Section was deliberately slowed down in the month of May 1961 and for that he had been warned on several occasions. In spite of such warnings, Shri Dutta did not give up the habit of slowing down production. Thereafter, on the 29th May 1961, the Manager himself, while on inspection, actually caught Shri Dutta in the act of slowing down production and for that he was charge-sheeted. Shri Dutta submitted his explanation. But in the explanation he refrained from explaining the circumstances alleged against him from which it appeared that he had no case to defend himself. In the circumstances, the management found it useless to hold any departmental enquiry, and they dismissed Shri Dutta.

The case came up for hearing on 1st September 1962. From the side of the Union the workman concerned, viz., Shri Chitta Dutta, was examined, and the Company examined Shri F. C. Burmanray, the Manager of the Company. Besides, some documents were proved by the parties in support of their case. After the conclusion of evidence, the learned representatives of the parties advanced arguments in support of their respective contentions.

The simple case here is, whether the dismissal of Shri Chitta Dutta was justified. It appears from the evidence that Shri Chitta Dutta was the Section Mistry in the Ring Frame Section in the B shift. He had put in 10 years of service in this Mill. Shri Dutta in his deposition stated that he had a spotless record of service in the Mill, and at no time before he had received any warning or any punishment from the employer for any act of omission or commission on his part in the discharge of his duties.

Admittedly, Shri Dutta had been charge-sheeted on 29th May 1961. The facts constituting the charge are given in the charge-sheet marked as Ext. 1 in this case. It was alleged therein that the production of the Ring Frame Section had gone down considerably for the last few days, and that was due to the negligence on the part of Shri Dutta for keeping the frames intentionally running at half speed. It was further alleged that doffs were taken out with half to three-fourth of full bobbins. It was also alleged that some of the ring frames were found to be running at half speed at 11-15 a.m. causing less production and bad quality of yarns. The workman concerned was placed under suspension from the time of receipt of the charge-sheet till the disposal of the case. There is no controversy on the point that the workman concerned duly submitted his written explanation in which he asserted that the allegations were absolutely without any foundation, and that he would be able to prove his complete innocence in any open enquiry held by the management (vide Ext. 2). Admittedly, the management did not hold any departmental enquiry giving opportunity to the workman concerned for his defence. It is alleged by the Company that the workman refrained from explaining the circumstances alleged against him, and that was one of the reasons for not holding a departmental enquiry. The explanation submitted by the workman concerned indicates that he completely denied the charges. At the same time he wanted that an open enquiry be made so that he could prove his innocence. I do not think that the explanation submitted by the workman concerned was not sufficient denial of the charges levelled against him. It is not at all clear to me what further details the management could expect in his explanation when he had categorically stated that the allegations levelled against him were absolutely without any foundation.

There is no doubt that the employer has got the right to dismiss a workman in a proper case on justifiable grounds. But when a dispute arises on the question of dismissal of a workman, the Tribunal has got to examine if the workman had been rightly dismissed. The Tribunal can interfere in a case where there was no fair enquiry, and where there had been violation of the principle of natural justice. In a case where a workman stands dismissed by the employer, without any departmental enquiry, it becomes necessary for the Tribunal to examine the evidence adduced before it by the parties to see if the charge levelled against the workman can be substantiated by evidence. The dismissal of a workman cannot, at once, be said to be unjustified, simply because of the fact that a departmental enquiry had not been held. The onus is upon the employer to prove by evidence before the Tribunal that the charge against the workman had been correctly made, and that there being no defence from the side of the workman, the action of dismissal had been taken. Let me now examine the evidence adduced by the Company to prove the charge. Shri Burmanray, the Manager, said that he went to the Mill at 11-15 a.m. and found some of the ring frames running at half speed resulting in lesser production and bad quality of yarns. It appears from his evidence that he found eight ring frames out of 53 running at lesser speed. There is, however, no evidence adduced before me to show that there was bad quality of yarns produced on that particular day, i.e., 29th May 1961. The Company produced the production chart for the months of May and June 1961. It appears from that chart (Ext. A) that the production was found to be 4,230 on 29th May 1961 in the B shift. Such quantity of products is very much similar to the production obtained from the B shift from the 1st June to 6th June 1961. The Company alleged in the written statement that after the suspension of Shri Dutta production had improved. It is true that the average production received in the month of June was a bit higher compared to the production in May; but there is a divergence in production from day to day. It follows, therefore, that there is no standard rate of production to be obtained.

In the charge-sheet it was stated that production had gone down for the last few days prior to the issue of the charge-sheet and that Shri Dutta, the Section Mistry, had been directed to stop the practice of running frames at half speed. The Manager said before me that he had firmly warned Shri Dutta on the 26th May and on another day also two or three days before that. There is no mention in the charge-sheet about those dates. Besides, the Production Chart (Ex. A) does not show that there had been unusual low production on the 26th May or two or three days before that. Besides, there was no written warning issued to the workman on those days. For the incident of the 29th May the facts constituting the charge related to the running of a few of the ring frames at half speed. The Manager in his deposition could not satisfactorily show to what extent Shri Dutta was at all responsible in the matter of running of a few of the ring frames at half speed. Presumably, there are Supervisors and other officers above to manage and control the works done by the subordinate workmen. The Company did not examine any of the Supervisory staff of the Spinning Section. The whole case of the employer is placed on the assertion that the Manager himself found some of the ring frames running at half speed, and that when the Manager himself found such act of misconduct on the part of Shri Dutta there was no necessity for holding any enquiry. The statement of the Manager before me was sought to be supported by the Production Register. But the evidence as adduced by the Company before me does not establish that the workman concerned deliberately or intentionally took recourse to such a practice with a view to cause loss to the management by lowering down production.

Hence, upon consideration of the facts, I hold that the management proceeded in hot haste and that there was no reason for not holding any departmental enquiry and that the charges against the workman are not worthy of reliance. I find, accordingly, that the dismissal of Shri Chitta Dutta was unjustified. In the result, I direct that the workman be reinstated in his former post. The entire period from the date of dismissal till his reinstatement should be treated as leave without pay. Considering the circumstances of the case, I do not give any compensation to t workman for the period of his unemployment.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND AND LAND REVENUE

Land Acquisition

NOTIFICATIONS

24-Parganas. — No. 12494L.A. — 26th September 962.—The following agreement is published under ection 42 of the Land Acquisition Act, I of 1894 or general information:—

AGREEMENT

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT made this 7th day of September 1962 BETWEEN RAMAKRISHNA MISSION a Society registered under he Societies' Registration Act XXI of 1860 nd having its registered office at the Belur Math in the district of Howrah (hereinafter called the "Society") of the One Part And the GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF THE West Bengal (hereinafter called the Governor) of the other part.

WHEREAS for the purpose of the construction of buildings for extension of Students' Home of the Ramakrishna Mission at Belghoria in the District of 24-Parganas the Society has applied to the Government of West Bengal for the acquisition under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act 1894, of the piece or parcel of land containing 0.26 of an acre or thereabout situate in the village of Belghoria in the district of 24-Parganas and more particularly described in the schedule hereto and delineated in the *plan hereunto annexed.

AND WHEREAS the said Government of West Bengal being satisfied by an enquiry held under section 40 of the said Act that the proposed acquisition is needed for the aforesaid purpose and that the said work is likely to prove useful to the public, has consented to acquire on behalf of the Society the piece or parcel of land hereinbefore described.

AND WHEREAS the said Government of West Bengal has required the Society under the provisions of section 41 of the abovementioned Act to enter into the agreement with the Governor hereinafter contained. NOW THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH that it is hereby agreed and declared as follows:—

1. On demand the Society shall and will pay to the said Government of West Bengal all and every compensation in respect of the said land tendered, paid or awarded or to be tendered, paid or awarded by the Collector under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, or by Court to which a reference under Part III of the said Act may be made, or by the Court or Courts to which an appeal from the award of the said Court may be preferred and all costs, charges and expenses of the proceedings in the aforesaid Courts, or otherwise incidental to the proposed acquisition or payable in respect thereof under the provisions of the said Act.

2. On demand made by the said Collector the obligations of the Society under the last preceding clause, not being thereby limited, the Society shall and will deposit with the said Collector such sum or sums of money as in his discretion the said Collector may in anticipation estimate to be necessary for the purposes mentioned in the last preceding clause.

3. On payment by the Society of all demands under the foregoing first clause, or, in the discretion of the said Government of West Bengal (on deposit by the Society of all estimated amounts as provided in the second clause), but not before possession shall have been taken under the provisions of the abovementioned Act, the Government shall make over possession of the said land to the Society and shall execute and do all such acts and deeds as may be necessary and proper for effectually vesting the same in the Society.

4. The said land shall be held by the Society for the purposes of the construction of buildings for extension of Students' Home of the Ramakrishna Mission as is hereinbefore mentioned and without the sanction in writing of the said Government of West Bengal first had and obtained for no other purpose whatsoever.

5. The said construction of buildings for extension of Students' Home of the Ramakrishna Mission shall be completed and fully equipped in all respects ready for use within two years from the date on which possession of the said land shall have been given to the Society.

6. Should the said construction work not be completed and fully equipped in all respects ready for use within the period stated in the last preceding clause or within such further period as in its discretion may be prescribed or allowed by the said Government of West Bengal or should the said land at any time thereafter cease for a period of twelve consecutive months, to be held and used or cease to be required for the purpose or purposes provided for in the foregoing fourth clause then and in any such case, the said Government may summarily re-enter upon and take possession of the said land together with all buildings thereon, whether such buildings were erected before or after transfer of the land to the Society, and thereupon the interest of the Society in the said land and buildings shall absolutely cease and determine.

7. On taking such possession the said Government may sell or otherwise deal with the said land and buildings as it may think porper.

(i) Should the said Government sell the land with the buildings the said Government after deducting the expenses incurred in connection with the said taking of possession and with such sale shall pay the proceeds to the Society.

(ii) Should the said Government decide not to sell the land and buildings, the said Government shall retain the said land and buildings thereon in which case the Governor shall repay to the Society the market value as on the day of re-entry of all the buildings erected by the Society and all sums received from the Society in respect of all and every compensation as provided in the foregoing first clause (less the statutory allowance of 15 per cent. and less any amount received on account of trees and buildings which are not in existence at the time of resumption), but will not repay any sums paid and received on account of costs, charges and expenses.

*Not printed but may be inspected in the office of the Special Land Acquisition Officer, Alipore, 24-Parganas.

(iii) Should the said Government decide to sell the buildings only upon such sale, the Governor shall, after deducting the expenses of taking possession and selling, pay the balance of the proceeds of sale to the Society, together with the sum received from the Society in respect of the compensation for the land (less the statutory allowance of 15 per cent. and less any amount received from the Society on account of trees and buildings which are not in existence at the time of resumption), but will not repay any sum paid and received on account of costs, charges and expenses.

8. The public shall be entitled to use the land and buildings of the Students' Home of the Society subject to and according to the rules and regulations of the said Society that may be made from time to time in that behalf.

9. Should any dispute or difference arise touching or concerning the subject matter of this agreement or any covenant clause or thing herein contained in the same shall be referred to the said Government of West Bengal and the opinion and decision of the said Government upon such dispute or difference shall be final and conclusive and binding on the parties hereto.

No. TM/843.—17th October 1962.—Insert the following as a new paragraph below the existing para. 67:—

"67A. A mere change in the name of a bank does not ordinarily necessitate the execution of a fresh bond of Indemnity by it under the new name. In the case of an amalgamation of two or more banks under a new name, there is normally a transferee bank to which the rights and liabilities of the transferor institutions are made over. The identity of this transferee institution continues to be unchanged and the mere fact that it has changed or proposes to change its name does not invalidate any contracts, including bonds of indemnity which it might have executed in the past or which it might have inherited in terms of agreement of transfer or amalgamation from the transferor banks.

ORDERS

No. 4466-I.R.|IR|11L-86(B)|61.—1st October 1962.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 1234-I.R.|IR|11L-86(B)|61, dated the 15th March 1961, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Pioneer Match Factory, 11 Sovaram Bosack Street, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Pioneer Match Factory Mazdur Union, 22|1 Kali Charan Ghosh Road, Calcutta-2, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the third schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Pioneer Match Factory, 11 Sovaram Bosack Street, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Pioneer Match Factory Mazdur Union, 22|1 Kali Charan Ghosh Road, Calcutta-2. (Case No. VIII-105|61.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri N. B. CHAUDHURI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri J. R. Jain, Labour Adviser.

For the Union: Shri Sunil Dhar, Advocate, and Shri Matish Ray, President of the Union.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 1234-I.R.|IR|11L-86(B)|61, dated 15th March 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Pioneer Match Factory, 11 Sovaram Bosack Street, Calcutta-7 (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Pioneer Match Factory Mazdur Union, 22|1 Kali Charan Ghosh Road, Calcutta-2 (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issues referred to this Tribunal for adjudication are as follows:

1. Minimum wages.
2. Leave facilities.

AWARD

Both the parties have filed their respective written statements in the matter of subject matter of the two issues mentioned above. I need not mention at this stage what is the specific or detailed case of either of the parties on the points at issue. It will be discussed at length while I shall deal with and consider the merit of the issues. It will be sufficient for the present to say in brief that according to the workmen the wages actually paid to the workmen by the present Company, a prosperous industrial concern, are very low and fall much below the standard of minimum wages in view of the enormous rise in the cost of living index during the last decade. It is also urged that the leave facilities allowed to the workmen are not fair or sufficient.

On the other hand, the Company's case is that the economic condition of the Company has been very bad all along and from before the last decade. It denies that the wages paid are below the standard of minimum wages in any case considered in the light of attendant circumstances. It is also alleged that the leave facilities granted are neither less nor unreasonable if viewed in their proper perspectives and in the light of its peculiar circumstances.

For convenience of discussion alone, I take up issue No. 2 first. The issue referred to this Tribunal has been framed in the following words "Leave facilities." The parties differ as to the scope of this issue. According to the Union, the words "leave facilities" include statutory leave, sick leave, casual leave and the yearly festival leave (vide page 5 of the Union's written statement). The Company, on the other hand, contends in its written statement that the demand for festival leave is nothing but a demand for festival holidays. It is urged that the order of reference says nothing about holidays, and so the demand for festival holidays is beyond the scope of present reference or adjudication. It is the definite case of the Company that festival holidays cannot be brought under the category of leave facilities, because while the former implies total closure of work for all workmen, the latter implies absence of particular workman only with permission without involving total suspension of work of the factory. In support of their contention, the Company places reliance on a decision of the Supreme Court in a case between D.C.M. Chemical Works and its workmen reported in 1962 I L.L.J., 388. I think, in view of the said authoritative decision of the Hon'ble Court, the dispute has been set at rest finally. I entirely agree that holidays are different from leave facilities and in view of the language of the present order of reference, festival holidays are beyond the scope of present adjudication. The Hon'ble Court categorically lays down in the above decision:

> "Holidays are entirely different from leave facilities. On a holiday the entire business is closed and no one works while leave facilities deal with leave for individual workers while that business as a whole is running. We may, in this connection, refer to item 4 of Schedule III to the Industrial Disputes Act (14 of 1947) which is in these terms: 'Leave with wages and holidays'. This shows that holidays stand on a different footing altogether from leave with wages and a reference with respect to leave facilities cannot include a consideration of holidays."

So, I leave the matter of festival holidays out of consideration in the present case. Next, I am to consider the matter of casual leave and sick leave claimed by the workmen before this Tribunal. In this connection, I may refer to Ext. A, a copy of the charter of demands, which gave rise to the present dispute and led to the present reference. Peculiarly enough, in the charter of demands, no claim for sick leave or casual leave was advanced by the Union. But nevertheless the fact remains that the order of reference refers the issue of "leave facilities" to this Tribunal. It is conceded by both the parties that at present the statutory leave in accordance with the Factories Act is being made available to the workmen. The present match factory also is governed by the provisions of the Factories Act and so there is no doubt that the leave provided by the Act must be made available to the workers under conditions and circumstances laid down in the Act. There was an award also by a local Tribunal on the 8th of September 1950 (published in the "Calcutta Gazette," dated 28th September 1950) in the matter of leave for the workmen of this very Company and it was directed by the learned Tribunal that "in addition to the statutory leave there should be 15 days' sick or casual leave on pay." In this award, the sick leave and casual leave were inextricably mixed, and to me it appears that there should be separate and specific provisions for either or both. According to the Union, the workers concerned should get 15 days' sick leave in a year with full wages till Employees State Insurance Scheme covers this factory. They claim 15 days' casual leave also with pay in each year. The Company's partner, Shri B. G. Benani, swears that they have been contributing to the Employees' State Insurance Corporation. But there is no evidence to prove that the benefits of the Employees State Insurance Scheme have been actually extended to the workers of this Company in the meantime. So, considering all the circumstances, I direct that the employees of this Company should get 10 days' sick leave and one week's casual leave on full average wages in addition to the statutory leave under the Factories Act. The average wages will be calculated on wages earned by the worker concerned in his 30 working days just before the period of his leave. As regards casual leave, the Management will grant the same on grounds considered sufficient by it. The sick leave as above will be so available until the time when the Employees State Insurance Scheme is extended to this factory. The issue is decided as above.

In the present reference, this Tribunal is required to fix the rate of minimum wages for the workmen of this Company. In the present concern, admittedly there are daily-rated, monthly-rated and piece-rated workers. The workmen desire that the system of piece-rate wages should be abolished and daily-rate system should be introduced for the piece-rated workers. But in the reference, I am not required to consider the abolition of the piece-rate system. Exhibit B rather shows that the Government had no intention to refer the matter of abolition of piece-rate system to this Tribunal. So, I am really concerned with the fixation of minimum wages only. The Union thinks that the workers should be subdivided into three categories, viz., unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled. But the Company's evidence is that the workers of this factory were never categorised as above. So, the question arises whether the workmen should at all be categorised like this now for the purpose of fixation of minimum wages. In the match factory besides manual work at certain stages in the process of manufacture of match boxes, there are certain automatic machines which automatically do some part of the manufacturing work when the machines are properly fed with necessary materials. In big match factories like Isavi of which the Union speaks so much for wage structure, etc., there are automatic machines for some other works or jobs also which are done in this Company by hands. Isavi factory is undoubtedly a much bigger one, highly mechanised and more up to date, and the outturn also is much bigger and the cost of production is also less comparatively. So, these two units can be and must be compared with due caution and in the light of attending circumstances. It is also clear from the award of 1950 referred to above that in such match factory "more hands are required but less toil and skill." It may no doubt be a fact that experience and practice of the worker facilitate work and help speedy and bigger outturn But generally speaking, there is no much complicacy in the jobs themselves. There are no doubt mistries and other kinds of workmen who get higher wages in consideration of their special nature of duty or bigger experience and skill if any. There are several departments no doubt in the factory, but these departments and classification are based not on their comparative skill but with reference to different stages in the process of manufacture—the jobs themselves being more or less routine jobs only of different stages. In the previous adjudication also such categorisation was demanded, but not conceded. In these circumstances, I do not think it will be advisable to introduce a categorisation of workers into unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled—simply for the purpose of fixing minimum wages. If the minimum be fixed and fitted in the existing wage structure with necessary modifications, if any, of the wage structure above, the minimum level, I think, there will not be any difficulty. So, I do not think that this is a fit case where time-rated incremental wage structure should be introduced or fixed in fixing the minimum wages only. From the award referred to above and also from the different balance-sheets read with profit and loss account of this Company, it appears that the economic condition of this concern does not warrant fixation of time-rated incremental scales of wages. In fact, the issue as framed also shows that such fixation is not within the scope of the present reference. All that I am required to do is to fix up the minimum wages and incidentally fit and adjust the same with the existing wage structure.

It is contended on behalf of the Company that the minimum wages should be fixed for the time-rate workers alone, because piece rates cannot be converted into time rates, and that there is no sufficient reason for modification of piece rates also. Though the charter of demands (Ext. A) does not speak of piece rate minimum specifically and separately, I see no reason why the minimum of piece rates also cannot be considered in order to see if the minimum wages earned by the piece-rate workers satisfy the standard of minimum wages. In the charter of demands, the Union claimed that the minimum total wages of a male worker per day should not be less than Rs 2 and those of the female workers Rs. 1.50 nP. While at present the public opinion appears to be that we should strive to secure Rs. 100 at least as minimum monthly wages of a worker, I think, there is nothing unreasonable in the demand of the workmen in their charter of demands (Ext. A). Of course, it is now contended that the cost of living index has since gone further up and this increased cost also should be neutralised in fixing the minimum. On the other hand, it may also be a fact that the Company is not in affluent circumstances, and the evidence is that it is suffering losses almost every year during the last two decades. The factory remained closed also for about a year 8|9 years back for pecuniary difficulties. But it is also peculiar how the Company—a partnership concern only—is running its business for all these years apparently without earning more or less any profit whatsoever, and this may look suspicious to many. Be that as it may, I must nevertheless observe that the Company must secure bare minimum wages at least to its employees irrespective of the question of profit or capacity. In the award of 1950, referred to above, certain piece rates were fixed for different jobs. But though more than a decade has passed since then and the cost of living index has gone up considerably in the meantime, the Company is paying even now in many cases piece rates which are comparatively much lower than those fixed as early as in 1950. The present rates for frame filling, box filling, 1st box arranging, stick selecting, bottom selecting, bottom forma, D.S.A., etc., are actually lower than the rates fixed by the Tribunal in 1950. In a country where supply of labour is much in excess of its demand in the labour market, it is not at all difficult for the employers to employ labour at a rate which does not give even the bare subsistence to the workers. So, a certain reasonable minimum of wages must be insisted in all cases of employment. So, considering the circumstances of the case and also the financial capacity of the Company, I think the rates of wages or earnings of male workers should not fall below Rs. 2 and those of female Rs. 1.50 nP. and the piece rates also should be fixed with an eye to such minimum earnings. Exhibit C-2 will show the present rate of daily wages and I am afraid the wages paid do not satisfy the minimum standard in most cases. In Ext. D the Company tries to show the highest earnings of piece-rated workers of different departments. The Company evidently does not show what is the minimum earning of the worker of these departments for ovious reasons. But unfortunately even the highest earning also of several departments do not satisfy the minimum standard laid down above. So, I think, the piece rates also require revision for securing minimum wages. I am fully conscious of the fact that piece rates should be fixed as far as possible correctly after proper investigation by experts in the line, because to err in either direction in this respect is harmful for the industry and often becomes a source of constant friction between the labour and the Management. So, lately different improved methods are being applied in remunerating the labour. In some cases, a combined method of time rate and piece rate is being applied instead of simple piece rate or piece work. Anyway, in fixing minimum wages in the present case I am unable to overhaul the entire piece-rate system, specially in the absence of proper material for the purpose. Though not an expert in time and motion study for fixation of piece rates, I feel constrained to say that some revision of piece rates has become essential in this case for doing minimum justice to the piece-rated workers. Exhibit D shows that the average highest income per diem of several departments does not satisfy the reasonable or fair minimum wages standard, nay in some cases even bare minimum wages. Box filling department gives less than the minimum desirable wages. So also the case with dozen packing department, second box arranging department, outer selecting department, bottom selecting department and D.S.A. department. So, after due consideration of rates fixed in 1950, the existing rates as well as the present actual earning of the workers of the different departments and also the present economic condition of the Company, I fix the following rates for certain departments in partial modification of the rates existing at present. The departments not mentioned below will continue to have the piece rates as before.

Outer Pasting	..	23 nP. per dala.
Box filling	..	09 nP. per gross.
Dozen packing	..	Rs. 2.75 nP. per 100 dalas.
First box arranging	..	Re. 1 per 100 dalas.
Second box arranging	..	88 nP. per 100 dalas.
Outer selecting	..	25 nP. per dala.
Bottom Selecting	..	06 nP. per dala.
D.S.A. ..	..	07 nP. per dala.
Inner Forma	..	Rs. 3.25 nP. per 100 forma.
Outer Forma	..	Rs. 6.50 nP. per 100 forma.
Bottom Forma	..	Rs. 2.50 nP. per 100 forma.

Thus in conclusion I hold that the piece rates of different departments will be as found above. As regards daily-rated workers, the daily wages shall not be less than Rs. 2 in case of males and less than Rs. 1.50 nP. in case of females. Similarly, in case of monthly-rated workers, the minimum monthly wages shall be Rs. 60. In fitting the above time-rated workers in the existing scales, I further direct that persons already getting Rs. 60 or Rs. 61 per month shall get Rs. 62 at least when this award comes into effect. Similarly daily-rated male workers already getting Rs. 1.90 nP. to Rs. 2 per diem shall get Rs. 2.12 nP. per diem. Daily-rated female workers already getting Rs. 1.40 nP. to Rs. 1.50 nP. per diem will get Rs. 1.60 nP. in future. As regards workers getting wages at higher rates, the Management will be free to consider equities, if any, in respect of them and adjust the same according to their discretion. These rates will be given effect to within a month of the publication of this award. I see no reason for giving effect to the same retrospectively as prayed for.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri M. Saha, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri B. Ash, Advocate.

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 1453-I.R.|IR|10L-19(B)|62, dated 25th April 1962.

Issue

Is the discharge of Sarvashri Kissen Tewari and Ramnath Tewari justified? What, relief, if any, are they entitled to?

AWARD

The relevant case of the Union put forward in the written statement filed on behalf of the concerned workers is briefly as follows:

Messrs. R. G. Thakur is a Contractor under Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co., Ltd., Burnpur, carrying on business for a considerable period with a more or less constant labour force. The two concerned workmen were employed under this firm. They were prominent and active members of the concerned Union. The employer did not like the Union activities of these workers and so these workers were discharged arbitrarily and without any notice or assigning any reason. They were thus victimised. As their discharge was absolutely illegal, high-handed and mala fide and amounted to unfair labour practice, they are entitled to be to their services under the firm and to be paid all back wages for the idle period.

The firm Messrs. R. G. Thakur has put forward the following relevant case in its written statement. It is a Contractor of Messrs. Indian Iron and Steel Co. Ltd., for about 12 years. The contracts are made on tenders. Each contract is for a short period ranging from one month to six months and is terminable at the option of the principal Company without assigning any reason. The work done by this contractor is supply of water to the pump house by chanelling water from the river Damodar. The workers employed by the Contractor firm are all casual workers on no work no pay basis. This firm has or had no knowledge about the two concerned workers being members of the Union and of their alleged Union activities. The firm never took exception to the alleged Union activities of the two concerned workers and never victimised them for such activities. The two concerned workers were never discharged by the firm at all as alleged. The concerned worker Shri Kissen Tewari was employed under this firm since April 1958 on a pay of Rs. 65 per month on no work no pay basis and he voluntarily left the service of the firm for better prospects after collecting all his dues in full up to and inclusive of 1st March 1961. The other concerned worker Shri Ramnath Tewari was employed under this firm since 13th November 1960 with periodical breaks and unauthorised absences on daily wages of Rs. 1.75 nP. and he voluntarily left the service of this firm for better prospects on 21st April 1961 after collecting all his dues up to that date in full. After voluntarily leaving their services under this firm, the two workers took up employment under a rival Contractor of the locality, Shri G. C. Thakur, and they have been still working under this Contractor. As there was no discharge of these two workers by this firm, there could be no question of the firm's having acted illegally, arbitrarily and high-handedly with any mala fide or ulterior motive and by way of victimisation in regard to the termination of their employment The concerned workers are, therefore, not entitled to any relief.

The crucial question for decision would be whether these workers were employed as casual workers on no work no pay basis and whether they were discharged by the firm or they left the firm's service voluntarily after collecting all the dues up to 1st March 1961, in the case of Shri Kissen Tewari and 21st April 1961 in the case of Shri Ramnath Tewari

The evidence produced before this Tribunal discloses that this firm is working as a Contractor for river side works, under Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Company and its contracts are for short periods with renewals one after another since 1955. O.P 1, Shri Radha Gobinda Thakur is the Proprietor this firm. He has given evidence to this effect a he is fully supported in this respect by Ext. C, latest renewed contracts for a period of three mon from July 1962 to September 1962. The evide further discloses that there are a few such other ri side Contractors under Messrs. Indian Iron & St Co. Ltd. The position, therefore, is that this fi works under periodical contracts for short perio and renewal of the contract, after the expiry of c period, is at the option of the principal Company, but the renewal is generally made without break and in this manner, this firm has been working since its first contract made in 1955. The basic fact, however, is that this firm is working under purely periodical contracts for short periods. It is, therefore, working not under a permanent contract or a long term contract but it is working under precarious contracts for short periods. Shri R. G. Thakur, the Proprietor of the firm, said that he has no permanent labour force and it is not possible for him to maintain any permanent labour force. His evidence appears to me to be in full consonance with the nature of the contracts under which he is working. It is significant to note in this connection that under an award made by Shri S. N. Guha Roy, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal, in a comprehensive dispute between the Contractors employed by Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. and their workmen represented by several Unions including the present concerned Union, it was held that the labour employed by the Contractors was of a casual nature. The following finding was recorded in this award: "It is obvious from this evidence of P. C. Bose, as well as from issue No. 9 itself, that the labour employed by the Contractors is of casual nature and that the workmen of the Contractors go away during the cultivation and the harvesting seasons and some of them absent themselves for an indefinite period." (Vide award published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 17th August 1961, at page 2949—Ext. D.) From the nature of the evidence produced in the present case on this point, I am also of the same view and I hold that the labourers of this Contractor firm are all casual workers employed on "no work no pay" basis. The evidence is of course wholly oral. On the one side there is the oral evidence of the two concerned workers, Shri Kissen Tewari (P.W. 2) and Shri Ramnath Tewari (P.W. 3) and on the other side there is the evidence of Shri R. G. Thakur, the Contractor himself and the Proprietor of the firm. P.W. 1 Shri Kalyan Roy is the General Secretary of the concerned Union. He has said that the contract work for which these two workers were employed is a permanent one. I have rejected this position and hold that the real nature of the contract is not permanent but precarious. The Union Secretary is not certainly competent to speak about the permanency or otherwise of the workers and he has not specifically said anything on this point. P.W. 2 Shri Kissen Tewari has admitted in his evidence that he did not get any wages when he was on leave and P.W. 3 Shri Ramnath Tewari has admitted that he did not get any wages when he was absent from work. Ext. F, the Wages Register, goes to show that the wages are paid only for the days of work. On a consideration of the above facts and circumstances I hold that the workers employed under this Contractor firm for this contract work including the two concerned workers are casual workers and they are employed on no work no pay basis.

I now come to the disputed question whether these workmen were discharged by the firm or they voluntarily relinquished their services under this firm. No letter of discharge or dismissal was issued. This is an admitted position. It appears from the Wages Register that Shri Kissen Tewari worked up to 1st March 1961 and drew all his due wages up to that date. Ext. A is the admitted signature of Shri Kissen Tewari against the entry in his name for the month of February, showing that he not only drew his wages for the working days of February but also for one day of March 1961 and he drew in all Rs. 62.46 nP., Rs. 60.37 for the working days of February and Rs. 2.09 nP. for one day of March 1961. This manner of drawing wages for a full month and one day of the next month is very significant and it certainly supports the position taken up by the firm that he drew all his due wages up to 1st March 1961 because he left work under this Contractor on that date. The other concerned worker Shri Ramnath Tewari admittedly worked on daily wages of Rs. 1.75 nP. He has clearly admitted that he took all his due wages up to 21st April 1961. This admission is very significant and it certainly supports the firm's case that he voluntarily relinquished his service under this firm after 21st April 1961. Ordinarily, a worker would not certainly draw his wages for a broken period of a month. I do not believe the explanation of Shri Ramnath Tewari that Thakur Babu himself discharged him on 21st April 1961, after paying his due wages up to that date. Considering the entire evidence of this point, I accept the firm's case that this worker also voluntarily relinquished his service under this firm after 21st April 1961 and he took all his due wages up to that date. The Contractor himself Shri R. G. Thakur has definitely sworn that after leaving their services under him, these two workers are working under another such river side Contractor, Messrs. G. C. Thakur. I have been impressed by his oath and I see no reason to disbelieve him. Accordingly I hold, after consideration of the entire evidence as discussed above, that these two workers voluntarily relinquished their casual and temporary services under this firm, Shri Kissen Tewari on 1st March 1961 and Shri Ramnath Tewari on 21st April 1961, after amicably taking all their due wages up to those days and the firm never discharged or dismissed them. I am not also satisfied upon the evidence that there was any sufficient or cogent reason for this Contractor to have arbitrarily discharged or dismissed these workers with a mala fide or ulterior motive by way of victimisation. These workers may be members of the Union, but there is no satisfactory or reliable evidence to prove that they were very prominent or active members of the Union and they conducted themselves in their Union activities in such a manner that the Contractor got displeased with them. P.W. 2 Shri Kissen Tewari has stated that he used to collect subscriptions from the Union members and this antagonised the Contractor against him. I am unable to believe the uncorroborated and interested oral testimony of Shri Kissen Tewari on this point. P.W. 3 Shri Ramnath Tewari, the other concerned worker, has not said a word about his Union activities. He has said that he is only a member of the Union, known as "Action Union." P.W. 1 Shri Kalyan Roy, the General Secretary of the concerned Union, has not said a word in his evidence to the effect that these workers are prominent and active members and promoters of the Union and they incurred displeasure of the Contractor for their Union activities. He has not said a word about any prominent Union activity of any of these workers. This being the position of the evidence regarding the alleged Union activities of the concerned workers, which is said to be the reason for their arbitrary and wrongful discharge by the Contractor, I hold that it has not been proved that the Contractor discharged these two workers for their Union activities by way of victimisation.

On the findings and for the reasons recorded above, I finally hold that these two concerned workers who were casual workers on 'no work no pay' basis voluntarily relinquished their services under this Contractor, as alleged by the Contractor, after taking all their due wages for the full period of their active services, and the Contractor never discharged them for their Union activities with a mala fide motive by way of victimisation. They are, therefore, not entitled to any relief by way of reinstatement or back wages. I decide the issue and award accordingly.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. India Electric Works Ltd., Diamond Harbour Road, Calcutta-34, and their workmen of the city office at 31 Dharamtala Street, Calcutta, represented by the India Electric Works Employees' Association, 56|B Neogipukur Lane, Calcutta-14. BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:
Shri P. C. PAL, Judge.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri S. R. Singh, Labour Officer of the Engineering Association of India.

For the Union: Shri N. R. Roy, Advocate.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 5418-I.R.|IR|10L-178|61, dated the 7th September 1961, for determination of the issues named below.

Issues

1. Production bonus to the mistries and mazdoors attached to the city office of the Company.

2. Annual increment in wages to the following workmen of the city office:

(a) Shri S. C. Dhole.
(b) Shri R. L. Lalvani.
(c) Shri I. P. Muhuri.
(d) Shri B. K. Ghosh.

In the written statement of the Union the following case is made out: The Company is very old and prosperous, having its factory at Behala and city office in the town of Calcutta. The jobs of the workmen of different categories required to work in the city office are connected with the production of the Company, and the personnel posted in the city office includes inter alia the categories of salesmen, mistries and mazdoors. The services of the workmen are transferable from the city office to the factory and vice versa. The Company has a production bonus scheme, but discrimination is made in applying the scheme. The mistries and mazdoors at the Behala office and factory are given production bonus, but those at the city office are most unreasonably and unjustifiably denied this benefit. The four salesmen attached to the city office are monthly-paid workmen but unfortunately there is no incremental scale for them and their wages have not been fixed on any scientific basis. All of them are originally appointed as clerks, and at present they are doing the job of salesmen at the city office. In all fairness they should be granted regular annual increment at the rate of Rs. 20 with retrospective effect.

The Company's case, according to its written statement, is briefly this. The Company is no doubt old but, owing to keen competition with other large units of the industry, the financial position of the Company gradually deteriorated and became unsound so much so that in June 1960 the Company could not even pay wages to its workmen. As a result, the India Government took over the management and control of the Company under Industries. Development (Regulation) Act with effect from the 12th July of 1960.

The scheme of production bonus was introduced from July 1959 in the Behala factory under an agreement of 1st July 1959, the scheme being applicable to the workmen employed in the fan section and being meant for a temporary period of three months. The agreement was extended till and of July 1960 by another agreement, dated the 26th October 1959. Under the latter agreement production bonus was all along payable only to the workers engaged directly or indirectly in the manufacture of all types and varieties of complete fans, not to workmen of other categories. The mistries and mazdoors attached to the city office are meant for organisation of sales and attending to maintenance and minor repairs of fans returned by customers during the guarantee period—they are in no way connected with the manufacture of complete fans. According to bipartite agreement of 2nd February 1959 the benefits of the Third Omnibus Engineering Tribunal Award of 1958 regarding wages, grades and scales of pay and dearness allowance, were extended to the employees of the city office, including the four salesmen covered by issue No. 2. Three of them already crossed the limit, and so there is no question of withholding increments to them. The remaining salesman has been getting annual increment and would get the same till he reaches the last grade. Ad hoc increments and enhanced rates of D.A. were also allowed to the employees concerned. The claim for annual increment at the flat rate of Rs. 20 is not only excessive but unfair and unjustified. For all these reasons the claims of the union should be rejected as a whole.

Decision

It is undisputed that the Company has some mistries and mazdoors both at the factory and head office at Behala and at the city office. It is also admitted that the Company introduced the scheme of production bonus on and from 1st July 1959 by a bipartite agreement (Ext. A) for a period of three months at first. That period, it appears, was extended till end of July 1960 by another bipartite agreement (vide Ext. A|1). The scheme, however, did not end there and has been still in existence. The Union claims benefit of this production bonus scheme in respect of the mistries and mazdoors attached to the city office. The Company is unwilling to extend the benefit to those particular employees. Its contention, in reference to the aforesaid agreements, is that the benefit in question is to be given only to those who are directly or indirectly connected with the manufacture of completed fans. It is said for the Company that in view of this stipulation or condition, the mistries and mazdoors of the city office are not entitled to production bonus as they are not directly or indirectly connected with the manufacture of fans.

It is not, and cannot be, denied that the mistries and mazdoors of the head office and the factory as well as the city office are employees of the same categories. The Company means to say that these employees of the factory (not even of the head office) are to get the benefit as the scheme is meant for factory workers. But the contention and explanation on behalf of the Company is unconvincing and unacceptable. It cannot be gainsaid that the production bonus is payable to the persons directly or indirectly connected with the manufacture of fans. Now, the terms "manufacturing process" are defined in section 2(k)(i) of the Factories Act. According to this definition—

> "'manufacturing process' means any process for making, altering, repairing, ornamenting, finishing, packing, oiling, washing, cleaning, breaking up, demolishing, or otherwise treating or adapting any article or substance with a view to its use, sale, transport, delivery or disposal."

It is to be noted that the agreement speaks of "manufacture" but not "production". So, if the works of the mistries and mazdoors fall within this definition, they would undoubtedly be entitled to get the benefit of production bonus. It is therefore to be seen whether they can or cannot get this benefit in the light of the said definition.

It is not denied that the works of the mazdoors and the mistries at the city office and the head office or factory are similar. If these workers of the head office or the factory are entitled to get the production bonus there would be no adequate reason to deny this benefit to this class of workers at the city office. P.W. 1 Iswari Prosad Muhuri, a salesman at the city office, deposes that the duty of the mistries and mazdoors is to complete the finished goods prepared by the factory, and to make the same saleable after removing defects and making necessary repairs, etc. It is further in evidence that the mazdoors help the mistries in such works and they have also to work in regard to goods (fans), sold by the Company, several times during the guarantee period; and that if a sold article becomes unworkable within the guarantee period; the same is taken back by the Company in lieu of a new one. Admittedly fans manufactured by the Company are also sold from the city office. O P.W. 1 Baidya Nath Sahay, the Deputy Finance and Accounts Officer of the Company, has tried to make a difference by saying that the duty of the mistries and mazdoors at the city office is to carry out minor repairs, whereas major repairs are effected at the head office and the factory. In principle this sort of difference is not of any substance. The actual work done by these workers at the city office is covered by the said definition of "manufacturing process." On this ground alone the mistries and mazdoors of the city office are also entitled to get the benefit of the scheme of production bonus. The Union once meant to say that previous agreements were cancelled by notice. The cancellation, if any, is of no help to either party inasmuch as the scheme has been all along in vogue at the head office and the factory. That being so there is no reason why the said workers of the city office should not get this particular benefit.

Besides, an anomalous position would arise if the benefit of production bonus is denied to the mistries and mazdoors of the city office. It is an admitted fact that the services of these workers are transferable from the head office and the factory to the city office and vice versa. It is said by Mr. Singh for the Company that when these workers of the city office would be transferred to the head office or the factory then they would get this benefit. This is not a cogent reason at all. These workers are all directly and indirectly connected with the manufacture of completed fans as found above and hence no distinction or difference should be made in making the scheme of production bonus applicable to this class of workers of the city office. For all these reasons, therefore,

I hold that the mistries and the mazdoors of the city office shall get production bonus according to the scheme already introduced by the Company and already in vogue at the head office of the factory. This shall take effect from the date of the present reference.

Issue No. 1 is disposed of accordingly.

Issue No. 2

The Union claims general increment in wages of the four persons mentioned in this issue at the flat rate of Rs. 20 per annum per head. These four workmen were originally employed as clerks, and are now working as salesmen in the city office, all being monthly paid employees. The Company challenges this claim by raising several objections. Firstly, it is said that by a bipartite agreement, dated 2nd February 1959 (vide Annexure D to Company's written statement), the benefit under the Third Omnibus Engineering Tribunal Award of 1958 was extended to all employees including the four persons named above. It is said that the first three persons covered by this issue had already reached the limit fixed by the said award whereas the last named person (Shri B. K. Ghosh) has not reached the limit and would be entitled to increments according to that award until the maximum is reached. Annexure D to the Company's written statement shows that the union agreed not to raise any further dispute or submit demands involving financial obligation on the part of the Company until the financial position of the Company improves to such an extent that there is reasonable profit in the audited balance sheet of the Company. Accordingly, the second objection of the Company is advanced by saying that the financial position of the Company is too unsound to admit of the claim of wage increment.

I have already seen that the Union cancelled all agreements by notice and as such there is no value of the abovementioned Annexure D. Whatever that matter be, the question of increment of wages would be out of the mark unless the financial position of the Company is good enough to meet such a demand. So the question of financial position of the Company is a most important one in this connection.

The Company's case is that since 12th July 1960 the management and control was taken over by the Government of India as the financial position had gradually deteriorated and become unsound. The evidence before me is to the effect that the taking over by the Central Government was due to mismanagement. The Company has put in balance-sheet for the year ended September 1959. But the balance-sheets of 1959-60 and 1960-61 have not been produced. The explanation given is that their balance-sheets have not been prepared. But the reason for such alleged delay is not explained anywhere. According to Shri Sahay (O.P.W. 1) the fan production was 82,203 from August 1960 to July 1961 and that fell to the figure of 48,487 during the next 12 months. In view of this evidence, production of fans was very large during the first year after the Government take-over whereas it fell by a large extent during the following 12 months. Though the witness says that he gives these figures by looking into the production-cum-sales book yet the actual or real production register as such has not been produced by the Company before the Tribunal. This witness is the Deputy Finance and Accounts Officer. His evidence regarding productions without the production of the real Production Register carries little worth. The Production Manager himself did not come to depose. There is no evidence to show that the Company has been running at a loss. Shri Sahay cannot say if the future of the Company is bright or gloomy. The Central Government took over the management and control for national interest under the Industries Development (Regulation) Act and that interest appears to have been sufficiently safeguarded during the first year of the take-over. Shri Sahay says that the fall in production during the following year was due to financial difficulty. The figure of production as stated by him is doubtful, and the explanation given by Shri Sahay is far from acceptable. There is no satisfactory proof to show financial crisis since the taking over by the India Government. Shri Sahay has admitted in cross-examination that in 1962 about nine or ten hands (not 20 hands as suggested) were newly appointed at the head office, and also that in 1961 and 1962 as many as eight officers were appointed since the Government take-over. It appears from his evidence that of the eight officers so appointed, five are still working, one of them getting pay of Rs. 400 and the salaries of four others varying from Rs. 750 to Rs. 900. This is a clear and sufficient indication that the financial condition of the Company is very sound at least since the Government take-over, and that its future is bright, otherwise so many appointments of workmen and officers would not have been made in the aforesaid manner. It follows therefore that the Company is certainly in a position to grant at least some increments to the four employees mentioned in issue No. 2, even if the benefit under the Third Omnibus Engineering Tribunal award of 1958 was extended.

From paragraph 10 of the Union's written statement, where charts have been given regarding occasional increments given to the said four persons, it appears that the increments, though granted from year to year or occasionally, were not on any scientific basis. The salary of Shri S. C. Dhole became Rs. 160 plus D.A. Rs. 63 plus other allowance Rs. 2 plus dress allowance Rs. 15, i.e., Rs. 240 in all. Similarly R. N. Lalvani's salary in the year was Rs. 180 plus D.A. Rs. 63 plus special allowance Rs. 2 plus dress allowance Rs. 20, i.e., Rs. 265 in all; that of J. P. Muhuri (P.W. 1) was pay Rs. 103 plus D.A. Rs. 58 plus dress allowance Rs. 10, i.e., Rs. 171 in all; and that of Shri P. K. Ghosh was pay Rs. 97 plus D.A. Rs. 51 plus special allowance Rs. 2 plus dress allowance Rs. 10, i.e., Rs. 160 in all. It further appears that in granting increments to them or fixing their salaries the sequence as to their respective dates of appointments was not followed. That is to say, the increments were granted in a somewhat arbitrary fashion. There should be a system or scientific basis for increments of wages. Though the Union has claimed annual increment at the flat rate of Rs. 20, no materials have been produced before me to show any particular scale or limit of the scale obtaining in any other industries of similar nature. So the question of grant of increment at any flat rate per year without any fixed limit does not arise in the present case. But in view of the above discussions regarding the soundness of the financial position of the Company, I am inclined to grant some increment to the concerned workmen although three of them might have reached the limit of the benefit of the Major Engineering Award of 1958.

Accordingly I hold that Sarbasree S. C. Dhole, R. N. Lalvani and I. P. Muhari shall get only one increment of Rs. 10 each over their existing wages since the date of the present reference; and Shri P. K. Ghosh shall get one increment of Rs. 10 after he reaches the limit under the said Omnibus Award of 1958.

Award is passed accordingly.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shree Gobinddeo Glass Works Ltd., Ramrajatala, post office Santragachi, Howrah, Managing Agents Messrs. R. N. Jhunjhunwala & Co. The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department, order No. 5790-I.R./IR/11L-111/60, dated the 3rd October 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shree Govinddeo Glass Works Ltd., Ramrajatala, post office Santragachi, Howrah, Managing Agents Messrs. R. N. Jhunjhunwala & Co. (P) Ltd., 9 Ezra Street, Calcutta-1 (hereinafter be referred to as "Company") and their workmen represented by the Shree Gobinddeo Glass Works Mazdoor Union, 48 Dharamtalla Street (1st fifloor), Calcutta-13 (hereinafter be referred to as the "Union"), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue referred to this Tribunal for adjudication is as follows:—

Issue

Is the dismissal of the following workmen justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(a) Shri Amaresh Das.

(b) Shri Sudhir Dey.

(c) Shri Jugol Samanta.

(d) Shri Noni Dey.

AWARD

Both the parties have filed their written statements in the matter of the dispute. Briefly stated, the workmen's case is that on 19th July 1961, certain workmen were injured as a result of an accident in the factory, but the Company took no steps to remove them to hospital. As leading members of the Union, the present workmen tried to see the injured, but the Management refused to allow them to do so. They met the Officer-in-charge of Jigatcha police-station at the factory gate, had some talk with him in the matter and went away. But nevertheless they were charge-sheeted by the Management on 21st July 1961 with certain false allegation, as the Company had grudge against them from before for their Union activities. The charge-sheeted persons denied the allegations in reply to the charge. A show of enquiry was made by the Management, but the enquiry was most unfair, improper and against all canons of natural justice. The workmen were not allowed to take part in the proceedings or examine witnesses on their behalf. But nevertheless the Management dismissed the workmen concerned on 11th September 1961 by way of victimisation.

Management's case on the other hand is that they took prompt action after the accident, rendered proper medical aid to the injured and there was no question of hospitalisation of the injured, as neither the Medical Officer thought it necessary, nor the injured were willing to go to hospital. The workmen concerned along with another entered the factory premises at noon time when they had no duty in the factory, shouted false things regarding the injured, spread disaffection amongst the workers by spreading false news, abused, intimidated and threatened Shri C. Sen Gupta and Shri P. D. Kedia on their trying to persuade them not to create trouble for nothing. They made false propaganda against the Company outside also. It is stated that the domestic enquiry was quite fair and impartial, though the charge-sheeted persons took all possible steps to create trouble and sabotage the enquiry. At a later stage of the enquiry, they refused to participate and went away and so the enquiry was made in their absence on the last day. The enquiry officer found them guilty and the Management accepted the finding and dismissed them accordingly.

Other facts will appear from the award that follows.

Identical charge-sheets were issued against all the workmen concerned in this dispute and the Ext. B series are the copies of the charge-sheets. They were charged with major misdemeanours under rule 14(h)(i)(m) of the Certified Standing Orders. Exhibit is a copy of the Standing Orders of the Company. The misdemeanours levelled against them are (h) riotous and disorderly behaviours or an act subversive of discipline, (i) intimidation or threat of violence against another or other workmen, (m) creating disaffection amongst the workmen by false propaganda or spreading news against the Company amongst public. The replies submitted by the workmen were also in identical language (vide Ext. C series) and they all denied the charges. They claimed that whatever they had gone were so done in bona fide discharge of their duties and responsibilities as active members of the Union. The explanations failed to satisfy the Management and so a departmental enquiry was directed. A board consisting of two members was entrusted with the duty of holding an enquiry. From the evidence of the Company, it appears that there were both Hindi-speaking and Bengali-speaking witnesses and so two persons—one knowing Hindi and the other Bengali—(of course both knowing English also)—were appointed to constitute the domestic tribunal. In the circumstances, it cannot be argued that the Management had any bad motive in selecting two persons to hold an enquiry. It is not in dispute that proper notice of enquiry was served on all the charge-sheeted persons and they in fact attended the enquiry on the first two or three days. The first date of enquiry was held on 29th July 1961 and on that day, Shri Chanchal Sen Gupta was examined in part. The workmen raised certain objections and some trouble was created. So, the enquiry was stopped for the day. The enquiry was resumed on 5th August 1961 and all the workmen were present and Shri Sen Gupta was examined and cross-examined at length by Shri Sudhir Dey, one of the charge-sheeted persons. He signed the proceedings at the close of the day but with the remark that the proceedings were not recorded or explained to him in Bengali even on request. Further hearing was adjourned to 18th August 1962, but there was no enquiry on that day on the prayer of the workmen themselves. The enquiry was next taken up on 23rd August 1962, but on that day, the workmen again insisted on the proceedings being recorded in Bengal and took a violent attitude. Subsequently, they left the enquiry and the enquiring officers conducted further enquiry in the absence of the charge-sheeted persons. The enquiry was thus concluded and the enquiring officers found the charge-sheeted persons guilty of the charge. It appears that the workmen sent two letters also to the Manager during the pendency of the enquiry proceedings ventilating their alleged grievances regarding enquiry. The Manager also in his turn informed them by letter the falsity of their allegations. From the recorded proceedings of the enquiry, if believed, it will appear that the charge-sheeted persons left no stone unturned to frustrate the attempt of or to sabotage the enquiry itself. On the contrary, the workmen try to say that proceedings being conducted entirely in English and questions being put and answers obtained in English, they failed to follow the proceedings. The Company has examined Shri M. L. Sarma, one of the two enquiring officers, before this Tribunal and he swears that though he cannot speak in Bengali, he understands Bengali to some extent. He says on oath that every question he wanted to put to the witness. Shri Sen Gupta, was translated by the other enquiring officer, Shri Ghoshal, in Bengali and the answers also were given in Bengali by the witness, though recorded in English when translated by Shri Ghoshal. On the first two days of enquiry, Shri C. Sen Gupta was the only witness examined and he was cross-examined at length by Shri Sudhir Dey. Shri Sudhir Dey does not depose before me. If he would not be able to follow the examination-in-chief at the enquiry, as alleged, he could not possibly cross-examine the witness at such a length. Shri Amaresh Chandra Das alone deposes before this Tribunal. He admits that he knows a bit of English, but alleges that others do not. They had common case in defence and if others would not follow the proceedings, I would normally expect Shri Das to lead the cross-examination. But, actually it was left to Shri Sudhir Dey and this shows that Shri Sudhir Dey also really followed the proceedings. The allegations, I am afraid, were made frivolously with a motive. The enquiring officer swears that the recorded proceedings also were read over and explained to the charge-sheeted persons. The Management has examined Shri C. Sen Gupta also before this Tribunal and he also swears that questions put by Shri Sarma were translated to him in Bengali and he gave his answers also in Bengali. Thus, he supports the enquiry officer in this respect. So, I am unable to place reliance on the allegation of Shri Amaresh Chandra Das in this respect. The charge-sheeted persons may insist on the proceedings being recorded in Bengali, but the Management or the enquiring officers were not bound to do the same. If they failed to do it, the enquiry cannot be said to have been vitiated on that ground alone. Shri Sen Gupta, the principal witness, has been produced before this Tribunal also and he has fully supported his former statement made before the domestic tribunal. The cross-examination of Shri Sen Gupta before this Tribunal does not help the workmen in any way. So, it is not at all unlikely that the workmen really intended to frustrate the domestic enquiry itself and so they protested too much. They had no bona fide motive of defending themselves in a fair way. They left the enquiry on the last day without any sufficient reason and so they did it at their own risk. Hence, they cannot ask me to reject the enquiry or its finding on that ground alone. I have carefully gone through the enquiry proceedings and I may observe that the evidence of the Company's witnesses before the domestic tribunal, if believed, is sufficient to establish that the workmen behaved disorderly and that they were out to create mischief by making false propaganda, giving false informations to police and the Inspector of Factories as well. The finding is that they were trying to create disaffection against the Management amongst the workmen also. Domestic tribunal thinks that these Union leaders had not had sufficient patience and on their over-zealousness, they transgressed their legitimate limit and indulged in all sorts of false allegations and propaganda. They behaved objectionably against Shri Sen Gupta also. These findings are based on some evidence no doubt. So, according to the settled principles of law, the Tribunal has no sufficient reason to interfere with the Management's decision in this case. Violation of rules of natural justice has not been proved. It is difficult to say that the finding of the enquiring officers were altogether baseless or perverse. In this view of the matter, the workmen concerned and none of them are entitled to any relief. Viewed from the standpoint of the factory discipline and the management function, the charges are very grave and there is little or no scope for my holding that the punishment was unusually harsh.

However, assuming for argument's sake only that the domestic enquiry is really vitiated and that in fact there was no fair enquiry and thus the finding of the enquiring officers is at large, let me see whether the evidences before this Tribunal warrant the conclusion of the management in respect of the charges. One of the injured rather the man who received the worst injury has been examined before me. He admits that medical aid was rendered to him within a few minutes of the accident by the Company's retained medical officer. It was rather his own expressed desire that he should not be removed to the hospital. It is sometimes common knowledge that such unsophisticated persons are at times rather afraid of hospitalisation. The injuries of the other two persons were not severe. So, all three of them were retained in Durwan's quarters inside the factory compound at their own desire, because they were all co-villagers of the Durwan and they had none to attend them in their own quarters. These injured persons are all non-Bengalees and they did not complain in this respect to anybody of the Mazdoor Union. They were not members also of this Union. It is not a fact that the Company actually stood on their hospitalisation, as alleged. The injured never lost consciousness at any stage. Company's Medical Officer also has been examined before this Tribunal. Though the injured, Shri Jalandhar Ray had a compound fracture and was thus seriously injured, the Medical Officer says that he did not advise immediate hospitalisation, because his condition was not serious enough to require immediate hospitalisation and the worker also did not like to go to hospital. In fact, all possible care was taken and other experts were also consulted later and the injury was X'rayed and plastered. In these circumstances, the present workmen had no sufficient reason to be unduly apprehensive as self-appointed guardians of the injured. I may well appreciate their anxiety for their fellow workmen, but cannot appreciate their subsequent conduct and over-zealousness. They had no reason to rush to the police-station and lodge false or exaggerated information there without trying to get them correctly informed. They had absolutely no reason to spread a false rumour or news that one of the injured was already dead and that the others were locked up and prevented from going to hospital. Thus, they had no ground for creating disaffection amongst the workers against the workers by false propaganda. They had no justification for abusing Shri Sen Gupta also for his trying to put them in right track. Thus considering all facts and circumstances on record, I am unable to find that the charges were baseless and the Management decision must be interfered with. The charges are against four workers and they all acted in union with a common motive or object. So, each one of them is undoubtedly guilty of the charges. So, their dismissal is not without justification. They are not entitled to any relief.

This is my award.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 6253-I.R.|IR| 11L-139(B)|61, dated the 31st October 1961, for adjudication upon the issue named below:

Issue

1. Grades and scales of pay for all categories of employees including apprentices.

The case made out in the written statement of the Union is briefly this. The Bengal Flying Club (hereinafter to be described as the Club) is a very old Club with very bright prospects. As for finances, it has quite fair resources. Its income consists of subscriptions from members, donations, and subsidy from the India Government and the West Bengal Government. The Club turns a deaf ear to the amenities and welfare of its employees whose service conditions have remained very deplorable. From May 1951 the Club introduced a pay-scale which lasted up to May 1953. Thereafter it arbitrarily stopped that privilege. The workmen then placed a charter of demands, but all negotiations failed. Then the present dispute was raised before the Assistant Labour Commissioner of Barrackpore. Conciliation having failed owing to the attitude of the Club, the present reference has been made before this Tribunal. The wages of the workmen have not been fived on any scientific basis or need basis. The cost of living index has been getting higher and higher day after day but the management of the Club does nothing as regards wages to ameliorate the condition of the workers. All categories of employees should be entitled to incremental scales of pay and this is more necessary for smooth and efficient works. The grades and scales of pay of the workmen should be introduced with retrospective effect in the line in which the same were granted by the Club previously but unreasonably and unjustifiably stopped afterwards.

In the written statement of the Club, the following case has been made out: The present reference is misconceived and illegal. The Club is not an industry. The workmen are not properly represented by a properly constituted Trade Union. The Club is not an employer and the present dispute is not an industrial dispute. The Club is a non-profit-making Government subsidised Association, its object being to educate people in flying and to promote air-mindedness. The Industrial Disputes Act has no application to an educational institution like the Club. The matter of fixation of pay-scale is more a concern of the Government of India. The Club has made representation to that Government and the West Bengal State Government for increasing the subsidies so that the pay of the employees may be increased, but the matter is still pending with these Governments. The income of the Club is too small; rather the Club has been running at heavy losses annually. It is difficult for the Club even to pay the wages at the present rates. The scale introduceed previously was stopped with consent of the employees for obvious financial difficulties. The workmen never submitted any charter of demands as alleged. This year the State Government has stopped the annual eubsidy of Rs 20,000. In the circumstances and in view of the very bad financial condition of the Club the question of introducing grades and scales of pay cannot arise. For all these reasons the claim of the Union must fall through.

Of the legal objections taken in the written statement of the Club, only two points have been urged before me, and this also quite half-heartedly. It is contended that the Club is not an industry, and that the Union is not properly constituted. On a perusal of the Club's Memorandum of Association (Ext. A) it appears quite clear that business of more kinds than one is one of the objects of the Club. It is in evidence that the Club has a workshop of its own, where the club manufacturers aircrafts and spare parts of aircrafts, etc, whenever necessary, to supply them to others, and that the Club also charters aircrafts. So it comes under the operation of the Industrial Disputes Act as being an industry. As to the question relative of the constitution of the Union, I do not think the Club can successfully challenge this. P.W. 1 Ganapati Bhattacharjee, the Store-keeper of the Club, is the only witness examined in this case. The Club has not at all examined any witness. P.W. 1 says that their Union is registered. This is not denied by counter-evidence. He is the Secretary of the Union. His further evidence is that all the employees are members of this Union which raised this dispute on behalf of the employees and represented them during the conciliation proceedings. He was no doubt cross-examined on these points and he could not produce the relevant khatas of membership, etc. The Union has produced the certificate of its registration. There being no counteer-evidence, the fact must remain that the employees are members of this Union. For all these reasons, therefore, I hold the Club's objections to be futile and hence I reject the same.

Now I come to the question bearing on the merits of the case. It is an admitted fact that on 17th April 1951 there was a resolution at the joint meeting of a Sub-Committee providing for scales of pay for the staff and granting increment to the employees as a whole (vide Annexure A to the Union's written statement). These provisions were admittedly withheld since 1954, after the schemes were given effect to for three years. The case of the Club is that the stoppage was due to bad financial conditions. It has put in balance-sheets for the year 1960-61, showing deficit. But the balance-sheets of previous year have not been filed to show any loss or deficit before that particular year. In the absence of the relevant balance-sheets it cannot be accepted that the Club was run at any loss. The original balance-sheet of 1960-61 has not been produced; only a certified copy is filed (see Ex. B). The auditor's report appended thereto shows some glaring defects regarding the Reserves, Stores and Stocks, etc. There is no oral evidence to show that Ext. B is a true copy of the original balance-sheet. In the circumstances the particular balance-sheet is undependable. On the other hand, there is the evidence of the Store-Keeper (P.W. 1) in his examination-in-chief that the financial condition of the Club is good and it can afford to pay increments according to the scales in Annexure A to the Union's written statement. Besides, the unrebutted evidence elicited in his cross-examination is to the effect that the Club makes profits by levying charges for repairs or overhauls of aircrafts, which he learnt from the Chief Engineer of the Club, and that the witness says about good financial condition of the Club as he has been seeing its functions going on well. The Engineer has not been examined to give denial to what P.W. 1 has said. It also appears that the subsidies from the Government of India and State Government add much to the resources of the Club. There is even no suggestion, not to speak of any evidence on the side of the Club, that the stoppage of the grades and scales (as per Annexure A to the Union's written statement) was with consent of the employees as alleged in the written statement of the Club. The stoppage of the scheme was undoubtedly unjustified.

From what has been seen above, I cannot but hold that the financial condition of the Club will admit of the grades and incremental scales of pay as claimed by the Union. So the grades and scales introduced in 1951 deserve to be reintroduced. The Union has given a chart (Annexure D to its wirtten statement) showing the wages due by fitting-in. It claims the benefit with retrospective effect since the scheme was withheld in 1954. As this claim involves a very heavy burden on the Club, I think it proper to lesson the period of restrospective effect. In the result, I allow the said scheme according to the statement (Annexure A of the Union's written statement) with effect from the date of the present reference. This statement shall be made an annexure to this Award.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4715-I.R.|IR|9L-40|61, dated the 1st August 1961.

Issue

Whether the termination of employment of Shri Timboo Chowkidar is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The relevant case put forward by the Union on behalf of the concerned worker is briefly as follows: The concerned worker, Shri Timboo Chowkidar, had been working in this Tea Estate for a pretty long time. On 6th December 1960 he was served with a charge-sheet. The charge against him in the charge-sheet was that he had handed over the key of the garden lorry garage to one Deothan Chowkidar and had permitted him to remove a lorry tyre from the garage with the object of disposing of the same for profit. There were no materials upon which this charge could be framed except the statement of Deothan himself. Timboo Chowkidar submitted his reply to the charge in writing by letter, dated 7th December 1960, alleging that the charge was absolutely false and without any basis. No enquiry was held regarding the charge against him after his reply, but he was dismissed from service by the Manager with effect from 4th January 1961, by his letter of that date. The matter was then referred to the Union by the concerned worker and the Union took up his case for conciliation through the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Jalpaiguri. But the conciliation proceedings proved abortive. Then there was this reference by the Government. The reliefs prayed for are reinstatement of the concerned worker, Timboo Chowkidar, to his service under this Company and sufficient compensation.

The relevant case pleaded in the written statement of the Company is briefly as follows: Shri Timboo Chowkidar was employed as a Night Guard of the office-cum-garage in this Tea Garden and his duties, inter alia, included locking up the said garage after the garden lorry was housed therein after the day's work and keep vigil during his duty hours over the Company's properties against any theft or damage to the same. On the evening of Saturday, the 3rd December 1960, the garden lorry No. WGV 1784 with its spare tyre was kept in the garage by the driver of the said lorry in the evening after the day's work. The said garage was within the duty area of Shri Timboo Chowkidar and the key of the garage was in his possesion after locking. When the garage was opened on Monday, the 5th December, in the morning, the spare tyre of the lorry was found missing. Subsequently, at about 7 p.m. on the same day, the missing tyre was found in possession of a man who was accompanied by Shri Deothan, another Chowkidar of this Tea Estate on the road. This was found by Shri Behari Driver while he was returning from Mal Bazar. The tyre was brought back to the Tea Estate by the Driver and the Manager was informed of the facts. On being interrogated by the Manager, Shri Deothan admitted having stolen the tyre in conjunction with the concerned worker, Shri Timboo Chowkidar, and said that Timboo Chowkidar had opened the garage with the key in his possession on the night of 3rd December 1960, while he was on duty and allowed him to steal the tyre from the garage. Thereafter, Timboo Chowkidar was served with a charge-sheet and he submitted his reply to the charge-sheet on 7th December 1960. The explanation was not considered satisfactory. So, an enquiry was held by the Manager on 7th December 1960 and 15th December 1960 in presence of some independent witnesses. At the enquiry, the concerned worker was given a personal hearing and a full opportunity to explain the circumstances of his case and to examine and cross-examine witnessess. From the facts and circumstances revealed during the enquiry, the Management was convinced of the charge against Timboo Chowkidar. As the charge amounted to gross misconduct under the Standing Orders, the Management lost all confidence in the concerned worker and found it necessary to terminate his services in the Company's interest. The concerned worker was, therefore, dismissed from the service of the Company with effect from 4th January 1961, by a letter of that date. The dismissal of the concerned worker was not arbitrary and|or illegal.

The concerned worker, Shri Timboo Chowkidar, was admittedly a Night Guard of this Tea Garden and on the relevant date, 3rd December 1960, his duty area included the office and the adjacent garage where the lorry of the garden was kept. It is an undisputed position that the spare tyre of this lorry ept in the garage on the evening of 3rd December 960 was found missing on the morning of 5th ecember 1960 when the garage was reopened after ie holiday on Sunday, 4th December 1960. It is so an undisputed position that the stolen tyre was ound in possession of Shri Deothan nearabout the azar and Deothan was charge-sheeted for stealing ie tyre and finally he was dismissed from service r this offence. The concerned worker, Shri Timboo howkidar, who was in charge of the garage on the ght of 3rd December 1960, was also charge-sheeted connection with the theft of the spare tyre and the harge against him was that he had handed over the ey of the lorry garage to Deothan Chowkidar and ermitted him to remove the spare tyre of the lorry om the garage with the object of disposing it for rofit. Ext. 1 is the charge-sheet. So, in substance, e charge against this Chowkidar was that he had ded and abetted the commission of the theft by eothan or in any case he had acted in collusion with m in the matter of the theft and had connived at ne theft. The charge-sheet was admittedly served pon Timboo. Timboo admittedly submitted his explanation to the charge-sheet on the very next day, 7th December 1960. Ext. 2 is the reply. In the charge-sheet served upon Timboo Chowkidar, it was clearly stated that an enquiry regarding the charge-sheet would be held at the garden office at 3 p.m. on 7th December 1960. It is now to be seen whether here was really any enquiry regarding the charge-sheet against Timboo Chowkidar, as alleged by the Company and whether, if there was any enquiry, it conformed to the principles of natural justice and was free from any spirit of victimisation and was conducted bona fide without any ulterior motive. The Company has alleged that there was such an enquiry and it was held on two days, 7th December 1960 and 15th December 1960, in presence of Timboo Chowkidar himself, who was afforded every opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses produced or the Company and also to produce his own witnesses and after this enquiry the Manager, who held it, was satisfied that Timboo Chowkidar was guilty of the charge and accordingly he was dismissed from service, as the charge amounted to grave misconduct. The case put forward on behalf of the concerned worker, on the other hand, is that there was no enquiry at all and the worker was arbitrarily dismissed simply on suspicion. After considering the entire evidence placed before this Tribunal, I am fully satisfied from the evidence of O.P.W. 1 Mr. D. S. Peters, the Manager of the Garden, who held the enquiry, O.P.W. 2 Shri Behari, the Driver of the lorry whose spare tyre was stolen, O.P.W.s 3 to 5, Bigla Baidar, Kanua and Pitho Chaprasi and from the recorded enquiry proceedings, Ext. D, that really enquiries were held on 7th December 1960 and 15th December 1960 and the enquiry on 7th December 1960 comprised the cases of both Deothan Chowkidar and Timboo Chowkidar and the enquiry of 15th December 1960 was a continuation of the proceedings of 7th December 1960 in regard to the charge-sheet against Timboo Chowkidar and Timboo Chowkidar was present throughout the enquiry proceedings against him on both days and he was given full opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company and in fact he cross-examined the witnesses and he was also given sufficient opportunity to submit his own evidence in support of his case and thus it was an enquiry in full conformity with the principles of natural justice and was conducted in a bona fide spirit without any motive of victimisation. It has been proved that Timboo Chowkidar gave his thumb impressions in the recorded enquiry proceedings [Exts. D(1) and D(2)]. Timboo Chowkidar has of course denied that he gave thumb impressions, but I am not disposed to believe him, in view of the evidence of other witnesses in this respect. The witnesses examined in the enquiry concerning Timboo Chowkidar were Deothan Chowkidar, the man who was actually found in possession of the stolen tyre, Behari, the Driver of the lorry who kept the lorry with the spare tyre in the garage that evening, and K. S. Ahmed, the Lorry Fitter. It was clearly evident from their testimonies that the lorry with the spare tyre was kept in the garage after the day's work on 3rd December 1960 and the garage was locked by Timboo Chowkidar, who was the Night Guard on duty that night, and on the next Monday, after the intervening Sunday, the spare tyre was found in possession of Deothan on the road at Mal Bazar and it was seized and brought to the office of the garden and was identified to be the spare tyre of this lorry. From the facts proved in the enquiry proceedings by the witnesses, it was certainly a reasonable and bona fide conclusion that the theft of the tyre could not have been committed without the active help and collusion of Timboo Chowkidar, the Night Guard, because the tyre could not have been removed without opening the garage door, the key of which was in the possession of this Chowkidar. The charge as contained in the chage-sheet may be said to have been sufficiently proved by the evidence produced at the enquiry. The Manager did not separately record his finding after the enquiry, but the evidence is that his finding was given in the letter of dismissal, dated 4th January 1961 (Ext. C). It is further in evidence that on 3rd January 1961 after the conclusion of the enquiry against Timboo Chowkidar and before the issue of the order of dismissal, Shri C. Ghosh, the Assistant Secretary of the concerned Union, wrote a letter to the Manager asking for an opportunity to represent the case of Timboo Chowkidar before the Manager and he asked for such opportunity in pursuance of the Manager's letter to Timboo Chowkidar, dated 27th December 1960 (Ext. B), offering him the privilage of represensation of his case by any official of his Union, and Shri C. Ghosh actually met the Manager and had talks with him regarding the case of Timboo. This has been admitted by P.W. 2 Timboo Chowkidar himself in his cross-examination. It comes to this, therefore, that after conclusion of the enquiry proceedings, and before taking final action, the Manager allowed the concerned worker the opportunity of having his case represented by an official of his Union in accordance with section 13(g) of the Standing Orders in force in this garden (Ext. E). This shows that the Company throughout acted in bona fide compliance with the Standing Orders in dealing with the case of Timboo Chowkidar. I, therefore, hold that there was a fair, proper and comprehensive managerial enquiry regarding the charge-sheet against Timboo Chowkidar after giving him full opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses produced by the Company and to examine his own witnesses and Timboo was himself present throughout the proceedings and actually cross-examined the witnesses produced by the Company and thus the enquiry fully conformed to all principles of natural justice and was free from any motive or spirit of victimisation. I further find that the charges was not baseless or perverse according to the evidence produced at the enquiry and the finding itself was not baseless or perverse according to the said evidence. I also find that the Company acted bona fide and without any spirit of victimisation in punishing the concerned worker with dismissal after the enquiry on the ground that the charge against him amounted to a grave misconduct, because it involved dishonesty in performance of his duties of guarding the Company's properties. It was certainly a misconduct under section 13(c)(ii) of the Standing Orders (Ext. E). Upon the evidence produced in this case also before the Tribunal, it cannot but be held that the theft of the lorry tyre could not have been committed without active collusion or connivance of Timboo Chowkidar, because he was the man in charge of the key of the garage after it was locked up on the evening of 3rd December 1961 with the lorry containing the spare tyre kept inside.

On behalf of the Union and the concerned worker, much has been sought to be made of the undisputed fact that during the conciliation proceedings before the Assistant Labour Commissioner, the Manager offered to take back Timboo Chowkidar in the service of the garden as an ordinary labourer but not as a Chowkidar in charge of the Company's properties. Ext. 3 is the letter, dated 1st February 1961, from the Manager to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Jalpaiguri, containing this offer. The offer was made in the last portion of the letter by way of a generous concession. In the earlier part of the letter, it was clearly affirmed that after an enquiry the Manager was fully satisfied that Timboo Chowkidar had aided and abetted Deothan Chowkidar, who actually stole the tyre, and at least Timboo failed in is duty as the Chowkidar to prevent the theft of the tyre, which was the property of the Company. Comment has also been made on the fact that the Manager wrote in the letter that Timboo at least failed in his duty as a Chowkidar and it has been contended that this shows that the Manager was not sure about the part played by Timboo Chowkidar in the matter of theft of the lorry tyre from the garage. In the letter of dismissal, the Manager had clearly recorded his finding that Timboo Chowkidar had been found by him guilty of the charge amounting to misconduct after full and proper enquiry. This finding was recorded on 4th January 1961. After this clear unambiguous finding and also after the clear assertion in the first part of the letter, dated 1st February 1961 (Ext. 3), that he was satisfied that Timboo had aided and abetted the culprit, Deothan Chowkidar, the last remark "at least Timboo had failed in his duty as the Chowkidar" in the letter, dated 1st February 1961, does not certainly show any relaxation of the aforesaid previous finding of fact that Timboo Chowkidar was really guilty of the charge. The finding had already been made and in course of correspondence it was not unusual or unnatural for the Manager to state in the last letter, dated 1st February 1961, that at least he had failed in his duty as a Chowkidar. Failing in one's duty as Chowkidar charged with the duty of guarding the Company's property would certainly amount to misconduct. Accordingly, there is no substance in the comment made on behalf of the concerned worker and the Union that the last remark made in the letter, dated 1st February 1961 (Ext. B), shows that t Manager was not sure of his finding against Timb Chowkidar.

As Timboo Chowkidar was found guilty of gra misconduct falling under section 13(c)(ii) of t Standing Orders, the punishment of dismissal met out to him was perfectly in accordance with t Standing Orders. Section 13(b) provides that workman may be dismissed without notice or a compensation in lieu of notice if he is found to guilty of misconduct. So, the punishment given this worker was certainly not mala fide and cann be characterised as victimisation.

There is nothing to show that the local managemer of the Tea Estate harboured any grudge against th concerned worker. I am not impressed by the u corroborated and oral testimony of the concerne worker that the Manager objected against their hol ing meetings and taking out processions in the garde In fact, no ground for mala fide dismissal of th concerned workman by way of victimisation has bee made out.

On all the findings and for the reasons given abov I hold that the termination of employment of th concerned workman, Timboo Chowkidar, by dis missal was justified and so he is not entitled to an relief. I award accordingly.

S. K. RAY,
Judge,
Seventh Industrial Tribunal

Dated 3rd October 1962.

By order of the Governor,
A. K. BHATTACHARYYA, Dy. Secy

No. 4431-I.R.|IR|14L-5(E)|61.—29th September 1962.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 240-I.R.|IR| 14L-5(E)|61, dated the 22nd January 1962, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Corporation, 6 S. N. Banerjee Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by C.C.M.V. Workshop Workmen's Union, 7-B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the Third schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Corporation, 6 S. N. Banerjee Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by C.C.M.V. Workshop Workmen's Union, 7|B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13. (Case No. VIII-18|62.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri S. N. GUHA ROY, Judge,
First Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Corporation: Shri B. K. Choudhury, Counsel,

For the Union: Shri Jagannath Pandey.

In this reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 240-I.R.|IR| 14L-5(E)|61, dated 22nd January 1962, of an industrial dispute between the Calcutta Corporation and its workmen represented by the Calcutta Corporation Motor Vehicles Workshop Workmen's Union, there are only two issues, namely, (i) Revision of Grades and Scales of pay and (ii) whether the existing wage and scales of pay of Shri Abdul Jabbar and Shri Ganesh Dhar should be revised and if so, in what manner and from what date.

The parties in due course filed their written statements and at the hearing on behalf of the Union as many as five witnesses were examined while on behalf of the Corporation there was only one witness. One of the witnesses for the Union, namely, its Secretary Shri Dwijendra Nath Saha merely seeks to prove that he signed the written statement and another Shri Amulya Dhan Bose, Assistant Secretary of the Union and also an employee of the department, seeks to prove that grades were fixed in 1947 and Abdul Jabber and Ganesh Dhar are employees of the Corporation in the Motor Vehicles Department.

I shall deal with the specific case of the parties and also the evidence adduced in connection with the issues.

Issue No. 1

Admittedly the scales of pay of different categories of the employees of the Calcutta Corporation formed the subject matter of a reference before the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, 1956. The award is Ext. C. It appears from this award that issue No. 2 was about the pay and revision of grades. It further appears from the award that the Unions representing all the workmen except those of the Motor Vehicles Department entered into a compromise with the Calcutta Corporation and after having filed the compromise petition tried to back out from it but the Tribunal did not allow it. The result was that before the Tribunal up to the last there was only one Union and the Tribunal adjudicated on the questions referred to it between this Union and the Calcutta Corporation, the other Unions and the Calcutta Corporation being bound by the terms of the settlement arrived at already. The terms of settlement which form Appendix II to the award are prefaced by a statement that there is no necessity of any adjudication by the Tribunal and a prayer that the Tribunal be pleased to record the said terms of settlement. Clauses (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) deal with a certain resolution of the Corporation relating to the temporary employees being made permanent and certain cognate matters. Clause (v) is in the following terms:—

> "That the Corporation agree to consider the following grievances of the employees through the Standing Finance Committee and give their decision on them within 31st December 1956:—
> (a) Dearness Allowance;
>
> (b) Pay and revision of grades;
> (c) Leave and holidays;"

In clause (vi) the Corporation also agree to consider the certain other grievances of the employees through the Standing Finance Committee and give their decision on them within 31st December 1956, and in the prayer portion of the petition, the Tribunal is requested to record the terms of settlement and dispose of the matter. The concluding paragraph of the award runs as follows:—

> "Before parting with the records of the case, I must point out one legal difficulty. It consists in the fact that out of 15 Unions before me, 14 Unions have entered into a compromise with the Corporation. That compromise I have recorded, and I accept it as part of my present award. Regarding the contesting Union in the Motor Vehicles Department, as it did not agree to join the said compromise, I have given the present adjudication. I had no choice in the matter. I could not stop these 14 Unions from entering into a compromise with the Corporation and amicably settle their disputes any more than I could ask the contesting Union to drop the present contest. Similarly I cannot legally thrust the benefit of my present adjudication upon those Unions which did not contest and which prefer to abide by the compromise. So the only legal consequence which follows in the present case is that these 14 Unions who were a party to the said compromise with the Corporation, should be bound by the said compromise, while the Union and the employees regarding the Motor Vehicles Department should be bound by my present adjudication. As it is desirable that in the same management, there should not be any great disparity in the scale of pay and other amenities unless the nature of work is fundamentally different, I can recommend to the Corporation, not by way of any binding direction, but only by way of suggestion, that the benefits arising from my present award, if they are in excess of the benefits under the compromise, may be extended to the other employees also. The agreement with the Corporation finds place in the Appendix II to this award, so far as the 14 non-contesting Unions are concerned. I incorporate it as a part of my present award".

It is not disputed that the present scales and grades of the employees of the Motor Vehicles Department of the Calcutta Corporation are fixed by the award of the 5th Industrial Tribunal of 1957. The Union's case, as specifically stated in paragraphs 8 and 9 of its written statement, is that the withdrawal of 14 Unions from the adjudication had an adverse impact on the award and that after the expiry of the period of operation of the award the Corporation introduced very many changes in the wage structure of workers of their establishments in respect of increments, interim relief and grades and scales of pay but excluded the workers of the Motor Vehicles Department from the purview of such benefits on the plea that unless they refunded the benefits received by the award of September, 1957, no benefits would be given to them. It is also stated in paragraph 9 that the workers of the other departments of the Corporation were similarly bound by the said award and it could not be contended in any manner that the workers of Motor Vehicles Department should be treated differently because of the award.

The Corporation in paragraphs 3 and 3 of its written statement states that before the Fifth Industrial Tribunal on the Union representing the workmen of the Motor Vehicles Department refused to come to terms with the Calcutta Corporation and the dispute between it and the Corporation was adjudicated by that Tribunal and that the complaints now made against the wage structure were also made before the Fifth Industrial Tribunal and the said Tribunal after full consideration of all aspects of the question made the award which is still continuing so far as the employees of the Motor Vehicles Workshops are concerned. The Corporation also refers to a part of the concluding paragraph of the award and says that in compliance with the suggestion made in the award certain workmen in establishments other than the Motor Vehicles Workshop have been given certain increments and it is wholly incorrect to say that there has been any discriminatory treatment of the employees of the Motor Vehicles Department as alleged or at all. In paragraphs 10 and 11 of its written statement the Corporation further states that having regard to the financial condition of the Corporation, the purposes for which the institution is established, the limited source of obtaining finances and the fact that scales have been fixed as late as 1957, no revision should be made of the scales as suggested or at all, any alteration in the scales of pay of these workmen will cause the dissatisfaction of the workmen in other departments and further industrial disputes will arise. The Corporation further states that all the matters were taken into consideration by the last Tribunal and there has been no change in conditions nor any mistake has been shown as to why there should be a revision of the scales now.

It is well-established that when scales of pay and grades have been laid down in an award this award is meant to be operative for a reasonably long time and should not be interfered with except when it is shown that there is a substantial change of circumstances requiring modification of that award. This is the view taken by the Supreme Court in the case between Burn & Co., Ltd., and their employees 1957, 1, L.L.J. 226 and this was followed in other cases. The question, therefore, is whether there has been any substantial change of circumstances between the award and the present reference, so as to justify a modification of that award. According to the Union the vital change consists in the increment and other benefits given to the other employees by the Corporation after this award. On behalf of the Union it is alleged that whatever benefits were given to the other employees of the Corporation were given in pursuance of the terms of settlement recorded in that award. It is further alleged on behalf of the Corporation that those terms of settlement could not be given effect to for a variety of reasons within the period mentioned in terms of settlement. The question, therefore, which has to be decided, is whether this explanation of the Corporation is acceptable on the materials before the Tribunal or whether the increments that were admittedly given to the employees of the other departments represent a substantial change of circumstances between the award of 1957 and the present reference.

The award itself is dated the 9th September 1957, whereas the terms of settlement distinctly mention that the Corporation was to give their decision on the points in dispute within the 31st of December 1956. There is no indication in the award whether by the time the award was made, the terms of settlement had actually been given effect to by the Corporation coming to a decision on the points in dispute but in the concluding paragraph which I have already quoted in extenso there is a recommendation that if the award gives the employees of the Motor Vehicles Department any benefits in excess of those which the employees of the other departments may have been given under the compromise these excess benefits might be extended to those other employees also.

Although the terms of settlement form a part of the award, these terms of settlement had still to be implemented first by a determination of the wages etc., of the employees and then by giving the employees the wages and other benefits so determined. This part of the award was thus not complete in itself and called for further action by the Corporation. There are two documents Ext. D, dated the 25th of July 1958 and Ext. 6, Minutes of the proceedings of a meeting of the Corporation on the 14th of August 1959. The terms of settlement in Appendix II of the award of 1957 between the 14 Unions and the Calcutta Corporation were, dated 14th November 1956, and the whole work relating to the revision of the pay and grades was to be completed by the 31st of December 1956. It is obvious from Ext. D and Ext. 6 that although something might have been done to keep the employees quiet because they were agitating all the time as appears from paragraph 6 at page 6 of Ext. 6, it is equally clear from paragraphs 5, 6 and 7 at page 6 of Ext. 6 that the Corporation could not carry out this work during the stipulated period and the resolution Ext. 6 seeks to carry out the promise of the Corporation contained in the terms of settlement of November 1956, on the 14th of August 1959. Clearly then, what the Corporation was doing in 1959 was in pursuance of the settlement between it on the one hand and 14 Unions on the other representing all employees of the Corporation other than those employed in the Motor Vehicles Department. That is obviously the reason why the employees of the Motor Vehicles Department who were covered by the award of 1957 were excluded from the benefits of the resolution. As the employees of the Motor Vehicles Department were governed by the award and as there was no agreement between the Union representing those workmen and the Corporation there was no question of giving them any of the benefits of the resolution. Clearly then, the resolution embodied in Ext. 6 gives effect to the terms of settlement recorded in Appendix II to e award of 1957, Ext. C, although these terms of ttlement could not be given effect to within the ipulated period namely by the 31st of December 956. That being so, the benefits which the Cor- oration gave to its other employees cannot be held) constitute any change of circumstances between ıe award and the present reference. These benefits hich should have accrued to the other employees ıuch earlier, i.e., by 31st December 1956 came to ıem nearly 2½ years later whereas the workmen of ıe Motor Vehicles Workshop had received certain enefits under the award by the end of 1957 at the ıtest. To allow these workmen the benefits earned y the workmen of the other departments under the erms of settlement or to allow their prayer for a ıodification of the award because of the benefits arned by the other workmen by their compromise ould be really to give them the benefits of both the ıward by which they are bound and also of the com- ıromise from which they studiously kept aloof and his would be clearly unjust to the other employees. The Corporation is thus fully justified in its appre- ıension that this may touch off a much larger industrial lispute. In any event, as there has been no sub- ıtantial change of circumstances, between the award ıf 1957 and the present reference, the award which ıtill binds the Corporation and the Union representing he workmen of the Motor Vehicles Department, can not be modified in law.

On behalf of the Union the pay scales obtaining in the State Transport Corporation have been proved by means of an extract from the "Calcutta Gazette," dated the 31st of July 1958. An officer of the Calcutta Improvement Trust has also been examined to prove the scales of pay in the Motor Vehicles Workshop of the Calcutta Improvement Trust. If the scales of pay obtaining in the Calcutta State Transport Corporation or the C.I.T. officer a comparable basis for fixing the scales of pay of the employees of the Motor Vehicles Department of the Calcutta Corporation, these must have done so even at the time of the award and the fact that different scales of pay prevail in the State Transport Corporation and in the Calcutta Improvement Trust would be no justification for modifying that award. In the circumstances my award on this issue is that there has been no substantial change of circumstances between the award of the 5th Industrial Tribunal of 1957 and the present reference so as to justify in law and fact a modification of the terms of that award in respect of the grades and scales of pay of the employees of the Motor Vehicles Department.

On this issue, the Union's case in its written statement is that Abdul Jabbar as a senior fitter was on a daily rate of wages till August, 1946, when grades and scales were fixed and Jabbar was put in the grade of Rs. 65—3—80—5—90. But in October 1950, there was a complete overhaul of designations and grades of pay when Jabbar, though previously designated as senior fitter, was placed in the grade of junior fitters which was Rs. 45—2—55—3—70 but as he was already drawing Rs. 89 in the grade of Rs. 65—3—80—5—90 made up of Rs. 85 as grade pay and Rs. 4 by way of interim relief, i.e., Rs. 89, the whole of this pay amounting to Rs. 89 was made his personal pay. The complaint of the Union is that Abdul Jabbar was thereby denoted from a senior fitter to a junior fitter and this was "primarily and presumably by way of victimisation for his trade union activities through this Union, namely, Calcutta Corporation Motor Vehicle Workshop Workmen's Union" (paragraph 12 of the Union's written statement). As regards Ganesh Dhar the Union's case is similar, namely that in the year 1946 he was a senior fitter placed in the grade of Rs. 65—3—80—5—90 and was actually drawing, like Abdul Jabbar, Rs. 89 made up of Rs. 85 as grade pay plus Rs. 4 but in October 1950 (in the written statement the year is 1960, but it is obviously a mistake for 1950), he was designated as body builder and placed in the grade of Rs. 55—2—65—3—80, his existing pay of Rs. 89 being termed personal pay. It is alleged by the Union that many men junior to both Abdul Jabbar and Ganesh Dhar were placed in higher grades and Ganesh Dhar also was treated in the same manner by way of victimisation for his trade union activities through this Union (paragraph 13 of the Union's written statement).

The case of the Corporation in its written statement on this issue is that in 1950 under the Halder scheme the system of classification of workers according to ability, efficiency and the type of work done by them was introduced and under that classification Abdul Jabbar was, according to his ability and efficiency, classified as junior fitter. Under the 1957 award the maximum pay of a junior fitter is Rs. 76 yet Abdul Jabbar is being paid Rs. 92 per month at present and the same is treated as a personal pay.

About Ganesh Dhar the Corporation's case is that he is a carpenter and under the Halder scheme, he was classified as a body builder and fitted in the proper scale according to his ability and efficiency. Under the award of 1957, the maximum basic pay of a body builder is Rs. 86 per month.

On this point there is on the side of the Union the evidence of Abdul Jabbar and of Ganesh Chandra Dhar and on the side of the Corporation, of its sole witness Shri Ajoy Kumar Chatterjee, a foreman of one of the workshops of the Calcutta Corporation Motor Vehicles Department.

Abdul Jabbar's service book is Ext. 1. It appears from the entries in the second page of the service book that he entered the service as a temporary officiating senior fitter on the 6th of February 1933 and was made permanent as a senior fitter with effect from 1st April 1946 when his grade was Rs. 50—3—65—EB—3—80. Then on 1st October 1950 he appears to have been made a junior fitter in a new grade of Rs. 45—2—65—EB—3—70 and his pay at the time Rs. 89 was described as personal pay. This entry appears to have been initialled by Shri S. Halder, and the initials are, dated 28th November 1951. His Labour Identity card, Ext. 4, does not really throw any light on his designation at the time of his entry or at later stages. Exhibit A is the award of an Industrial Tribunal of 1948 in an industrial dispute between the Corporation of Calcutta and its employees. A large number of issues was referred to the Tribunal and amongst those issues were first the minimum basic pay and scales of pay for certain categories of workmen including unskilled labour and skilled labour and issues regarding fitting of existing employees into the revised scales of pay. There was another Tribunal to which also a number of issues was referred including minimum basic pay and grades of scale of pay for certain categories of workmen including skilled labour and unskilled labour and the fitting of existing employees into the revised scales of pay. The award of this Tribunal is Ext. B, dated 29th of April 1950, and published in the "Calcutta Gazette" under a notification, dated 29th of May 1950. Before each of the two Tribunals the conditions of service including promotion of the workmen formed one of the issues. Now the Second Tribunal in its award of 1950 at page 280 gave the Corporation the power to take necessary steps to remove any anomaly which may be found to exist while giving effect to the award and again at page 300 while dealing with the question of promotion particularly in the light of the comprehension expressed on behalf of the employees that unless there is a relaxation of the rules as to minimum qualifications introduced by the Corporation, some of the existing employees might suffer as regards promotion, the Tribunal observed as follows:

> "The Unions are apparently anxious to root out nepotism and favouritism. We feel that the only way of achieving that laudable object is to follow the present rules regarding minimum qualifications very strictly. The fact that certain existing employees with rather low qualifications would be likely to be placed at a disadvantage does not weight with us at all, and we direct that the existing rules regarding minimum qualifications should be strictly followed".

Presumably, the Halder scheme was in pursuance of these remarks. Whether that is so or not, the Halder scheme was a scheme for revising the classification of the workmen in the Motor Vehicles Department. According to that classification Abdul Jabbar appears to have been reclassified as a junior fitter although there was no lowering of his pay. The question now is whether there was any injustice in this. The grievances of Abdul Jabbar appear to have been that after he was made a junior fitter under the Halder scheme, Shri Halder having become the Superintendent of the Motor Vehicles Department some other workmen who also were made junior fitters under that scheme were promoted to the grade of senior fitters as soon as Shri Halder left and he names some of those men, and that the maximum of the senior grade was Rs. 110, which was denied to him. In his examination in chief he says that the maximum of the grade was Rs. 110 even at the time when he entered the service but admittedly at the time when he entered the service there was no grade at all and up to 1946 admittedly he was being paid on a daily rate. The grade was fixed in 1946 for the first time, at a maximum of Rs. 80 only and not Rs. 110. It may however be that the grade of the senior fitter was subsequently raised to Rs. 110 and that maximum has been denied to Abdul Jabbar. In his evidence he admits that he had never been entrusted with the work of motor engines nor does he know that work. According to him his work consists in repairing and fitting the two types of cranes in the Corporation workshop, namely, hydraulic cranes and mechanical cranes, and he has also to repair pinions and keys of the handles when they go wrong. The evidence on the other hand of the sole witness of the Corporation who is a foreman of one of the workshops of the Motor Vehicles Department, is that Abdul Jabbar repairs the pins of starting handles and also the log pins of the tipping gears; he repairs and fits the tipping gear and when the outline of the motor body damaged he also puts hinges or bolts in the bo and he does nothing else. In his cross examinati he says that the Superintendent and the Assista Superintendent decide whether a particular catego of workmen is skilled or not, and he himself h nothing to do with the question whether a workman skilled or not. But even then there is no reason wh he should not be able to tell the Tribunal what wo a particular workman does. Admittedly Abdul Jabb worked under him. Admittedly there was some troub between this witness and Abdul Jabbar when bot were attached to the workshop of District III abou three years ago. Even if it could be supposed tha Shri Ajoy Kumar Chatterjee was ill-disposed toward Abdul Jabbar on that ground, the fact remains tha the Superintendent after the 1950-award revised th classification and chose to put Abdul Jabbar in th grade of Junior fitters, although prior to that he hac been placed in the category of senior fitters. The senior fitters were given a higher grade than the junior fitters which did not exist before. The authorities chose to place Abdul Jabbar in the lower category instead of the higher, though previously he was designated as senior fitter. In the absence of anything to show that this was done out of an ulterior motive it is reasonable to suppose that it was done because of the nature of the work that Abdul Jabbar was capable of doing. The Union's case, as I have already said, is that this was done to Abdul Jabbar because he had taken part in the Union activities. The activities mentioned in the written statement were in connection with the C.C.M.V. Workshop Workmen's Union that is the Union which is at preser representing them. Admittedly in 1950 this Unio did not exist. Abdul Jabbar himself admits in hi cross-examination that this Union was formed for th first time in 1953. Admittedly in 1950 Abdul Jabba was a member of a Union which he cannot ever name but which ends with the word Federation Evidently he was referring here to the Calcutta Corporation Workers' Federation which was one of the Unions appearing before the Tribunal of 1947 and again before the Tribunal of 1950. Evidently then what happened to him in 1950 could not have been done because Abdul Jabbar did something in connection with a Union which came into existence for the first time three years later. He claims that he was a member of the executive committee of the Federation but there is nothing beyond his own words to show that. He also admits that apart from him there were other members of the executive committee and they were employees of the Calcutta Corporation Motor Vehicles Department. None of the others was penalised and he was singled out for being penalised because he used to do more than others for organising the Union but then there is nothing whatever t indicate this beyond his uncorroborated testimony That this was not a case of victimisation is, however clear from the admitted fact that he did not complain to anyone in writing about this alleged injustice don to him in 1950 till 1960, he admits that he brough it to the notice of the Union leader for first time in 1960. Even then he never complained about i to the Corporation authorities, except verbally to one N. C. Chatterjee, Assistant Superintendent of the Department about his non-increment from 1950 There is no confirmation even of this verbal complaint It is difficult to believe that he did so because if he had actually complained even verbally and if there was no response from the authorities it is likely to have been followed up by a complaint in writing. The mere absence of a complaint in writing indicates that he did not complain at all about such injustice. In the circumstance it must be held that there is no substance whatever in the complaint of the Union that it was a measure of victimisation to re-classify Abdul Jabbar as a junior fitter and to refuse to give him the benefit of the higher scale as a senior fitter. There is also no essential injustice involved in the reclassification, although it would have been desirable and more expedient if an altogether different nomenclature for the new classification could have been used.

Ganesh Dhar: Ganesh Chandra Dhar's service book is Ext. 3. From the entry at page 2 of this service book it appears that he entered the service just as a fitter on the 12th of December, 1943 in a temporary and officiating capacity. He was made permanent as a senior fitter with effect from 1st April 1946 in the grade of Rs. 50—3—65—(EB)—3—80. With effect from 1st October 1950, however, he was described as a body builder, and placed in a new grade of Rs. 55—2—65—EB—3—80. At that time he was receiving already Rs. 89 and his pay was already in excess of the maximum of the grade into which he was fitted. The entries, dated 31st May 1950 and 1st October 1950 at this page of his service book, are initialled by S. Halder. His initials are, dated 1st May 1951. Ganesh Dhar admits in his examination-in-chief itself that he does the work of building the bodies and repairing the bodies of motor vehicles. In his cross examination he says that he knows all kinds of work in a motor vehicles department but he knows the body-building work specially. In the next sentence he says that he does not know the work of motor engines and he was taken specially for body-building work. The bodies are made both of timber and of steel and he repairs the iron bodies of motor vehicles. Later he admits that iron bodies of motor vehicles are not made in these workshops and these are made elsewhere. Of course, it was suggested to him that he does the work of a carpenter only in building the timber bodies of motor vehicles and uses iron materials, etc., only in connection with that work. He later admits further that mostly he does the work of a carptenter in the workshop and he also admits that apart from building timber bodies of motor vehicle whatever work has to be done with iron materials in fitting the timber-work, he does that and that is his only work. Thus on his own showing, Ganesh Dhar was actually doing the work of a body builder and his classification as a body-builder under the Halder scheme cannot be legitimately criticized as unfair in any way. The grade into which he was placed was also practically the same as the grade in which he had originally been put as a senior fitter except that the initial salary of his present grade is Rs. 5 more than the initial salary of the past grade. But he was clearly not put to any loss, as he was allowed to draw his existing salary as personal pay. Of course, he was denied the higher grade but that is evidently because his work did not justify his being put in the higher grade. Of course, in the Union's written statement, as I have already pointed out, his is also alleged to have been a case of victimisation. But then Shri Ganesh Dhar in his examination-in-chief itself attributes it not to anything like victimisation, and there is actually no evidence that it was a case of victimisation. Shri Ganesh Dhar's last sentence in his examination-in-chief is that it is probably his misfortune that he was reduced from the category of a senior fitter to that of a body builder. He also did not complain of the injustice alleged to have been done to him in 1960 till about 2 years ago when he wrote for the first time to the Superintendent of the Department complaining of the injustice done to him in 1950 but even that letter was not called for from the Corporation. So there is really no knowing whether in fact he wrote about it. It is significant that neither in the case of Abdul Jabbar nor in the case of Ganesh Chandra Dhar did the Union raise the question of victimisation or unfair treatment before the Tribunal of 1958, although both of them knew of this prior to that date. Ganesh Dhar admits that he knew from before the award of 1957 that he was being shown in the Corporation papers as body-builder. Abdul Jabbar also claims to have complained verbally in 1950 to Shri N. C. Chatterjee about the non-increment of his salary.

My award then on this issue is that the existing wages and scales of pay of Shri Abdul Jabbar and Shri Ganesh Chandra Dhar do not call for any revision.

AWARD

By Order No. 4286-I.R.|IR|11L-515|58, dated 9th October 1958, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. J. & R. Hutchison Ltd. and one of their workmen Shri Bimal K. Singha represented by J. & R. Hutchison Workers' Union relating to the undermentioned issue to the Second Labour Court for adjudication.

Issue

Is the dismissal of Shri Bimal K. Singha justified? To what relief is he entitled?

In opening the case Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate of the Company, has raised two preliminary objections. The first is that the workman mentioned in the issue of the order of reference, viz., Shri Bimal K. Singha, raised the question of his dismissal before the Labour Appellate Tribunal which dismissed his complaint for default and as such the present reference is barred by res judicata. The second is that as most of the employees of the Company have been retrenched, the Union mentioned in the order of reference is a defunct Union and such a Union cannot raise an industrial dispute. I have heard both sides at length about these two preliminary objections. The present award relates to these two preliminary objections only.

Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee, in reply to the first objection of Shri P. K. Sanyal, contends that as the decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal was not on merits, that decision cannot operate as a res judicata. His reply to the second objection is that the Union represents the majority of the employees of the Company and as such the dispute raised by it is an industrial dispute.

The evidence adduced before me shows that while an appeal in respect of a dispute between the Company and its workmen was pending before the Labour Appellate Tribunal of India, Shri Bimal K. Singha made a complaint before that Tribunal in respect of his dismissal. That complaint was dismissed, as he failed to turn up on the date of hearing of the complaint. The Industrial Disputes Act does not say that if a complaint of a workman about his dismissal is dismissed that will prevent the appropriate Government from making a reference about the dismissal. Moreover, the complaint of Shri Bimal K. Singha was dismissed not on a consideration of the merits of the complaint, but on account of his absence on the date of the hearing. So even on the general principles of legal procedures that dismissal cannot operate as a res judicata in respect of the present reference about his dismissal. So I reject the first objection of Shri P. K. Sanyal and hold that the present reference is not barred by res judicata.

As to the second objection, the Union has produced through O.P.W. 1 Shri Kali Prosad Bhaduri the membership register of the Union Ext. E. It appears therefrom that the number of members of the Union in 1958-59, i.e., at the time when the order of reference was made, was 14. According to this witness there are 30|35 employees in the Head Office of the Company and there is also a number of workers working in the factory of the Company. So his evidence believes the contention of Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee that the Union represents the majority of the employees of the Company. At the time of arguments Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee shifted his ground and contended that even a Union representing a minority of the workmen of an establishment can raise a valid industrial dispute. It is true that it has been held so by the Supreme Court in the case of Associated Cement Co. But the objection of Shri P. K. Sanyal, as elucidated by him in his arguments, is deeper. He contends that none of the present employees of the Company is a member of the Union. The Company has produced through P.W. 1 Shri Matadin Sarma the salary register in respect of the factory of the Company Ext. 3 and the salary register in respect of the Head Office of the Company Ext. 3(a). The Union has not been able to show any reason why these registers and the evidence of P.W. 1 in support of these registers should not be believed. It appears from Ext. 3 that at present the Company employs only two workmen, viz., two durwans at the factory. It appears from Ext. 3(a) and the evidence of P.W. 1 that at present there are only two employees in the Head Office of the Company. So the evidence of P.W. 1 clearly proves that the evidence of O.P.W. 1 Shri Kali Prosad Bhaduri about the number of employees in the Company is not true. Now the question is whether the few employees who are still in the service of the Company are members of the Union. The membership register of the Union Ext. E shows 13 members of the Union at present. O.P.W. 1 who has produced this register admits that of them only five are at present in the service of the Company. These five include Shri Mongru Yadab. The Company has adduced evidence to the effect that this Mongru Yadab is not an employee of the Company. But the Company admits that the other four are still the employees of the Company. But the Company contends that none of them is a member of the Union. In a consideration of the above contention of the Company the first point that strikes is that Ext. E shows signs of fresh writing, though it purports to show the list of members and realisation of subscription from 1958-59. The second point is that the amounts of subscription have been noted in these registers; but the Union has not produced any rent receipt or its counterfoil or any other documentary evidence in support of these entries. The third point that even O.P.W. 1 whose name tops the list of mbers has not produced the receipts of the subs-iption paid by him, though it appears from Ext. E at he has paid subscription up to July 1961. It s been contended by Shri Panchanan Bhatta-arjee that the Company did not issue any previous tice to the Union to produce the rent receipts or ier papers in support of the entries of subscription Ext. E. But at the opening of the case the Com-ny has raised the question of the competency of the ion to represent the employees of the Company. the Union ought to have been prepared to prove contention in reply to that objection of the Com-ny. Even Ext. E produced by O.P.W. 1 is not his hand-writing; nor was it written in his sence. So he is legally incompetent to prove t. E. So there is no legal evidence in support of contention of the Union that the 13 names appear-g in Ext. E are members of the Union. As I have ready stated, the Company admits that four of the rsons whose names are appearing in Ext. E are still nployees of the Company. It is surprising that the nion has not produced any one of them to say that at least is a members of the Union. Instead the nion has produced as a witness O.P.W. 1 who is longer an employee of the Company. It is clear om his evidence that he has no direct knowledge out the above four employees being members of Union. So it is clear that not to speak of a ajority of the employees being members of the nion, not a single present employee of the Com-ny is a member of the Union.

I now discuss the cases cited by Shri Panchanan attacharjee. One decision to which he has referred a decision of the Supreme Court of India reported page 27 of L.L.J. 1957 Vol. I. That decision ates to the question whether a dismissed employee an employee; it has no bearing on the question fore me. Another decision referred to by him is decision of the Supreme Court of India reported page 553 of L.L.J. 1959 Vol. II. That decision lates to the question of description of parties in an der of reference; it has no bearing on the question fore me. Another decision referred to by him is decision of the Labour Court, Madras, reported at ge 678 of L.L.J. 1960 Vol. I. That decision lates to the interpretation of the word "concerned" pearing in section 33 of the Industrial Disputes t. It has no bearing on the question before me. nother decision referred to by him is a decision of Supreme Court of India reported at page 37 of L.J. 1960 Vol. II. In that case the Supreme urt has held that it is not necessary for constituting an industrial dispute that the cause of a workman ould be espoused by a registered Union; even an registered Association of workmen or even a body workmen can espouse the cause of a workman and reby convert the dispute relating to him into an dustrial dispute. In the present case it is admitted at the Union is a registered Union. But the Union s failed to prove that it is a Union of the workmen the Company; it has also failed to prove that the rkmen of the Company or even a single workman the Company has espoused the cause of Shri Bimal Singha, the workman mentioned in the order of ference; so that decision is of no help to the Union the present case. The last decision referred to him is the decision of the Supreme Court of India ported at page 504 of L.L.J. 1961 Vol. I. In that se it has been held by the Supreme Court that in an industrial dispute about a workman he can ask for a representative of his own choice, other than the office-bearers of the Union which espoused his cause, to conduct his case. But in that case it has been clearly laid down by the Supreme Court that before the above could happen the dispute must have been a valid industrial dispute and for that purpose the cause of the workman must have been taken up either by a Union of the workmen of the establishment or by a number of workmen of that establishment. In the present case the Union has been able to prove neither. So the above case is not on all fours with the facts of the present case.

In view of the above considerations, I uphold the second preliminary objection of the Company and find that this is not an industrial dispute.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by Order No. 382-I.R.|IR|4L-3|62, dated 5th February 1962, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947(XIV of 1947), the abovementioned dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issues

1. Leave and Holidays.
2. Service Book.

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act is in respect of a claim, for leave and holidays and for maintaining of service books, by the Union of the Bus workers against Messrs. Subarban Transport Service Association Ltd. (hereinafter called the Association).

The Union's case is that the Association has no system of granting leave and holidays to the workers and that the Association does not maintain service books for the workers. The Union claims that they may be granted annual leave according to section 27 of the Motor Transport Workers' Act of 1961 (Act 27 of 1961), that they may be granted casual leave for 14 days a year and that service book for each of the worker should be maintained.

At the time of hearing, it is submitted on behalf of the Association that it is prepared to grant leave according to provisions of section 27 of the Motor Transport Workers' Act of 1961. Regarding the claim for casual leave and for holidays the Association submits that the workers are not entitled to these privileges. Regarding the maintenance of service book, the Association admits that only service records are maintained by the Association in respect of each of the workers.

Issue No. 1

Both the parties to the dispute agree that the workers may be granted annual leave according to provisions of section 27 of the Motor Transport Workers' Act of 1961. Regarding casual leave Union claims that the workers should be gra casual leave for 14 days per year. The Associat on the other hand, submits that as the workers w be granted annual leave and weekly rest other t holidays, they should not be granted any casual le Regarding the nature of work of the workers, i undoubtedly a fact that the workers belong to essential service. In my opinion, six days' ca leave per year would be a reasonable period of ca leave for the workers. Regarding the claim for f val holidays, it is submitted by the Union, that days' festival leave per year with full pay on 26th of January and 15th of August of each year r be granted to observe the Republican Day and Independence Day respectively. This prayer appe to me to be reasonable and I therefore hold that workers are entitled to these two festival holid i.e., on the 26th of January and on the 15th August of each year with full pay.

Issue No. 2

The workers claim that service book for each the workers should be maintained by the Associati The representative of the Association submits t service records are maintained by the Association each of the workers. I have considered the respect claims of the Union and the Association and I dir that the Association shall maintain service records each of the workers showing the details about worker's name, age, his nature of work, his pay a allowances, leaves granted, warnings, suspensions a similar other essential details regarding each worke

I therefore pass an award as follows:

(i) The workers should get annual leave accor ing to provisions of section 27 of the Mot Transport Workers' Act of 1961;
